1951 SENIORS

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Once again, the senior class of Worthington High steps out into the wide world, leaving its place to next year's seniors. The four years we've spent in high school are years we'll never forget. To be sure, we've had our bad moments, but in the long run, the good times we've had outshine all the rest.

Life in high school began for us when we were freshmen. Jim Tarbutton was our president that year and Sue Gorham, our homecoming attendant. In our sophomore year, Jim Tarbutton was again president and Betty Jo Tharp held the homecoming attendant position. Then came the year we were juniors. We were successfully guided by Jack Henderson and Mary Sue Volpe represented us at homecoming. Our class play, "The Thirteenth Chair," had a successful performance. We worked hard for our Junior-Senior and gave the seniors a dance and banquet with an under-the-sea theme. Finally the long-awaited day came, and we were seniors. With Prexy Jack Henderson, we passed our last year of high school. In '51, the Homecoming Queen was lovely Betty Jo Tharp, who had Sue Gorham as her senior attendant. Our class play was a roaring success. On May 31, with our commencement exercises, we ended our four years in Worthington High. We moved on, like our motto, "Not finished, just begun."

HONOR SOCIETY

LEADERSHIP, CHARACTER, SERVICE, SCHOLARSHIP

The Franklin County Honor Society is an honorary organization. Its members are chosen on the basis of leadership, character, service and scholarship. The selection is made from the upper third of both the junior and senior classes. Since only one fourth of each class may be chosen, half of this number is chosen during the junior year and the other half during the senior year.

The members from each school choose one senior member of the group to represent it as an officer in the organization. This year Roslyn Leedy was secretary.

There are two meetings each year: one first semester and the other second semester. At these meetings new members are inducted and there is an interesting program. This year the meetings were held at New Albany and Canal Winchester.

SHORT CIRCUIT

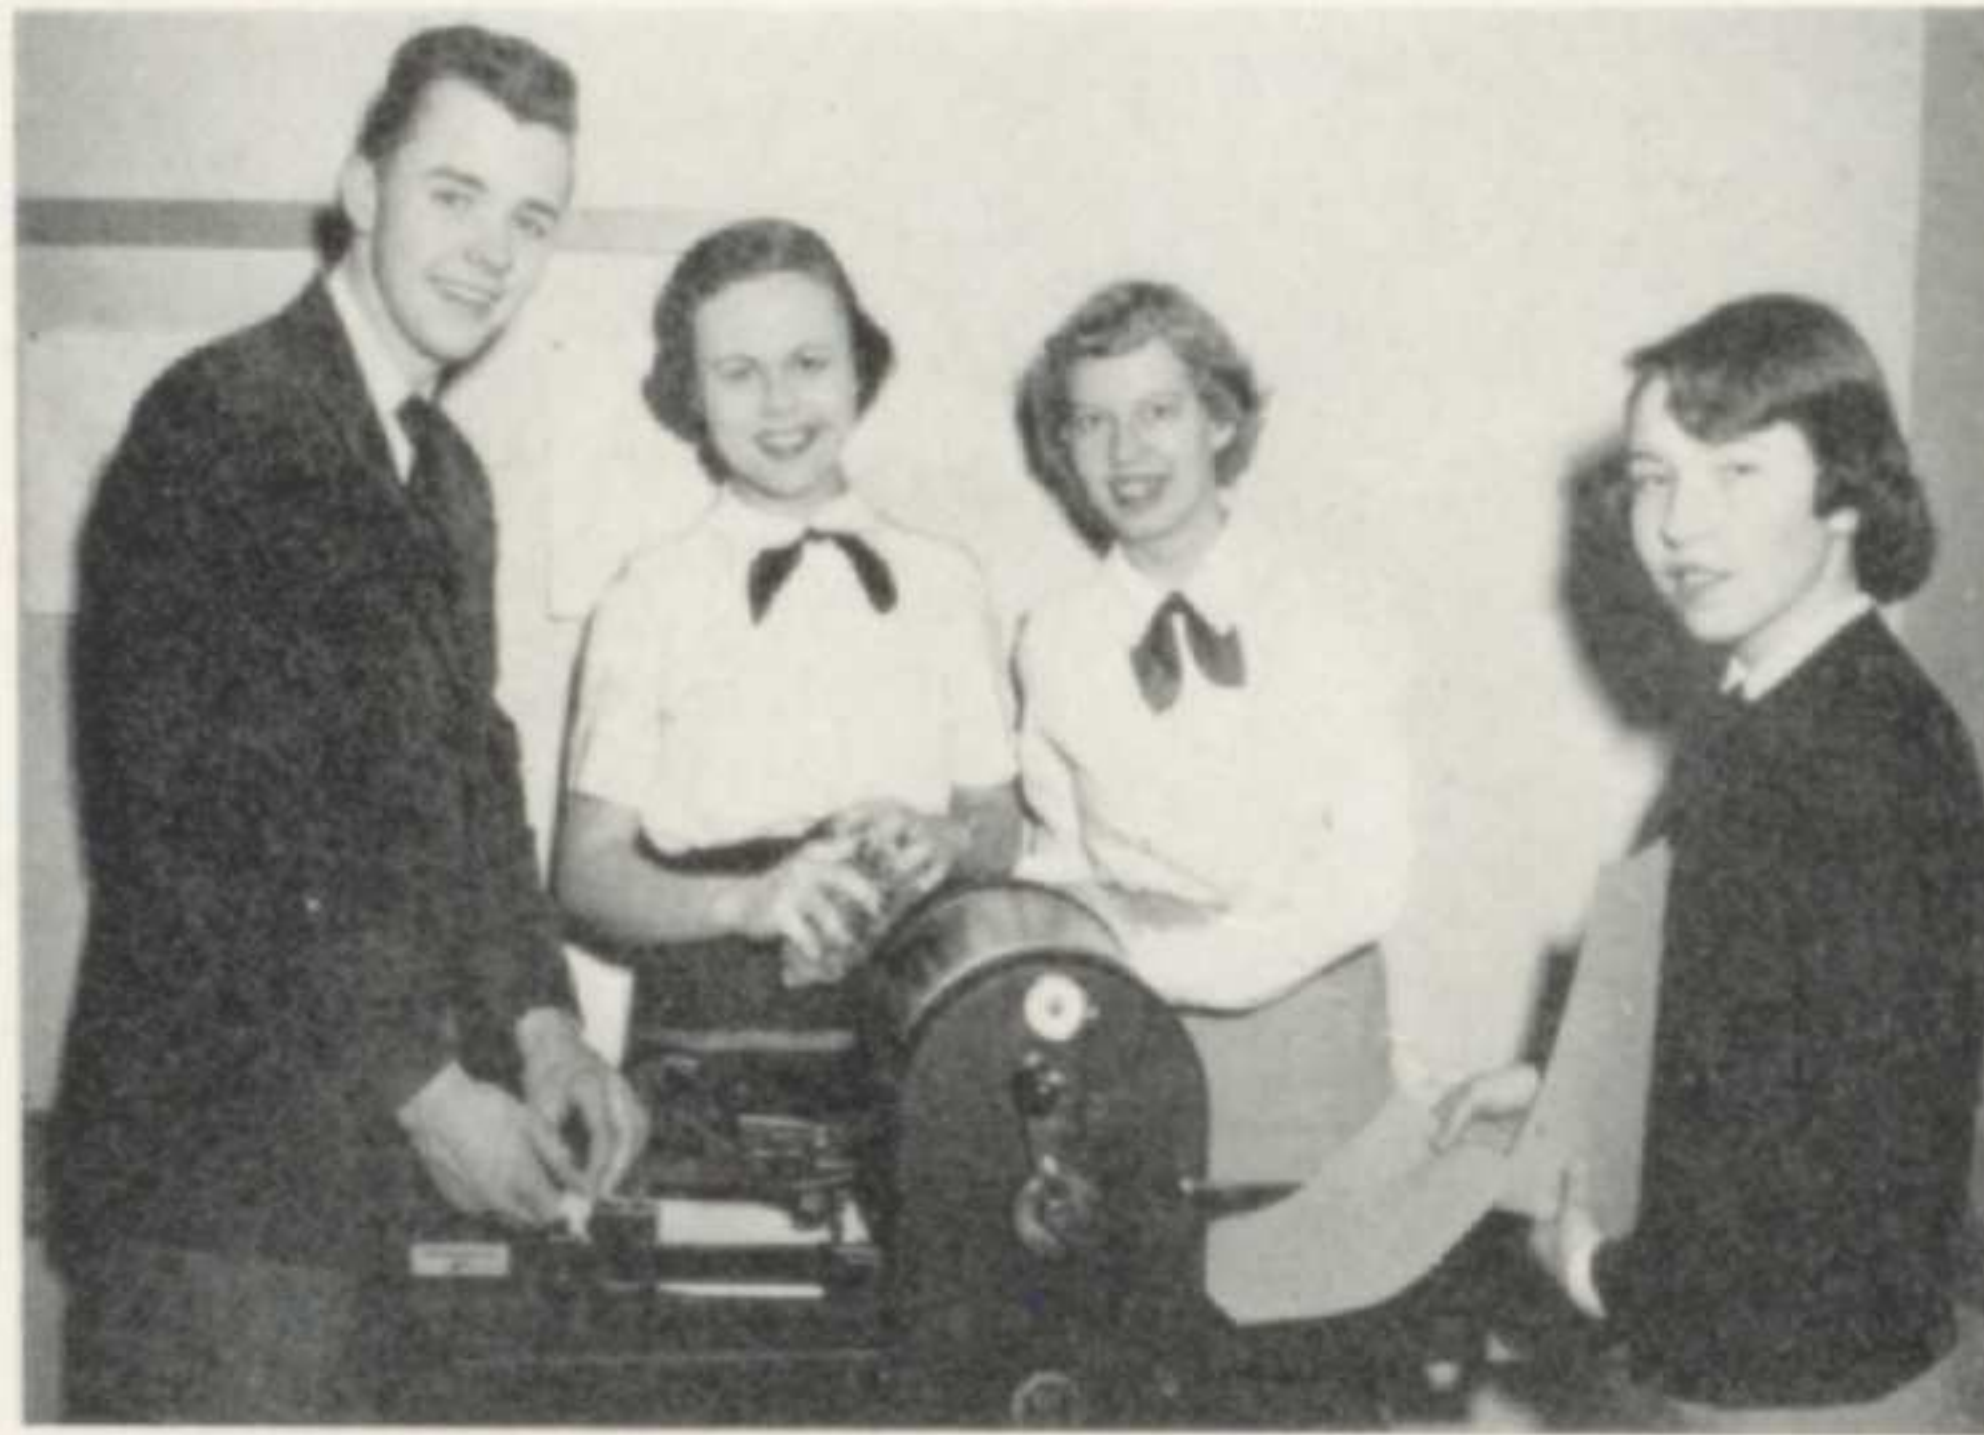

Co-Editors—Paton, Traver

The Short Circuit is the high school's newspaper. It is published four to six times a year by the students and consists of school and club news, sport news, features, personality sketches and gossip. It is designed to appeal to the students and portray the lighter side of life at Worthington High School.

This year the Short Circuit was written and mimeographed by the journalism classes, with Glenn Williams, journalism teacher, as advisor. Mrs. Law acted as art supervisor.

Co-editors this year were Sandra Traver and Janet Paton. They were assisted by students from the sophomore, junior and senior classes with junior high students contributing to their section of the paper.

ORACLE

As a part of the Worthington News, the high school has a section called the "Oracle". Edited this year by Mitzi Timmons, the Oracle announces coming school social events, plays, and dances. There is a space for class and junior high news, features and editorials.

Sports coverage this year was handled by Don Posey. His articles were published on the front page of the News.

Glenn Williams, journalism teacher, acted as advisor for the Oracle.

Hi-Y

Hi-Y is a branch of the YMCA. It is open to any high school boy who will put forth his best effort in living up to the ideals of the club and supporting its purpose: "To create and maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

This group is both a religious and social organization.

The capable advisor is Mr. Dow Nelson.

OFFICERS

row 2—Woods, Tarbutton, Bell, Dixon
 row 1—Burt, Diercks, Mr. Nelson, McCulloh

The purpose of the Y-Teen club is to build a fellowship of girls devoted to those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians. This organization is open to all senior high school girls.

A Y-Teen project this year was a bake sale, proceeds of which went to the polio drive.

Our capable advisors are Miss Frye and Mrs. Hausen.

This year the high school has a new organization called the Worthington Science Academy. Founded by Mr. Bischoff, chemistry teacher, and Mr. Hamilton, teacher of math and driver training, the club is divided into individual groups to further interest in those fields. These groups are physics, astronomy, geology, biological studies, conservation and photography. President of the club is Marlen Steward.

The Science Academy has brought to its meetings many interesting speakers from factories and scientific businesses in and around Columbus.

SCIENCE CLUB — MNEMOSYNEAN

This group, organized by Mrs. Mildred Hoffer, former teacher here, is designed to further the interests of high school students in the fields of art and music.

This year, Mnemosynean Club was advised by Bill McCulloh, sophomore at Ohio Wesleyan University. As a project for this winter, the club chose to make a study of music, beginning with the earliest masters and continuing to present day composers.

