STARS

FEATURES

It is always hard to see a great star fade into the twilight at Worthington, but this year one of our greatest will be leaving us.

Mr. Ray Heischman has been with our system for sixteen years and in that time has won the respect and acclamation of hundreds of students. Many recall him as a physics teacher and principal but still more recall him as a coach. We hear old grads come back and greet him with "Hi chief" and we know that with the greeting they are drifting back to the days when they were a member of one of his basketball squads.

We can all recall the 1947 season when Worthington placed second in the state. This might have been the highlight of his career, but really, there are many other incidents that were just as important, so many in fact that we hesitate to recall all of them. In reality every season was a great one, if not for scores, then for sportsmanship and honor that goes with winning of a cleanly fought contest.

We could relate, by the hour, the students he has helped and the many extra efforts he has made on our behalf. The opportunity for student expression and the fairness of treatment means more to us than these words or any others could describe.

We have a feeling that the faculty, too, will miss a real friend and companion in the coming year. What we say here might well be stated in their behalf also.

Efforts to describe true feelings in words are poor at best, and we have not improved them much with this writing. We just want you to know, Mr. Heischman, that all of our good wishes go with you wherever you go.

SENIOR HIGH PRINCIPAL

Mr. Heischman, our high school principal, has taught at Worthington sixteen years. He began his career at Worthington by teaching junior high mathematics and science. After teaching four years at the junior high, he became principal at the senior high, teaching physics and coaching varsity basketball and golf. Mr. Heischman obtained his Bachelor of Science degree in Education from Capital University and his Master of Arts degree from Ohio State University. His home town is New Albany, Ohio.

SUPERINTENDENT

Mr. McCord has served as superintendent of the Worthington schools for 17 years, as principal for two and as teacher of science, physical education, and industrial arts for six years. He has taught in four other schools. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Ohio University and his Master of Arts degree from Ohio State University. Mr. McCord's hometown is Ashville, Ohio.

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1955

The class of 1955 was the last class to enter high school as Sophomores and the last class to spend its Freshman year in the Junior high school.

In our Freshman year John Goers presided over the class and Donna Lakota was our attractive representative on the homecoming court.

Upon entering the new high school building as Sophomores, we undertook our first fund raising project, the magazine drive. Fred Wood capably led our class and Patty Armstrong was our striking homecoming attendant.

In no time we were Juniors and a trip to Washington, D. C. and New York was everyone's dream. Terry Morgan and his cabinet began turning this dream into a reality. The Christmas tree sale, wood cutting project, taffy sale and several bake sales began building up our treasury.

Karen Keating was our cute addition to the Homecoming Court. Gales of laughter filled the auditorium as we presented Dear Ruth. We were the first class to have a Junior-Senior Prom in the new gymnasium. We planned for many months and on the big night the gym was completely transformed into an underwater scene. Everyone enjoyed an evening in Neptune's Court.

Dave Stinchcomb was our very able president during our eventful senior year. It was highlighted by many dinners, selling cushions on O.S.U.'s campus on football Saturdays, and our Senior Class Play, George Washington Slept Here. Everyone took pride in Karen Keating, our Homecoming Queen, and Patty Armstrong, her senior attendant.

Long at last we spent an exciting week in Washington D. C. and New York. Then our memorable commencement climaxed our high school days.

JOHN ROBERT POWERS

AGENCY CORP

247 PARK AVENUE NEW YORK CITY 17

December 15, 1954

It was a pleasure to judge the Cardinal Queen contest for the Worthington High School Yearbook.

All of the contestants were most attractive and it was very difficult to decide between them. Our selection was based on (a) features and contours of the face, (b) alertness and apparent intelligence and (c) feminine charm. Naturalness, not glamour, is my criterion of a young lady's attractiveness -- and I think this year's CARDINAL QUEEN is an excellent example of the natural girl at her very best.

Congratulations to the winner, all the contestants and to you and fellow members of the yearbook staff.

Sincerely,

John Robert Powers

TWINKLE, TWINKLE, LITTLE STAR
HOW WE WONDER WHO YOU ARE —

This year, for the first time in the history of W. H. S., a Cardinal Queen was selected. The contest was sponsored by the yearbook staff. John Robert Powers of the Powers Modeling School in New York City made the final decision from our seven lovely candidates.

Queen Sue's eyes were certainly twinkling through tears of joy when Gary Boucher, Business Manager of the yearbook, told the biggest secret of the year and crowned Sue, Cardinal Queen of 1955.

