CARDINAL

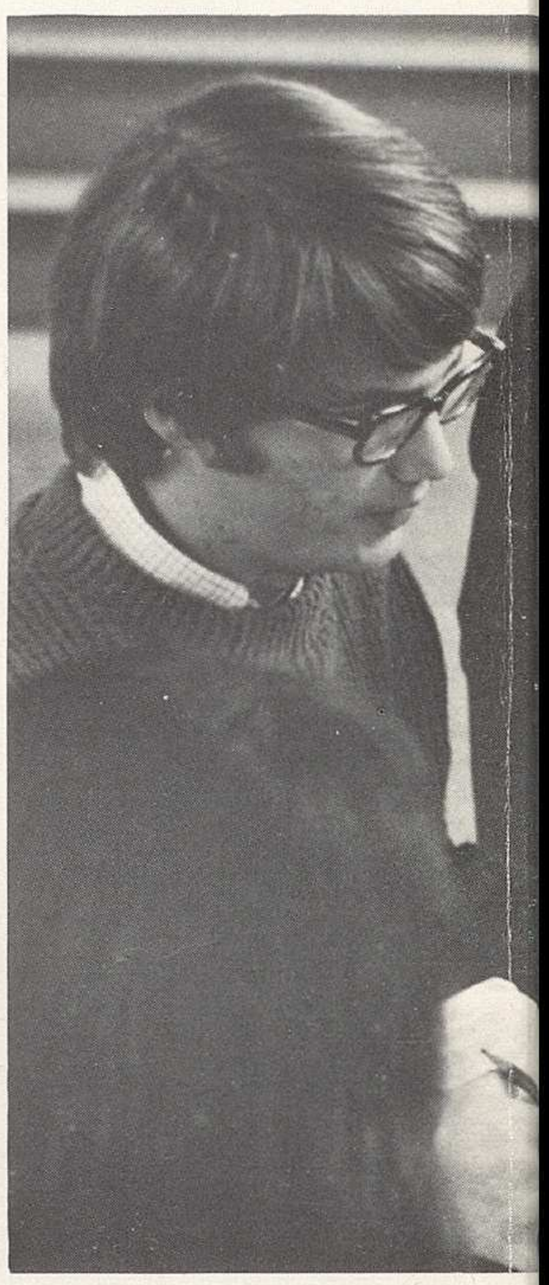

WORTHINGTON HIGH SCHOOL
WORTHINGTON, OHIO
VOLUME XXIX

Contemplation is reflected in the face of Kim Komitor during one of the school assemblies.

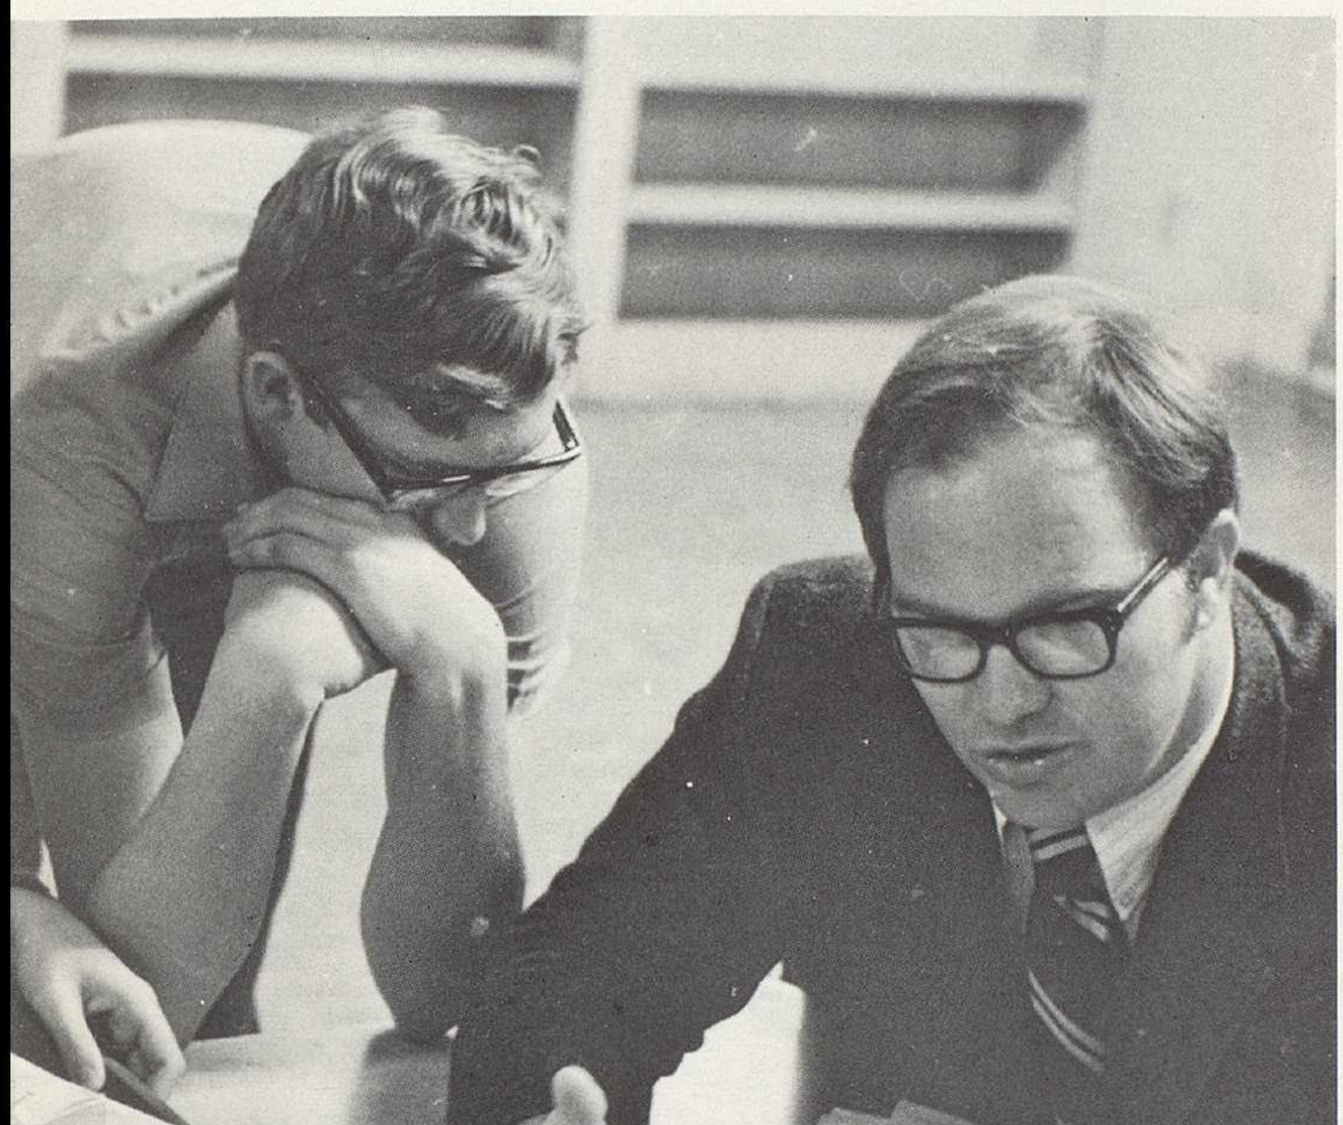

Lone referee signals as Worthington Cardinals score again!

Becky Richards works on an art project which helps to ease daily tensions.

The cafeteria is the scene of a discussion of mythology by Doug Todd, Jim Weisenberger, and a guest of Mrs. Horne's, Mr. Fitts.

Reaching out in 1970 was Reaching by listening to another's ideas learning
shaping clay to fit your idea turning to a friend discussing the possibility of a more lenient dress code explaining the non-conformists' point of view
receiving the news that the issue was passed. . .
the dress code was no more developing talents
striving for a goal
receiving a diploma

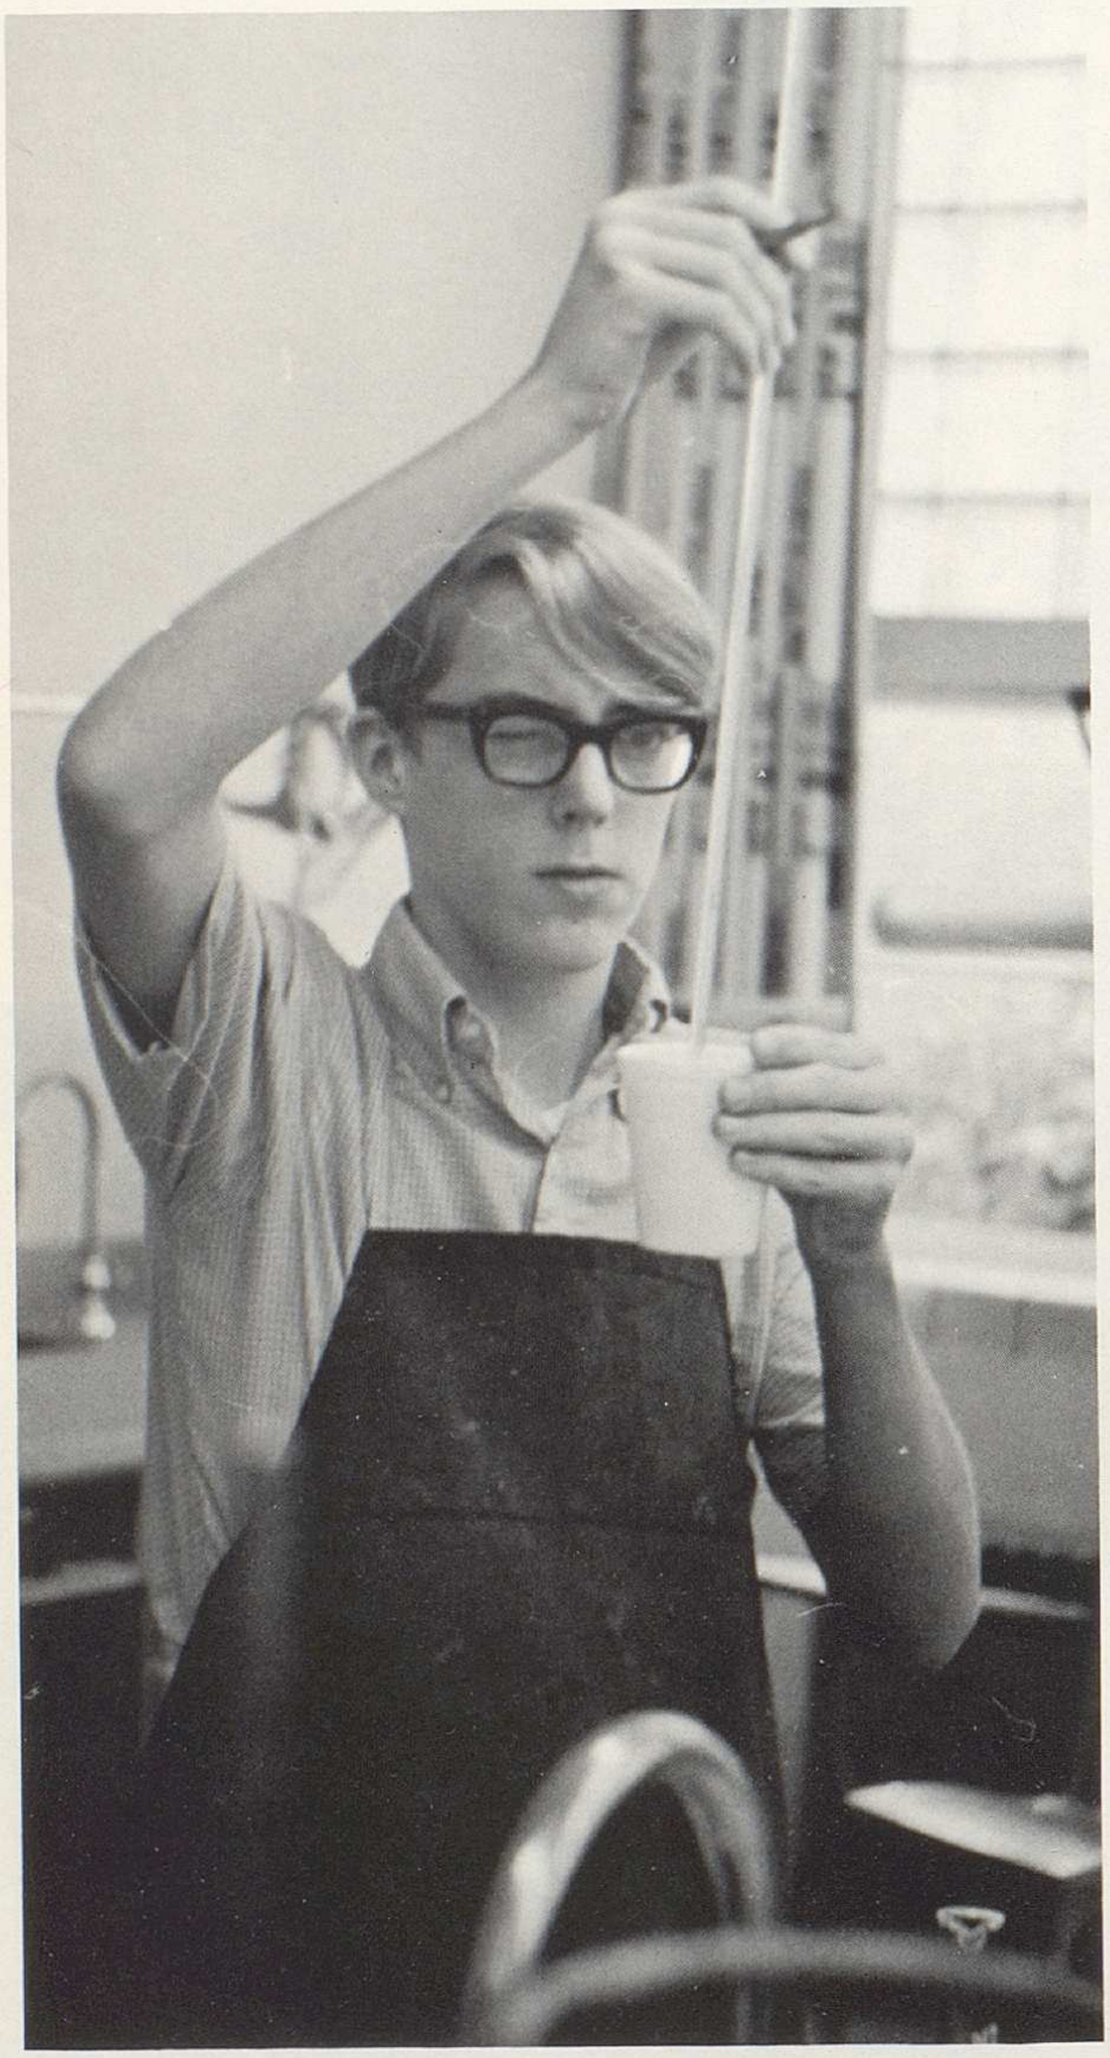

Students get pre-car training in the Driver's Ed. simulators, which are part of a portable unit.

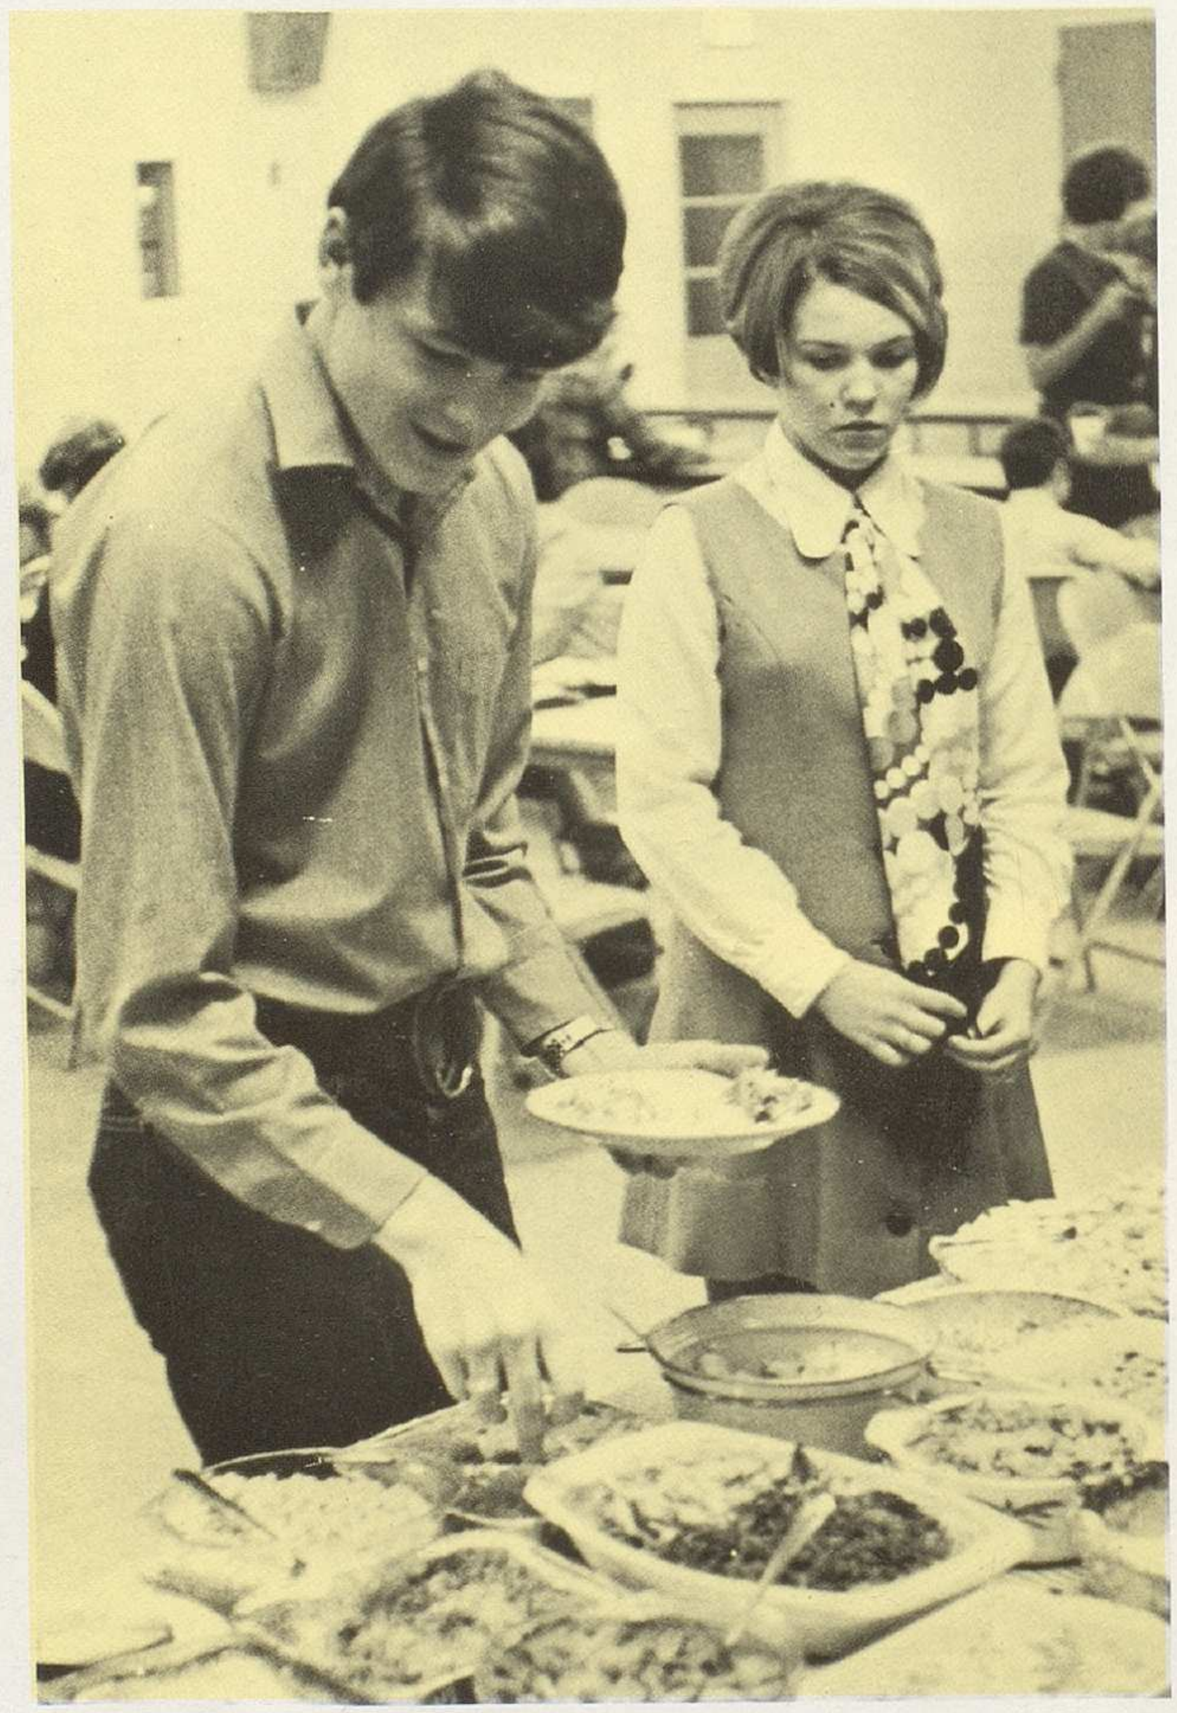

Jean Sheridan gets lots of practice as the only girl tuba player in the school.