In addition to attending meetings held twice a month in different members' homes, Mnemosyneans also presented a program for the Worthington Music Club.

GIRLS' ENSEMBLE

This group is selected by Miss Parks and any girl taking music may try out for a place in the ensemble. Besides singing for devotionals and assemblies, the ensemble takes a very prominent part in the Variety Show.

BOYS' ENSEMBLE

The boys' ensemble is also selected by Miss Parks from her music classes. This year the ensemble took a very active part in the Variety Show.

BOYS' QUARTET

The quartet consists of Doug Diercks, Kent Bruno, George Allison, and Jim Tarbutton. They sang several numbers in the Variety Show and will participate in commencement exercises.

CARDINAL STAFF

Work on the '51 annual began a year ago, when the editor and staff members were juniors. Glenn Williams, our advisor, met with the staff several times, and photographers were interviewed before the close of that school year. This helped make it certain that our Cardinal would be able to meet the deadline. Further progress was made at a dinner held at Mr. Williams' home during the summer.

With work underway, and the theme chosen, members of the editorial staff drew up the dummy and had plans completed by the time school started again in the fall. We had our bad moments and there were times when we thought that our Cardinal would never meet printer's and engraver's deadlines, but we had all our copy and pictures sent off by the second week in April.

The staff would like to thank all those who helped make this year's annual a success. Special thanks go to Mr. Williams, our patient advisor, for all his help, suggestions, ideas, and his sense of humor when we were most discouraged. Without the co-operation of the student body, this year's annual would never have been able to go to press at the early date it did.

Sometimes we found ourselves in amusing situations, and there were times when all of us were discouraged, but, all in all, putting out the '51 Cardinal has been a very worth-while experience—one we'll never forget.

VARIETY SHOW

This year, as last year, the high school music departments presented a variety show in February. The theme this year was "Through the Year" and included acts for every month or season. Participating in the Variety Show were the boys' and girls' ensembles and choruses, the boys' quartet, and the mixed ensembles as well as the band and orchestra and several soloists and duets.

The vocal portions of the program were conducted by Miss Jean Parks, vocal music director, while Mr. Franck directed the band and orchestra. Carter Lilly played the piano accompaniment. The entire show was directed and arranged by Miss Parks.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The graduating class of 1951 presented "The Old Man's Money" by James Reach for its senior class play. As the title suggests the play is the story of a stingy old man and his employees and friends who try to outwit him and get a part of his huge fortune.

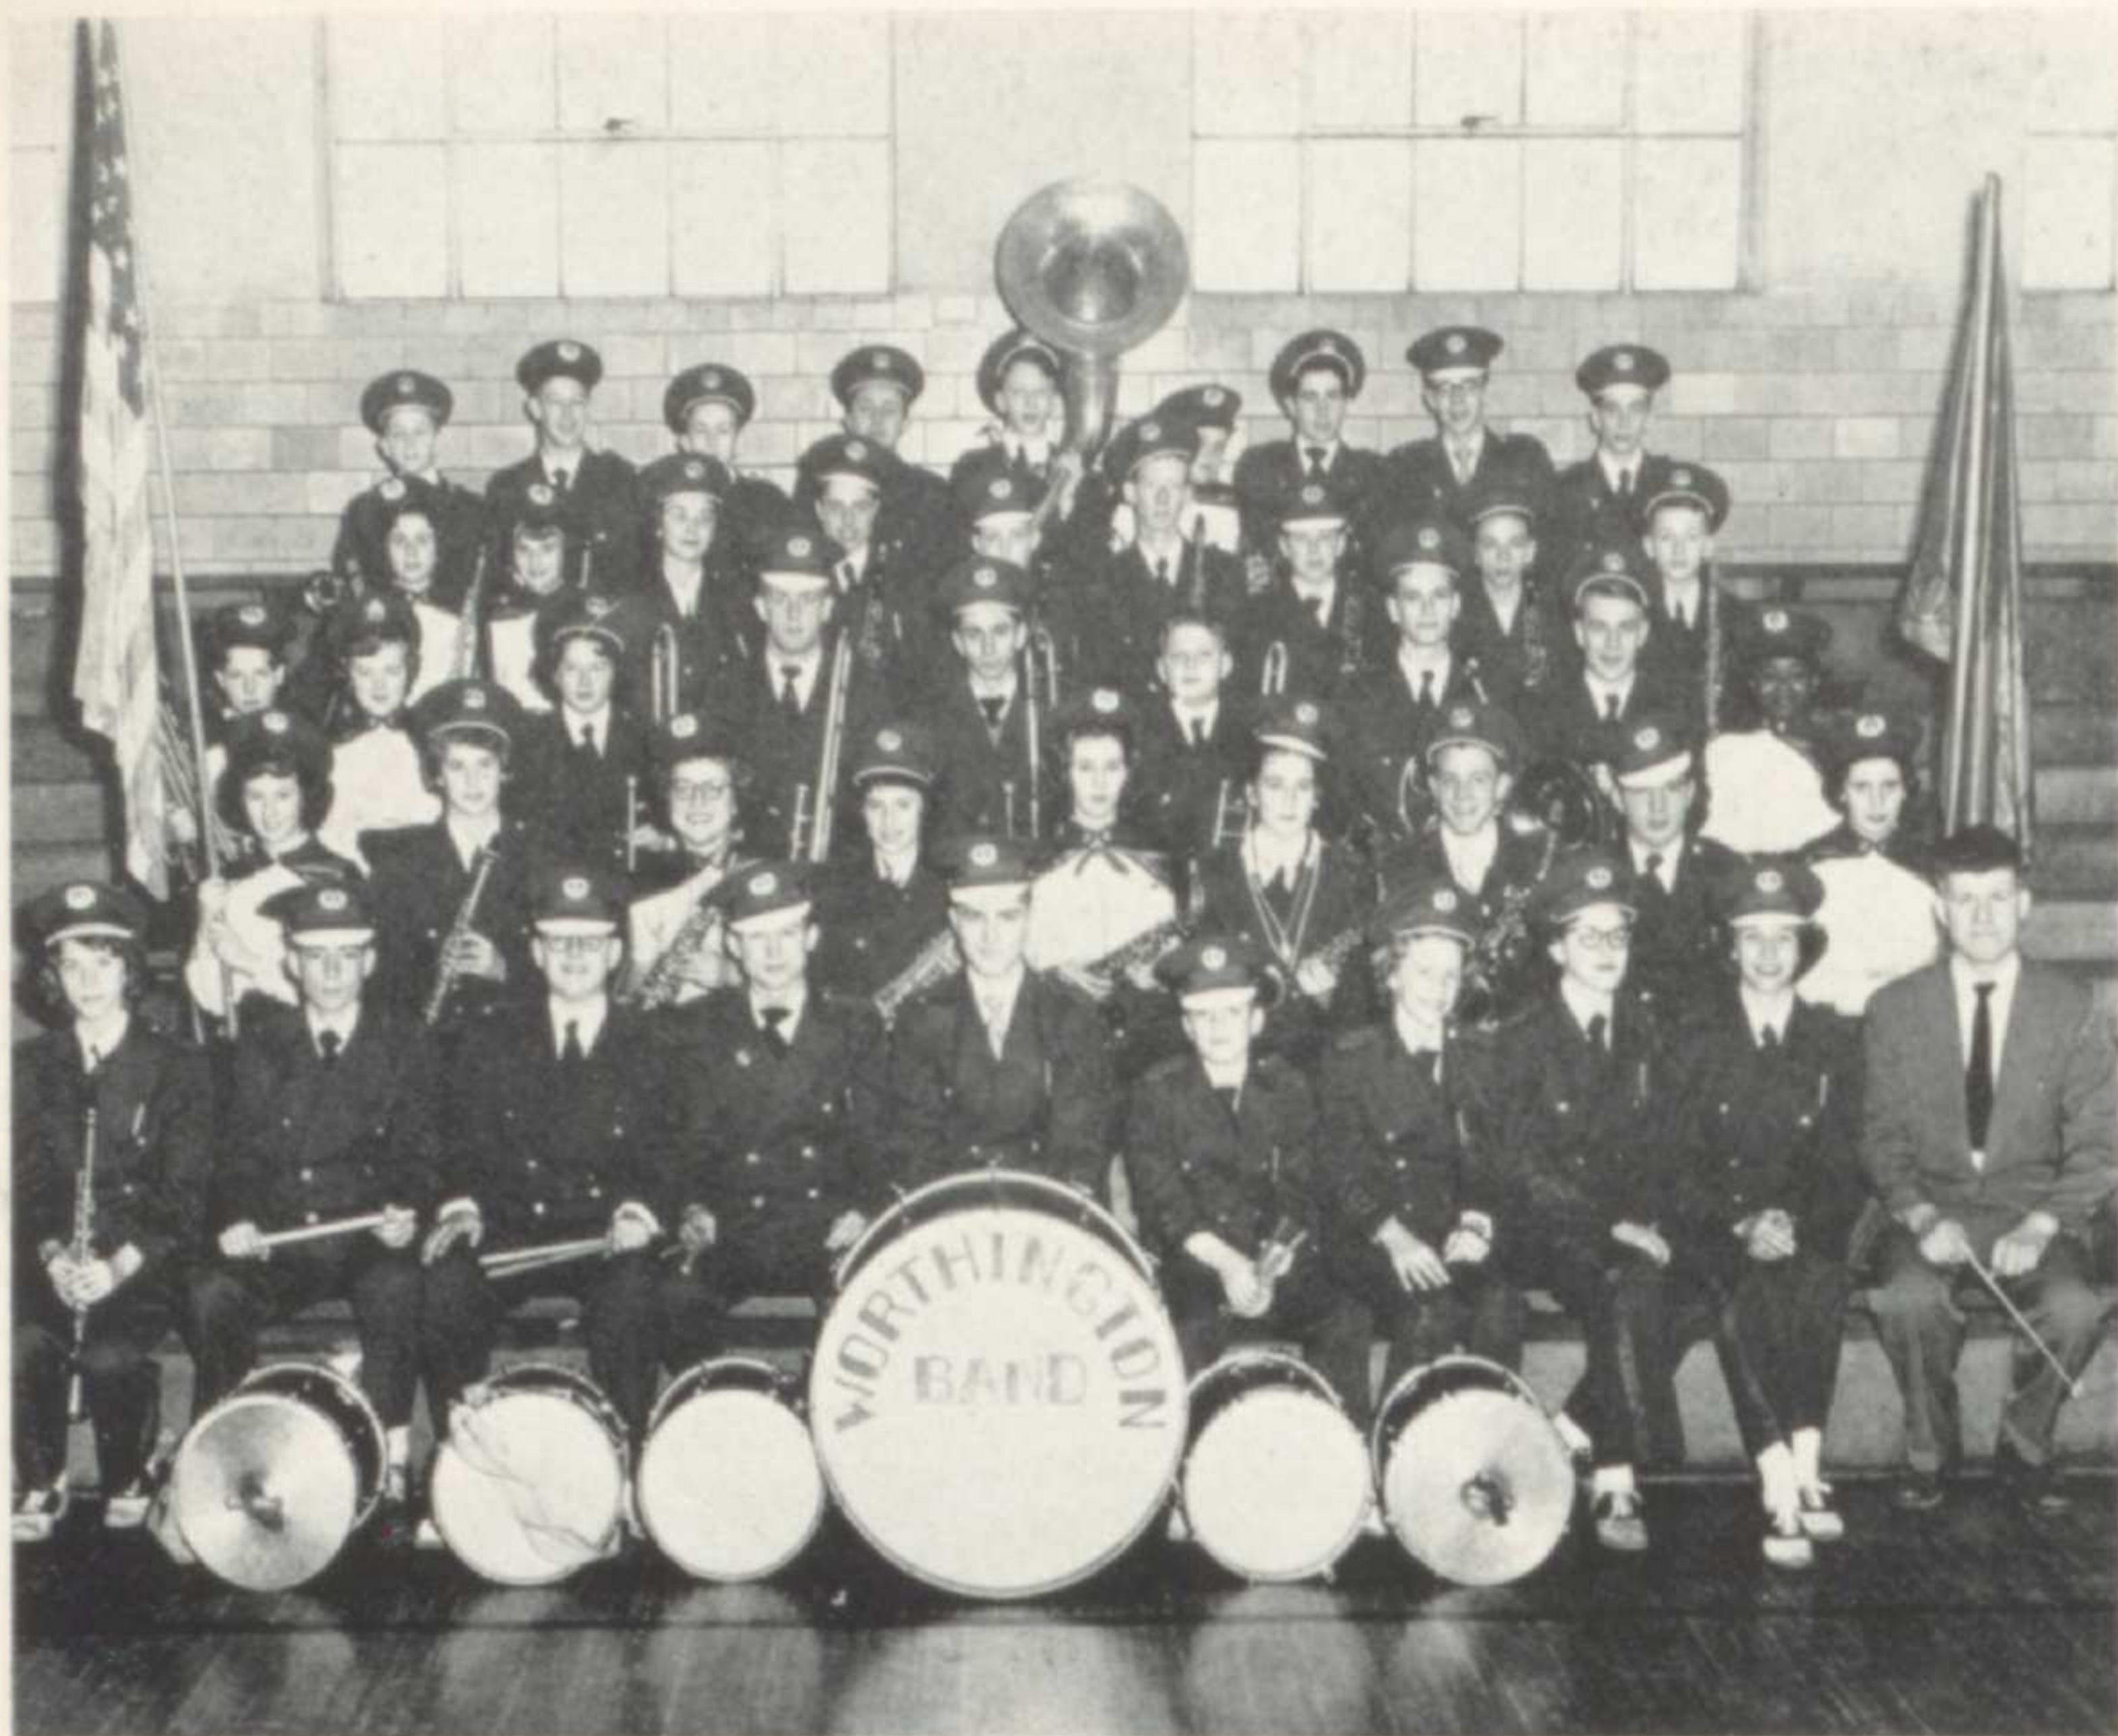

Presented on the evening of November 22, "The Old Man's Money" was a huge success. The performance was expertly directed by Mr. Charles Rousculp, teacher of English in the high school.