QUEEN KAREN

HOMECOMING QUEEN

RAIN, RAIN, RAIN!

This song must have been written for our Queen, Karen Keating, as the steady downpour didn't let up for a minute during her reign. However, nothing could stop our team this year. The spirit of every Wothingtonite soared sky-high as our team put the "P" in champion by downing Grove City 27 to 6. It was only a few weeks later that they finished the work and became the Mid-Six Football Champions of 1954.

We took pride in Karen and her court, composed of Patty Armstrong, Senior; Caroline Corbin, Junior; Mary Thomas, Sophomore; and Peggy Campbell, Freshman.

HALLOWEEN QUEEN

LET IT SNOW, LET IT SNOW,
LET IT SNOW!

Due to the absence of last year's Queen, Marylon Scatterday, Nancy was crowned by Mr. H. C. McCord, Superintendent of the Worthington Schools. Dressed in tiger-lily orange with black accessories, Nancy was especially outfitted to reign over all of the ghosts and goblins as Halloween Queen of 1954.

TRACK COURT

QUEEN JOAN

BABY, IT'S COLD OUTSIDE!

On a cold, cold night in the spring of 1954, the honor of being host to the Annual Mid-Six Track and Field Meet was again bestowed upon Worthington. This was the fifth traditional Mid-Six Meet, and each year we have been the host school.

The Worthington Track Team selected the Queen. This year a new twist added much to the ceremonies and to the unity of the Mid-Six. The Track team of each school selected a member of the court to represent them and their school. The girls were: Joan Williams, Worthington; Barbara McArton, Grove City; Marilyn Rose, Westerville; Rheba Miller, London; Marianne DeMary, Hilliard; and Barbara Smith, Marysville.

Coach Eisenhart presented Joan as Track Queen of 1954. Medals were awarded to the winners of the various events by Queen Joan and her court.