The Cardinals' opponents get a big kick out of Bill Grant.

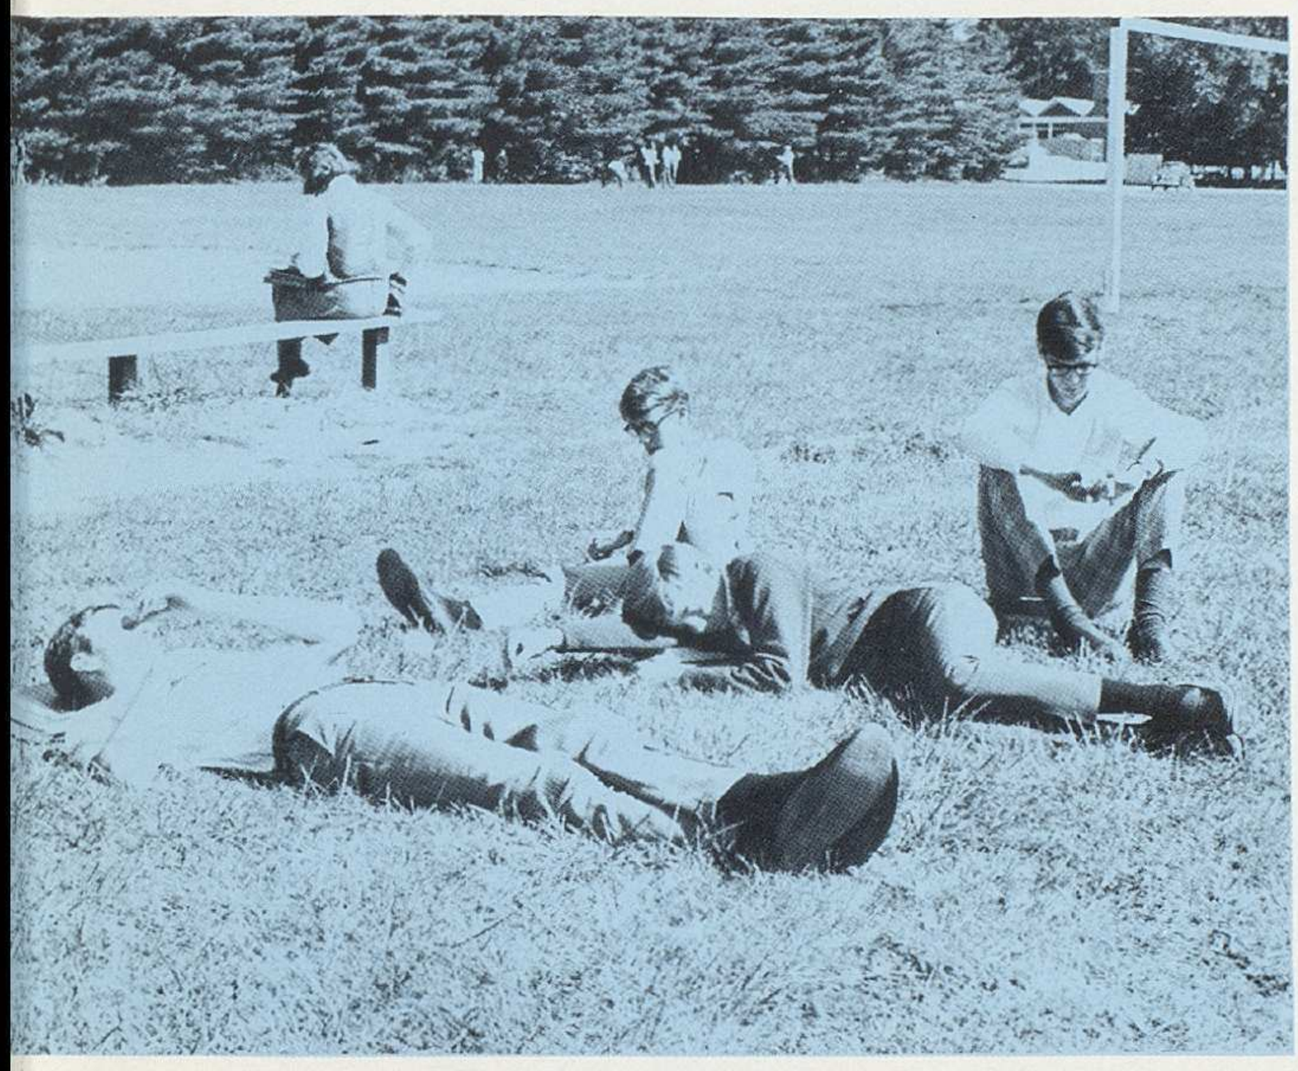

Chemistry lab data is notoriously variable. Bruce Schmidt tries to verify results with a second reading of the temperature of the solution.

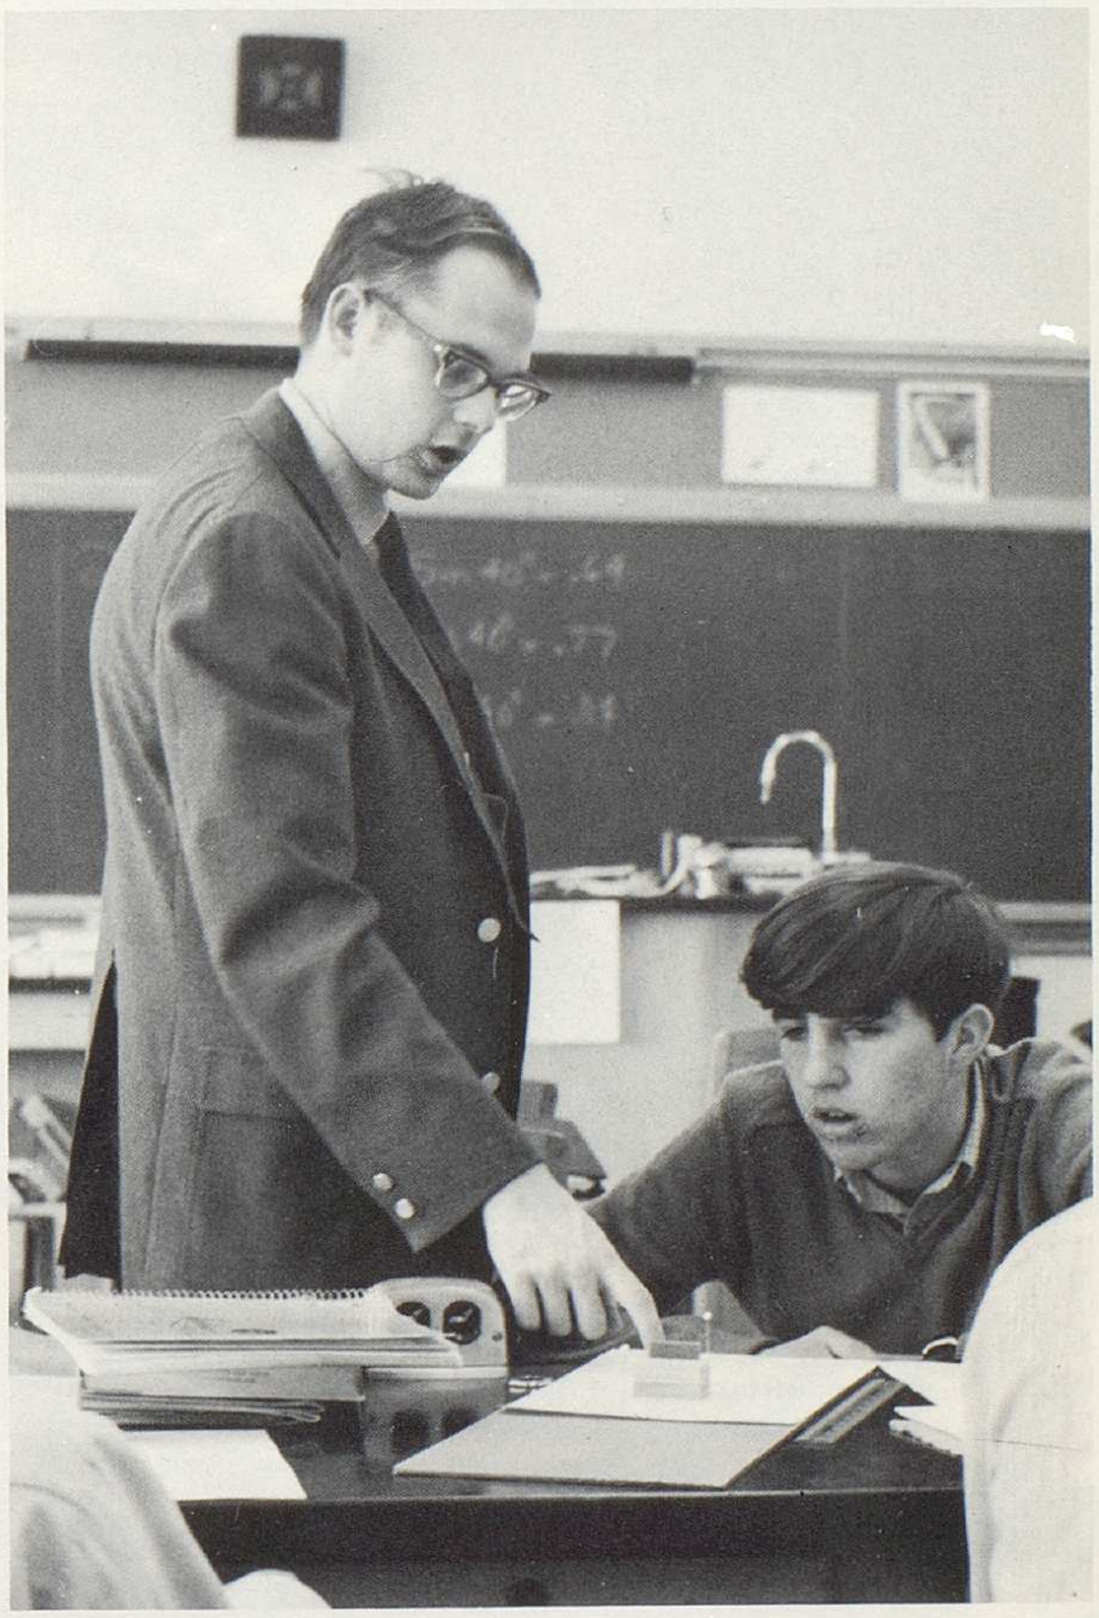

Mary Lou Sheedy daydreams as Chris Manning gets set to enjoy the feast at the annual Senior Smorgasbord. Many others had similar ideas and the dinner was a great success.

Reaching by helping others directing growth
tutoring students with math problems measuring understandings striving for one's maximum potential in a team helping in lab and in the library extending a hand to a sliding friend collecting for charity on weekends raising money for a new wheelchair guiding the blind student

An optics lab in physics is usually a quick route to blurry vision. Mr. Wilke (above) clears up the problem for Jim Yarrington as he explains the image's location. Our foreign exchange student, (left) Charles Racine, finds that instructing an Inner City student in the basics of the zither is not as easy as it first seemed. Other WHS students find the back lawn (above left) a comfortable place to stretch out as they think about the coming year. Chris Smith and Greg Davis think better while sitting up.

Lunar Homecoming Festivities Climax With Smashing Victory

Homecoming festival took a look at Apollo 11 and the first men on the moon with its theme "Moon Mission". Student participation in Homecoming activities was much greater this year as a result of competition among classes. Many students assisted in designing and constructing floats and hall decorations.

By dismantling barns, cutting down trees, and various other methods, students collected so much wood that the bonfire after the pep rally Thursday was the biggest ever. The Junior Class took first place in the parade with a float of the lunar module on the moon entitled "One Small Touchdown for the Cardinals, One Giant Victory for Worthington."

The dance the next night was in the gymnasium, which was decorated with beautiful paper flowers and glittering foil. Queen Steph Hill and her Court reigned over all of the Homecoming activities. Student Council awarded the Junior Class a flag for accumulating the most points during the Homecoming activities.

Miss Hottenroth explains to Mike Muller that he must get used to the flying books and other special effects involved in the play.

Fred Green and Kris Jobst find that a medium who has fainted (Virginia Bennett) is not much help in a seance.

Sherrie Coleman spent a lot of time seeing that Kris's hair was just right for her part in Blithe Spirit.

Madame Arcati gives the household maid careful instructions so that the spirits may be exorcised.

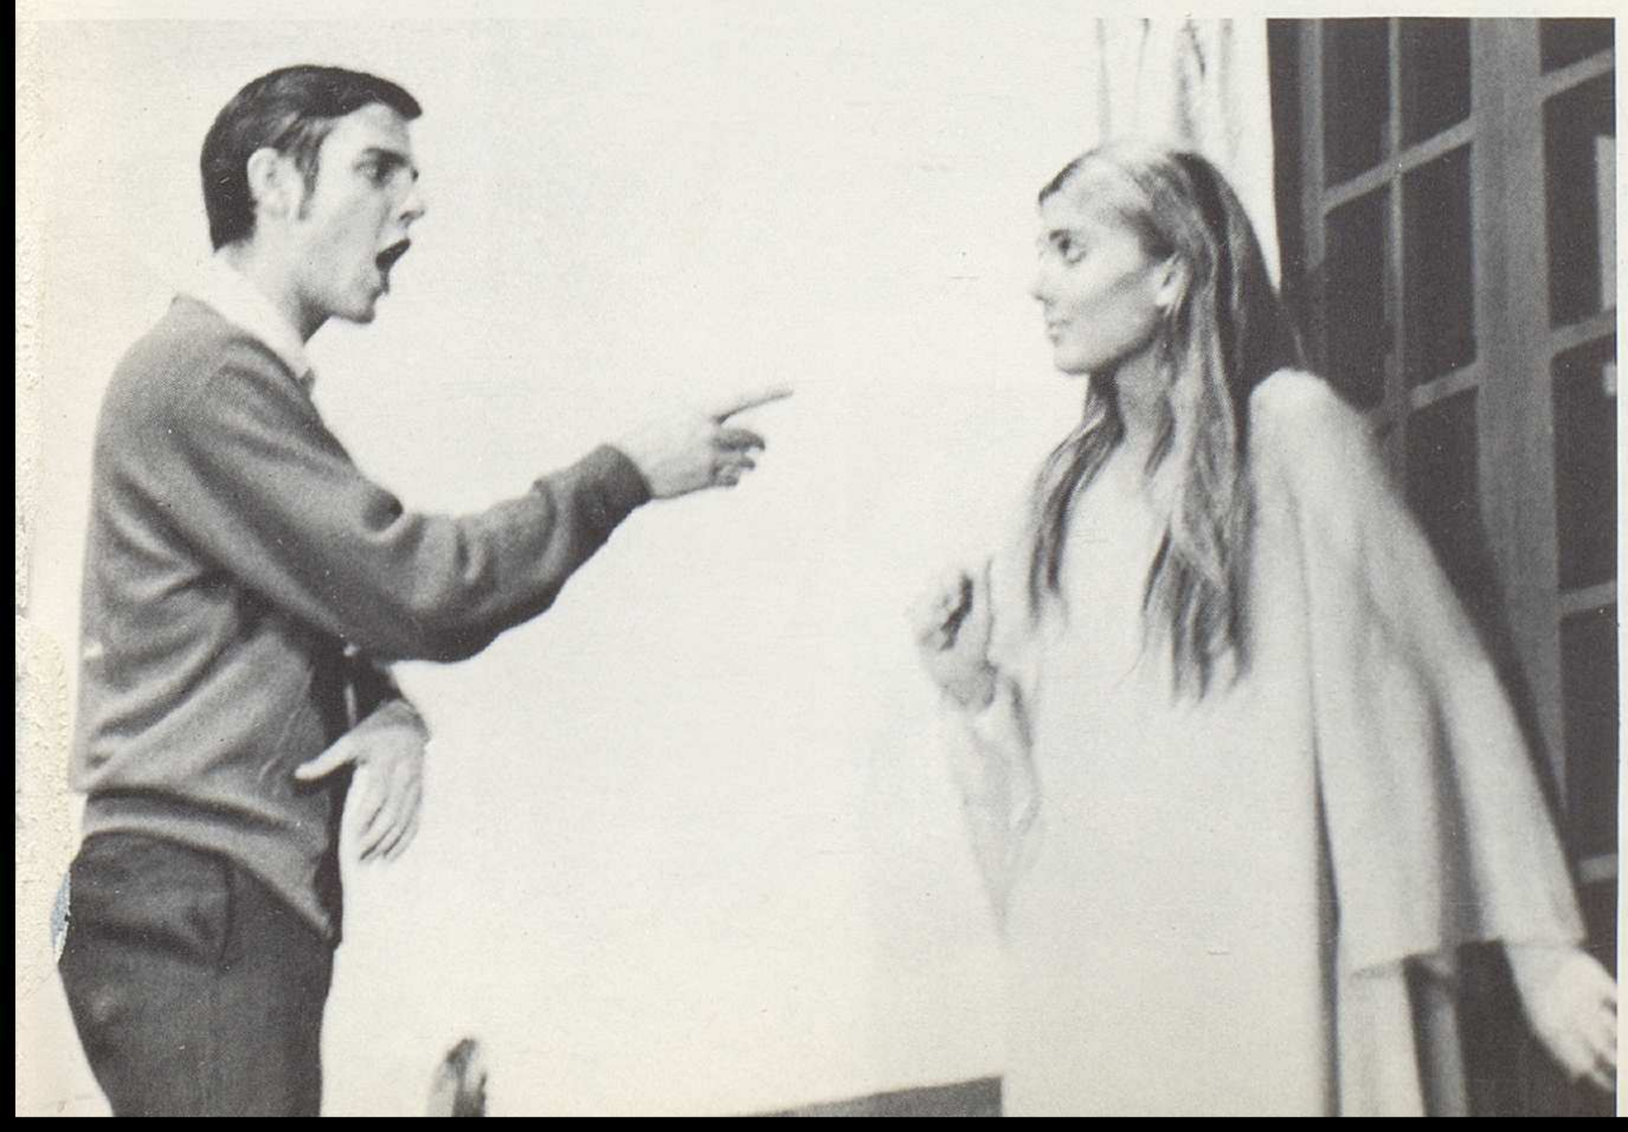

Mrs. Condomine (Charla Krichbaum) relaxes as she waits for Madame Arcati to come for the seance.

Thespians First Play BLITHE SPIRIT Is Ghostly Success

The Worthington Thespians presented BLITHE SPIRIT by the well-known playwright and actor Noel Coward in the James Kilbourne Auditorium on November 7 and 8, 1969. This satirical comedy was under the direction of Miss Elaine Hottenroth and student director Kerry Edens. The small cast of seven players was made up of Charla Krichbaum, Fred Green, Virginia Bennett, Kathy Hume, Mike Mueller, Kris Jobst, and Cecilia Weisenberger.

The ghostly farce required the use of many special effects. Books flew through the room, tables rose and the phonograph turned itself on and off. A blown fuse during the first production caused slight confusion. Makeup was very elaborate; a difficulty resulted from an allergy to the meal-based pancake makeup. The play was a financial success. Proceeds were used to purchase equipment for future productions, such as a spotlight.

Mr. Condomine (Mike Mueller) orders the first Mrs. Condomine (Kathy Hume) out of his house

"Candy Cane Ball" Theme Delights Students at Christmas Formal

This year Student Council arranged a Christmas Formal which was dazzling to behold. It was entitled "The Candy Cane Ball."

Guests were greeted with the entrance to a castle as they the lobby of the gym. Candy canes were suspended from the ceiling and drawbridges marked the gates to the dance.