DRAMATICS

A big part of any football game is the marching band and its music. In addition to playing for football games, this year's band played in the Memorial Day parade, and pep rallies. Besides the band itself, there are smaller musical groups connected with it. These include a dance band, a Dixieland band, a German band, and the trumpet trio.

As always, participation in band is open to all students in Worthington High School.

The band is ably conducted by Mr. Jimmy Franck.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra, open to all high school students, is a popular musical organization. Any student in high school who plays a musical instrument is welcome to become a member. The orchestra helped set the theme for the Variety Show and the class plays this year by its playing of effective mood music between acts and before the performance began. The orchestra also played for assemblies.

Mr. Franck conducted the orchestra.

MAJORETTES

Here they are—those high-strutting gals in the red and white that do so much to put sparkle into the band routines. Whenever that half-time whistle blows you can always be sure these energetic kids will be on hand to do their stuff.

We feel that our majorettes contributed much to urge our team on to success this season, and we know that any school couldn't help but feel proud to be represented by them.

CHEERLEADERS

Bright megaphones and snappy letter sweaters are the trade mark of this group of girls for they are the 1950-1951 cheerleaders. Win, lose, or draw the kids never seem to tire of pulling out the old school spirit, and thanks to the fine support of the student body they got good results.

Cheerleaders are chosen by a group of five representatives from each class plus the teachers. Any boy or girl who hasn't already served two varsity seasons is eligible to try out.

G. A. A.

Girls' Athletic Association is open to any girl in senior high school who is interested in athletics. The club is advised by Mrs. Margaret Fox. In order to maintain membership in the club, a girl must take part in sports, referee, keep score, or be a manager. Any girl who earns 50 points receives a G.A.A. letter. Those girls receiving 100 points or more are awarded a charm representing their favorite sport.

OFFICERS
Tharp, King, Chesser, McCord

The Future Homemakers of America Club is a national organization. It is open to any girl who has had one year of home economics in high school. The purpose of the club is to further interest in home economics.

Jean Chesser was president this year, while Audrey King was elected secretary of the county club. The Worthington chapter also sends a delegate to the national FHA convention.

Led by President Chesser, this club helped serve for banquets and training table.

Mrs. Palcich advised the club. She is teacher of home economics.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

CHARLES WEST
 Student Body President

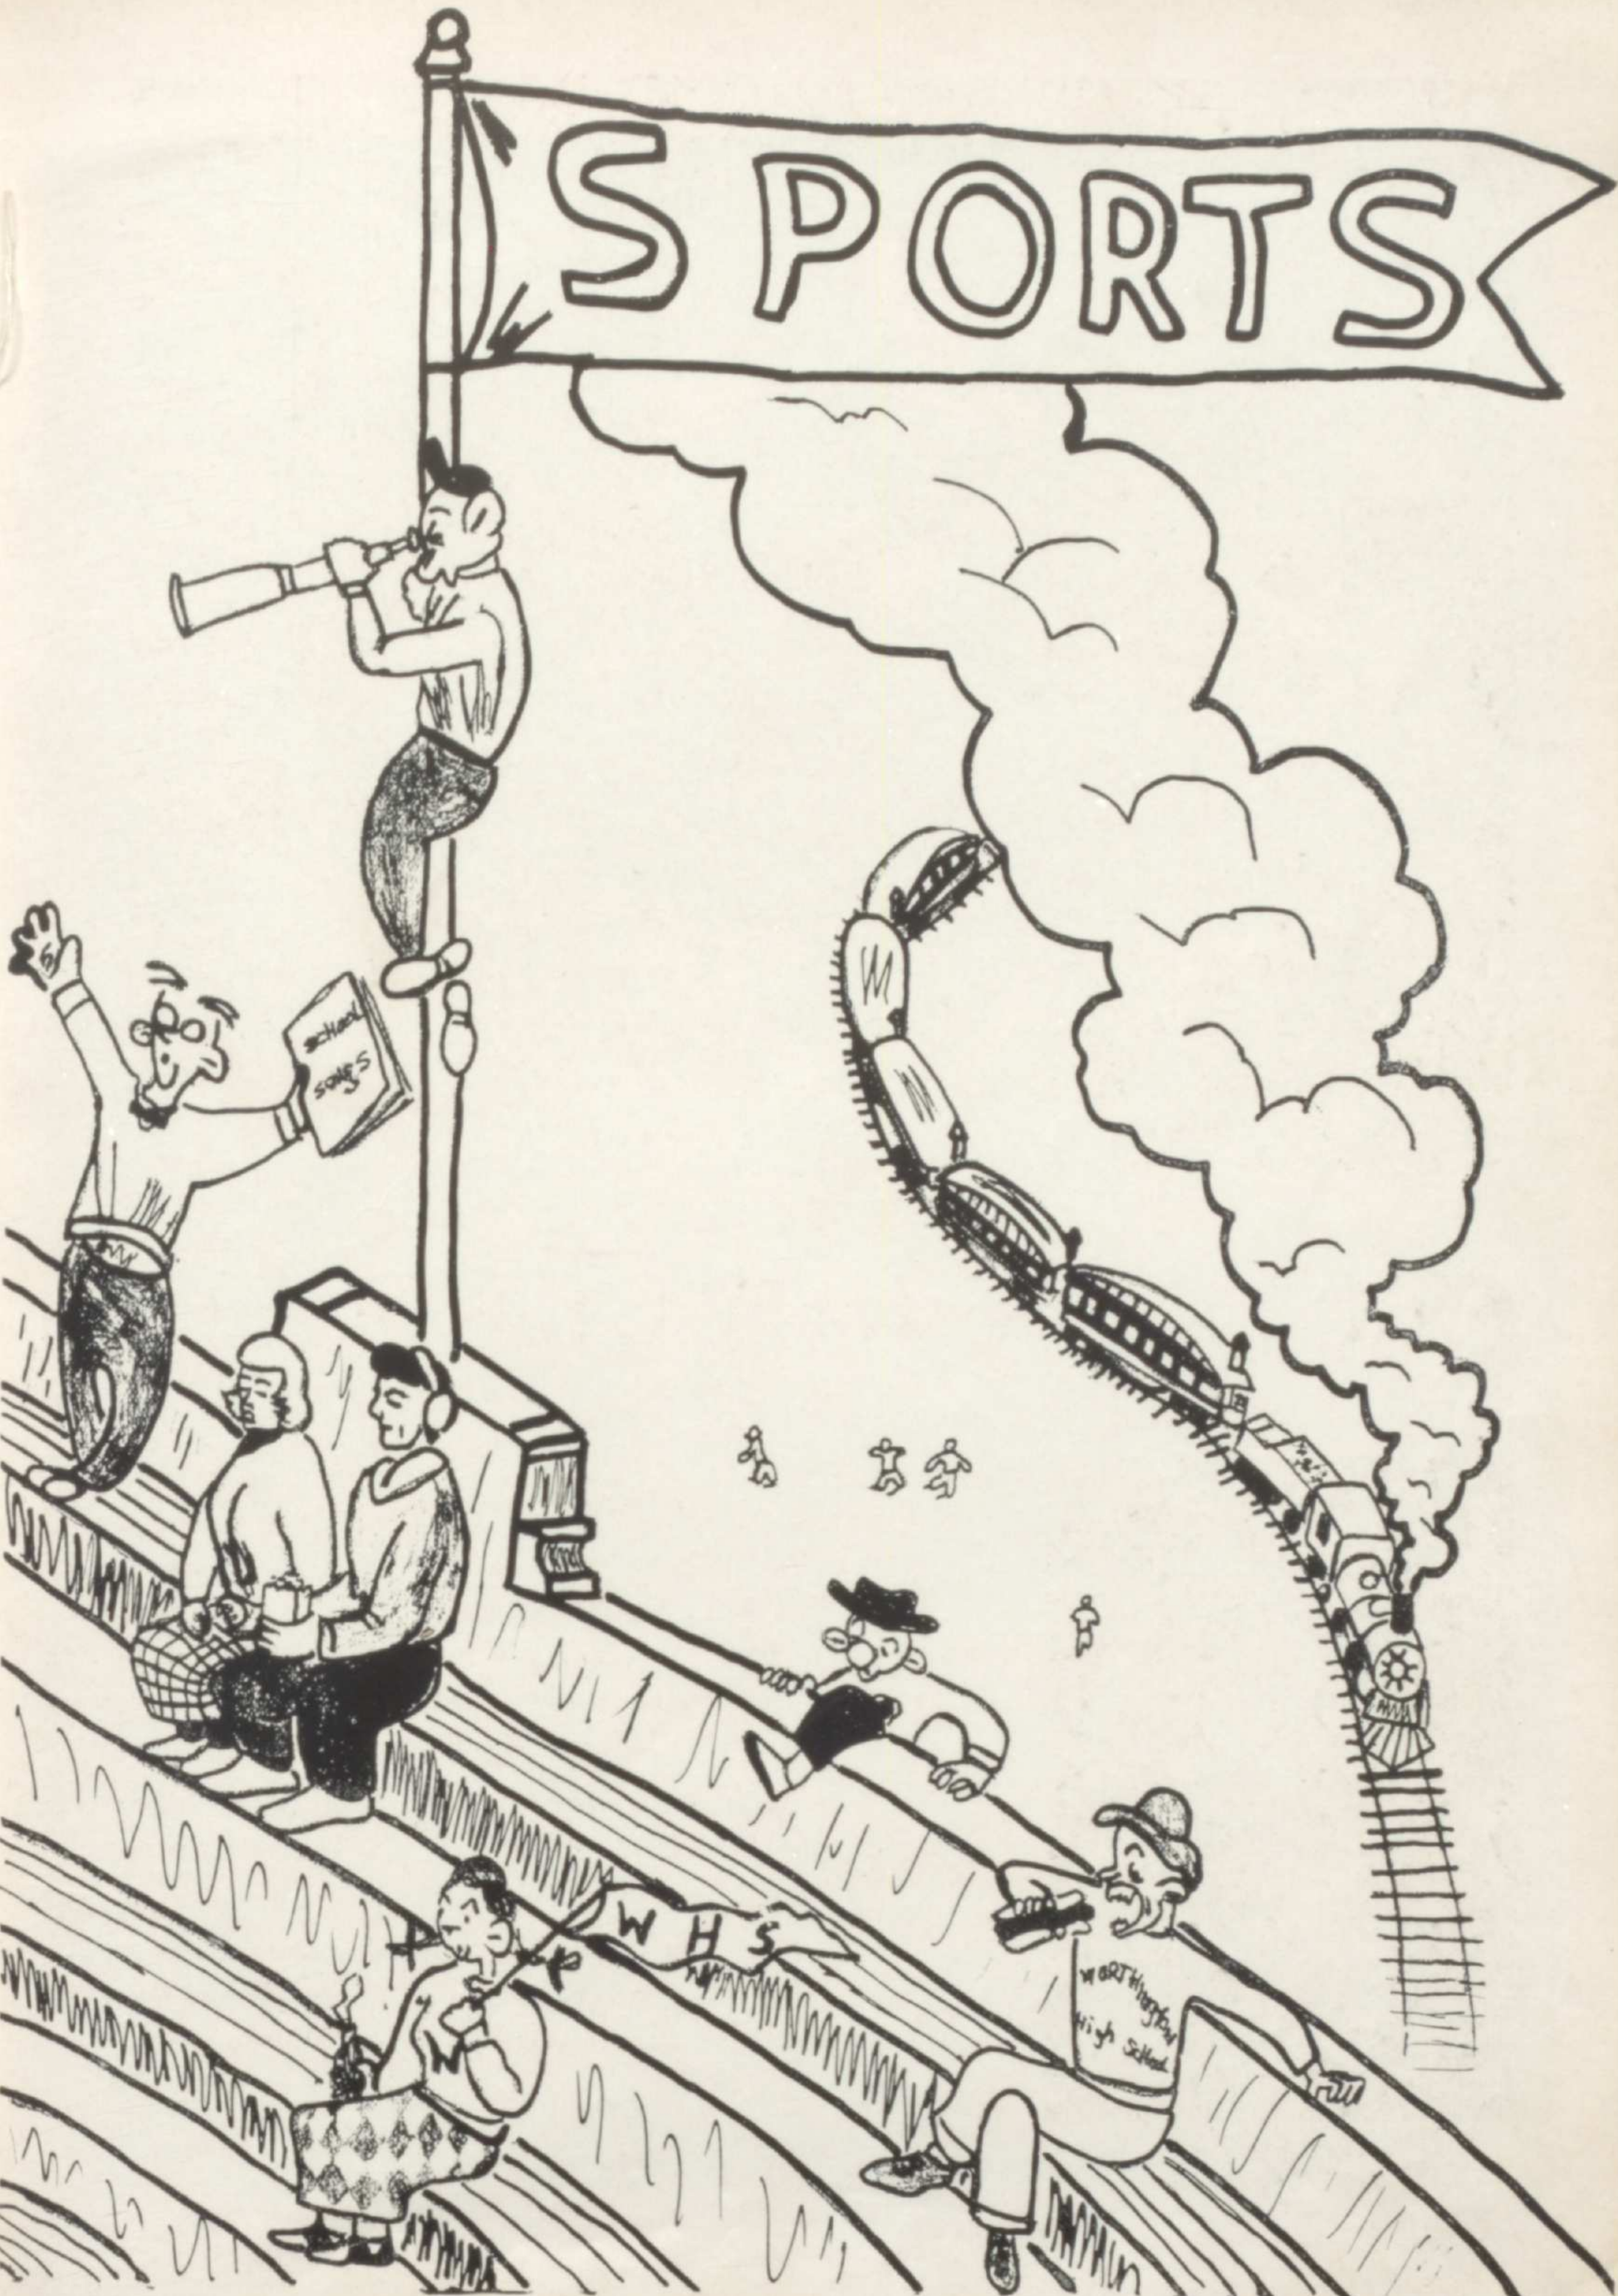

Fifty-four

The Student Council is the governing body of the high school. It is composed of the presidents of each class, a representative from each homeroom, and the president of each club or organization. The purpose of this organization is to solve the problems of the student body and the organization uses its funds for school improvement.