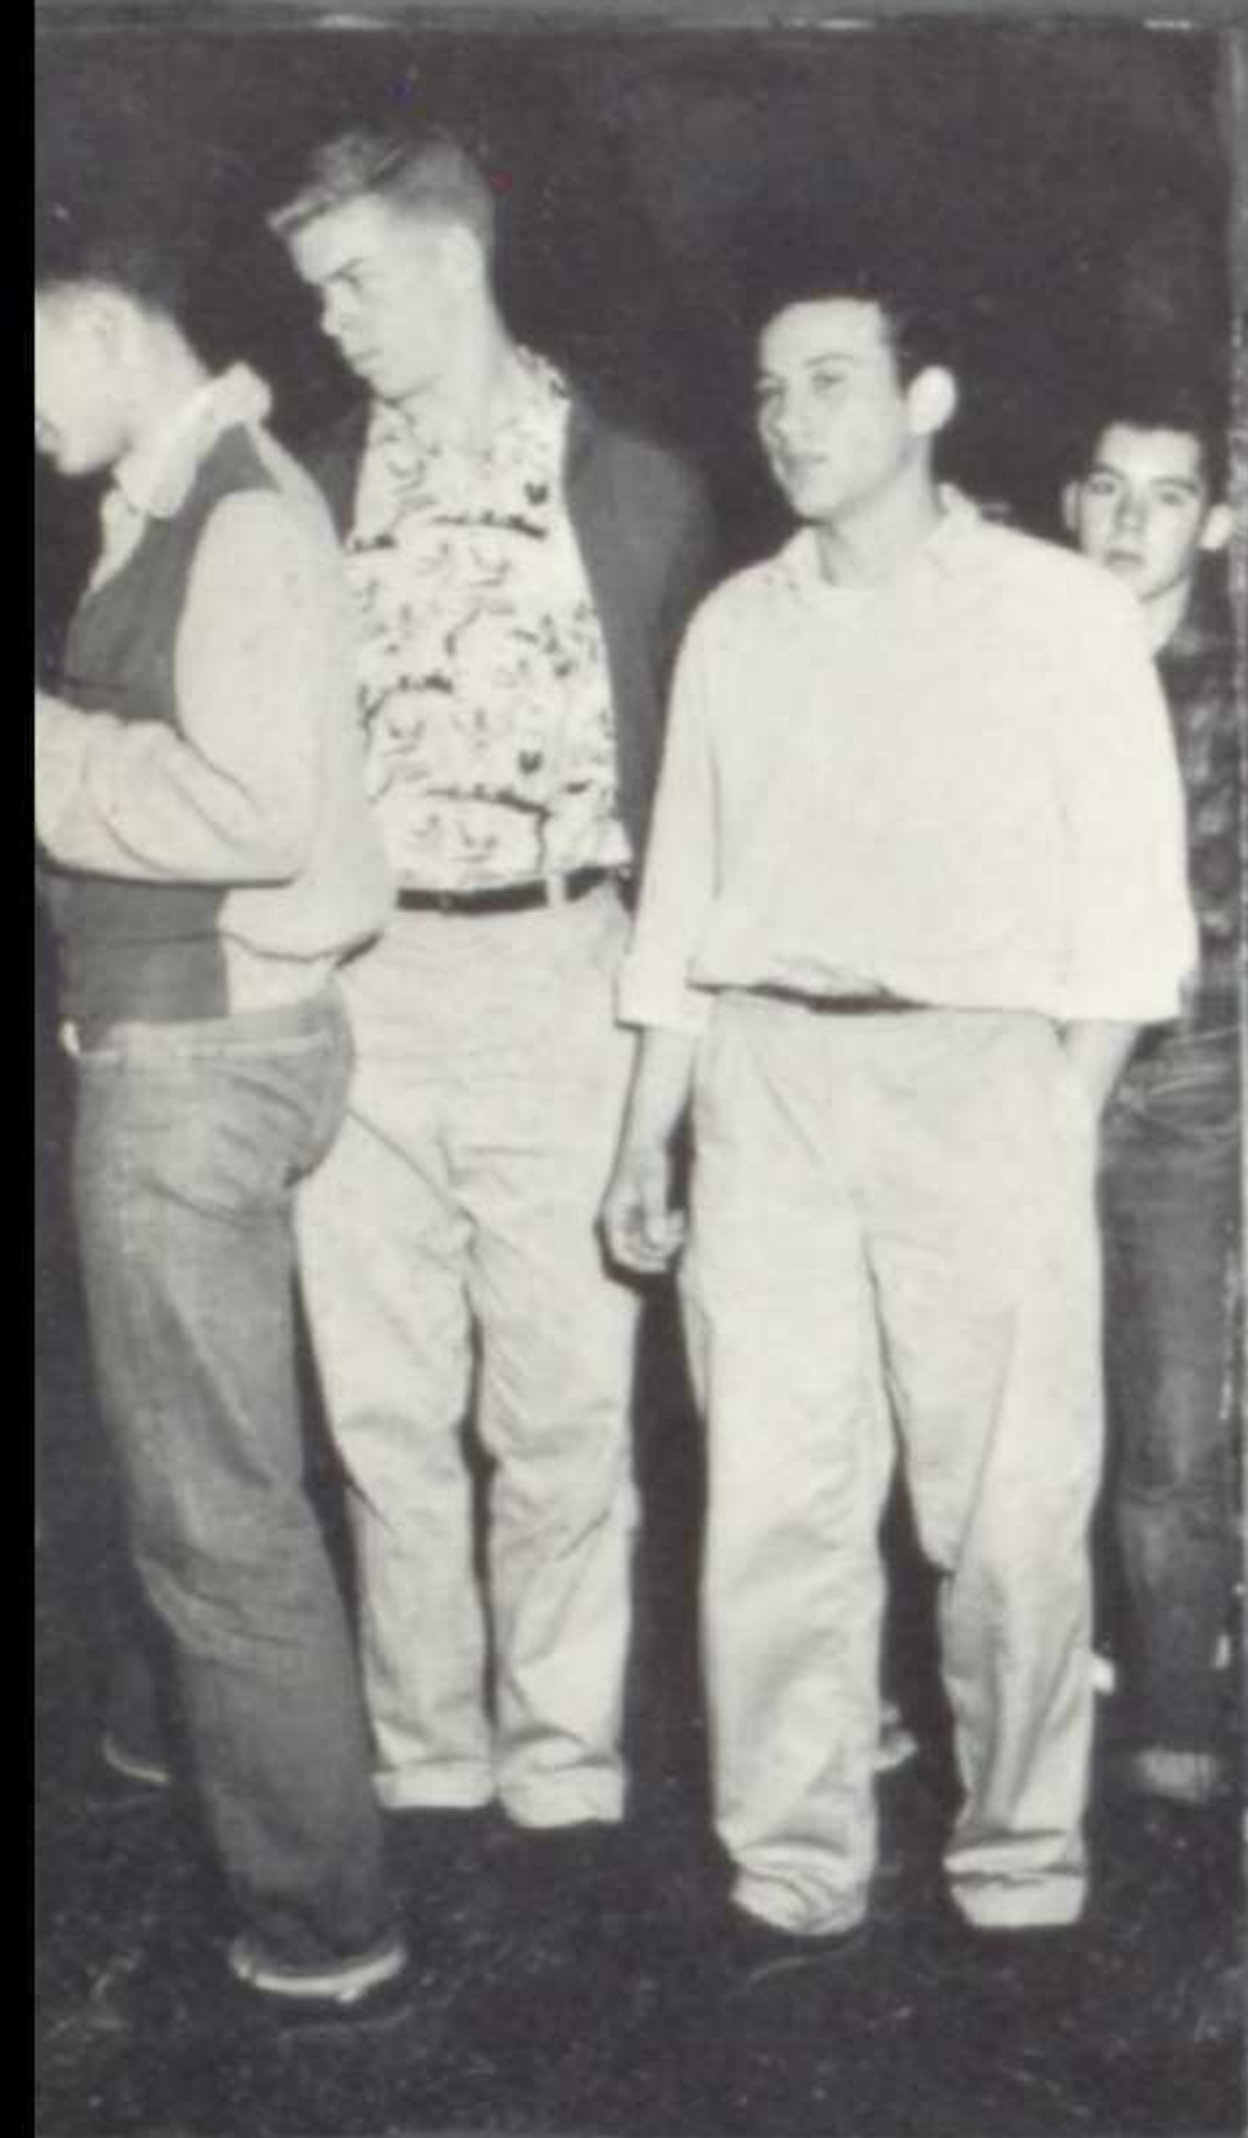

Every Worthingtonite was proud and happy that, for the fifth straight time, Worthington was victorious. We were the Mid-Six Champs of 1954!

NELSON!

HE'S OUR MAN!

Through sleet and snow, rain and storm, the team must come through. But somewhere in all of this foul weather there has to be a beacon light to steer by. We think that Coach Dow Nelson and his assistants provided the perfect beacon during the past football season.