Inside was a Christmas tree near the door. A tripod of giant candy canes filled the center of the gym while the other end of the gym held a fireplace. Windows looking out over castle-like scenery covered the walls.

Candles and candy canes adorned the tables. Each girl received candy canes upon entering the castle. "The Contempories" provided excellent rock music for the December formal.

Becky Hall, Colleen Carter, Jackie Naehring, Gwen Huffman and Martha Morss reigned over the festivities as Cardinal Queen and Court.

Students Stomp Faculty In Annual B-Ball Game

February 19 was the date for this year's annual Student-faculty basketball game. Classes were dismissed early so everyone could attend the match. The game was a little unusual. Cheerleaders kept the ball inbounds when there was danger of its escaping. Several times each team was made up of eight players. This approach was soon abandoned, though, when it led to too much disorganization.

The students triumphed again when they won 40 to 25, coached by Brad Forward. Mr. Pat Mannion coached the tough faculty team.

Jim Mack attempts to prevent Mr. Dale Everett's throwing of the ball. "Birdman," alias Mr. Phil Everett appears in full costume.

Students and faculty members alike watch as their champions do battle for the ball.

Cheerleading Club Presents All Sports Dance

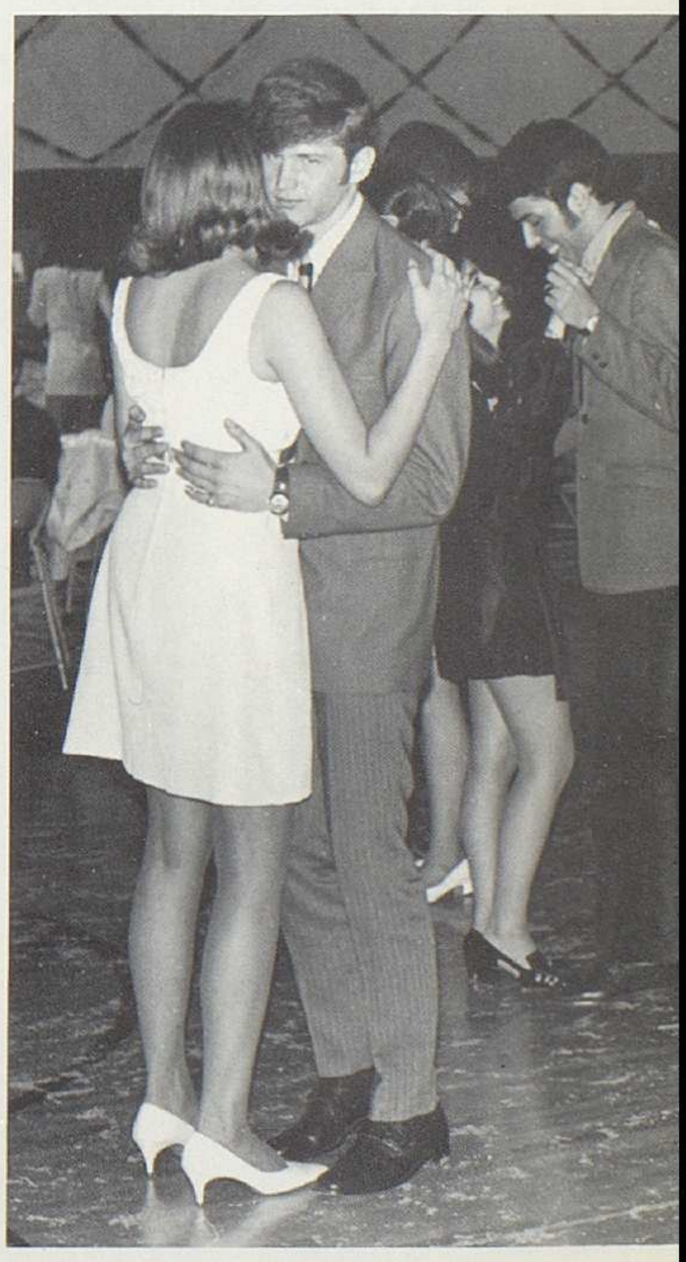

The theme of this year's All Sports Dance, held on April 18, was "The Sports in Our Little Boy's Life." Cheerleading Club was responsible for the dance and member Becky Hall was in charge of decorations. The decorations consisted of baby pictures and candids of the senior athletes mounted on construction paper and placed all around the gym where the dance was held. A band called the Polarians from North High School provided the music. The All Sports Dance was held to honor any senior boy who had participated in any sport during the year. Jim Albright was named "Sportsman of the Year."

Paula Nowacki and Grey Yost join other students in looking at pictures of sportsmen from a few years back.

Carousel's Four-Night Run Draws Full-House Crowds and Provides Excellent Entertainment

The opening scene of CAROUSEL is at the barker's carousel (top). The stage crew (right) decides to put on its own show.

Mrs. Snow (Carolyn Jones) shares a happy moment with Mr. Snow (Gerry Davis).

Mrs. Bigelow (Carol Hibbs) kneels over Billy Bigelow (Mike Muller) after he has committed suicide.

The music department chose the very successful musical CAROUSEL by Rodgers and Hammerstein as their operetta this year. Much work was done behind the scenes: building scenery and the carousel itself, renting and sewing costumes, and rehearsing. Rehearsals started right after Christmas vacation and many hours were put in every night for several weeks before the actual performances March 6&7, 13&14. This was the first time in many years that the performance ran for two weekends, and although it involved more work for the cast, orchestra, and committees, more people were able to see the show. The cast was composed of 24 chorus members, 12 dancers, and the principals, Mike Muller, Carol Hibbs, Carolyn Jones, Gerry Davis, Janice Crewe, Bill Prindle, and Gwen Huffman.

Thespians Produce PEGORA THE WITCH As the Annual Children's Show

The Worthington High School Thespians presented PEGORA THE WITCH as their children's theater production. This year's production was one of the most successful ever done. There was much talent in the cast, and the whole cast was willing to work together and cooperate. The play was under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Heaps and Paula Nowacki as student director. The costumes added to the mystical setting of the play which included such characters as wizards, witches, a king, queen, princesses, and a court jester. The main characters were Randy Montgomery, the king; Mari Ann Karolin, the queen; Kathy Hume, the head witch; and Evy Pine as Pegora, a witch who turned "good." Carol Chase was accompanist for the songs sung in the play.

Pegora's fellow witches (above) accuse her of not succeeding in kidnapping the princesses.

Alligators, Gardens and Gazebo Delight Departing Seniors as Juniors Present An "Old South" Promenade

"The Old South" was the theme for the successful Jr.-Sr. Prom held on May 16. To carry across the theme, the lobby was decorated to look like a Southern mansion complete with flowered wallpaper and antique furniture. Formal gardens covered the gym floor, and the band was sheltered by a latticed gazebo held up by pillars hung with Spanish moss and flowers. Alligators lurked in swamps which had been constructed in both balconies. Sophomore servers were dressed in costumes of the antebellum South. Margie Bennett and Lu Bullar as co-chairmen spent many hours with the different committees to provide the seniors with a night to remember.

Attracts Politicians and Technical People

Earth Day, April 22, was initiated all over the country to make people aware of the serious effects of pollution on the environment. At WHS preparations for E-Day were left almost entirely up to the students with Mr. Pinnicks as their advisor. Commitees were set up to get qualified people to speak on the different areas of pollution such as air pollution, sound pollution, and water pollution. The purpose of E-Day was to get people willing to do something themselves to prevent pollution rather than leaving it up to someone else. No regular classes were held during the day, but different speakers spoke every half hour in both the gym and the east cafeteria.

"In the Know" team members (above) were Steve Finch, Steph DiCenzo, Julie Morse, and Jean Aurand. Alternates were Bobbi Lane and Mark Farmer.

G. Buxton (top row left) receives The Byron Tennent Memorial Award. R. Chadwell (top row middle) is recognized for his twelve-year perfect attendance record. S. DiCenzo, J. Morse and M. Wiseman (top row right) represented WHS at the Conference on the Atom for Peace. National Merit Semi-Finalists (second row) are J. Aurand, S. DiCenzo, B. Lane, M. Wiseman, Ted Brown. Hall of Fame selectees (third row) are R. McCauley, G. Truitt and Mrs. Bobrovnikoff. Boys' and Girls' State representatives included J. Hagan, alternate; J. Crewe, alternate; G. Yost; A. Parsons; G. Truitt; B. Fabbro; R. McCauley; R. Sproat, alternate; P. Rustagi.

The students who probably portrayed the highest achievement among their peers were Jean Aurand, Steph DiCenzo, Steve Finch and Julie Morse. This group, the "In the Know" team, displayed great ability defeating four other teams, West, Chillicothe, Grove City and North. They, however, became runners-up after succumbing to Columbus Academy in the final round.

Parents of Worthington Seniors presented their graduating offsprings with a lavish farewell party right after the commencement exercises. In the niche of the Brookside Country Clubhouse, Seniors attending the party enjoyed extravagant dinner, polyphonies by the Hay Market Riot, and games of chance. Many seniors won door prizes such as color television sets and tape recorders. Others cashed in gambling chips for myriads of small and large gifts and entered the baby naming contest. Although no beverages were served at the all-night dinner party, each departing Senior received an inscribed beer mug to prepare them for future times.

Gambling for prizes is a big scene at the annual Senior Class Party given by parents.

Campus disorders at Ohio State University forced cancellation of the exercises at Mershon Auditorium. Instead, the Ninety-First Annual Baccalaureate and Commencement was held on Dow Nelson Football Field.

Mr. C.W. Merrilees, Mr. Haywood, Mr. H.C. McCord, Rev. B. Edwards, Mrs. Bobrovnikoff, Miss E. Hottenroth, Dr. H.L. Yochum, Dr. G.H. Bonnell, Mr. L.E. Koloze, N. Allison, R. Lane, J. Morse, G. Truitt, M. Wiseman and P. Rustagi rise to sing "A Mighty Fortress" with the accompaniment of Mark Sopp, organist.

OSU Riots Force Change of Baccalaureate-Commencement Exercises To Dow Nelson Football Field

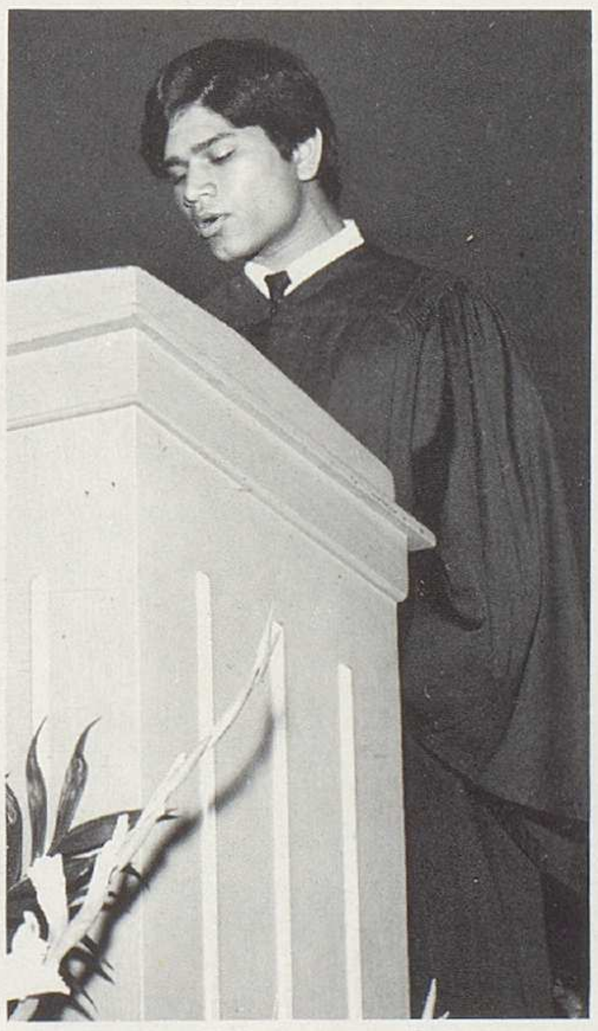

Despite complications concerning the location of graduation, baccalaureate and commencement exercises were held the evening of June 9th on Dow Nelson Field. Originally scheduled in Mershon Auditorium, the exercises had to be changed to the high school because Mershon was closed due to disturbances on the OSU campus. Harold Yochum, president emeritus of Capital University, was guest speaker, and Rev. Benjamin Edwards gave the invocation and benediction. Class President Pramod Rustagi said farewell to the school and announced that the Senior Class Gift would aid the library in building the new listening center. Bobbi Lane, in her Valedictorial address called on the graduates to serve as a reasoning medium in society rather than a reactionary extreme, while Salutatorian Julie Morse urged communication. Nancy Allison, Gayle Truitt and Mike Wiseman received Certificates of Excellence from the Board of Education for their perfect academic records. The Heischman Trophy was awarded to scholar-athlete Bruce Beery. Two WEA scholarships, each of $500, were awarded to Becky Fabbro and Nancy Klosterman in honor of Mrs. Bobrovnikoff. Gayle Truitt and Janet Wallace received the PTA scholarship. Four hundred and eighty-eight seniors received diplomas.

Carol Eberhart, one of 488 graduates, receives her diploma from Dr. G.H. Bonnell, President of the Board.

Mr. Earl Lane
Assistant Superintendent for Instruction
B.S., M.A.E., O.S.U.

The increased population to over 2000 students resulted in a two building campus for the high school. The ninth grade was housed at the James Kilbourne School this year.

Many new programs were initiated at the high school this year including an independent study program and study hall options. The removal of the dress code resulted in a comfortable change of apparel; girls wearing slacks and maxis and boys sporting longer sideburns and beards became a common sight. The Student Concerns Committee was organized to provide students with a direct channel for reform in the school—the abolishment of the dress code was one of their accomplishments.

Pass-Fail Senior Seminar And Black Cultural Studies Are Initiated in '69

The Social Studies Department was preparing for the biggest change in a long time. Major changes were initiated in Social Studies 4. Some classes used a new political science book entitled FROM LEFT TO RIGHT. A taped interview with a local Negro family was used by another teacher. The senior social studies seminar was operated on a pass-fail basis. After the experimentation this year, an evaluation by the department coordinator, Mr. Joe Townsley, was held. The students who participated in the program were enthusiastic about the freedom of the classes and the discussions. Miss Betty Waki and Mr. John Steitz worked with the pilot program. Black cultural studies were introduced in the American history course by the use of paperback books. New books were also used at Kilbourne by world history classes. Many teachers took advantage of video tapes to present lessons; for example, a tape of a city council meeting illustrated a lecture on local government.

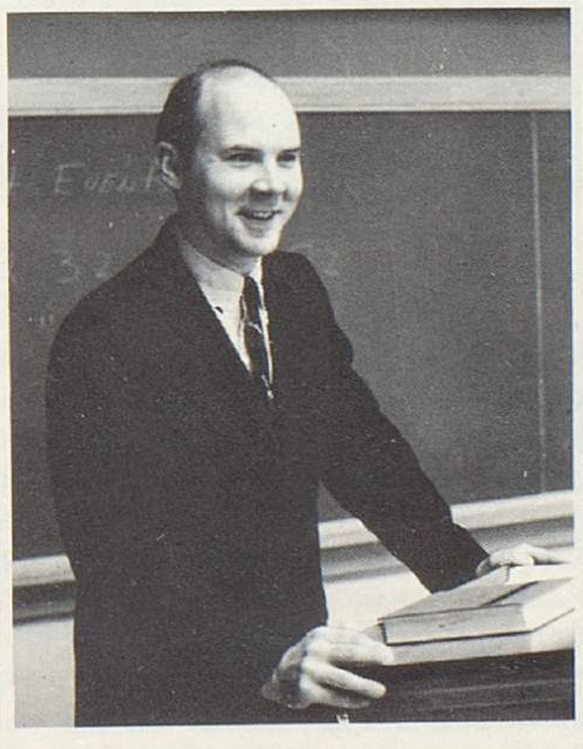

Debbie Givens turns to express her point of view to a friend. Various thoughts are reflected in the faces of Mark Farmer, Steve Finch, Steve Dyer, and Mr. Steitz (below) as they listen to guest speaker, Dr. William Mitchell, during social studies seminar.

Language Departments Stress Speaking Fluency And Comprehension Skills

The foreign language departments seek to train students in five different foreign languages. The goal of the French, Spanish, Russian and German teachers is to develop the student's ability to read, write, and think in a foreign language. Latin teachers seek to instill within the student a knowledge of an ancient language and the relevancy of the language to today's world.

Mr. Alexander Pashovich, in his capacity as language department co-ordinator, attended a language teachers' convention in Philadelphia. Russian III was offered for the first time this year.

A language department resource center was added this year. It was made up of novels and magazines in all the languages and many selections printed in other countries.

MRS. ROBERTA CAREY, Algebra A, Algebra I, Geometry, Penn. State U., Freshmen Council; MR. F. DUANE BUTLER, Geometry, Algebra II, B.S.E., O.S.U., Math Club Advisor.

The Worthington math program this year centered around expanded use of the computer facilities. Student computer aides and Mr. William Siders kept the terminal available several periods a day. Mr. Siders held classes for students with convenient study halls and many other math teachers incorporated programming into their curriculum. Many students solved their algebra problems in a much simpler way after they learned to program. Science students were often seen slipping into the little room to simplify lab results.

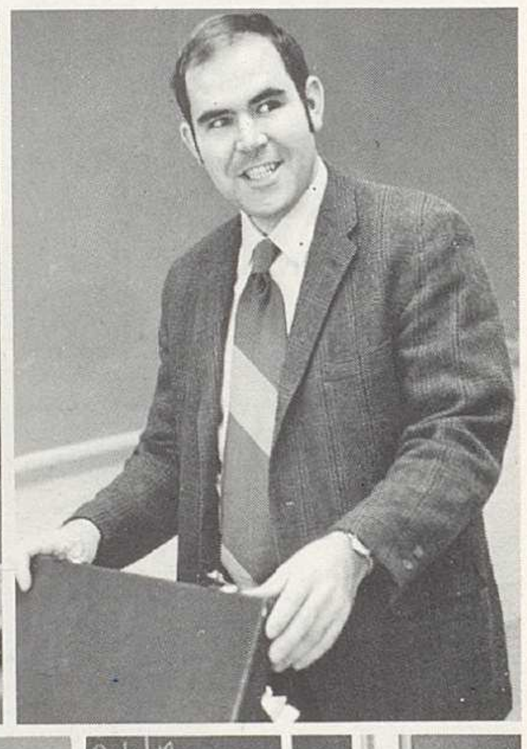

Mr. Gerald Haas, acting as department coordinator, saw that students stayed within the budget and arranged to have the terminal shuttled to Kilbourne, Worthingway, and Perry. In this way freshmen and middle school students had a chance to try short programs after studying it in class.

Math V, formerly a year-long course was divided into Linear Algebra and Algebraic Systems.

New Calculator Simplifies Lab Results in Science

The science department, headed by Mrs. Robert McBurney, set up a science research lab this year to go along with the plan of more independent study for the student. In this lab students were able to conduct experiments or in-depth research on subjects that interested them and were not offered in the classroom. Also Mr. Dale Everett, a full-time science aide, was added to the staff as an assistant to all the teachers and students working in the science research lab.