The council is advised by Principal Heischman and presided over by President Chuck West, who is also student body president.

This year the Student Council sponsored, among other things, two paper drives, a dance, and a party. It has purchased equipment for the athletic program in the school.

FOOTBALL

Pre-season prospects weren't on the encouraging side to Coach Nelson and his fifty enthusiasts, but with a great deal of spirit the team finished with a fifty-fifty average.

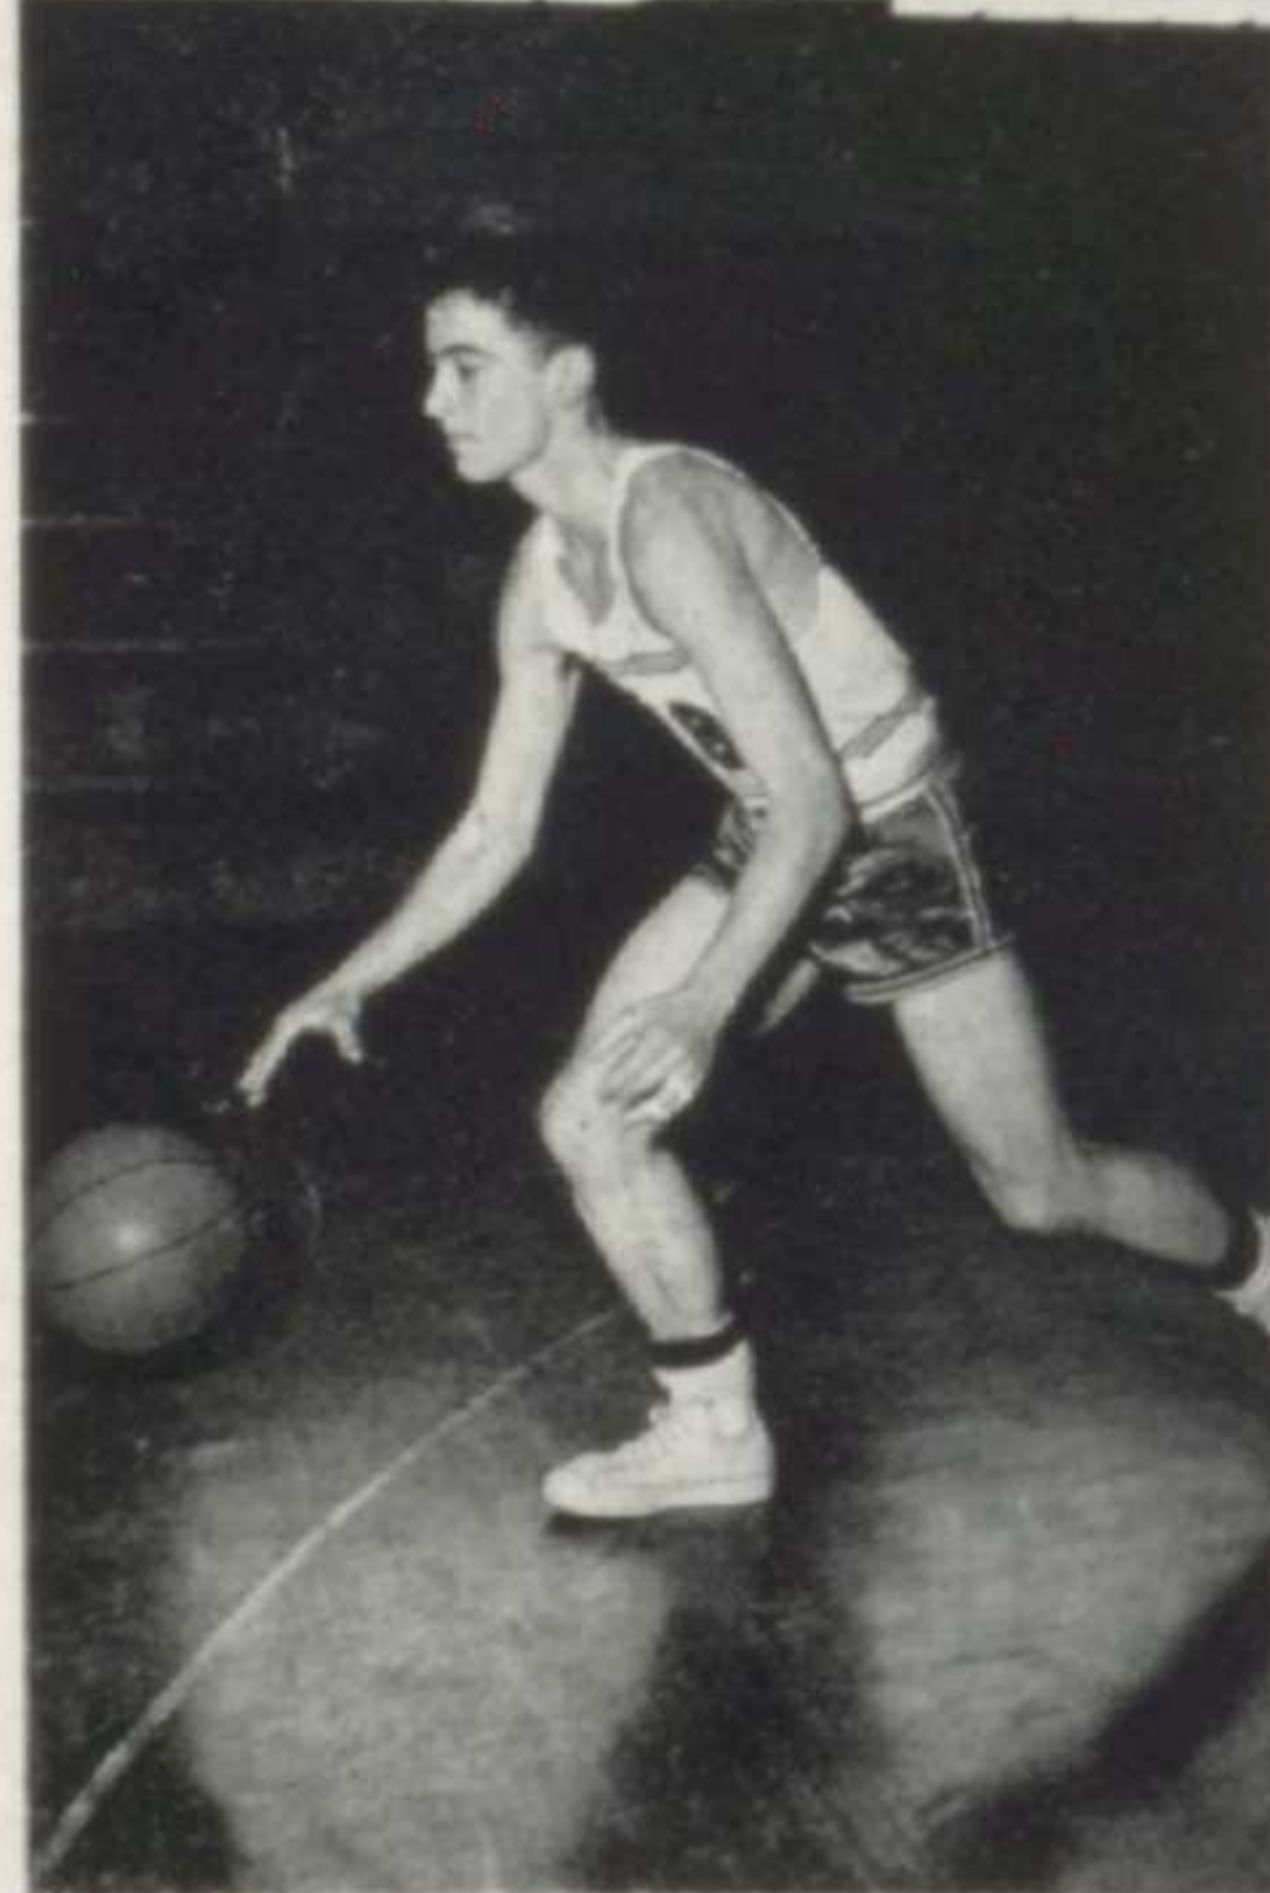

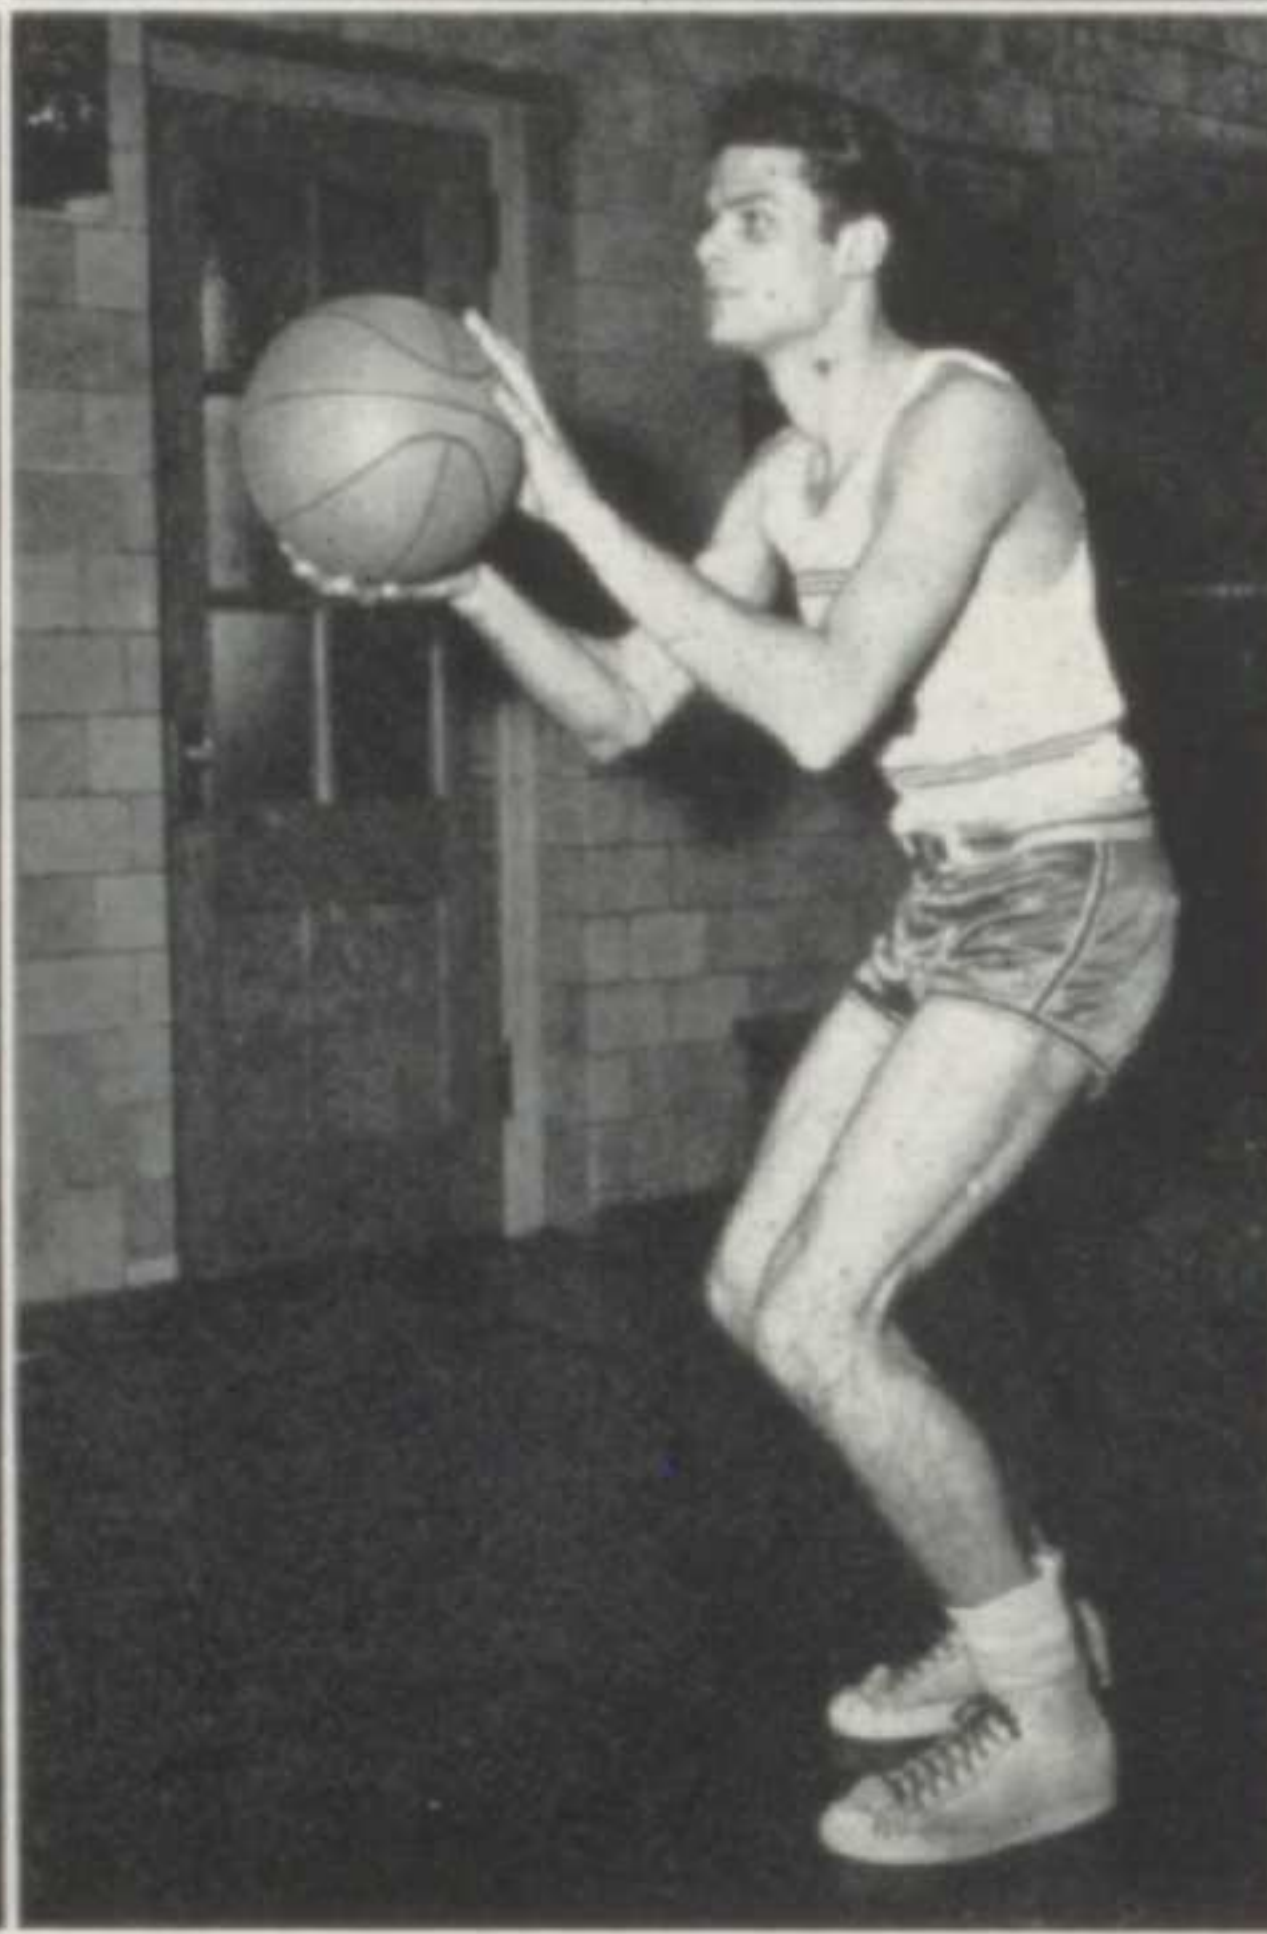

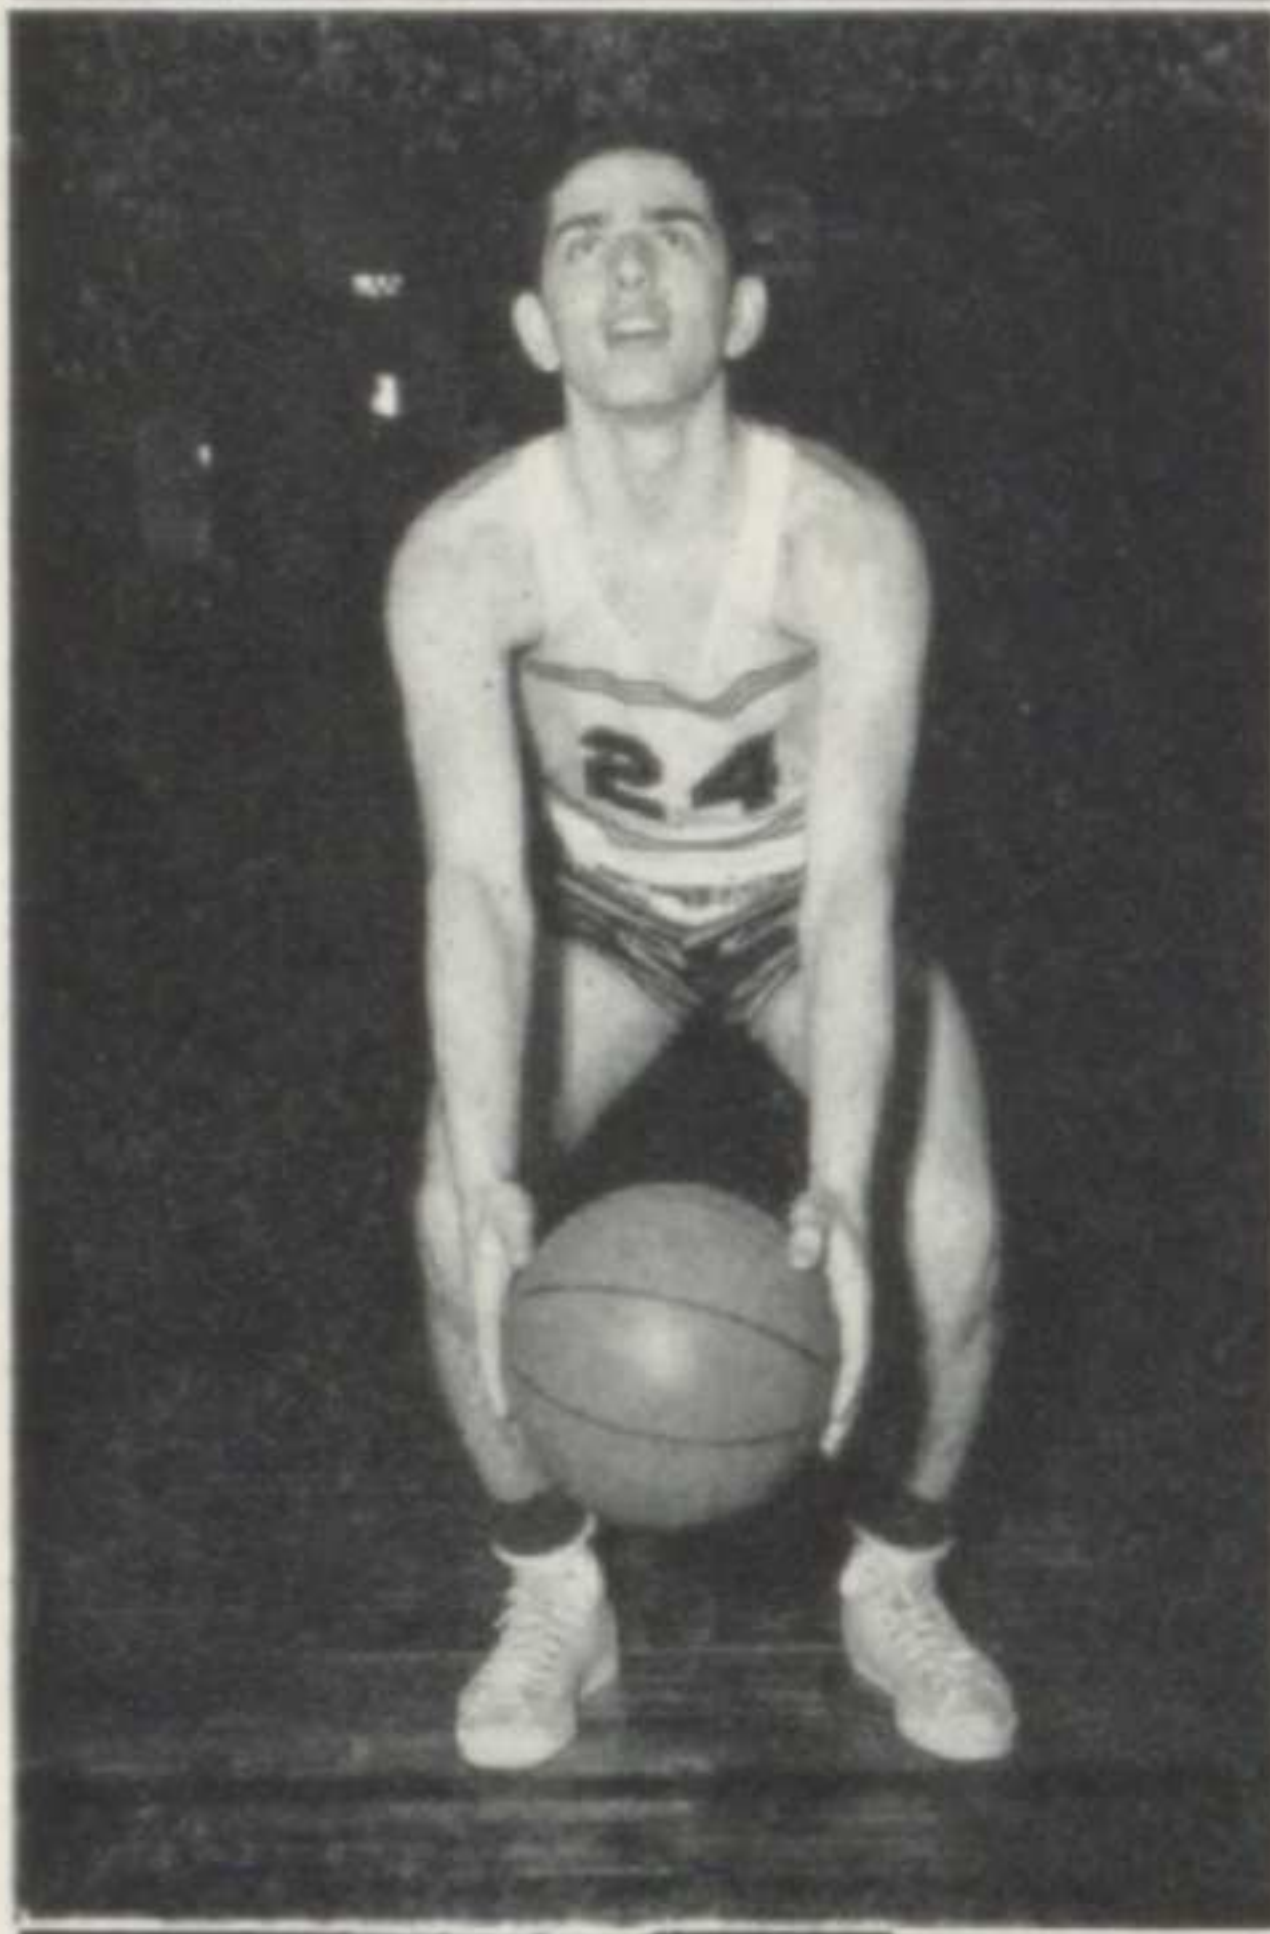

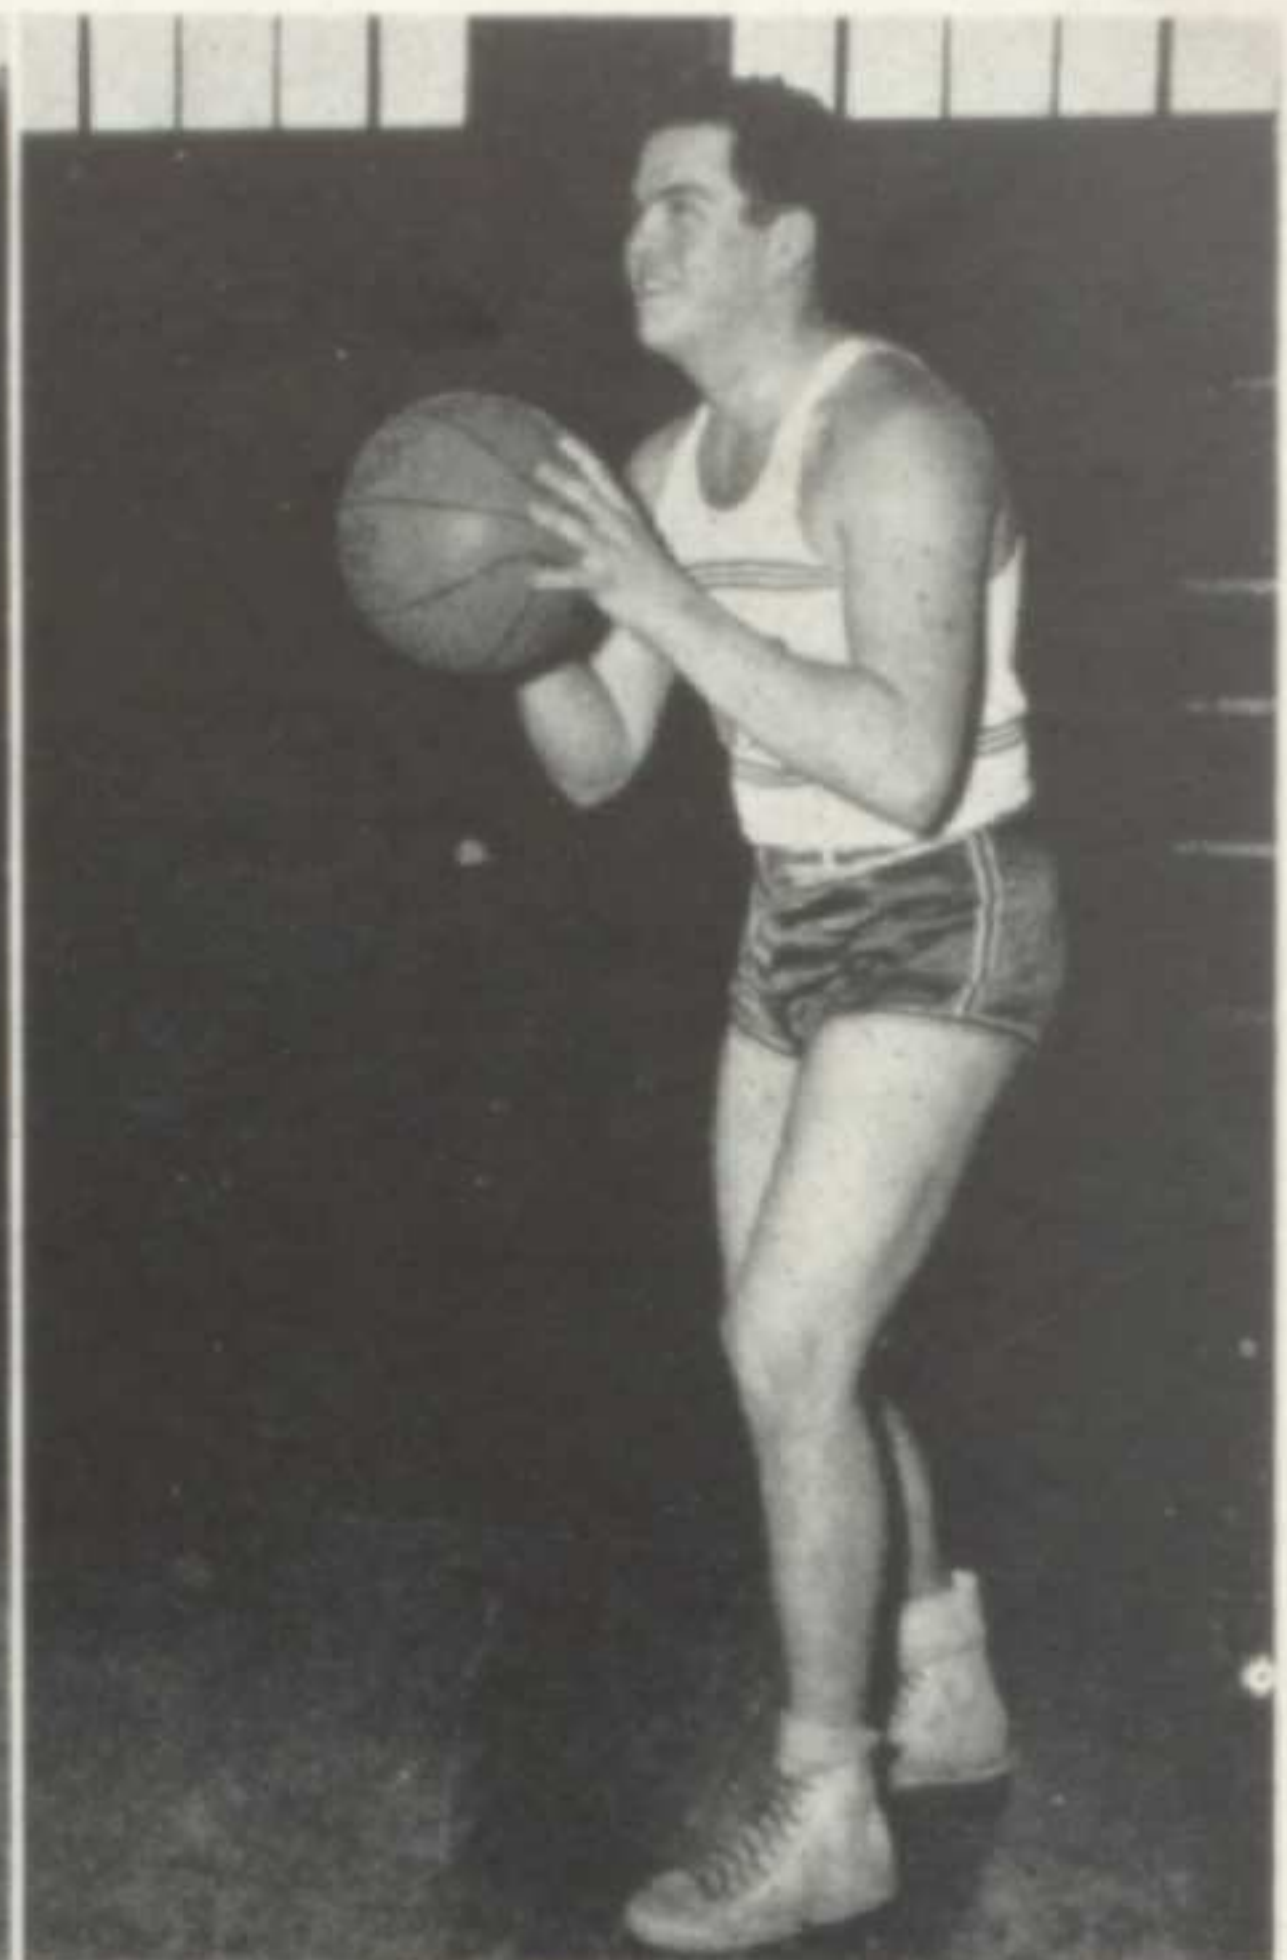

The newly organized Mid-Six caused the Cardinals to really use every bit of football knowledge available. In the lead-off game with Grandview, the Cards showed they wouldn't give up easily by holding the very strong Bobcat team to a 28 to 6 victory.