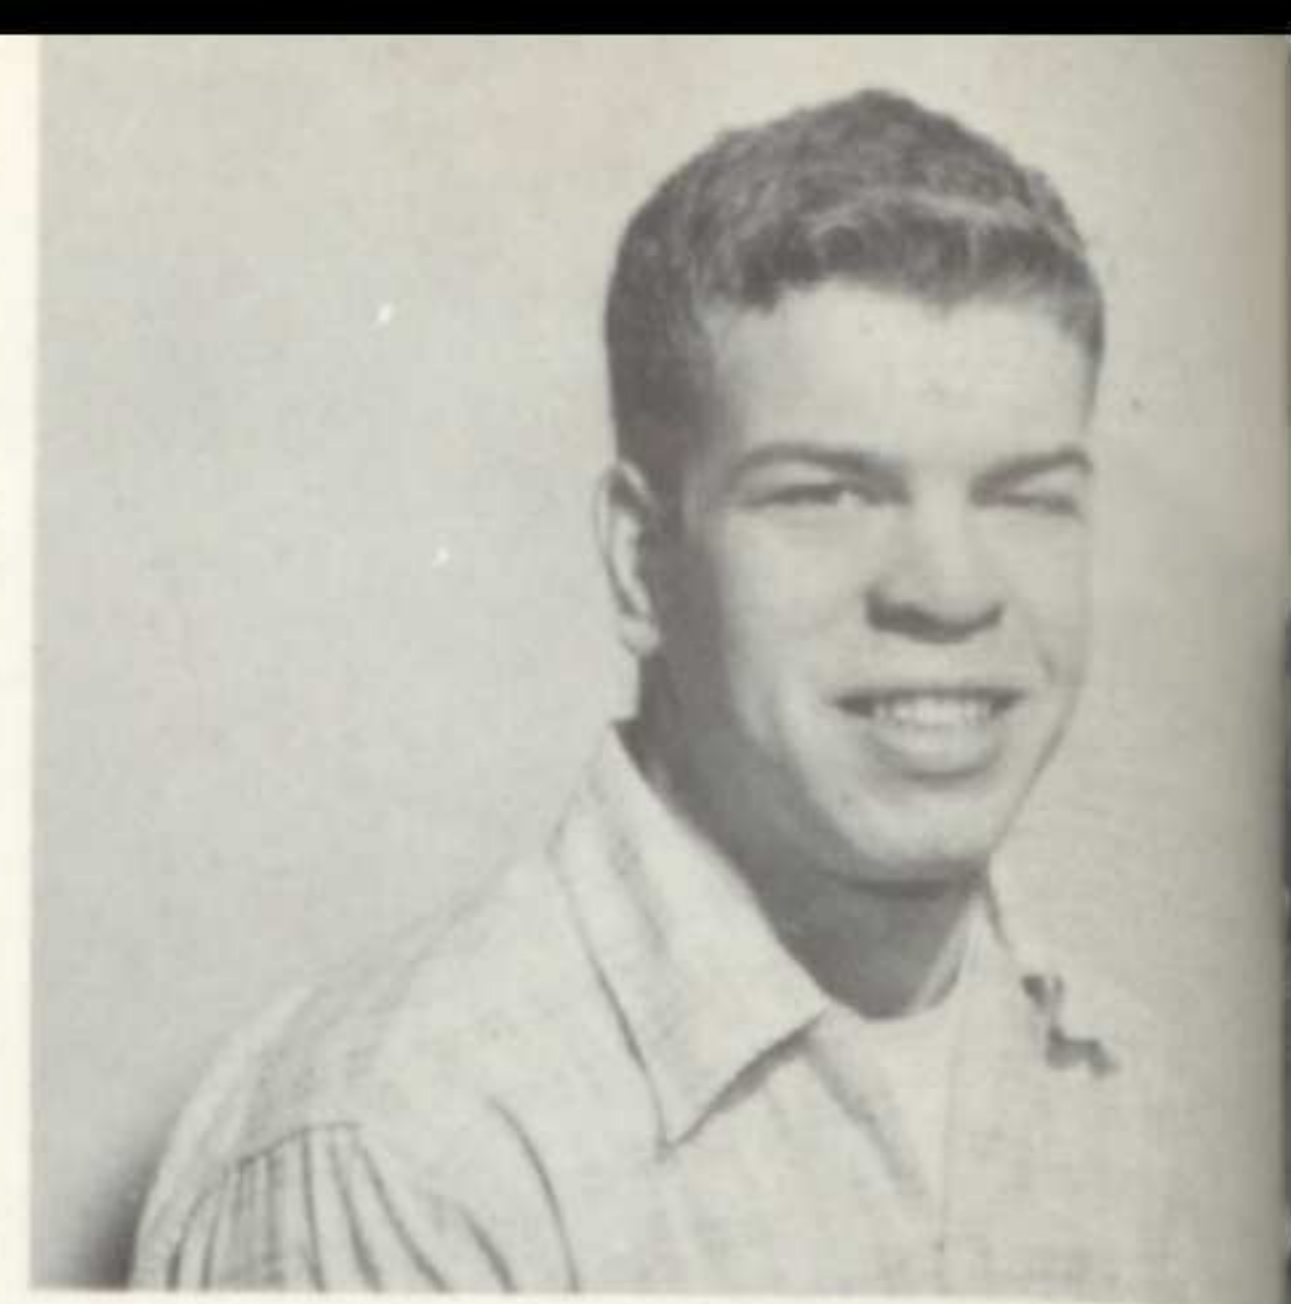

For twelve years the Worthington "football ship of state" has been guided by Coach Nelson. He has been more than a coach to the teams that have passed under his watchful eye; he has been a good friend and a steady influence.

"Thanks" may come in many ways, but most of the adjectives escape us. Instead of a string of superlatives we seem to hear a football cheer that echoes down the corridors of Worthington football history — "Nelson! Nelson! He's our man!"

Worthington's football team brought home the school's first Mid-Six championship this year, after four years of league competition.

The combined efforts of all eleven boys spelled the margin of victory. The line did a fine job and the backs took advantage of the openings.