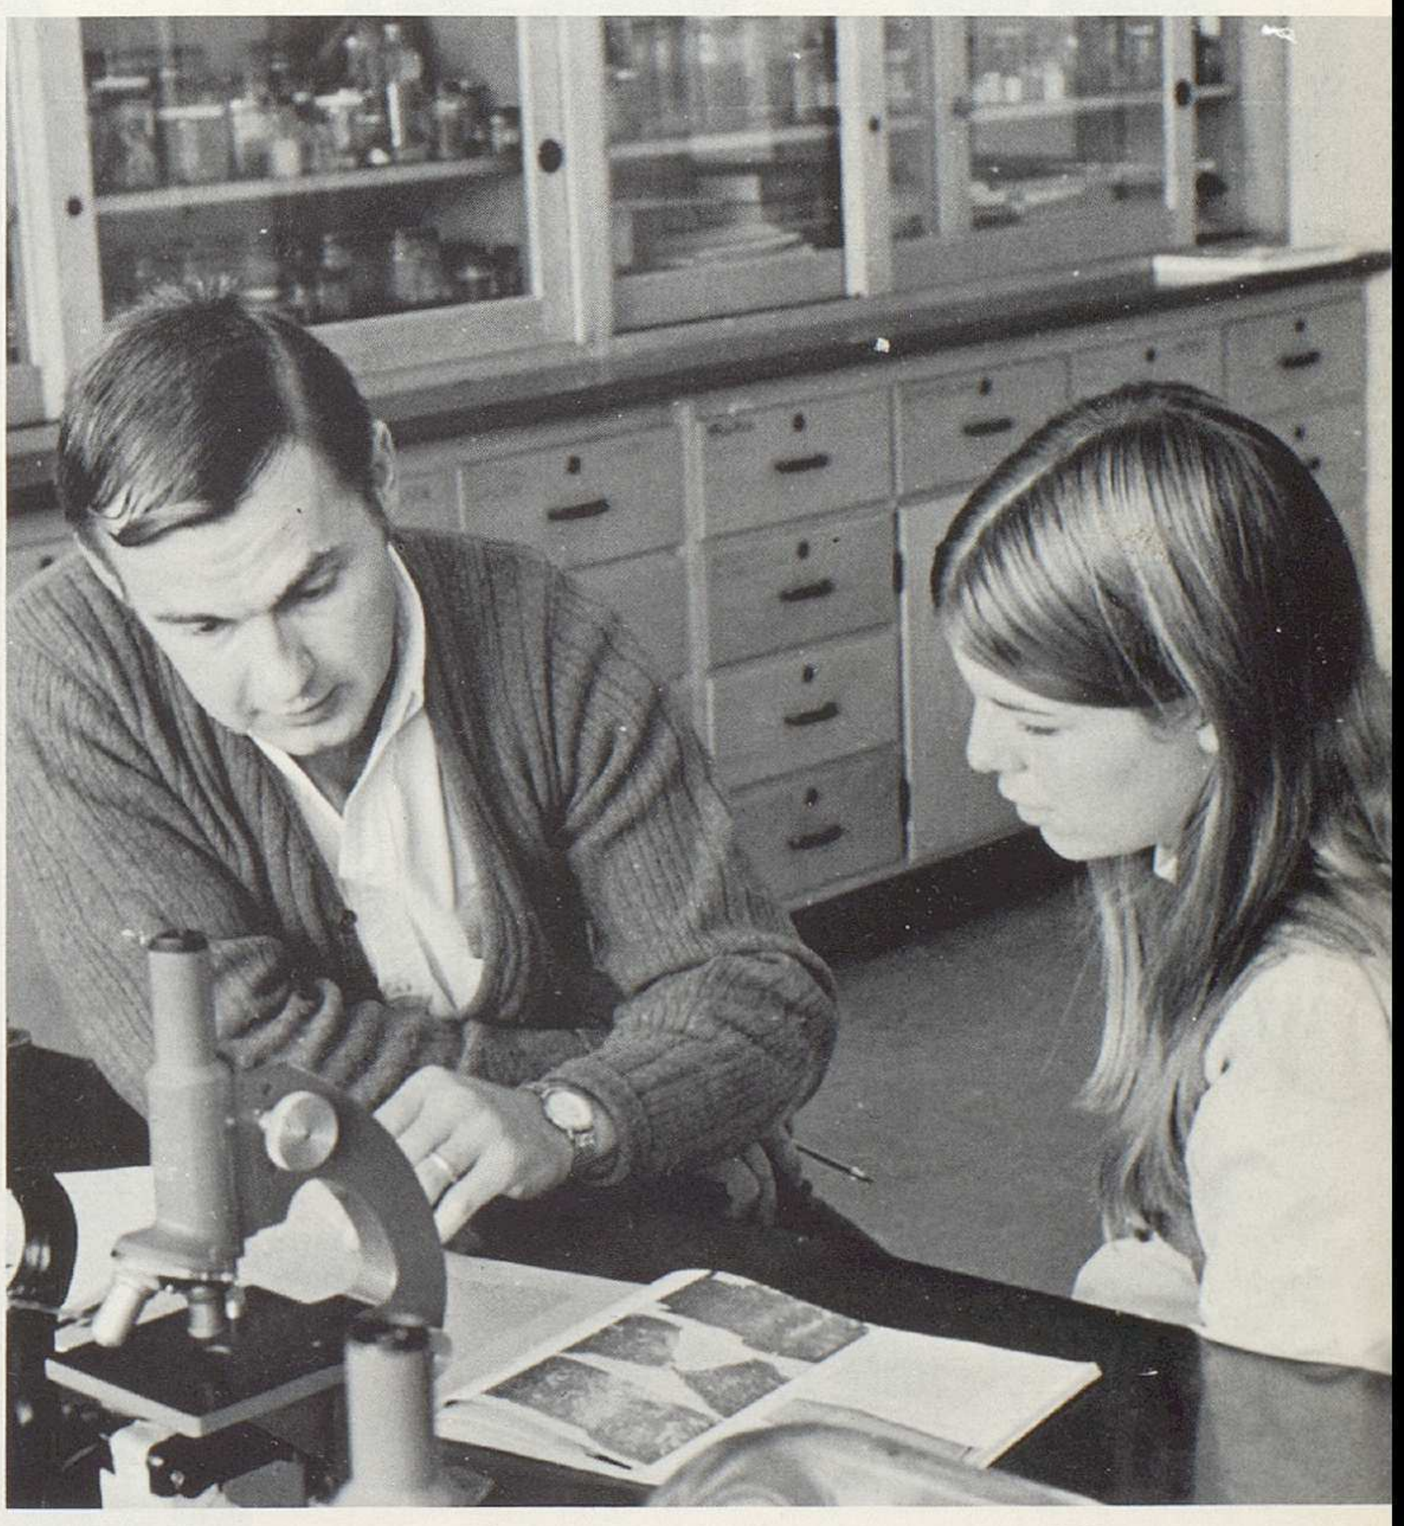

All the courses in the department stressed emphasis on the student. The student got more experience on his own. This ranged from mapping the school grounds and weekend field trips in the earth science course to community studies in biology and individual lab experiments in chemistry.

The physics department added a calculator to its list of special equipment. It was able to store small programs and do all the routine physics problems.

Field Trips and Special Units Spice English Classes

Although no pilot programs were used this year, the English Department, coordinated by Mr. Charles Rousculp, was busy throughout the year with curriculum studies. A reading specialist was hired for the ninth grade. She was available to assist those with reading problems and to develop those with special talents. Video tapes were used by English IV students to study the controversial book, THE CATCHER IN THE RYE. Many field trips were planned to movies and plays involved in literature courses. Among these were HAMLET and CAMELOT.

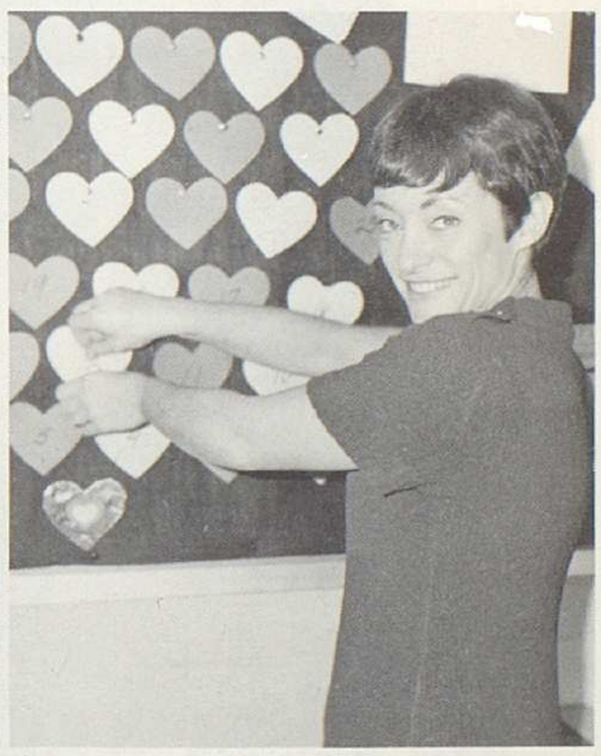

The eleventh and twelfth grade teachers worked on plans to change their courses. They had been surveys of all major writers in England and America. The plan was to change in-depth studies of several writers to stimulate interest and understanding of literature.

Library, Music, Art

Departments Add Another Dimension to Studies

The vocal and instrumental music departments, directed by Mr. Joel Haney and Mr. Kenneth Renshler, respectively, were busy this year with concerts, contests, and the operetta.

The art department, headed by Mr. Todd Kuyper, did a special section on film-making and participated in several contests and shows.

The librarians instituted many innovations this year, including noon music in one section of the library and individual study stations in another area.

DCT, OWE, VICA, and Practical Arts Programs Yield Practical Experience

Guided by Mrs. Barbara Provost, the Business Department in 1969-70 rose to the challenge of increased student interest.

One new feature was Vocational Typing II, a pilot course designed to help the student improve his typing skill. The students typed in an "office" under the direction of their "employer," Mrs. Barbara Ley.

Seventeen students were enrolled in the Cooperative Office Education program. Educators considered Worthington's highly successful program to be the best COE program in central Ohio.

Enrollment in OWE, VICA, and DCT programs was better this year showing the growing importance of practical experience and education.

The Industrial Arts and Home Economics Departments, headed by Mr. Les Eisenhart and Mrs. Martha McBurney, taught students practical arts which were found useful in home life.

Mr. John Hammill's Driver's Education Department was meanwhile preparing students for their driving tests. The use of simulators aided students in driving practice this year. This year started the system under which driver's education became mandatory for drivers under 18 in Ohio.

Service Staff Helps WHS Run Smoothly

The school could not have been run smoothly without the aid of such members of the staff as the cooks, janitors, and studyhall monitors. The cooks provided inexpensive but nourishing lunches for the student body, and the janitors helped to keep the school clean and orderly. Studyhall monitors were especially hired to supervise the different studyhalls and make sure a quiet environment was maintained for students wishing to study.

The school nurses were almost always on duty to attend to the various medical needs of the students at both Kilbourne and WHS.

The dedicated people working in the offices kept the school running this year. All college applications filed by Seniors were processed by the guidance office. Secretaries made sure that recommendations and transcripts were added to every envelope. The scholarships available to WHS students were also handled in the office. Included in this was the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

1969-70 Freshmen Enjoy Class Unity on the Nearby

The Freshman class was housed this year at James Kilbourne School. A student council was organized for the Kilbourne building and representatives from each homeroom were included. Five freshmen also attended the student council meetings held at WHS.

The separate freshman building had both advantages and disadvantages. The class became very close; friendships were made with students who attended the other middle school. Mr. John Miller, the principal of Kilbourne, felt that discipline problems were fewer among the freshmen this year. Suspensions of noon options were sufficient to improve behavior.

The Class of '73 sponsored several canteens, both at Kilbourne and the high school. Making and selling candles at the Ox Roast was a major money-raising project.

Class of '72 Prepares for Prom Financing Through Christmas Present Sales

The Class of '72 experienced a very successful year. They had many money raising projects in preparation for next year's prom. Bake sales and a canteen were some of the more usual projects. A special sale of Christmas gifts such as stuffed animals, small tool kits, and ribbons and trim for Christmas packages netted over one thousand dollars. Sophomores sold the items door to door.

Cooperation and imagination gave the sophomore class second place in Homecoming activities. The theme of their Homecoming float was "Cardinal on the Moon." In addition to preparing the class for its responsibility in sponsoring the prom next year, a growth of class unity was experienced. Students finally began contributing to the class as a whole.

Sophomore class officers were Tom Harbrecht, vice-president; Paula Klosterman, secretary; Doug Gordon, treasurer; and Derk Demaree, president.

"The Old South" Is the Theme For 1969-70 Prom Given by the Juniors

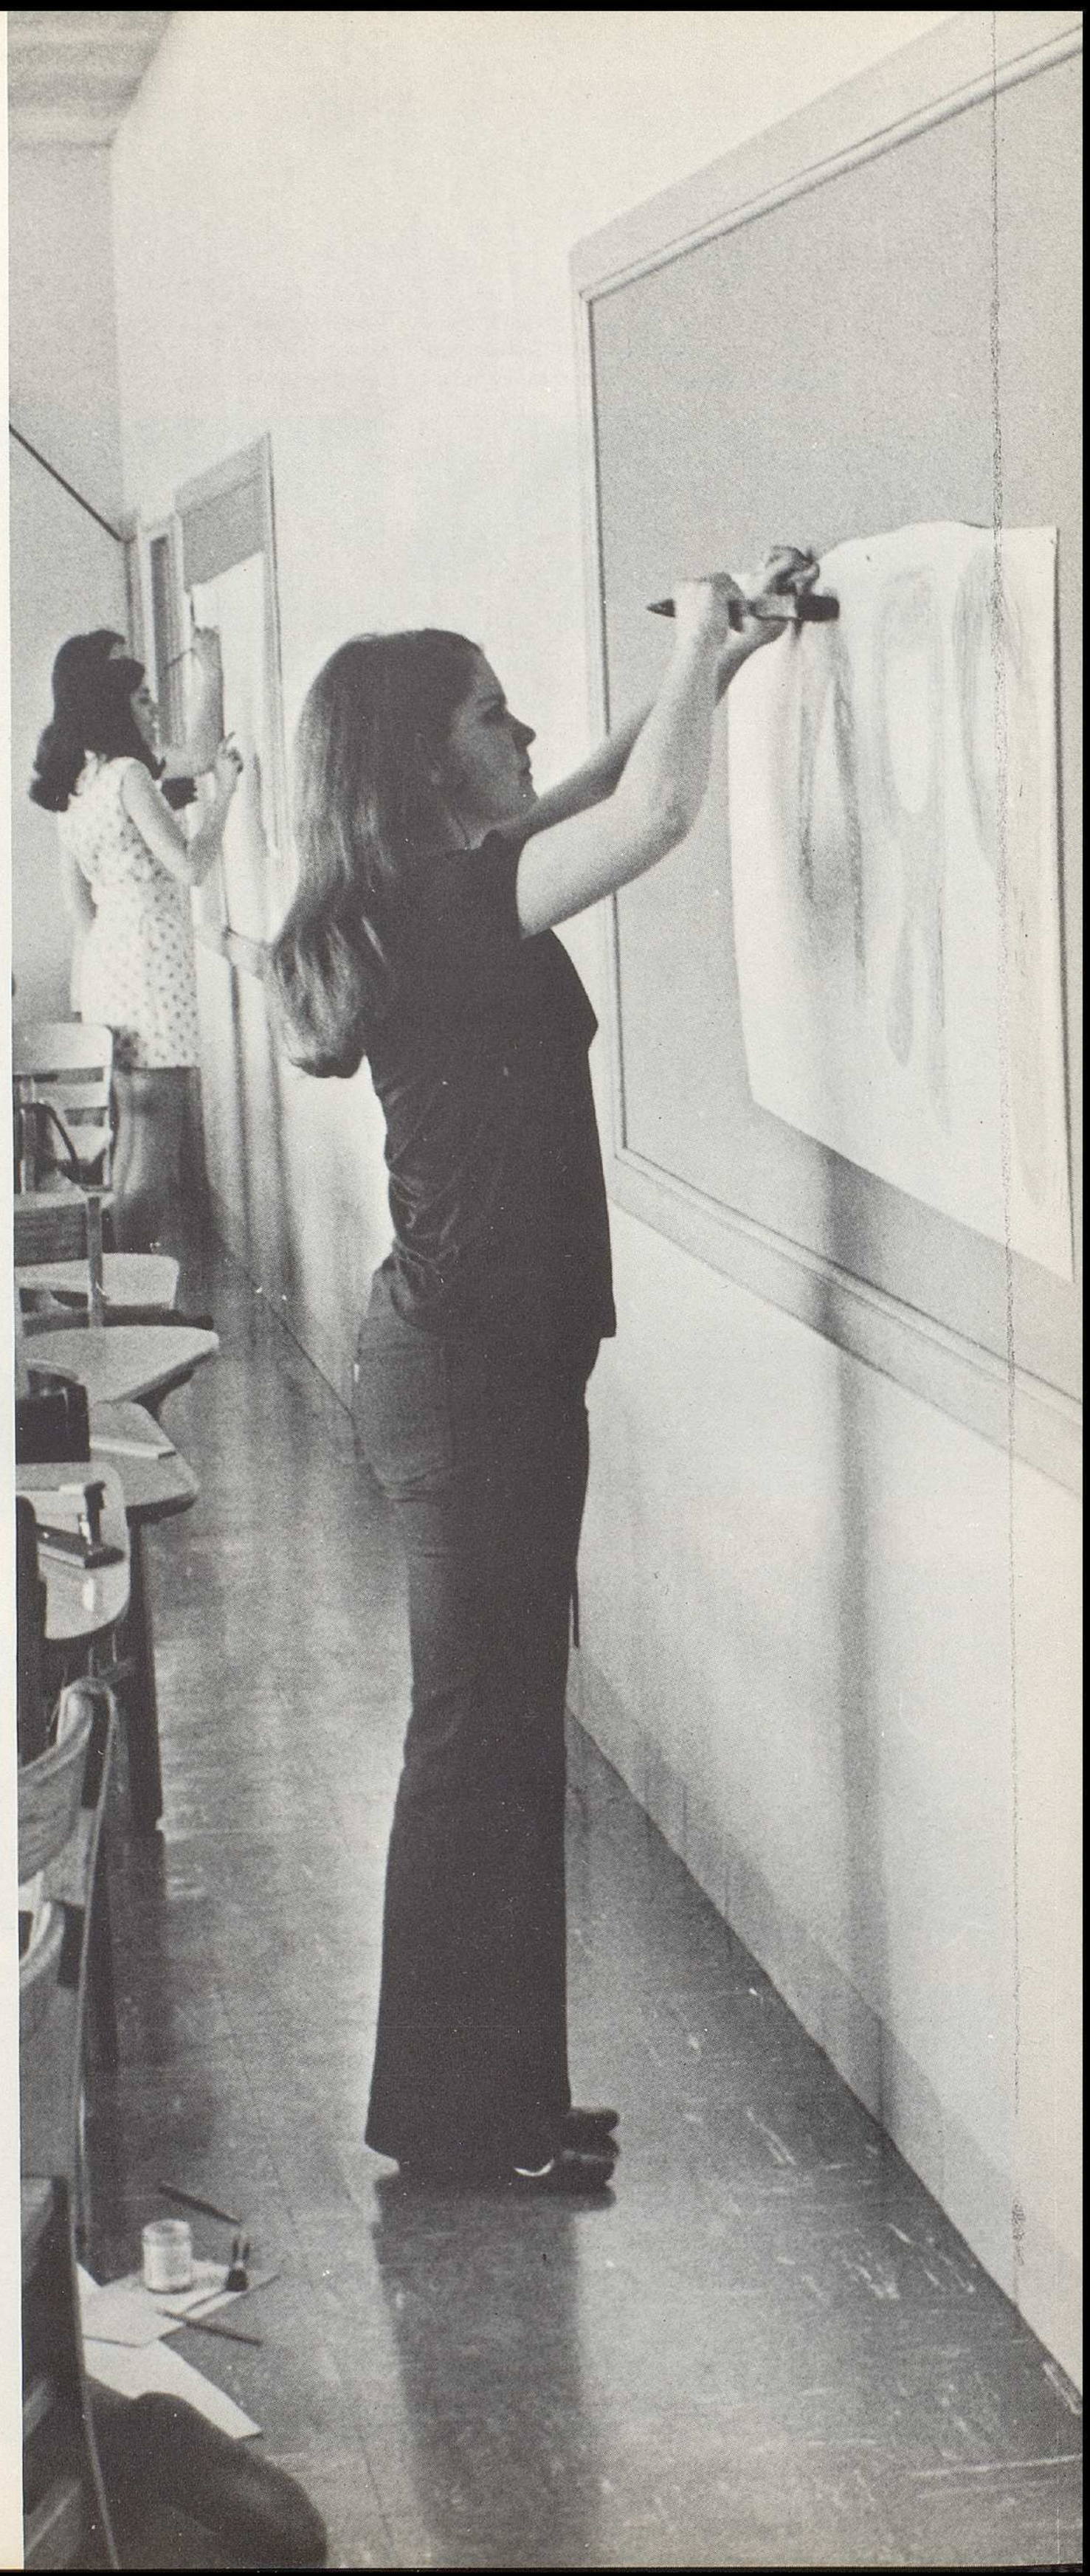

The members of the Class of '71 worked as a unified group to achieve many goals during the 1969-1970 school year. Under the leadership of officers Vickie Sproat, president; Wayne Wheatley, vice president; Missy Jolly, secretary; and Margie Bennett, treasurer; the juniors won the Homecoming competition by receiving points for the best float and the most bonfire wood and gaining second place in the hall decorations contest. The flag of the Class of '71 was flown beneath the national flag in honor of their Homecoming success.

The major money-making project of the year was the selling of "Rex", an all-purpose liquid cleaner, by enterprising juniors.