Then in the second game the Cards in real fighting spirit won a decisive victory over Hilliards 27 to 6.

The remainder of the season found the Cards winning over Gahanna and London and losing to Westerville and Grove City.

The team was well guided by Captain Ronnie Jarrett and quarterback Doug Diercks. Others who contributed to the success of the team were Jim Tarbutton, Calvin Shuster, Jim Corrigan, Chuck West, Tom Burt, Leon McCulloh and Kent Bruno all playing hard. All boys received letter awards.

BASKETBALL

The Ray Heischman coached Cardinals had somewhat of a tough season, due to the newly organized Mid-Six. The Cardinals won 10 games and lost 7 games.

In the Class "A" tournaments the Cardinals were matched against Marion Harding. The score was Marion Harding 49, Worthington 44. The seniors who played their last basketball game were Bill Miller, Jack Henderson, Jack Woods, Ronnie Jarrett, Harlan Snouffer, Doug Diercks and Jim Tarbutton.

The outstanding players of last season who were awarded honors on the Dispatch Mid-Six were Jack Woods and Jack Henderson.

Again this year, duplicating their performance of last year but under the guidance of a new coach, Dave Howell, the reserves finished the season with a league record of 9 wins and 1 loss and a season record of 15 wins and 2 losses.

The little Cards competed in a new league this year and remained outstanding, as have our reserves in the past, finishing in a tie with London for the Mid-Six title.