The juniors also sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom, the result of hard work and much co-operation and headed by Lu Bullar and Margie Bennett.

Class of '70 Officers Organize Senior Year Activities With Creativity

Seniors this year worked on all the traditional WHS activities. There were research papers to be written, monologues to be given, and a host of other Senior English requirements to be completed. The monologue requirement was changed to any oral assignment. Senior Cut Day was March 20th. It had an all-time record-breaking number of participants. The Senior Recognition Assembly was June 5th, the seniors' last day of school. Scholarships, attendance awards, and special honors were conferred there.

The senior class officers this year led the Class of '70 in many money-making projects. The first of these was the annual Senior Smorgasbord which proved very successful. Later the seniors had a Winter Carnival booth. It was a variation of the Cake Walk, a Bake Walk. Senior students provided brownies, cookies, and cakes to be given away as prizes.

A major money-making project for many WHS clubs,
the Winter Carnival
is the scene of much activity.

The "Symphony in Spring" brings orchestra members to a concert performed in the James Kilbourne Auditorium.

Student Talents Displayed in Instrumental Music Groups

The instrumental music department consisted of many smaller groups such as orchestra, senior band, pep band, stage band, marching band, and several ensembles. These groups were basically under their own direction with Mr. Kenneth Renshler as a supervisor.

The groups played at athletic games, concerts, the talent show, the operetta, and at contest. The two major concerts they played in were the annual Symphony in Spring and the combined Spring Festival with the choirs.

The drum major and majorettes marched with the band during many of the school's athletic activities. Their unfailing enthusiasm and spirit encouraged teams to victory and spectators to involvement. They choreographed dance routines in which they implemented their skill in handling batons, hoola hoops, fire batons, and flags.

WHS Choirs and Ensemble Groups Present Concerts For Their School And Community

Choir, girls' choir, 9th grade girls' chorus, mixed chorus, girls' ensemble, and mixed ensemble represented the vocalists at WHS. Choir membership swelled to over 130 participants. In addition to annual concerts and performances at assemblies, the choir produced the operetta CAROUSEL and sang at a patriotic meeting at St. Paul's A.M.E. Church in January. The WHS choral and instrumental groups participated in the annual Memorial Day concert along with the respective groups of the middle schools. The girls' and mixed ensembles were composed of select members of choir. Each group consisted of approximately 20 singers. In addition to performing in all the school concerts, both ensembles sang for various outside organizations at their meetings and dinners.

Students Help In Library, Offices, and Labs

Many students gave up their studyhalls and free periods to help in the different areas of the school. The office workers ran errands, delivered passes, and did jobs in the various offices. The audio-visual workers aided in setting up television sets and movie projectors in the classrooms which requested them. In the library the library helpers proved to be of much assistance. They helped the librarians in checking out books and running the copy machine. The lab assistants helped teachers in the physics, chemistry, and biology rooms by taking care of equipment and cleaning work areas.

The National Honor Society was composed of juniors and seniors who were in the upper third of their class and had been recommended by their teachers. New members were "tapped" during the Academic Awards Assembly. NHS with officers, Doug Gerrard, president; George Buxton, vice-president; Martha Morss, secretary; and Betsy Allen, treasurer, also ran the paperback bookstore.

Over 600 entries, including poems and illustrations from the elementary and secondary grades, added to the difficult task of selecting a partial number for the high school's literary magazine, the ACROPOLIS. Editor Shauna Vey and her competent staffs made efforts to chose creative endeavors which appealed to all students.

Thespians Art and Photography Club Members Follow Creative Endeavors To Beautiful Ends.

Beginning an active year the Photography Club introduced a darkroom orientation program for new members. Many club members took pictures for both the CARDINAL and the CHRONICLE. The advisor was Mr. Heaps, and the officers were: Dick Harmon, president; Dave Smith, vice president; Kathy Klepser, secretary; and Ron Jewitt, darkroom supervisor.

The Art Club had a boom in membership this year which made it the club's most successful year. The officers, Judy Fitch, president; Celia Leissa, vice president; and Anne Filbert, secretary-treasurer, had many speakers to visit. Field trips were also taken.

Thespians, with advisor Miss Hottenroth, again produced two major productions, BLITHE SPIRIT in the fall and PEGORA, THE WITCH, the spring children's show. Officers were: Kris Jobst, president; Virginia Bennett, vice president; Kerry Edens, secretary; and Mike Muller, treasurer.

Cardinal and Chronicle Redouble Efforts for Excellence

Because of a larger staff and greater enthusiasm, more time and energy were spent in making the 1969-1970 Cardinal a "bigger and better yearbook." Planning sessions were held during the summer to get a headstart on the vast amount of work needed to make the yearbook a success. Steve Finch, Ted Brown and Bobbi Lane went to a week-long journalism conference at Ohio University.

Throughout the entire school year the staff was involved in getting information and meeting deadlines, all of which had to be done after school or outside of classes. Several juniors, including Jenna Kohles and Steph Bekker, were present on the staff to gain experience for the job of producing the 1970-1971 yearbook. Mr. Thomas Savon gave much of his spare time to help. Members of the yearbook staff attended the Journalism Association of Ohio Schools convention on November 22 at Ohio State University.

Under the advisorship of Mr. Richard Mansfield, the 1969-1970 CHRONICLE staff took large strides in making this year's school newspaper apply to all the students. Topics such as the dress code, the Vietnam Moratorium, and other issues of concern to the student body were featured. All WHS students were allowed to voice their opinions by writing letters to the editor. The journalism staff undertook an extensive study of the policies of the different areas of the school and their effectiveness.

Spanish Interest Is Sparked By Spanish National Honor Society And Spanish Club Activities

The Spanish Club's main activity of the year was the Spanish Banquet. The officers who arranged it were Nancy Smith, president; Flor Bejarano, vice-president; Marcy Whitehead, secretary; Nora Nemeth, treasurer. Many students participated, including a Mexican girl. The meal consisted of Spanish foods.

The Spanish National Honor Society's year was started with the initiation of new members in a candlelight ceremony. Officers were Paul Dalesandry, president; Vicki Moats, vice-president; Karla Duerk, secretary; and Joyce McKenna, treasurer. Two WHS students were officeholders for the state SNHS, Jan Minor as president and Nancy Klosterman as 1st vice-president. Membership in the club is limited to students with a "B" average or better in Spanish.

The biggest activity of the Latin Club was the Roman Banquet with the theme "Delos Paradisos" ("Island of Paradise"). The East Cafeteria was decorated to look like an island, and murals of the sea were hung on the walls. A temple to Apollo was also constructed. Other activities of the year included a very successful magic show at the Winter Carnival, a Christmas party, and a pizza party for the final meeting. Officers for SPQR were Jill Greene, president; Hans Stroo, vice-president; Ann Gleason, secretary; and Lex Buford, treasurer with advisor Mrs. Drumm.

French Club with officers Steph Bekker, president; Terri Gnezda, vice-president; Nancy Satava, secretary; and Jay Geaslen, treasurer and advisor Mrs. Wilhelm raised quite a bit of money through such things as bake sales, leaf rakes, and hayrides. The club hopes to use this to help bring an AFS student from France to WHS or to send one of our students over there. Several meetings were held with the Whetstone French Club and one with the OSU French Club.

Concession Bake Sales Procure Great Pecuniary Rewards For AFS And Russian Club

Our first foreign student this year was Charles Racine from Switzerland who lived with John Simpson. During the last twelve weeks of school, an AFS student from Iran, Mahnaz "Nazie" Aflatoone, stayed with Charlie and Cathie Bunk. WHS students went to Turkey and Argentina this year.

Under the advisorship of Miss Malo, the officers were president, Karen Coriell; vice-president, John Simpson; secretary, Nancy Satava, and treasurer, Dave Molk.

The Russian club, led by officers Predrag Mategic, chairman; Mark Lazar, secretary; Jenny Roback, treasurer; Vicki Severance and Carolyn Hall, emphasized Russian culture this year. The club's many activities, a Folk Dance Troupe, several parties, and a field trip to the Russian opera, were financed through the club's many bake sales.

Predrag Mategic pensively considers his next comment at Russian club.

FBLA Prints Student Directory While FTA Student-Teaches in Worthington Area; Both Clubs Gather Career Information for Members

The Future Business Leaders of America provided for the school the student directory which they have done for several years. They earned money by selling candles for Christmas and candy for Mother's Day. The group, advised by Miss Nault and Mrs. Ley, were president, Jim Bartlett; vice-president, Tom Bolen; secretary, Shirley Roberts; treasurer, Betty Jean Overby; reporter, Pam Puglisi; and sergeant-at-arms Steve Dyer.

The officers of Future Teachers of America, president, Sue Peterson; vice-president, Nancy McLravy; secretary, Paula Boock; treasurer, Gail Watkins; and point chairman, Sharon Hall, worked with advisors, Miss Ellis and Mrs. McDonald. Members delved into career opportunities in education with programs featuring speakers on various educational topics. They student-taught at Worthington elementary schools in April.

In spite of the fact that the printer's warehouse burned down, FBLA got its annual student directory delivered. Forensic Leaguers And Strategic Chess Men Experience Successful Season Establishing the finest record in Worthington history, Worthington's tournament chess teams walked off with four trophies. Led by advisor, Mr. Steitz, and club officers, Mark Lazar, president; Steve Molk, vice-president; Fred Fisher, treasurer; Steve Forsha, secretary; and John Gast, official other; the two competing teams utilized depth of talent to achieve undefeated records in their respective leagues. The varsity team succeeded in winning the post-season league playoff.

Led by president Mark Farmer's partner juggling act and the consistent record of Fred Fisher and Mark Parsons, Worthington's Debate team established their finest record in many years. With new club advisor, Mrs. Heaps, and club officers, Randy LaTour, vice-president; and Nancy Smith, secretary-treasurer, the debate club spent much time and effort in examining the validity of unilateral American military intervention abroad. Although the team had only one returning regular, Mark Farmer, newcomers, Fred Fisher, Mark Parsons, Ted Brown, and Nancy Smith, developed quickly as the team built up impressive records in many cities including Toledo, Dayton, Newark, Cincinnati, and Columbus.

Astronomy, Science, and Radio Clubs Take Field Trips to Conventions, Eclipses, and Exhibits.

After a successful membership drive, Science Club's activities started with a field trip to the Aeronautical and Astronautical Research Labs at O.S.U. Members went on a variety of other field trips and conducted many money raising projects during the year.

The Astronomy Club fixed the observatory on the school grounds for gazing regularly at star clusters and the moon. The highlight of the year was a trip to North Carolina on March 21, 1970 to view a total eclipse. Many experiments were conducted to take a variety of pictures.

Members of the Radio Club were quite qualified to operate their radio daily, as they did. Each member knows the International Morse Code and radio theory and has taken the FCC exam. A Dayton Ham Convention was an important event.

Students Champion Causes In Ecology And Race Relations

The basis for this year's Ecology Club programs was an emphasis on natural sciences, primarily ecology, biology, and geology. The program was implemented through speakers, nature trails, and field trips.

These trips ranged from spelunking in Kentucky caves and winter hiking in Hocking County to bicycling in the rain to Hoover Reservoir and exploring Kelly's Island.

Mike Schmidt, president; Ed Truitt, vice-president; Julie Morse, secretary; and Marta Chase, treasurer; kept the club running smoothly and the programs interesting.

The Worthington Race Relations Group became a school club this year due to its great popularity among students. Wayne Wheatley and Julian Goode served the club as president and vice-president; Carolyn Ogram was secretary-treasurer. The club worked to integrate Black studies into Worthington curriculum.

HCC and Student Council Provide Career Ideas

The Health Careers Club's meetings featured speakers such as a medical technologits, a physical therapist, and a psychiatrist. A collection of Betty Crocker coupons was donated to the Kidney Foundation for the purchase of new equipment. This year's officers were Martha Pfefferle, president; Karen Will, vice-president; Laura Leslie, second vice-president; and Ann Childs, secretary; and Judy Hard, treasurer.

Student Council was run this year by Jim Mack, president; Ed Cole, vice-president; Ann Parsons, secretary; John Hagan, treasurer; and Gayle Truitt, recorder. Homecoming and Winter Carnival were the major activities of the Council this year. Student Council's influence helped bring about far-reaching changes concerning the dress code.

GAA, Cheerleading Club Spark Athletic Interest

The Girls' Athletic Association consisted of girls who had earned points by participating in different athletic activities. Most of the GAA activities were open to all girls whether members of the club or not, and girls competed year-round in intramurals. The officers, under the advisorship of Mrs. Howell, Miss Bach, and Miss Simonsen, were Lynda Nutter, president; Kathy Green, vice-president; Nancy Allison, secretary-treasurer; and Lu Bullar, intramural director.

Under the direction of Gayle Truitt, president; Susie Donovan, vice-president; Carolyn Clancy, secretary, Charlotte Weller, treasurer; Becky Fabbro, social chairman; and Nancy Bowers, sergeant-at-arms, the Cheerleading Club sparked the spirit of the high school by adorning the lockers of sportsmen with colorful signs and decorating the halls before school.

Y-Teens Attract A Multitude of Girls To Active Involvement

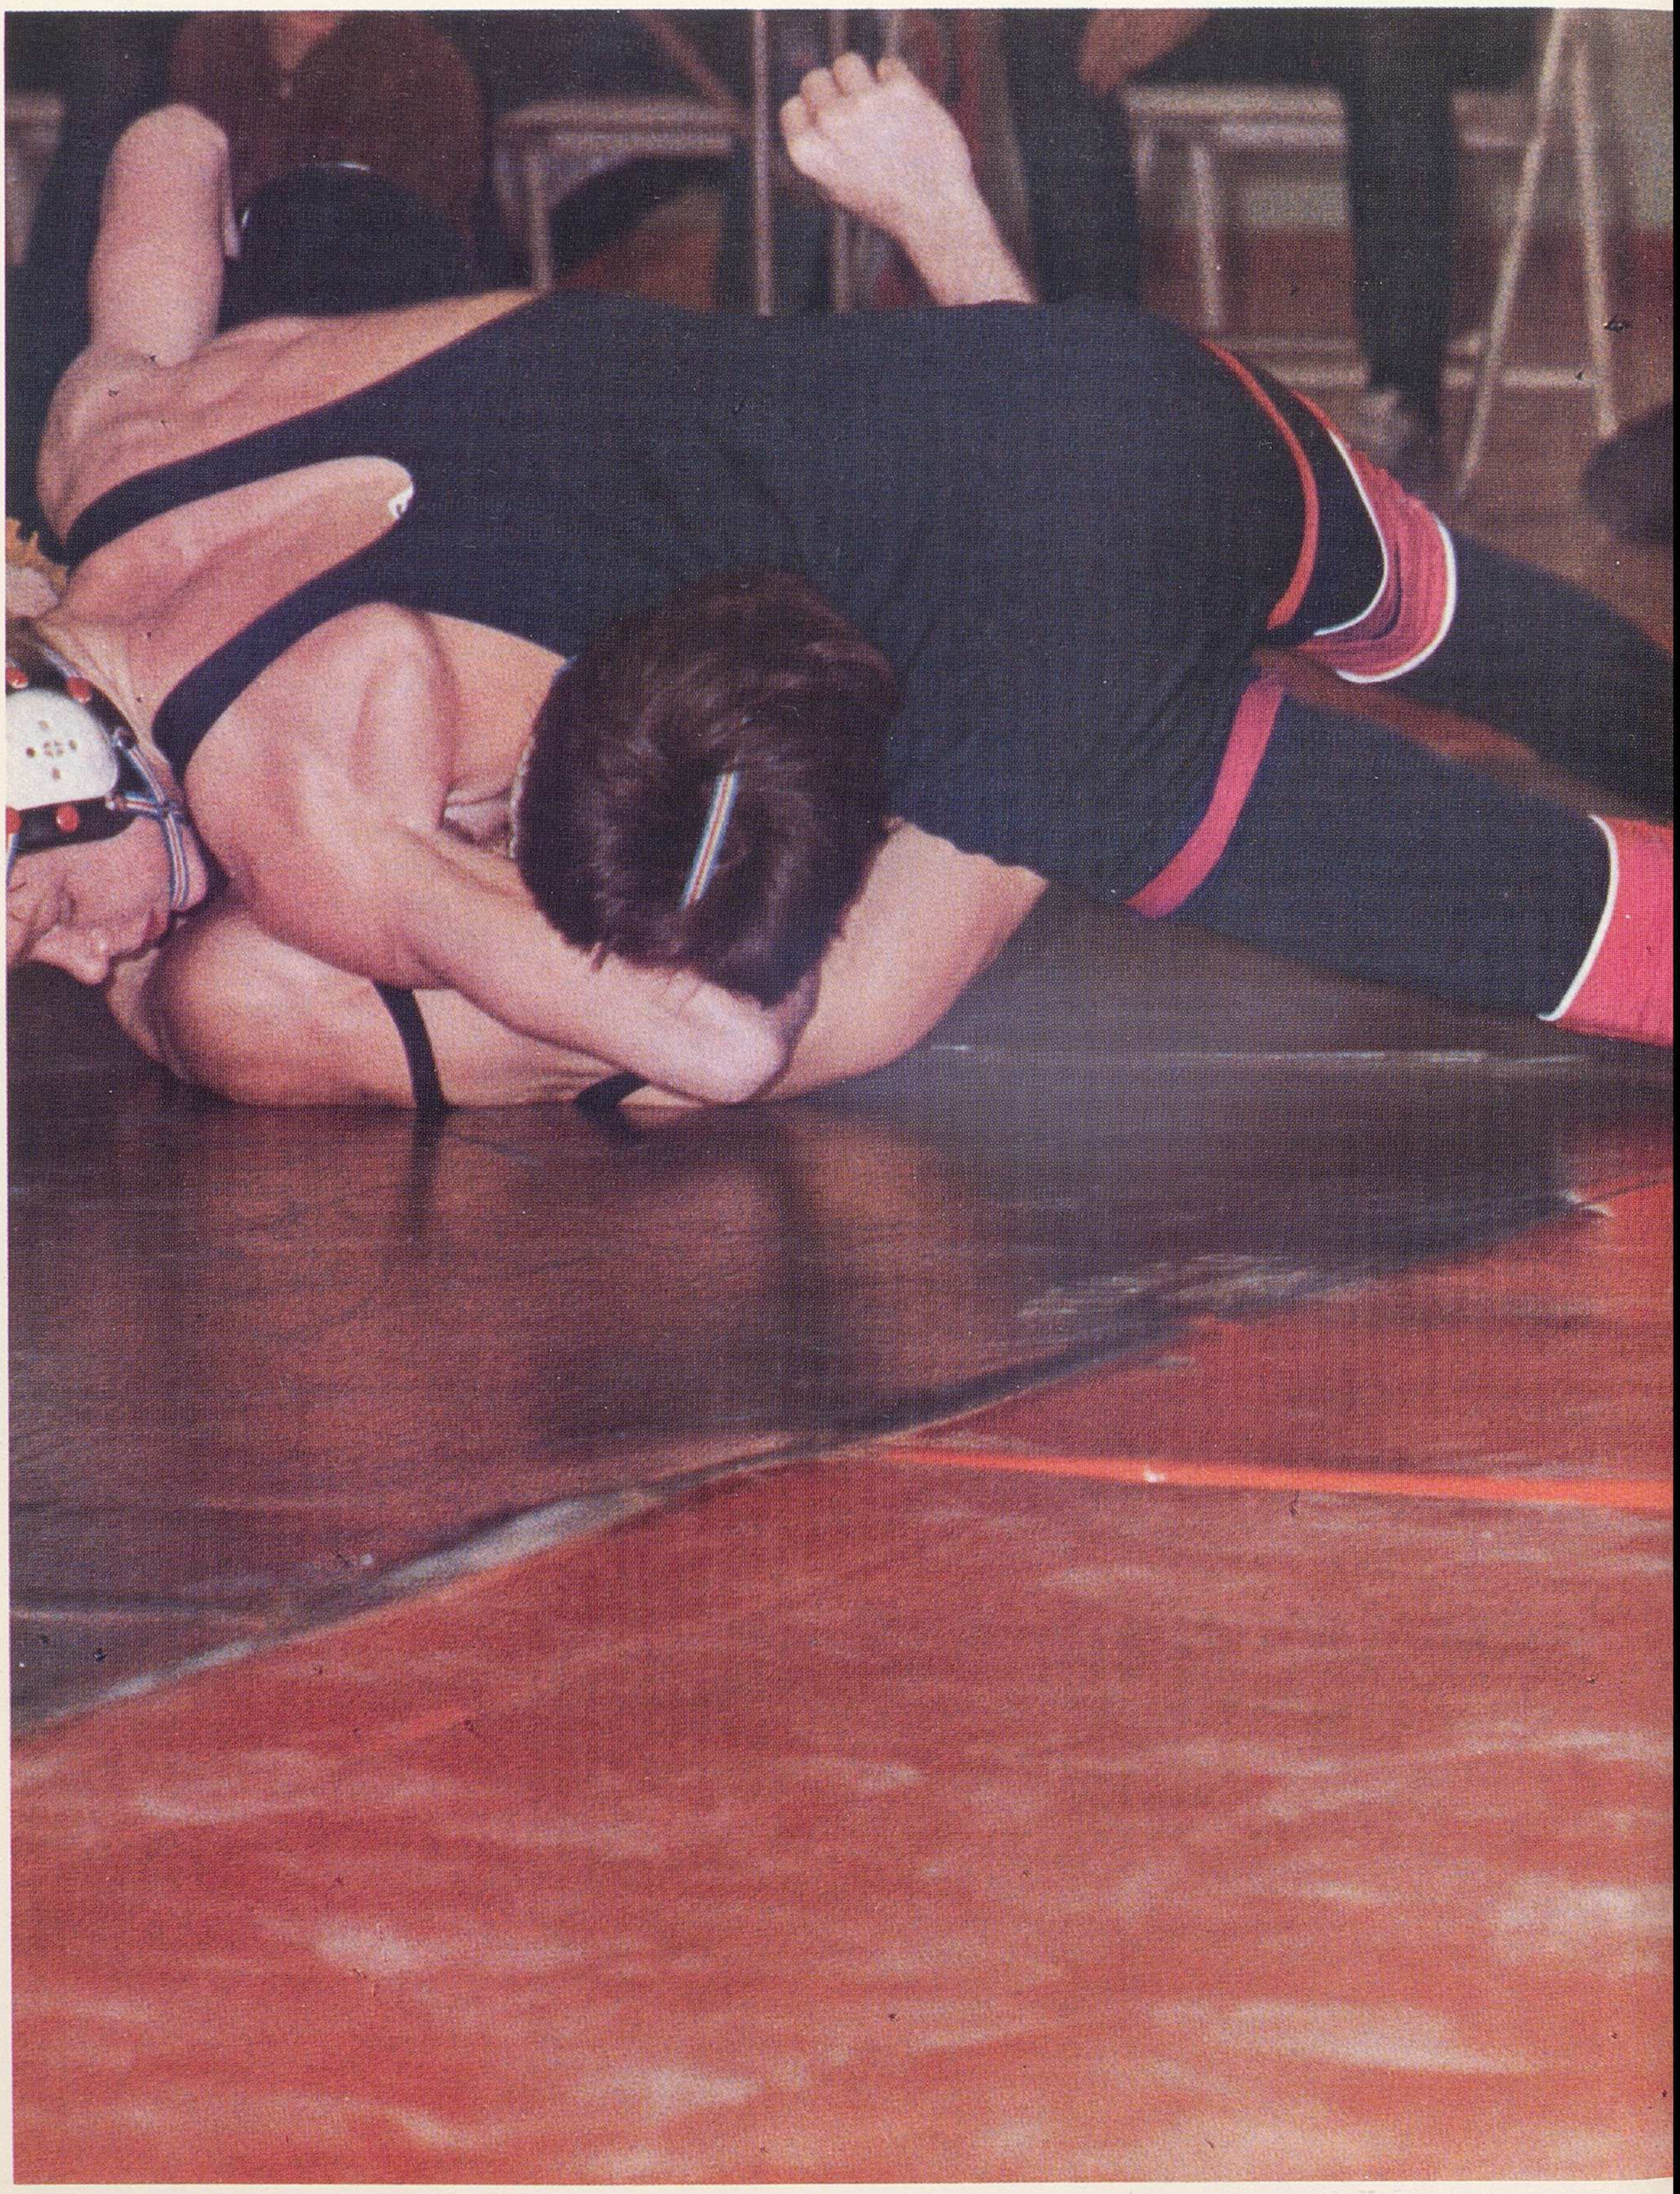

Y-Teens filled the year with projects for aiding the community and for improving themselves. Meetings included speakers from Bonnie Bell and Weight Watchers. Their major project was to visit people at Norwood Convalescent Home. The club also participated in the Soul Walk for Hunger, organized by the YWCA, in which teens walked to earn money used to educate people about poverty in Columbus.

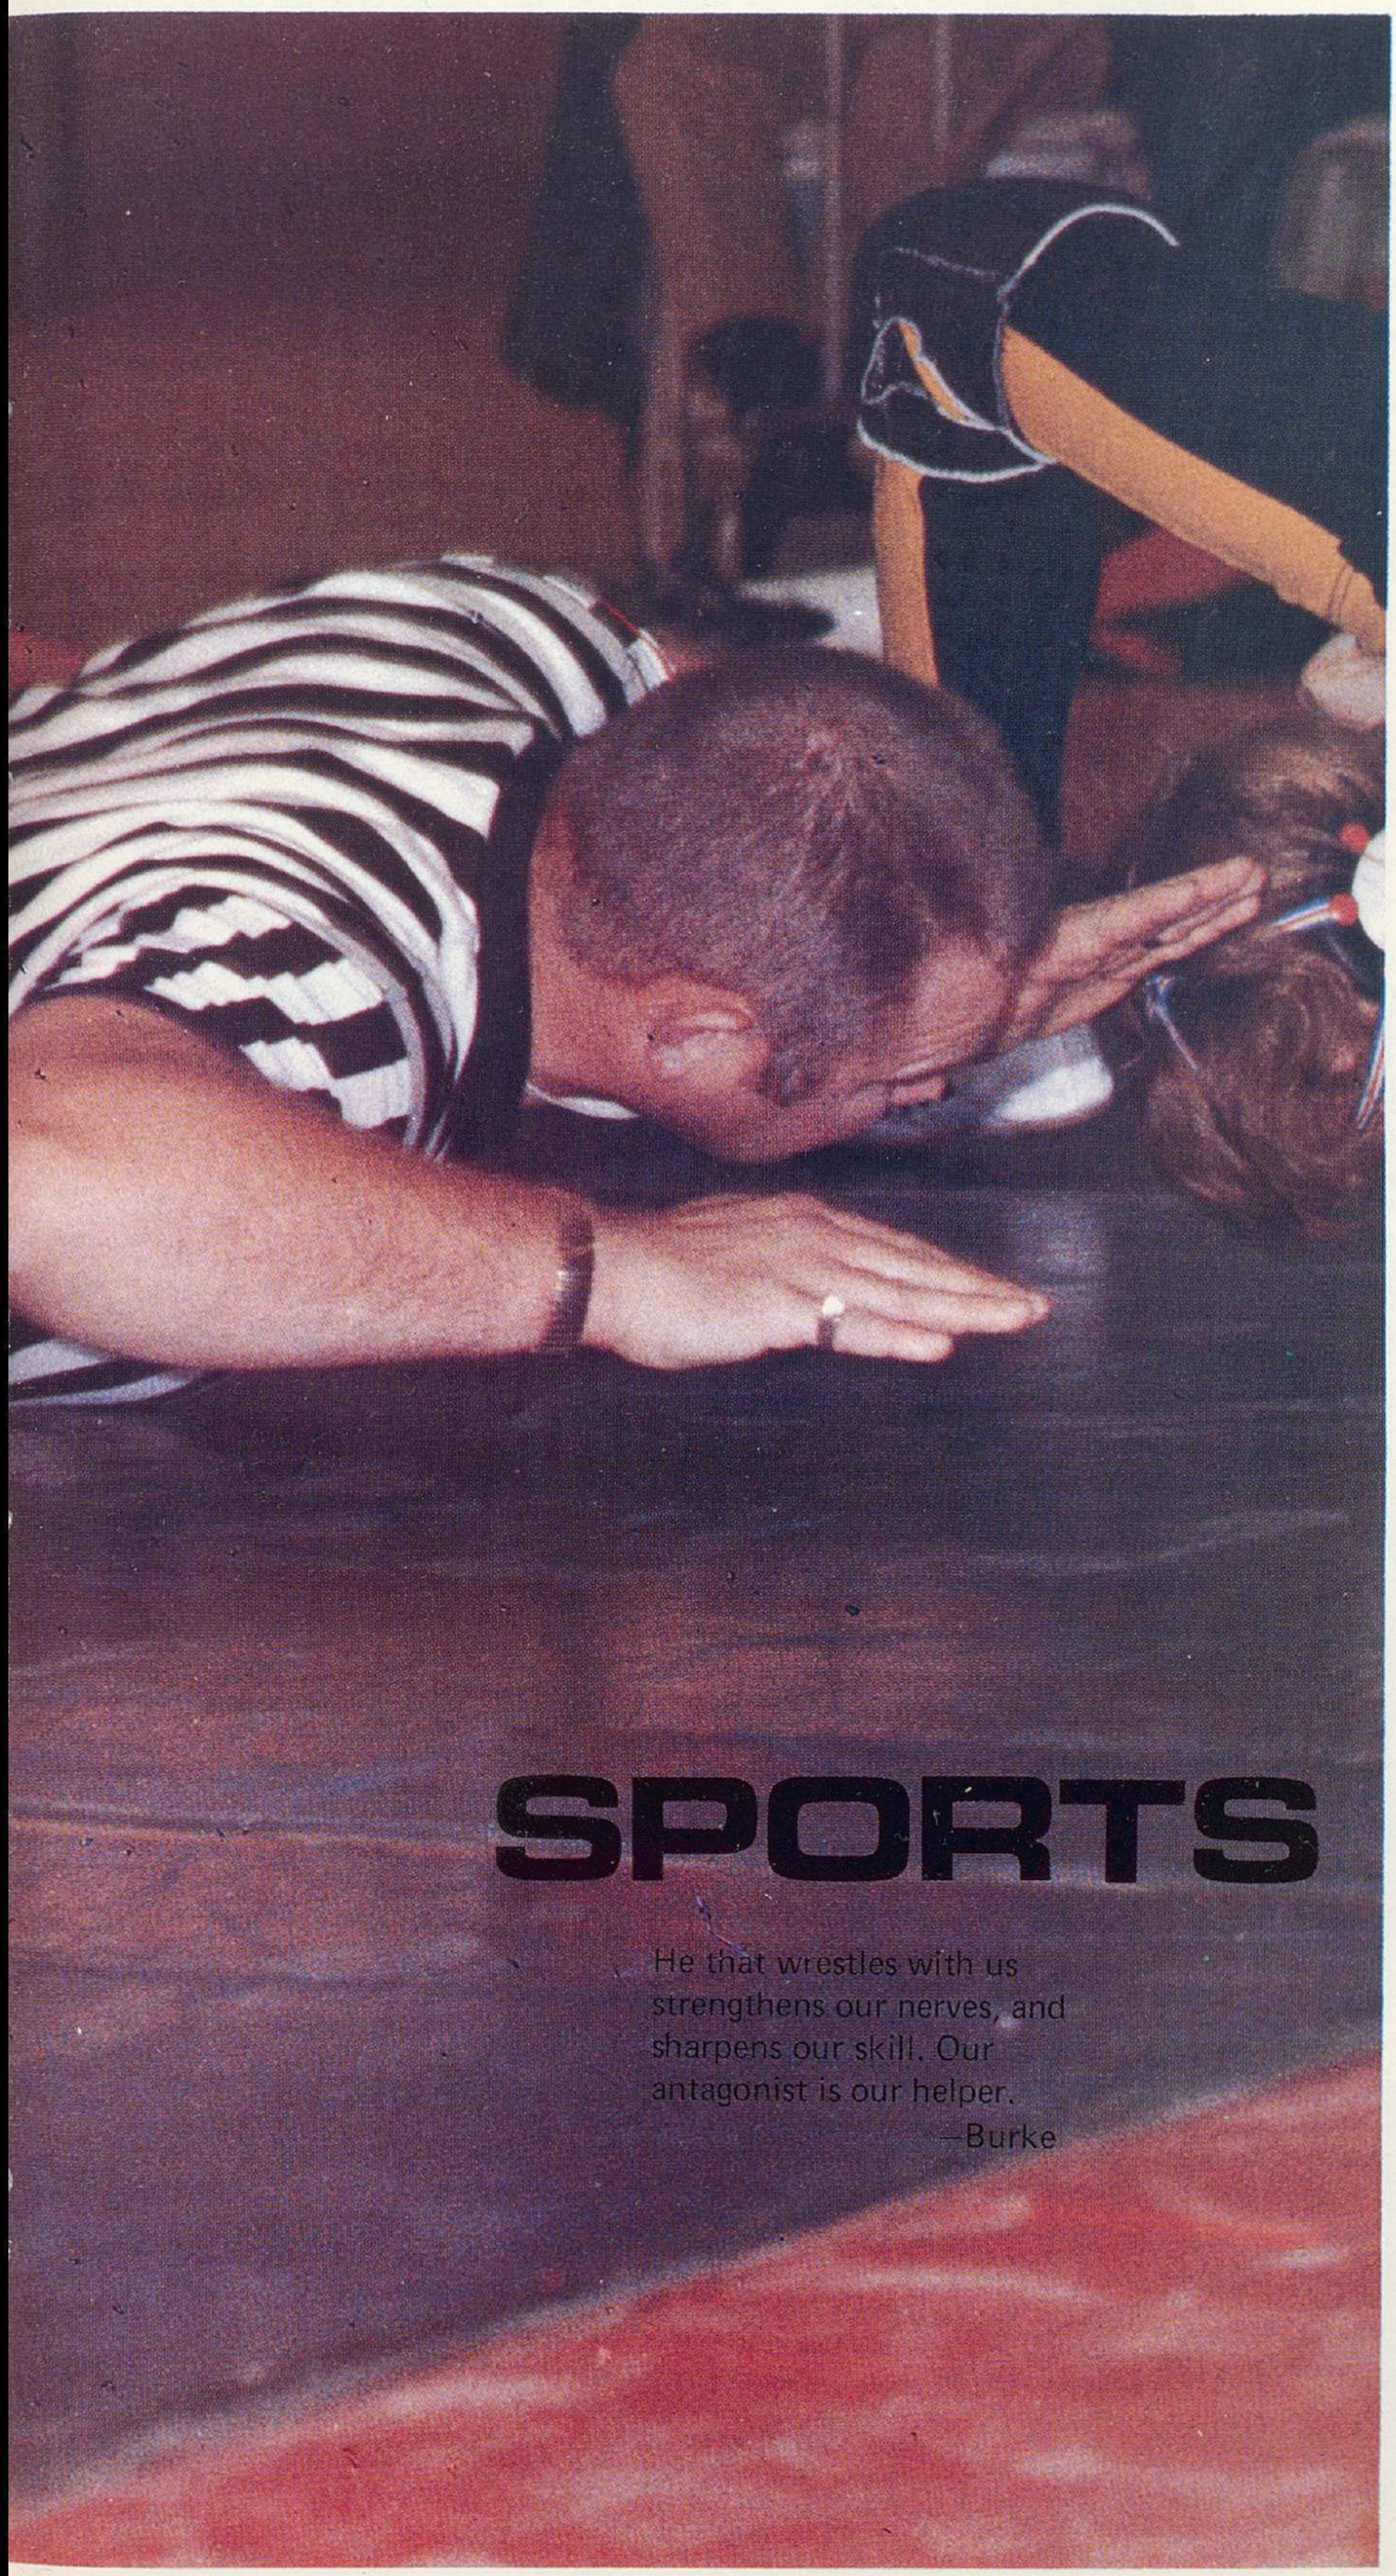

Money for Y-Teens was earned by selling potato chips and candy grab bags in the cafeteria. The club was headed by officers Janice Crewe, president; Sharon Gibney, vice-president; Lynn Hobart, secretary; and Susie Harding, treasurer.

Coach Les Eisenhart again formed an outstanding cross-country team. The challenge was made, and the Cards took it to heart as they won the OCC title beating Delaware 23-83. The team went on to win the District, edging Lancaster 30-36, and placed second in the Regional behind Arlington. From there, the Cards took eighth in the State meet, with Captain Randy Chadwell placing 6th, and Tom Bryant placing 22nd. The competition was tough as our runners faced the best teams in the state, but they had the advantage of "Cardinal Spirit." The Reserves, which include freshman and sophomores runners, were undefeated which made the team's prospects for the next year even better. The 1969-70 season was a working example of what team spirit can do.

"Running for Charity" was a marathon started the year before to earn money for United Appeal.

Cardinal Basketball Teams Net Successful Season

The Cardinal basketball team, under the coaching of Mr. Pat Mannion achieved a fine 17-3 record. Brad Forward led the team with a total of 284 points scored, while John Snouffer followed close behind with a total of 260 points.

The team succeeded in capturing the Ohio Capitol Conference League title and beat Linden McKinley in the Class AA tournament play before losing to DeSales 52-51.

The two captains of the team were named to the all-league roster. Brad made the second team in the Central District, along with all-state honorable mention. John received honorable mention in the Central District.

Wion Builds for '70 In '69 Gridiron Season

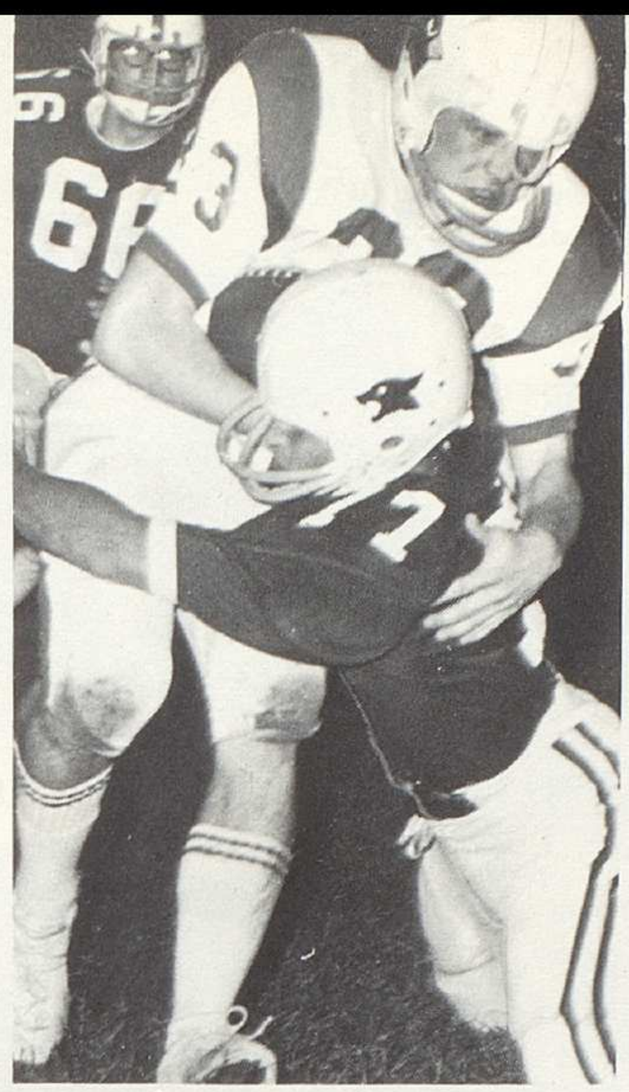

With the help of tri-captains, Joe Miller, Bill Field, and Jim Albright, the team's hopes were high as coach Wion led the team to a 22-14 win over Westerville, followed by a homecoming win over Reynoldsburg, and a 16-14 win at Pleasant View. However, Whitehall cramped OCC title hopes for the Cards by edging them 15-14. Because of their excellent work with the team that was third in the league, Joe Miller and Jim Albright made the all OCC team as defensive end and halfback respectively. Bill Fields and Jack Savage received awards of honorable mention. Jim Albright intercepted nine passes, which was a school record!

The main goal of the team this year was to "rebuild." With only four returning lettermen starting, the team had to work hard. A great deal of credit went to the seniors on the team. They were described by Coach Wion as "the most unselfish group of guys I've ever had. Without their leadership, our goal could never have been reached!" The coach also remarked that this was the first season in his coaching career that "not one boy broke training."

Junior Varsity Team Has 6-1 Record

Coach Merrill and Coach Stephan's junior varsity football team foreshadowed a bright future with their 5-1 season. Losing only to Mt. Gilead's varsity team, the JV's scored impressive wins over three-year-undefeated Arlington, Buckeye Valley varsity, and every OCC JV team. The freshman team also made a fine showing with their 5-2 season.