CROSS COUNTRY

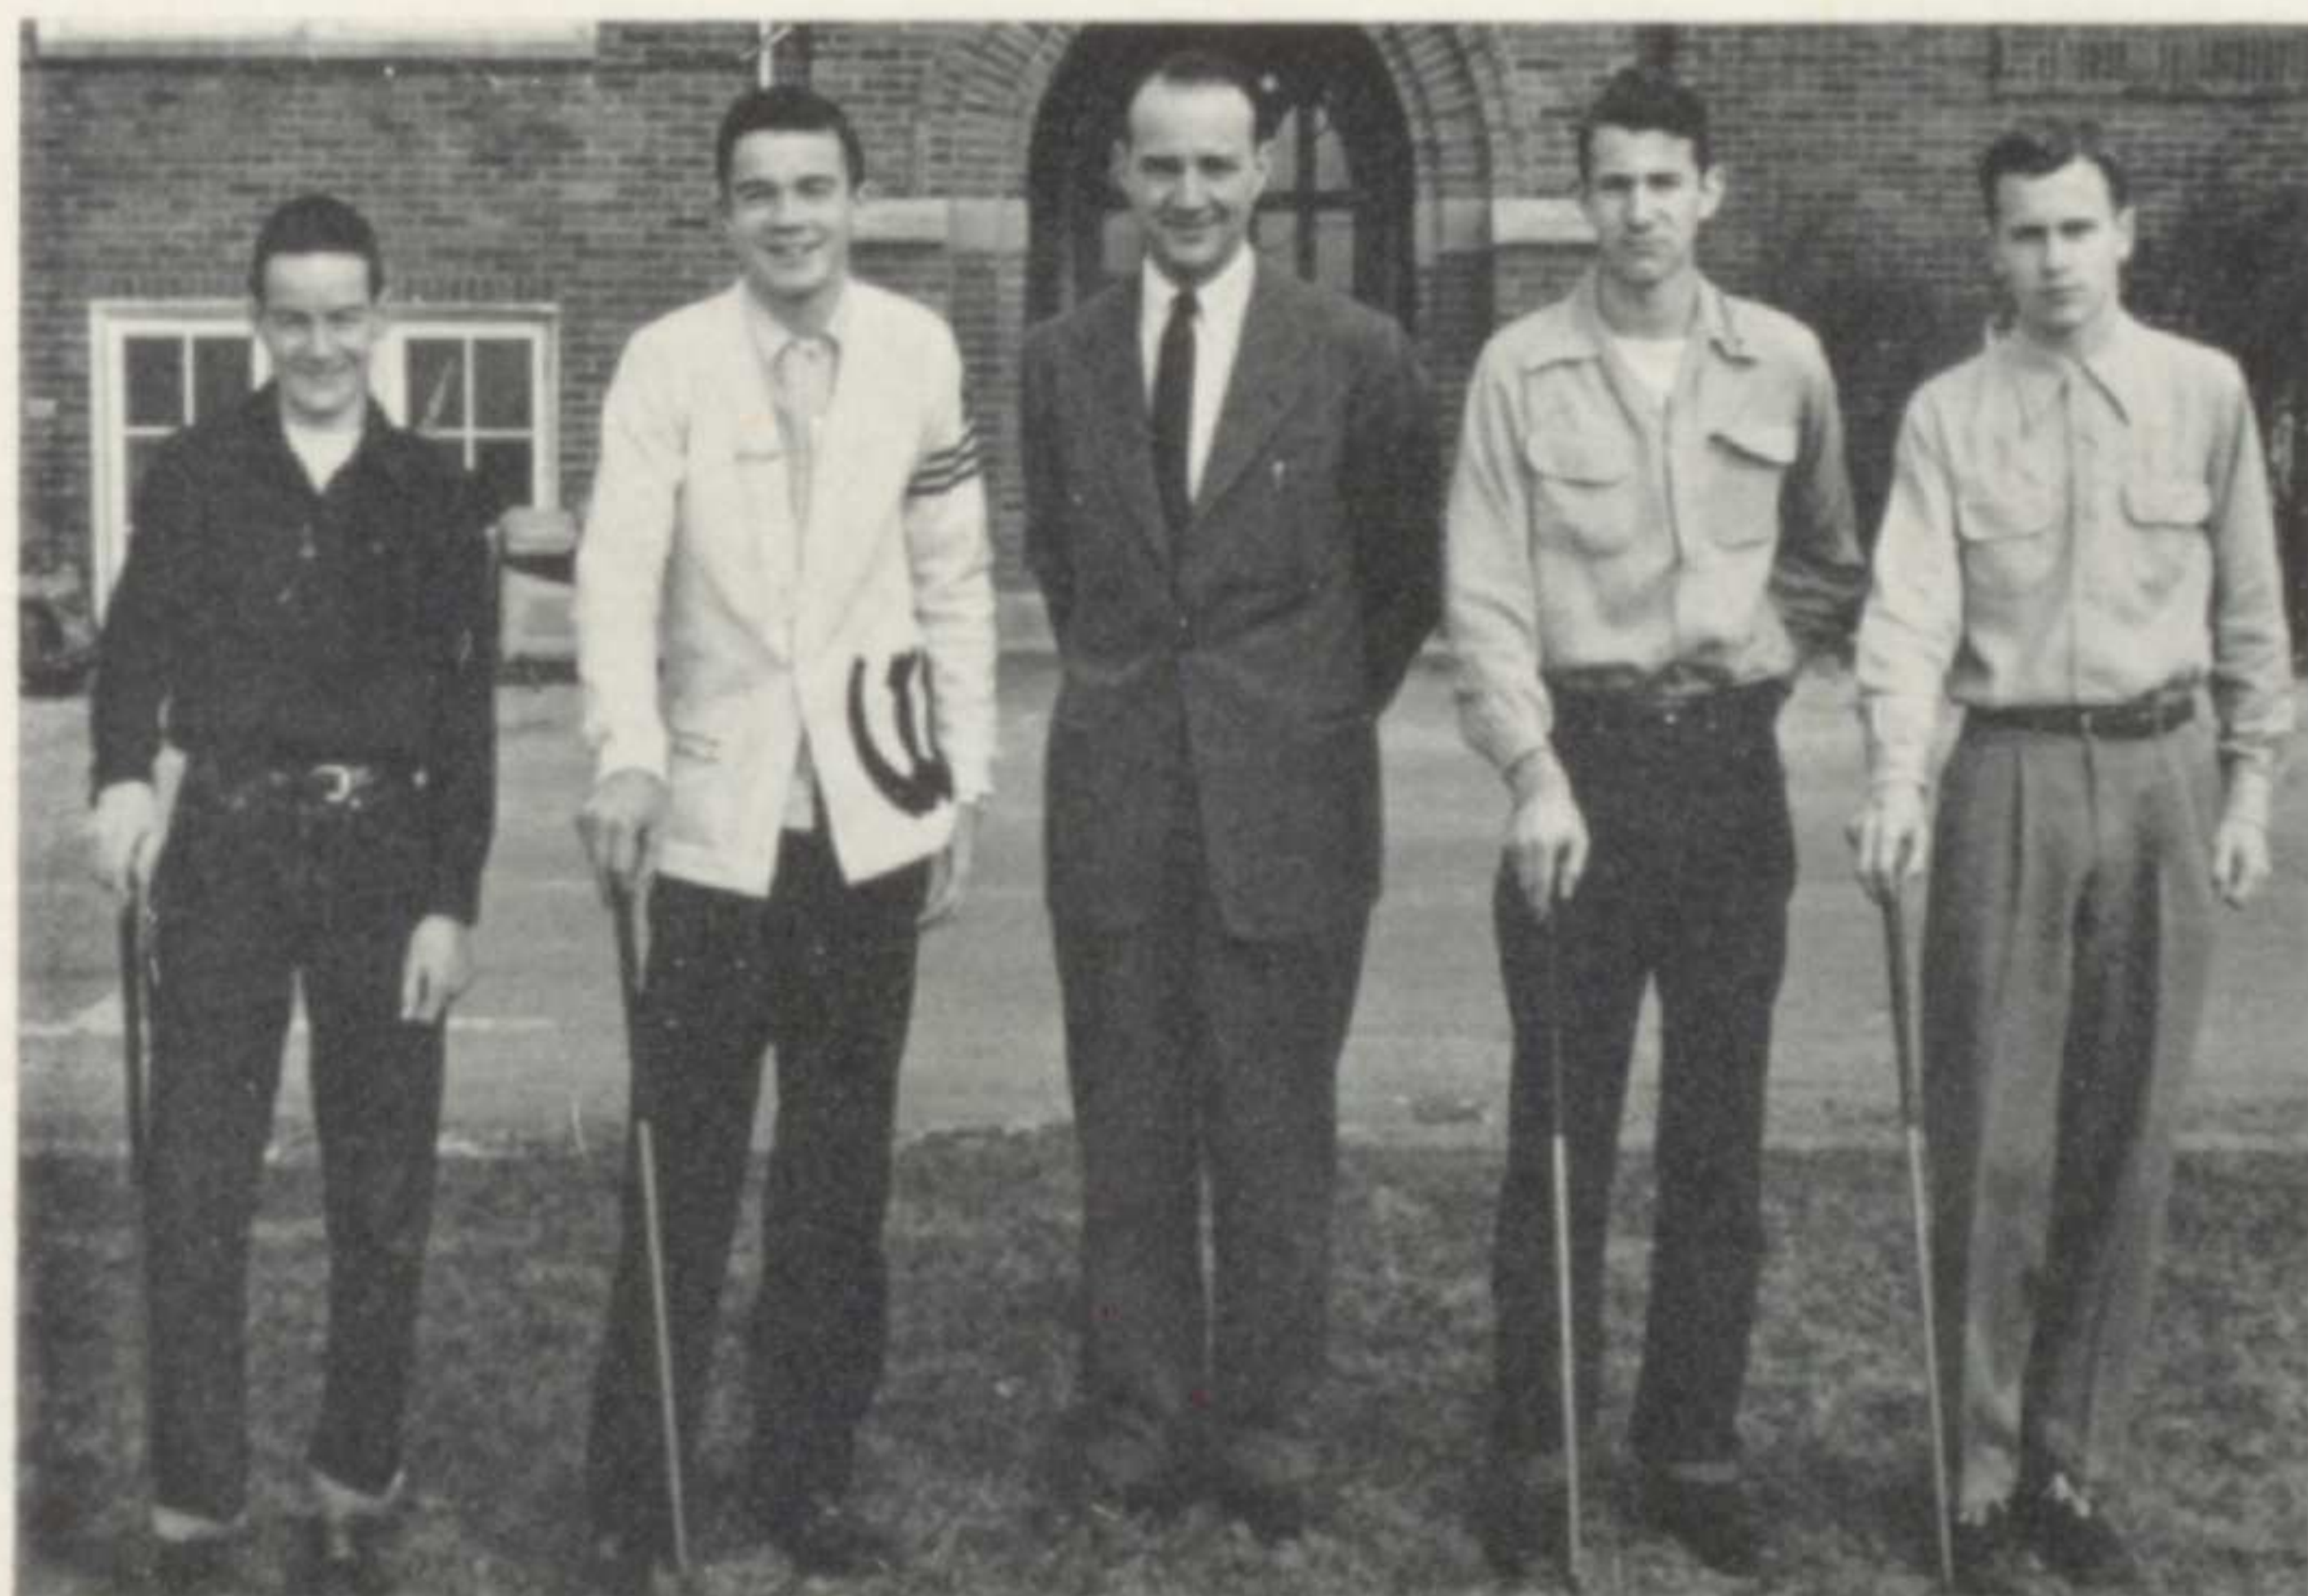

This year the Cross Country team, under Coach Eisenhart, had an exceptionally fine season, in fact their best ever, enjoying a record of 6 wins and 3 defeats during the regular season. The team co-captained by Ken Russell and Marlen Steward made a fine showing in the District Meet where they managed a tie for third place.

Earning letters this year were Ken Russell, Marlen Steward, Jack Henderson, Jerry Williams and Jack Bartley.

GOLF

Brownell, Poling, Mr. Heischman, McCain, Sells

The 1950 Golf Team continued in the Worthington tradition, and under the coaching of Ray Heischman they won the Greater Columbus "B" Golf Crown. They had a season record of 14 wins and 1 loss. In the District Meet they finished second, one stroke behind Columbus Aquinas.

The seniors and number one and two men respectively were Bill Amick and Bob Gooby.

Numbers three and four belonged to sophomores, Ron Poling and Joe McCain.

TRACK

The 1951 track team found Class "A" quite a bit tougher than recent competition. The boys worked hard this spring and were really in fine condition for their first meet.

The team found at its beck and call such talent as Jim Corrigan, Jack Woods, Ken Russell, Ronnie Jarrett, Marlen Steward, Leon McCulloh, Jim Browning, Bill Bell, Wayne Six, Buddy Butler, Bob Stevens, Chuck McKnight, Jim Biven, Jack Bartley and a fine group of sophomores.

In addition to the competition from last year, the Cards had to face a much tougher schedule this year because they competed in Class "A" instead of the County. The team competed in a strong Mid-Six League composed of Worthington, Hilliards, Westerville, Marysville, and Grove City. London did not compete in track. The boys let it be known early this spring that they were aiming at the Mid-Six crown and hoped to win their share of the meets.

Also on the agenda this year were the Relays and the District and State meets.

The 1950 baseball team under Coach Nelson finally brought baseball up to standards and cashed in on the Franklin County Championship. The championship game was played against Grove City on the Ohio State diamond no. 4 and was won by Worthington 1-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Ronnie "Smiles" Baxter. Peter Fields once again led the batting with an average of .400.

The members of the team were as follows: seniors; Pete Fields, Bob Buell, Don Feather, Chuck Thomas, and Wally Hall. The juniors were: Doug Diercks, Calvin Shuster, Kent Bruno, Bob Gausman, and Bob Hall. Sophomores were: Bill Keethler, Ronnie Baxter, Beldon Dixon, Bob Johnson and Louis Aleshire. The able managers were Fred Norton and George Allison.

Coach Nelson had as an assistant, James Horner, who proved to be a big help to the team.

FEATURES

Kent Bruno, 2342 W. Granville Rd., the son of Sgt. and Mrs. L. M. Bruno, has maintained a four point average for every year of high school, and has also been active in outside activities. He worked on the annual staff and was a member of the boys' quartet. He has won letters in both baseball and football.

Leon McCulloh, 686 Hartford St., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra McCulloh, was president of Hi-Y his senior year and also maintained a four point average. Leon's brother, Bill, attained this rank in 1949. He too has been active in outside activities, and plays the piano well. He is a letterman in track and football.

Both boys will receive the Charles E. Jefferson award.

HALLOWEEN

The queen beaming down from the float at Worthington's Halloween festival this year was none other than Libby French, sparkling senior. On the float as her attendants were Mary Ann Griffith, senior; Jacqueline Dumbauld, junior; and Carol Palmer, sophomore.

After the parade, Queen Libby was crowned by Mayor Wing. She and her court watched as the costumes in the parade were judged and then came down from the platform to join in the traditional square dancing in the street.

HOMECOMING

CLASS WILL

We the Senior Class of 1951 publish and declare this to be our last will and testament. In the manner following to the Juniors we do bequeath our place as seniors in Worthington High School. May they profit by our mistakes as well as by our successes so their senior year will be most successful and enjoyable for all.

Janet Eckels leaves her fine musical ability to Shirley Egelhoff.

The chairs which were used as footstools by Tom Burt are left to Paul Mally so he may be comfortable in his classes.

George Allison wills his uke to anyone who could play it and be such a star as he always has been.

The knitting needles and yarn of Joyce Niday are left to Jean Chesser with a sigh of relief.

Leon McCulloh bequeaths his dramatic ability to Tish Corbin in hopes she can perform in two class plays.

Roslyn Leedy leaves the '51 Cardinal, complete with plans and directions to Betty Ann Price and Barbara Hamilton, hoping to make their work easier next year.

To Bill Cuddy, John McMinn wills his shoes and a pair of oars.

Janet Paton leaves her clever weekly column, The Nut Shell, for anyone who can crawl under.

Sally Williams bequeaths her willingness to always help others to Mary Ann Hard and Alice Chambers.

The scientific knowledge of Bob Porter is left to Jim Weate and Ken Willison in hopes that someday we will have colored television.

The collecting of overdue absence excuses and the excellent office efficiency is willed to Mary Thornmyer by Joan Rieke.

Chuck West leaves his ability to pass out good advice to Ronnie Poling and Jim Biven.

Jack Bartley is willed the fine track ability of Ken Russell in hopes that he can do just as well.

Betty Jo Tharp bequeaths the Homecoming Crown to the lucky and popular girl who reigns in '51.

The growing pills that Leo Slack took are left to Janice Schwab and Vita Ayle so they won't acquire the nickname of "Shorty".

Bob Wolcott leaves his red and blue car, the Number 11, to Louis Aleshire and Bill Powell who can find it parked in back of the high school.

That wonderful rendition of "Skip to My Lou" sung by Kent Bruno is hereby given to Howard Zimmer.

Dick Cahoon leaves his opportunity to be one of the boys to represent Worthington at Buckeye Boys' State to any of the lucky guys who are asked to attend.

Anne Demos leaves the family car to brother Steve as a great means of transportation.

The love for laughter is willed to Carolyn Lindimore and Betty Hamilton by Grace Firman.

Audrey King leaves her Mildred Burke ambitions to Susie Yensen.

The bottle of H2O2 belonging to Nancy Haager is bequeathed to Joan Davis.