Matmen Pin Their Opponents To Remain Undefeated in Dual Meets

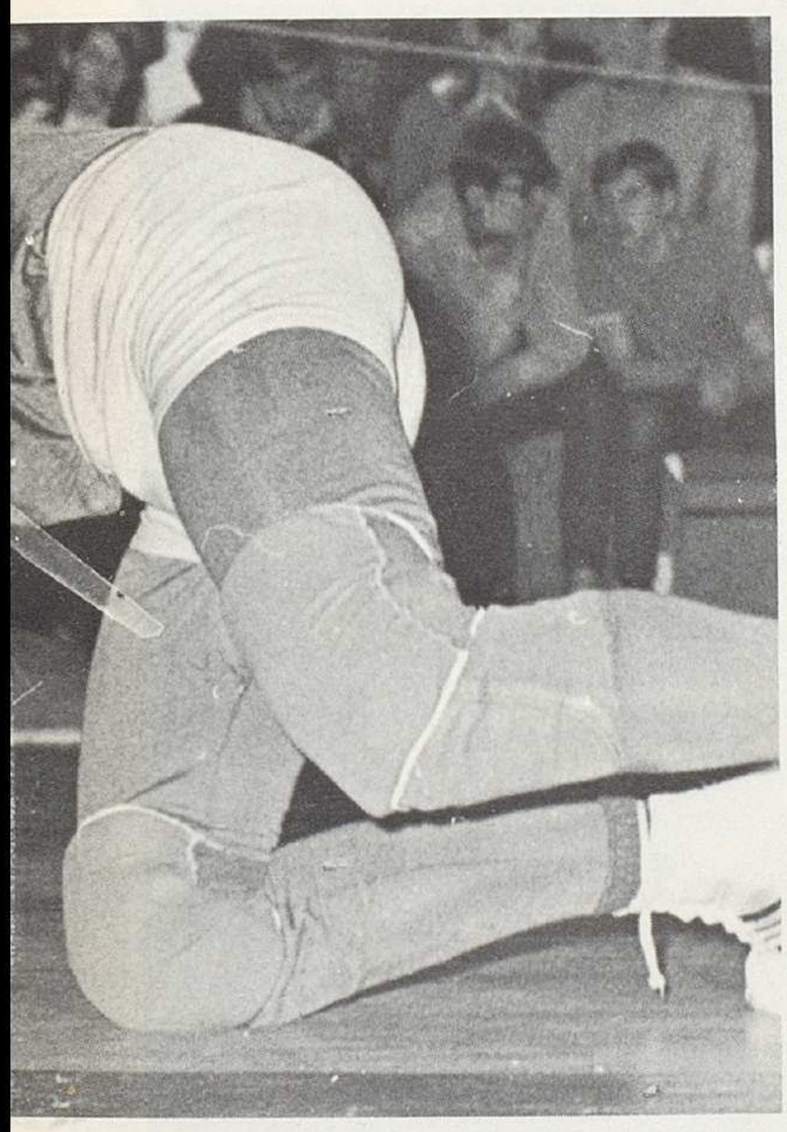

The Cardinal matmen had a very successful season, capturing the Ohio Capital Conference League title. Coach Stephen led the team, undefeated in dual meets, in his first year as coach of the team. The coach remarked that the schedule this year was one of the hardest in the past years, wrestling the top teams in the district and each wwestler grappling district and state placers.

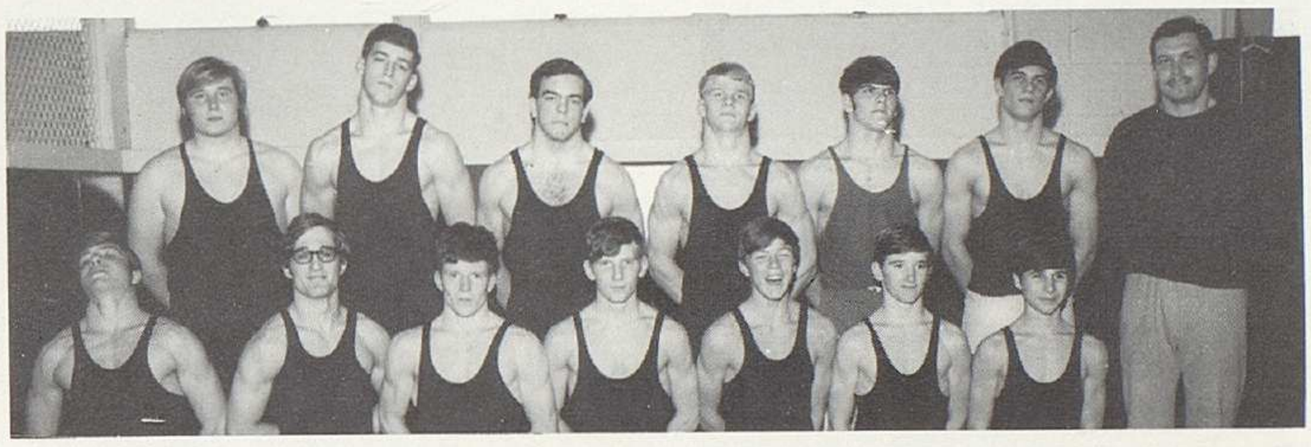

Tom Hanley, Sam Covault and Dave Gifford wrestled in the State meet. Tom Hanley received the "most valuable wrestler" award, and Mike Ross earned the "coach's" award. Co-captains of the wrestling team were Frank Johnson and Lanny Wagner.

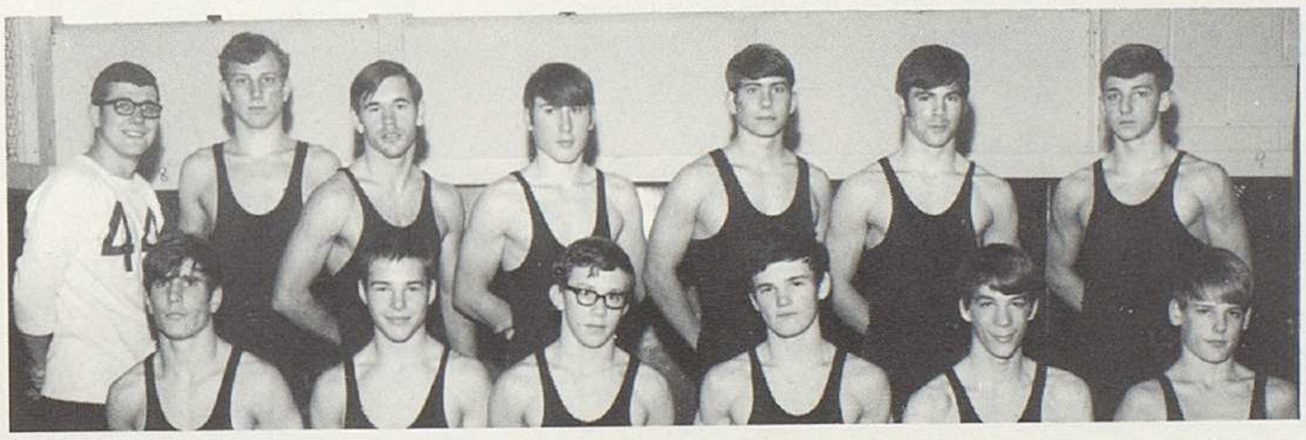

Coach Stephen observed during the awards assembly that, unlike many other high school sports, wrestling requires individual effort and dedication. There was good depth and great spirit among team members this year.

Both Tennis and Golf Topple Conference Title for Second Time

Although composed of mainly sophomores and juniors, this year's WHS tennis team coached by Mr. Beahm had a successful season with a 12-4 record. The team also played well to earn the OCC title for the second consecutive year. The team was comprised of Rob Geis, number 1 singles; Rich Pearce, number 2 singles; Mark Young, number 3 singles; Scott Fisher and Dave Molk, number 1 doubles; and Kevin Stimpert and Scott Steinman, number 2 doubles. Bob Barrie and Jim Short alternated with the number 2 doubles.

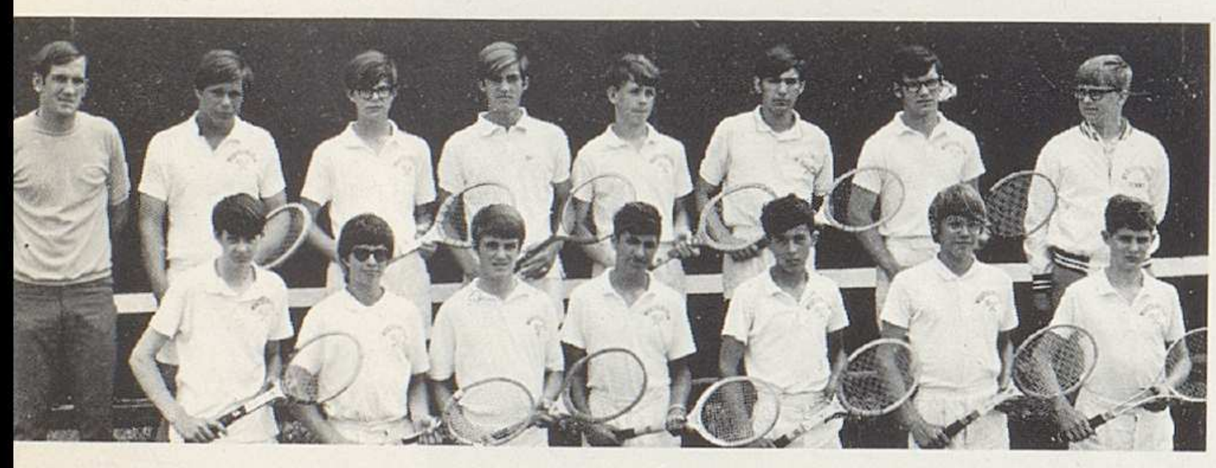

Along with a fabulous season record of 12-3, the golf team again captured the OCC title with only a small team. Coached by "Smokey" Wion, the team handed losses right and left to their opponents, including Upper Arlington. Co-captains John Hagan and Bob Hoskins, and Bob Clouse were the seniors on the fourman team. Returning varsity letterman junior, Jim Longnecker, was outstanding, as he seized fourth in the OCC. The linksmen had an impressive win in the sectional and took eleventh place in the district.

Hurdler Tim Kight Finishes First, WHS Captures Ninth In State Track Meet

Coach Les Eisenhart's track team proved to be the strongest in WHS history, crowning the season with a ninth place finish in the State Meet. The team was led by co-captains Gary Beavers and Randy Chadwell. Half-miler Chadwell, finished the season with a personal record of 33 1sts, 4 2nds, 1 3rd, 2 5ths and was the only member of the team to score in every meet. Sprint ace Beavers nearly always brought home victories in the 100,220, and 880 relays.

The outstanding performer of the season, however, was junior hurdler Tim Kight, who after being injury plagued most of the season, returned in the last two weeks to capture first place in the 180 low hurdles at the State Meet.

Other seniors on the team included hurdler Doug Blackburn, who qualified for the State in the low hurdles, Bruce Beery, long jumper Kurt Badertscher, school record holder in the shot-put Greg Cole and pole vaulter Gerry Davis.

The squad had two outstanding relay teams, both of which qualified for the State Meet. The 880 relay was comprised of Ed Little, Wayne Wheatley, Mark Draher, and Gary Beavers. The Mile relay team of Ed Little, Wayne Wheatley, Gordon Barnes, and Tim Kight placed 6th at the State Meet and 1st at the Mansfield "Classic." The team also placed individuals at the Ohio Relays, Bellaire Relays, and Mansfield "Classic."

Underclassmen Help Baseballers to 17-11 Season

The Cardinal Baseball Team enjoyed one of the most successful seasons in years, bettering last year's 9-14 record with 17-11. Led by Co-captains Jim Albright and Rick Potter the team ended the season with a third place finish in the OCC. This year's pitching staff was headed by sophomore Clint Nicely and senior Bob Delgado. The power at the plate for the team came from juniors Jack Savage, Ken Foster and Jack Woods, and senior Rick Potter.

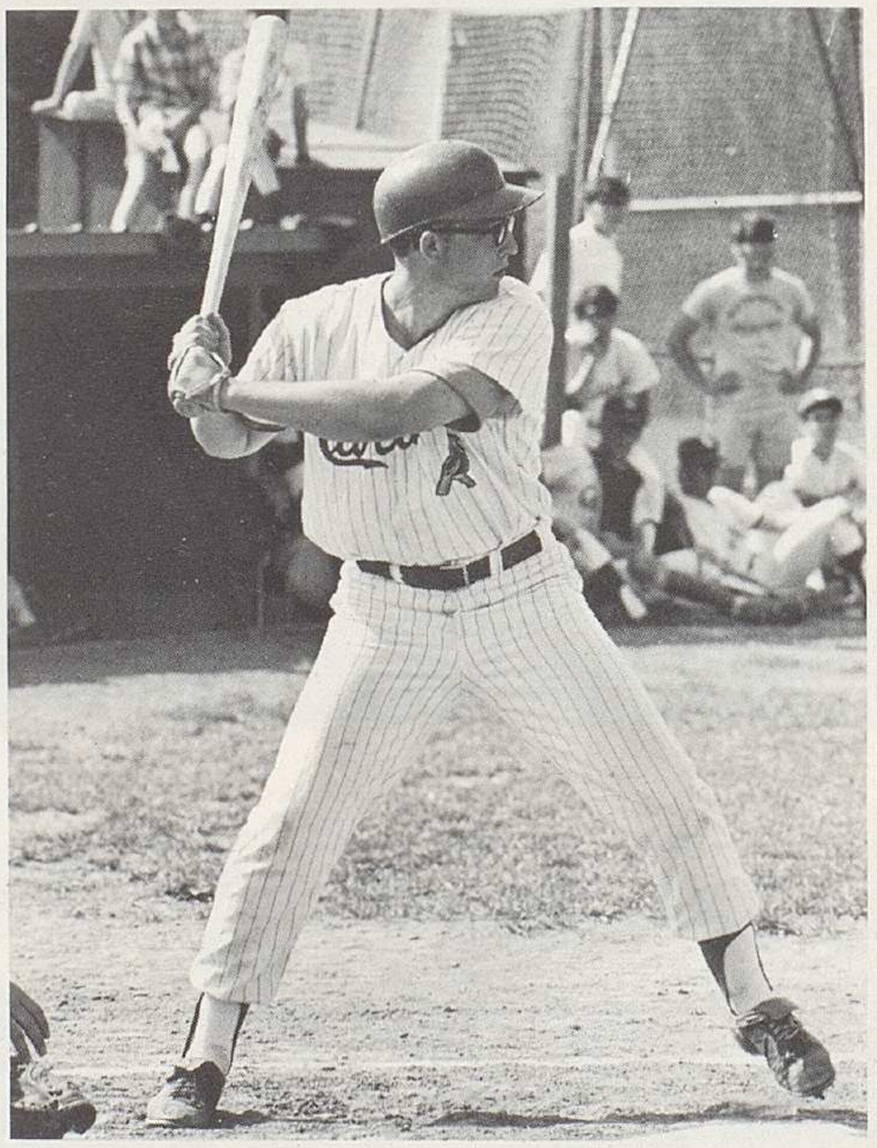

The team had championship potential but often had trouble putting everything together. For example, the Cards lost to 4th place State finishers Whetstone in the last inning on an error; while giving up only three hits on the Whetstone team.

The young team looks for success in '71 with its top batters and pitchers returning for the season.

Boys' Intramurals Program Offers International

WHS boys' intramural sports program offered much needed opportunities for boys who were not members of varsity teams to still participate in sports and enjoy vigorous physical activity. The very popular program also offered a diversity of sports not found in the regular athletic program. Such sports as lacrosse, soccer, ping-pong, billiards, and handball were offered in addition to the more plebian pass times of football, basketball and baseball.

According to Mr. Robert Burns, the intramural soccer coach, next year's list of available sports may be broadened even further to include such unusual activities as cricket, rugby, badminton and squash. Such sports are valuable in helping foreign exchange students feel at home and introduce WHS students to cultures of other nations.

Intramurals Activate Sports-Girls In Bowling, Tennis, Track, Volleyball, Basketball, Hockey, Softball and Badminton

Girls intramurals involved a wide variety of activities this year. Active participation by girls in all grades resulted in successful hockey, basketball, volleyball, bowling, badminton, track, and tennis programs.

In addition to intramural teams, intramural games were held. The hockey team had a good year. Nancy Conroy, Barb Wetters, and Linda Nutter gave fine showings in the basketball games. In competition with six schools, the volleyball A-team was defeated only once and the B-team had a perfect record. The tennis team battled twice each with the Columbus School for Girls, Arlington, Chillicothe, and Bexley. CSG was the only team Worthington players had trouble with. Laura Luedemann, a '68 WHS graduate, coached the track team this spring and helped arrange an interschool track meet on the WHS field in May.

Girls' Ski Club, led by President Cathie Bunk and Advisor Miss Bach, had a busy year due to favorable skiing conditions. They made one weekend trip to Seven Springs, Penn., during February. To get money for the trip, the girls sold painted rock paperweights made by Miss Bach.

Despite a few broken arms and legs, the Boys' Ski Club's second year of existence was also an active one. They took two trips during the year, one to Clear Fork and one to Valley High. The club was directed by Rick Fitch, president; Jay Preston, secretary, and Mr. Butler, advisor.

The fifty-plus members of the Pep Club were active in supporting school spirit. Block formation cheers, accentuated by uniforms, were used at basketball games. The club also sponsored buses to away games and attended a swimming meet. Other activities included making hall signs, selling decals and bumper stickers, baking goodies for a baking sale, and operating a balloon booth at the Winter Carnival. The Pep Club was vitalized by Co-Captains Sharon Hall and Robin Reed, Secretary Lu Ann Kirby, Treasurer Peggy Procter and Advisors Miss Simonsen and Mrs. Hook.

Famous Volkswagen sedan that looks much the same year after year, but has had 2200 changes in 21 years.

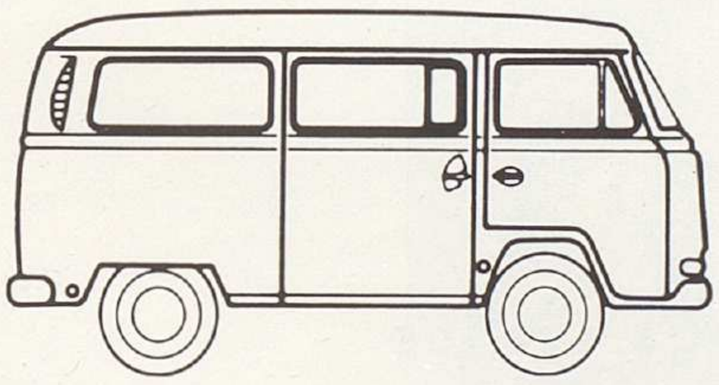

Karmann Ghia coupe is shaped, sculptured, sprayed and rubbed by hand. Yet priced below many mass-produced sports cars.

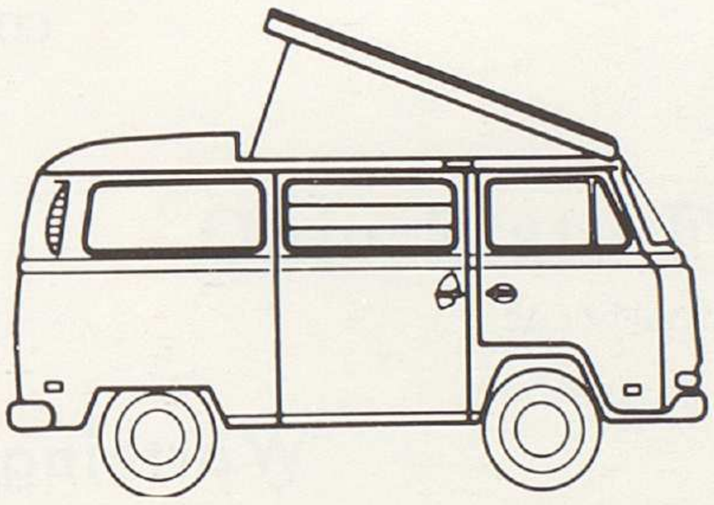

Squareback sedan has more luggage room than the largest conventional sedan, yet is only 12 inches longer than the bug.

Fastback sedan is a plush, sleek car with wall-to-wall carpeting, electronic fuel injection, other luxury features.

Volkswagen station wagons can carry one small elephant. Or up to 9 adults and 9 pieces of luggage.

The Campmobile is a vacation cottage you can take with you. Complete with living-bedroom, kitchen and an air-coded engine in the rear.

New Year's Eve Dance * Sadie Hawkins * Summer Canteens

The Worthington Teen Council is sponsored by the Worthington Jaycees. It is an attempt to involve students in community activities that are separate from the school. The Council consists of five or six members from each grade in the High School, freshman through senior.