Bill Hammons' timely but clever wisecracks in class are left to Bill Bell and Joe McCain.

The grass skirt of Connie Burkett's is given to Jacquie Dumbauld on condition she doesn't get run down by a lawnmower.

Libby French leaves her place as first in the lunch line to Don Rieke hoping he can run down the stairs before anyone else.

Sue Gorham leaves to Lois Cochran her ability to go steady clear through high school.

The tasty lipstick of Mary Ann Griffith is hereby given to Marcine Parker.

Janice Gilbert bequeaths her ability to always have a date Janet Bath.

Alta Arter bequeaths her very neat penmanship to Pete Knowlton.

John Felder leaves his talent of washing his car until it shines to Stan Mumford.

The fine cooperation always shown by Don Posey is willed to Darrell Wolcott and Paul Bronsdon.

Harlan Snouffer leaves his half a dozen love lives to Bob Stevens.

Diane Wiswell leaves her ability to help the teachers to Patti Linn in case she ever needs a little extra credit.

The chewing gum of Ruth Ann Barber is left to the first chair of the third row in the Democracy room.

Barbara Feather leaves her luck of finishing high school in a short time to Jeanne Walker.

Jim Browning wills his ability to make speeches in speech class to Gail Levenhagen and Jeanne Wright.

Jean Ann Scatterday leaves her love for cheerleading to Joy Six.

Ronnie Jarrett leaves the wonderful Homecoming kiss to the lucky guy who gets to kiss the queen next year.

Rosemary Frambes leaves her winning smile to Geoffrey Kuypher and Fred Sells.

Those '50 License plates of Wally Life's are just left and in hopes no one else ever draws ones like them.

Jack Woods and Dan O'Dea bequeath their hair cuts to Dana Anderson and Roger Cox.

Russell Smith leaves his ability to run the movie projector to Vernie Shearer and Tom Jerman.

An interesting and clever vocabulary is willed to Fritz Lalendorf by Jim Tarbutton.

Carter Lilly leaves his keyboard ability to Jerry Williams in hopes he can follow the people singing in the Variety Show, too.

Bob Baldwin and Larry Morgan will their many experiences to Wayne Six and Jack Campbell as long as they don't ever get into trouble.

Jim Landen leaves his fine talent for getting chicken pox during Christmas vacation to all the girls who don't have dates to the winter formal.

Bob Hall bequeaths his ability to tell stories to Buddy Butler and Chuck McKnight on condition that theirs are always true.

George Bulford wills all the old parts of his motor scooter to Don Crow so he can race up the hill.

The ability to take responsibility so capably shown by Adrienne Hoag is left to Ruth Lucas.

Ginny McDonald leaves her talent of yodeling to Zazel Davis.

Doug Diercks gives his good baseball sense to Beldon Dixon and Bill Keethler on condition their team will win the Mid-Six crown.

The unusual belts of Ralph Hulls are willed to anyone who might lose weight in the coming year.

Sandy Traver bequeaths her knowledge of child psychology to Ruth Marshall.

Eleanore Schneider leaves her study habits to Phyllis Miller and Gerry Erickson so they may keep their high grades.

The dimples of Neal Dorsch are willed to Charlene Leist and Ann Darby on condition they always wear a smile.

Calvin Shuster leaves his memory of being kicked out of a football game when he shouldn't have been to Bill Condit in hopes this never happens to him.

Mitzi Timmons wills her ability of "horsing" around to Ardie Seegar.

Don McMannus gives his talent of shooting monkeys to Jim Rucker as long as he doesn't perform this art at the zoo.

Virginia Laws leaves her bravery for going to Worthington all twelve years to Sonny Loos.

Jim Corrigan leaves his way of making his car run twenty miles on a quarter's worth of gas to Carl Vagt.

The outstanding telephone voice of Joan Denkwalter is willed to Linda Carter and Margie Bailey.

Barbara Wood bequeaths her ability to stay out of trouble to Ann Wood and Ruth Ann MacKay on condition that they never get caught for their misbehavior.

Elinor Mills wills her well known walk to Jaci Kelly.

The fine class spirit shown by Marlen Steward is bequeathed to Ann Richards in hopes she will always be as loyal to her class.

Carolyn McMullen leaves her gift of gab to Joy Hursey and Martha Price.

To the faculty the Class of '51 bequeaths our sincere thanks for their untiring efforts to teach us when we often seemed unwilling to learn. We now appreciate these efforts and our thanks will grow deeper as time goes on. We hope that in your memories, unpleasant occurrences will be overshadowed by thoughts of good times and wholesome companionship we have known.

CLASS PROPHECY

As we step out of our taxi in front of the railroad station, tipping the driver Wally Life with our latest hot phone number, we hear the announcement, "Cardinal Special is now taking passengers on track 51." We recognize immediately the familiar voice of Janet Paton, still faithfully working on her oratory. Approaching the entrance to the station, we see the outstretched hand of Tom Burt, who is even now trying to pick up a fast nickel—this time selling pencils. We drop a slug in the cup and move on. We feel quite important as our doorman, Ken Russell, flicks open the entrance with a polite bow,—gracefully scraping his nose on the ground. On the other side we see Don McMannus punching the door shut. . . Yes, he's still practising his boxing.

As we elbow our way through the crowd, we catch a fleeting glimpse of George Allison, posing for cheesecake shots as Sweater Boy of the year. There's Anne Demos with her trusty camera and Sandy Traver doing the interviewing for her Giddy Gossip Gazette.

We keep trying to inch our way toward the ticket window, but something seems to be holding us up. Oh, now we see, it's Joan Rieke trying to manipulate through the crowd all the prizes she won on Ralph Hulls' "Cease the Symphonics" Quiz Program.

Moving on, we are approached by Rooster Shuster, the slickest bookie in the business, who offers us 5 to 1 odds on Limpin' Lil, ridden by jockeyist Adrienne Hoag.

But deciding not to place any bets today, we finally make it to the end of the ticket line; and as we stand waiting, we immediately notice the outstanding figure of John McMinn, still carrying himself above the ordinary run of people. We try to amuse ourselves as we wait by reading some of the billboards posted around the station. There is an interesting one over there. It seems Bill Miller has finally qualified for a crack at the extra light flea-weight boxing championship. He's fighting Pretty Boy Posey next Saturday night for the title. Then, on another poster over there is a catchy advertisement for Firman's Firmer Foundation Garments. This sign is being carefully studied by Jack Woods. He always was interested in the construction business.

Looking around, we also see Rosemary Frambes and Barbara Feathers, selling travelogues for the Linworth Chamber of Commerce.

Finally there's just one person left ahead of us in line. Say, it's the Honorable Reverend James Tarbutton trying to preach a sermon on charity to the ticket seller. He and his companion, Sue G. are waiting on the H. M. Special.

As we step up eagerly for our tickets, we recognize the familiar face of Jim Landen. Seems he's found that he enjoys life most when he's around money. Don't we all? We inquire as to the rates and find them quite reasonable, but when we dig down for the money, we find company. Harlan Snouffer's gone into the bill-fold relief business. Good old Harlan! Always trying to make the load lighter for someone else. However, he makes a hasty exit as he spies Policewoman Arter heading this way.

Fortunately, he forgets to take his loot with him and after finally purchasing our tickets, we begin to feel the need for something like a quart of Hadacol. None being handy, we decide to inquire at the nearest information booth where we find Leon McCulloh, still at his old job of handing out timely information. We seem to recall the many times this man of knowledge kept somebody off the warden's list back at dear old Worthington High. Right now he is explaining to Barbara Wood and Virginia McDonald how to get to Meshort, Utah.

When Leon finishes with them, he turns to us, and following his accurate directions, presently, we stagger up to the drug counter where we find Mitzi Timmons nervously pleading with the pharmacist, Pob Porter. "Oh please, I've got to have some liniment for my horse, Muffin Man, right away. I instructed my hired man, Willie Hammons, to take him out for exercise this morning, but I didn't mean to have him stuffed in a Crosley and hauled down to Apollo Studios." Bob soon quiets her fears as he produces his latest scientific remedy—Porter's Potion for Prostrating Pains, and Madelon thanks him gratefully and moves on.

Bob then turns to help us, but since he's out of Hadacol just now, he suggests a snack instead. Taking this to be an excellent suggestion, we step up to Denkwalter's Dinky Diner, and who should we see but Brigadier Bruno with his medal laden chest trying to impress wide-eyed Carolyn McMullen with his tales of prowess. Carolyn's secretly after his medals to add to her already numerous collection. We say "hello" and then turn to Leo Slack, head jerk (soda, that is). He takes our order and as we sit waiting, we notice Jean Ann Scatterday over at the cigar counter giving the mildness test to Libby French and Myrt Griffith. "Oh," exclaims Libby, "it is milder. From now on we'll chew nothing but Mail Pouch." Of course recording all this for the Eleanore Schneider Snappy Charades Show is none other than Russell Smith.

Now Leo returns with our tempting snack of dilled sardines excellently prepared by Chief Cook and Bottle Washer Elinor Mills. The aroma of the food is so tempting that it brings the great outdoorsmen Marlen Steward and Bob Gausman to our table, and as we eat they entertain us with the details of their latest fish story.

CLASS PROPHECY (Con't.)

Virginia Laws also stops to say "hello" on her way to the freight office to pick up her latest shipment of Paris creations.

Just as we finish eating we hear the announcement that our train is preparing to leave, but before boarding it, we decide to buy a couple of magazines to read on the trip. Glancing over the selection at the magazine counter, we see the glamorous figure of Nancy Haager, top New York fashion model, appearing on the cover of Peek Magazine. Inside is a featured article on Suave Hair Styles by Sally Williams. We also note the latest edition of Sports Digest, featuring a picture of Champion Jim Browning, new title holder of the International Pogo Stick Jump. Smiling Connie Burkett comes up to wait on us (she has been under the counter reading pocket book mysteries). After selecting several magazines we move merrily on our way.

As we approach the train, we hear the rousing strains of Bob Hall and his Roundhouse Five band, who are sending off Jack Henderson to the National Babysitters Convention at Southern Kukamonga. Janice Gilbert is the featured singer as she gives her rendition of "So Long, It's Been Good to Know You." We wish Jack the best of luck and then hand over our four trunks and two suitcases to our muscle woman porter, Marilyn Porter. We follow her through the crowd toward the platform, but before boarding the train, we wave a hasty "hi" to George Bulford and Larry Morgan, the brakemen. We also see Conductor Cahoon and Engineer Corrigan synchronizing their Mickey Mouse watches and we know now the train is in safe hands.

Once on the train, we are shown to our seats and find we are seated just across the aisle from Robert E. Baldwin who has just won the Undertakers and Gravediggers Society's Nobel Prize for his invention of the fire-proof coffin. He is on his way to Death Valley to receive this award. Accompanying him his able bodyguard, Digger O'Dea. Glancing out of the window, we see Bob Wolcott in his No. 11 hot rod rushing toward the station. We hope he makes his train without mishap.

Suddenly there is a slight lurch in the train and we find ourselves now perched rather awkwardly on the head of the person back of us. Turning to make our apologies, we see Diane Wiswell. Beside her is wealthy Janet Eckels, who is heiress to a fabulous fortune of "Soggies", the revolutionary new breakfast food. We chat briefly and then decide it might be interesting to take a tour of the train.

The businessmen's club car is the first stop, and here we see millionaire Andrew MacKay, the famous toothpick manufacturer, absorbed in the latest stock exchanges. Across from him and just as absorbed in his reading, is Neal Dorsch, studying the latest copy of Bugs Bunny. We talk briefly and then move on to the next car, the diner, where we see Carter Lilly, the famous concert pianist, having lunch with Joyce Niday, founder of the Sunnydale Rest Home for Desolate Earthworms. As we sit talking, Doug Diercks, the singing waiter, entertains us with a selection from his repertoire. Doug has finally qualified as a full fledged member of the Groaners Guild since he grew a handle-bar mustache especially for his job.

Excusing ourselves after a short chat, we head on towards the next car. But before we reach the door, we hear a choking cough and turn to see Betty Jo Tharp trying to force Ronnie Jarrett to take his spinach like a man. Poor Ronnie! He never did have very good resistance. So offering him our sympathy, we turn and start to open the door, when who should come plowing through the door head first but little Johnny Felder, who is being "bounced" by Sis Barber, the train detective. Seems he was caught trying to lift the cherry off of Loy Updegraff's cocktail (fruit, that is).

The next car we enter contains the drawing rooms, and the first one is that of newly elected Congressman West, who has won his position on the platform of a four day work week with 78 hours pay. Offering him our congratulations, we leave him to move on, but as we pass drawing room 8 we recognize the familiar voice of Marilyn Gabriel, practicing calling signals for her newly formed all-girl football team. Audrey King is her star player holding down the wayback position.

Our last stop is the observation car where we see the famous psychiatrist, Roslyn Leedy, conferring with socialite Nancy Hamilton. "But Doctor," pleads Nancy, "how can I tell when I'm really in love?" Seeing that they are busy, we decide to return to our seats as the train is just pulling into the station.

Well it's been fun! And I don't think that we will ever forget our trip on the Cardinal Special with the Class of '51.

BEST OF LUCK!!