The Council sponsors the New Year's Eve Dance, Sadie Hawkins Dance, and all of the summer canteens. All of the proceeds are eventually returned to the community through service projects and donations. Advisors for the Council are Dr. George Norris and Mr. Tim Vavro.

that insecure feeling. . .

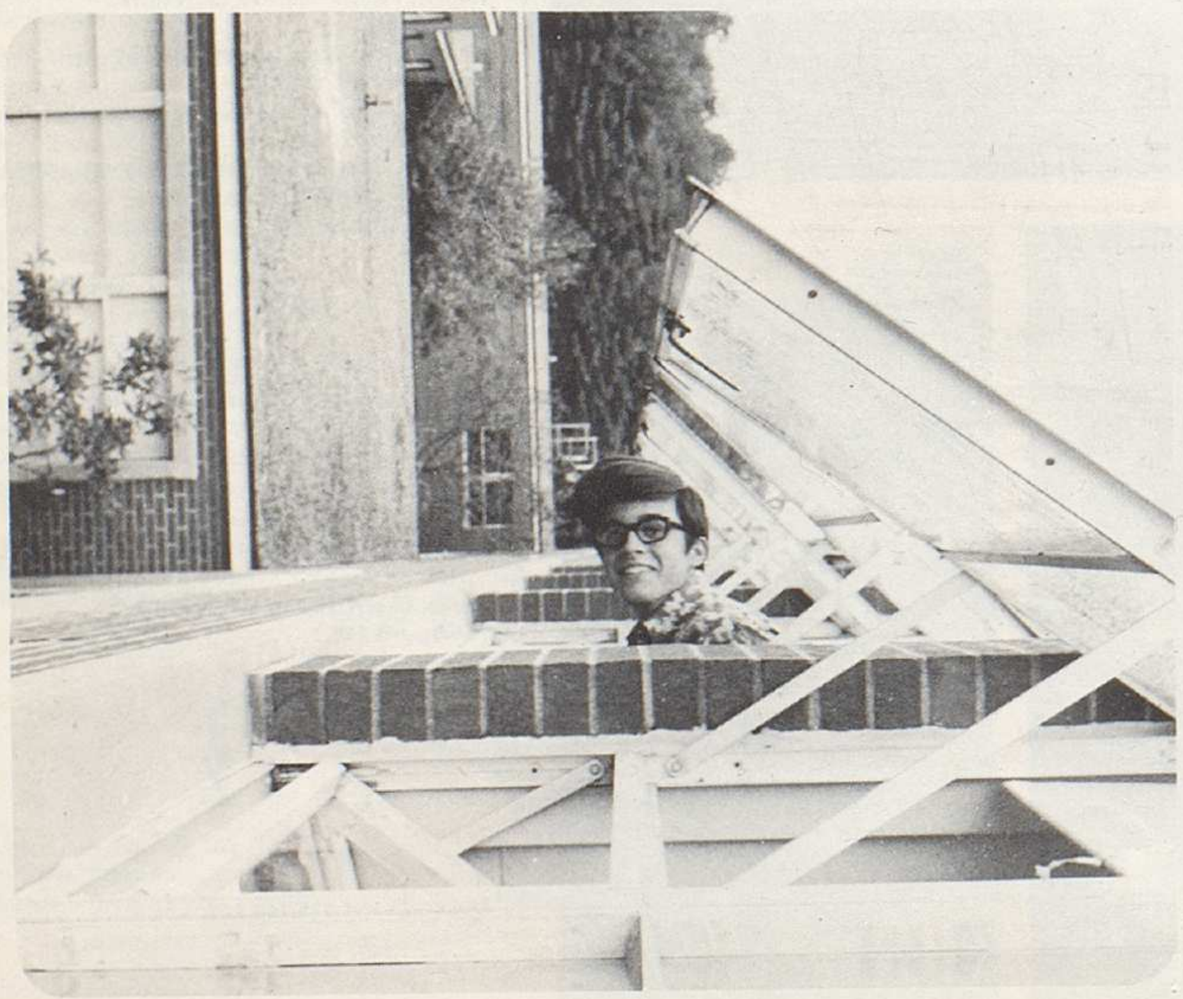

. . .is sometimes lessened by being among friends. . .

others might bring fellow students to laughter. . .

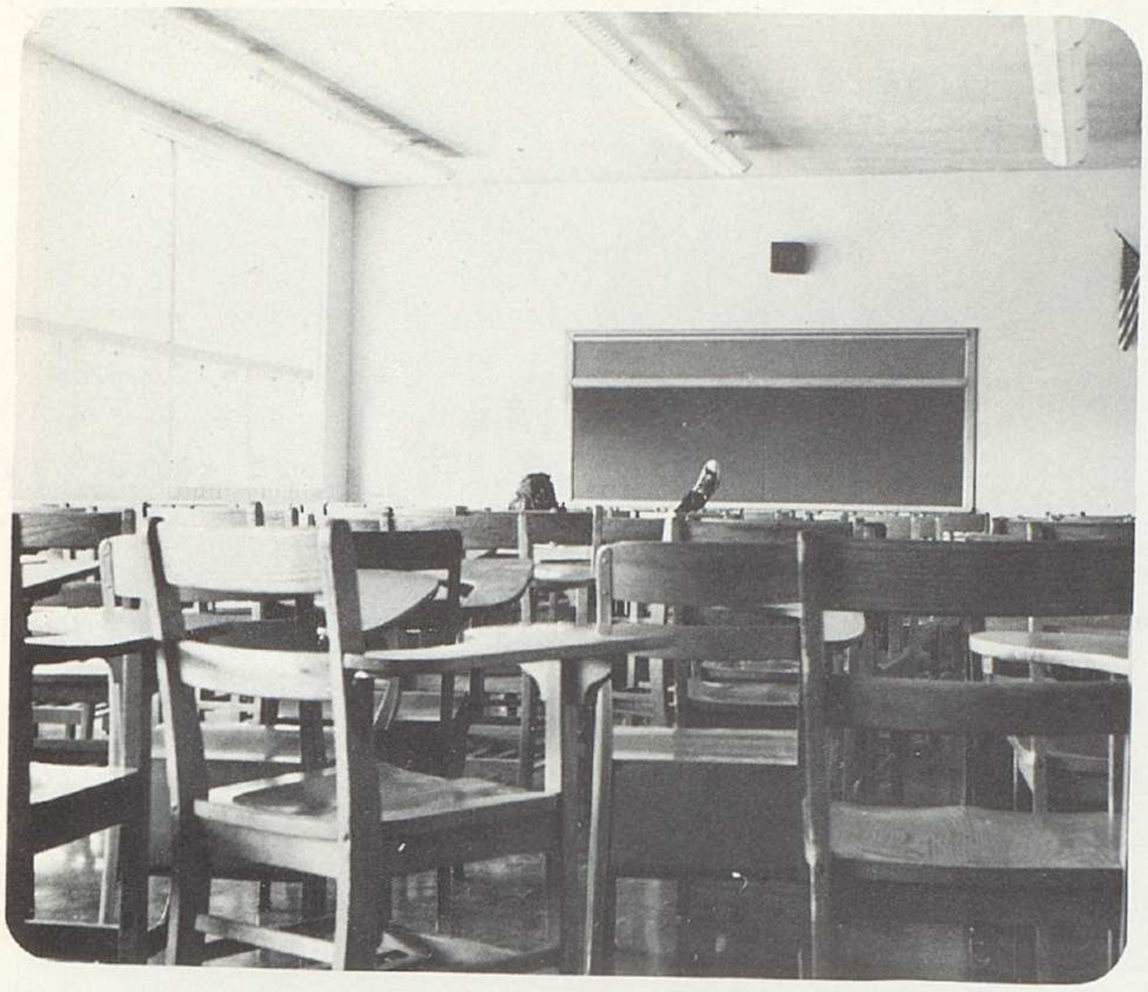

. . .make a face smile. . .

and some enjoy living without concern. . .

. . .while others really give a damn. . .

. . .or by just doing your own thing

. . .or study to keep their minds at peace

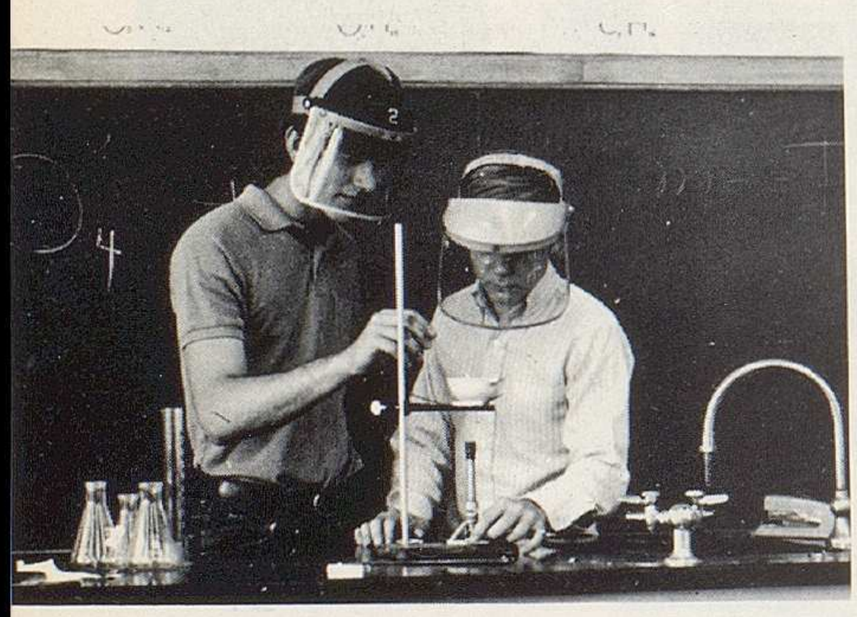

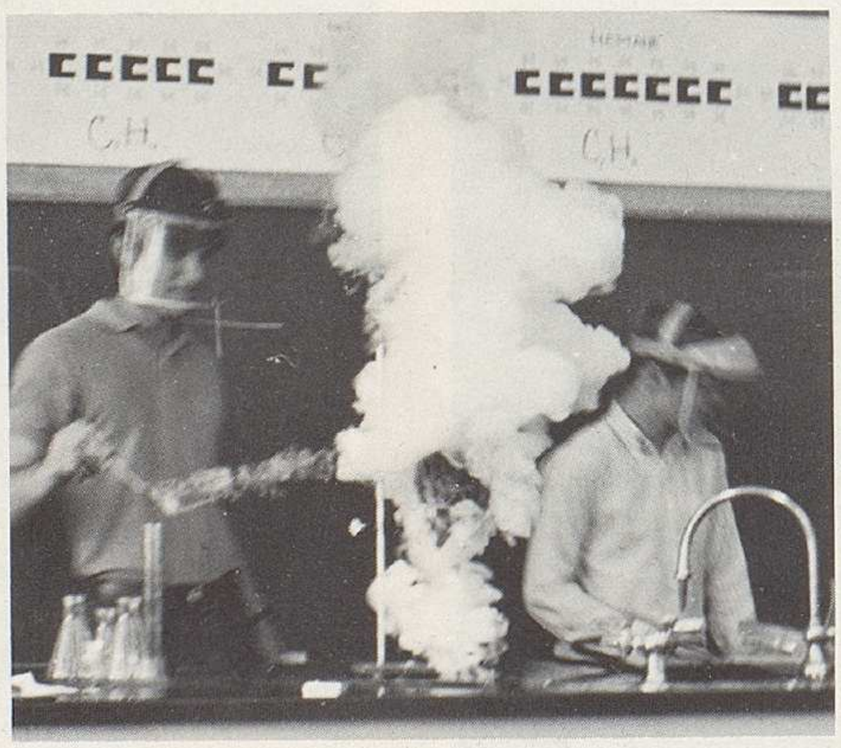

. . .about the state of this troubled world

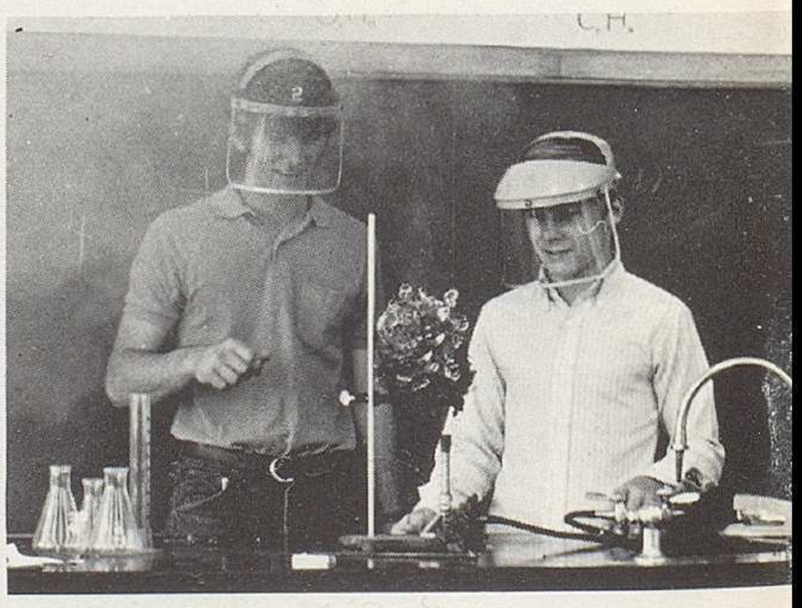

Oh for a lodge in some vast wilderness. . .

. . .Some

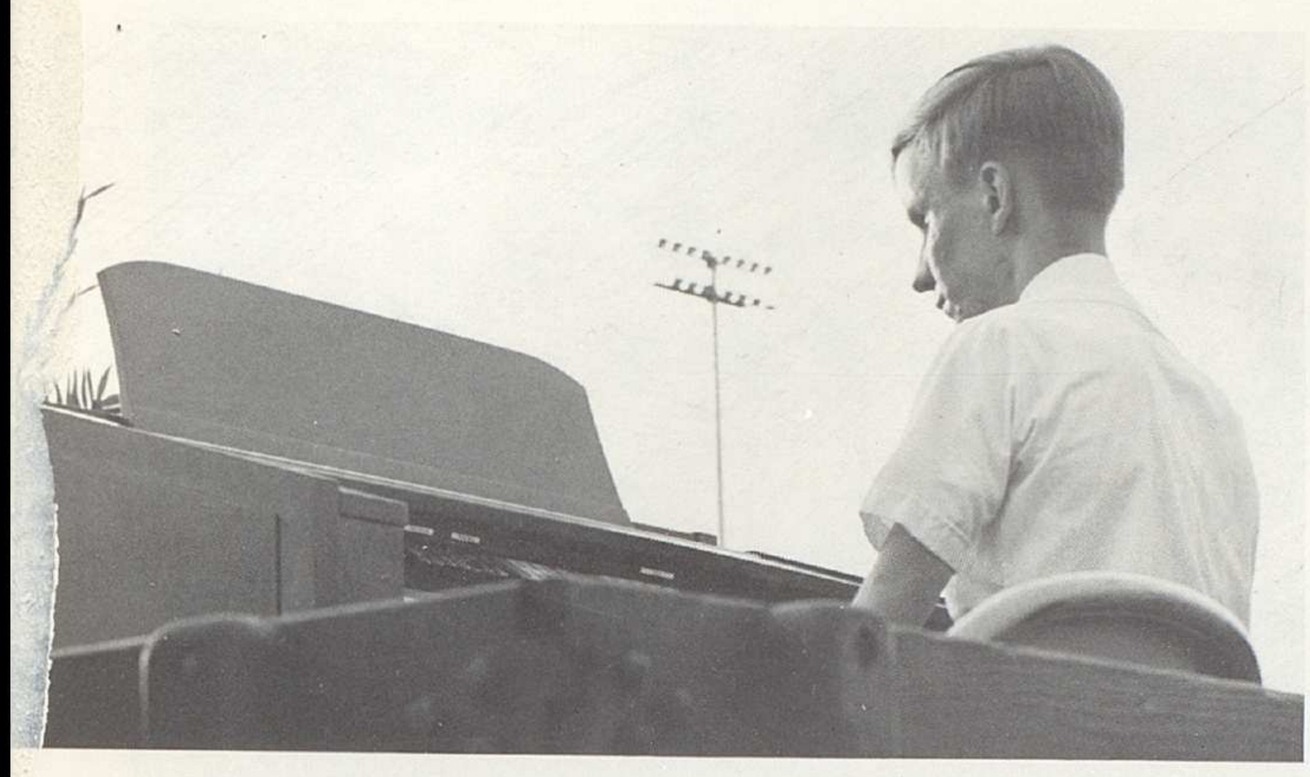

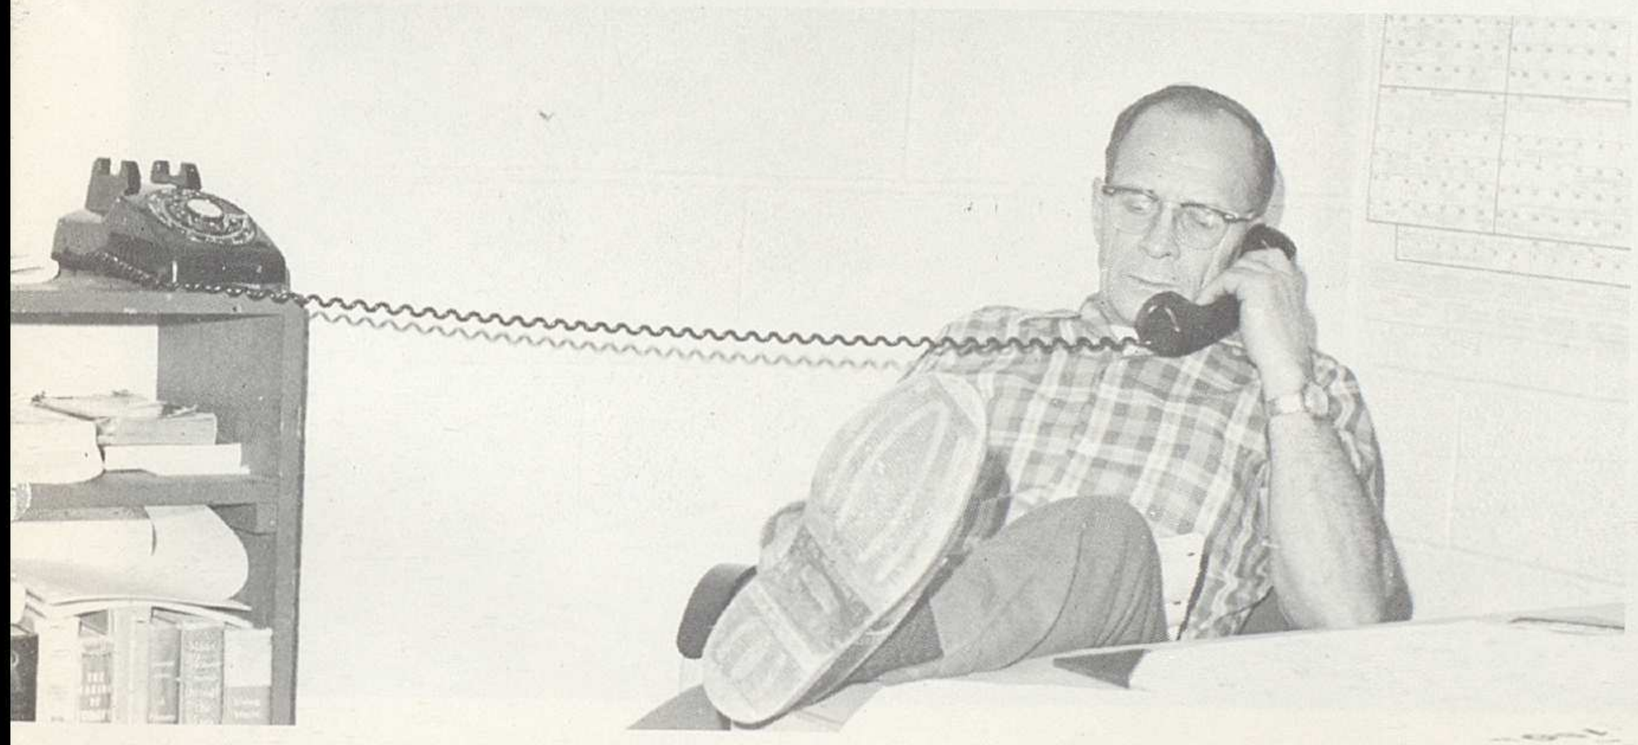

boundless contiguity of shade. . .

. . .Where rumour of oppression and deceit. . .

. . .Of unsuccessful

or successful war. . .

. . .Might never reach me more

—William Cowper
(1731-1800)