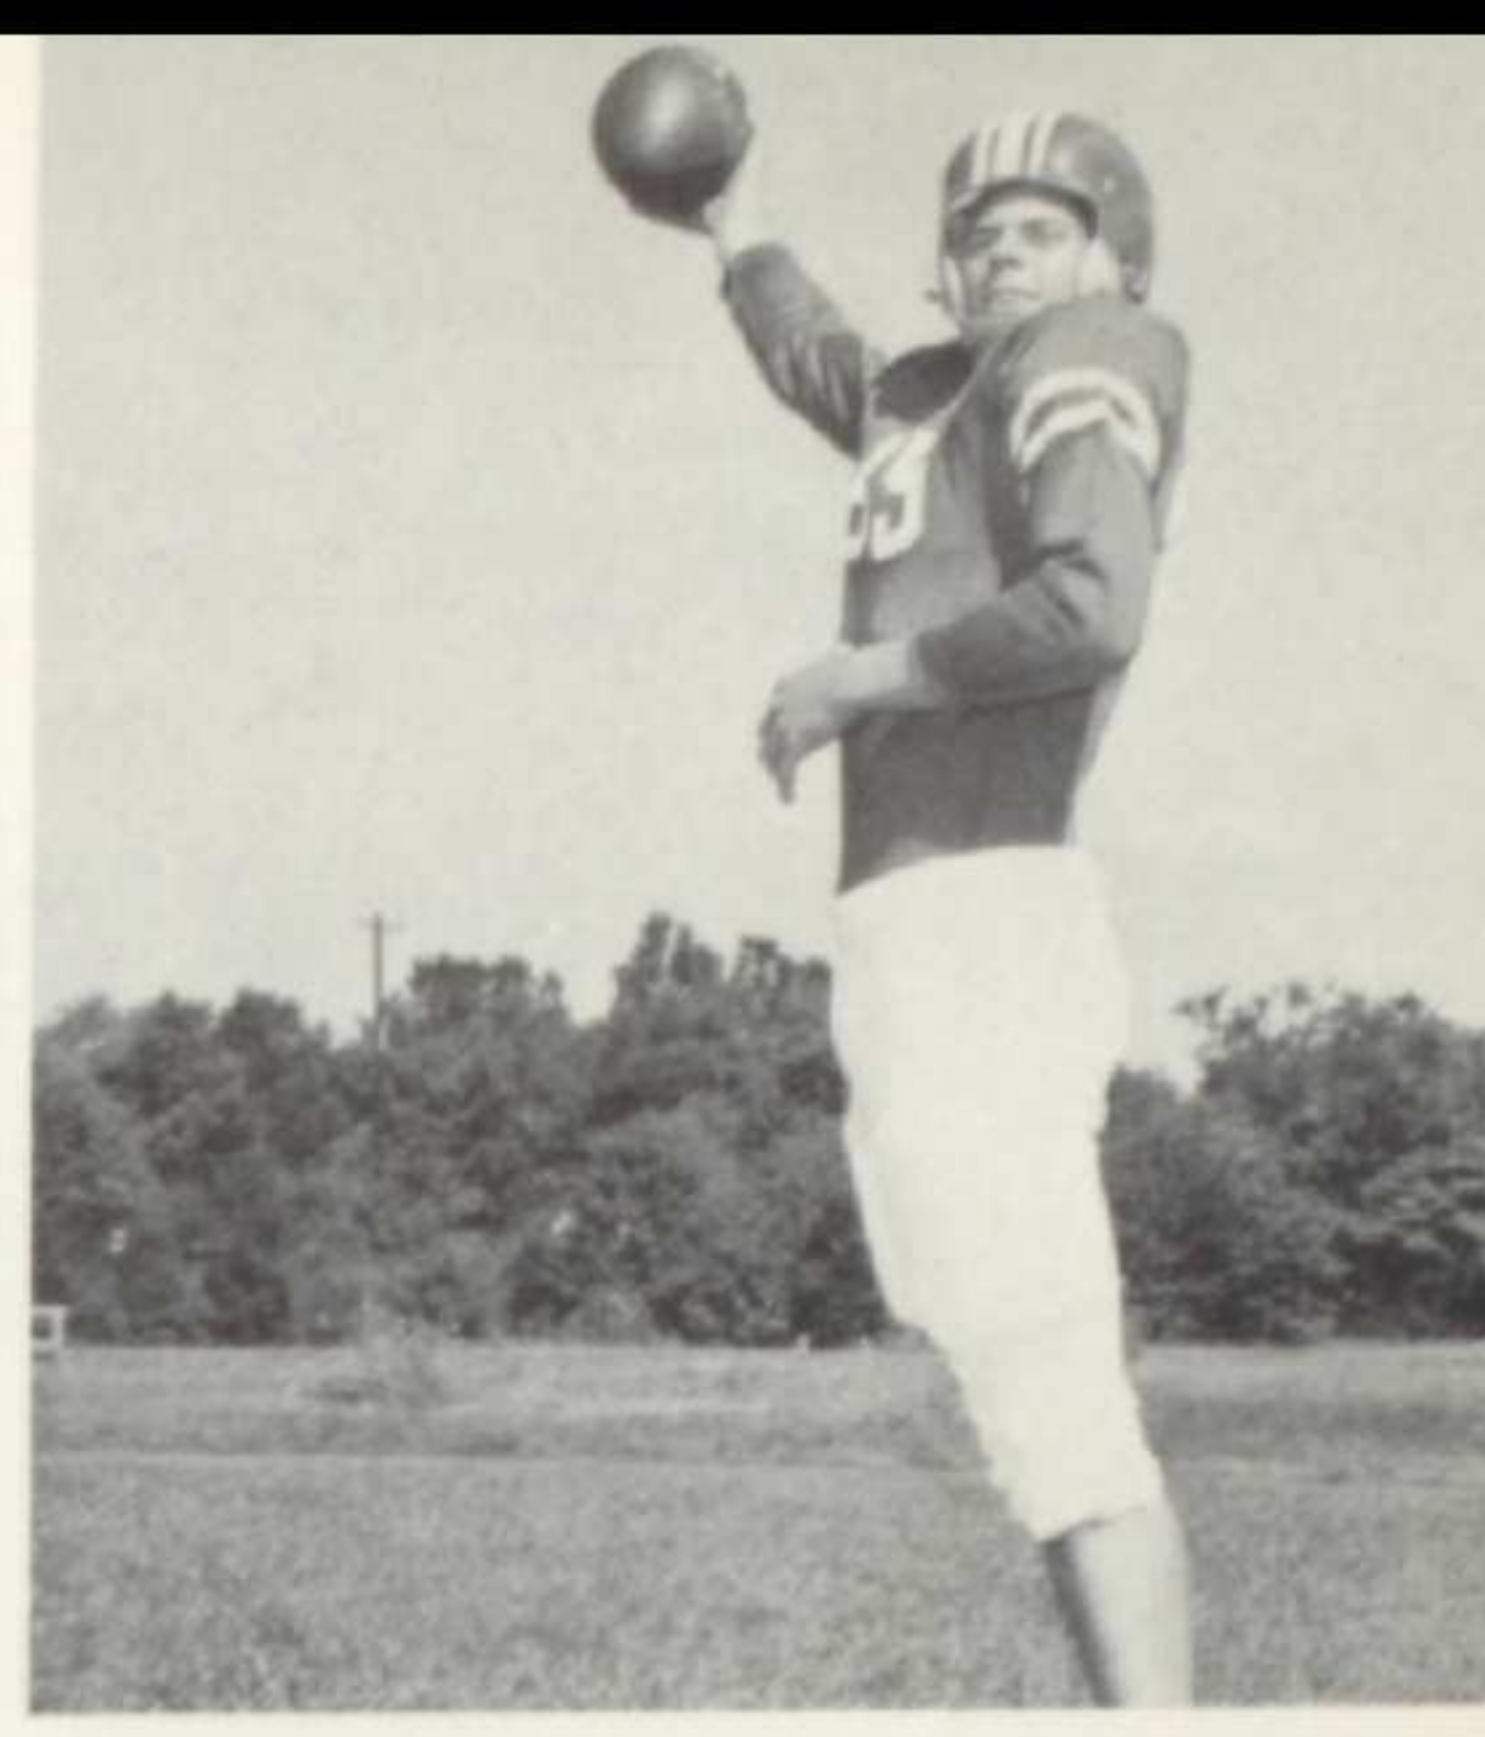

Coach Nelson was well backed by Coaches Howell, Hitzeman and Hill. The assistant coaches called in plays from the observation booth and carried out the million and one tasks that must be accomplished to perfect a football machine.

The highlight of the season was the London game. London went down to defeat on a perfect football evening. London's tricky quarterback met his match in Bill Hickman and substitute quarterback Ted McQuaide. This set the stage for an undefeated, untied season.

From the first contest, when a favored Grandview squad was defeated, to the last game, when Big Walnut was swamped, the Cardinals held out for one of those rare football occurrences — A PERFECT SEASON.

Worthington's basketball knights crusaded to an undefeated League season this year, being the first Mid-Six club to do so. The squad improved throughout the year and finished with a 15-3 record.

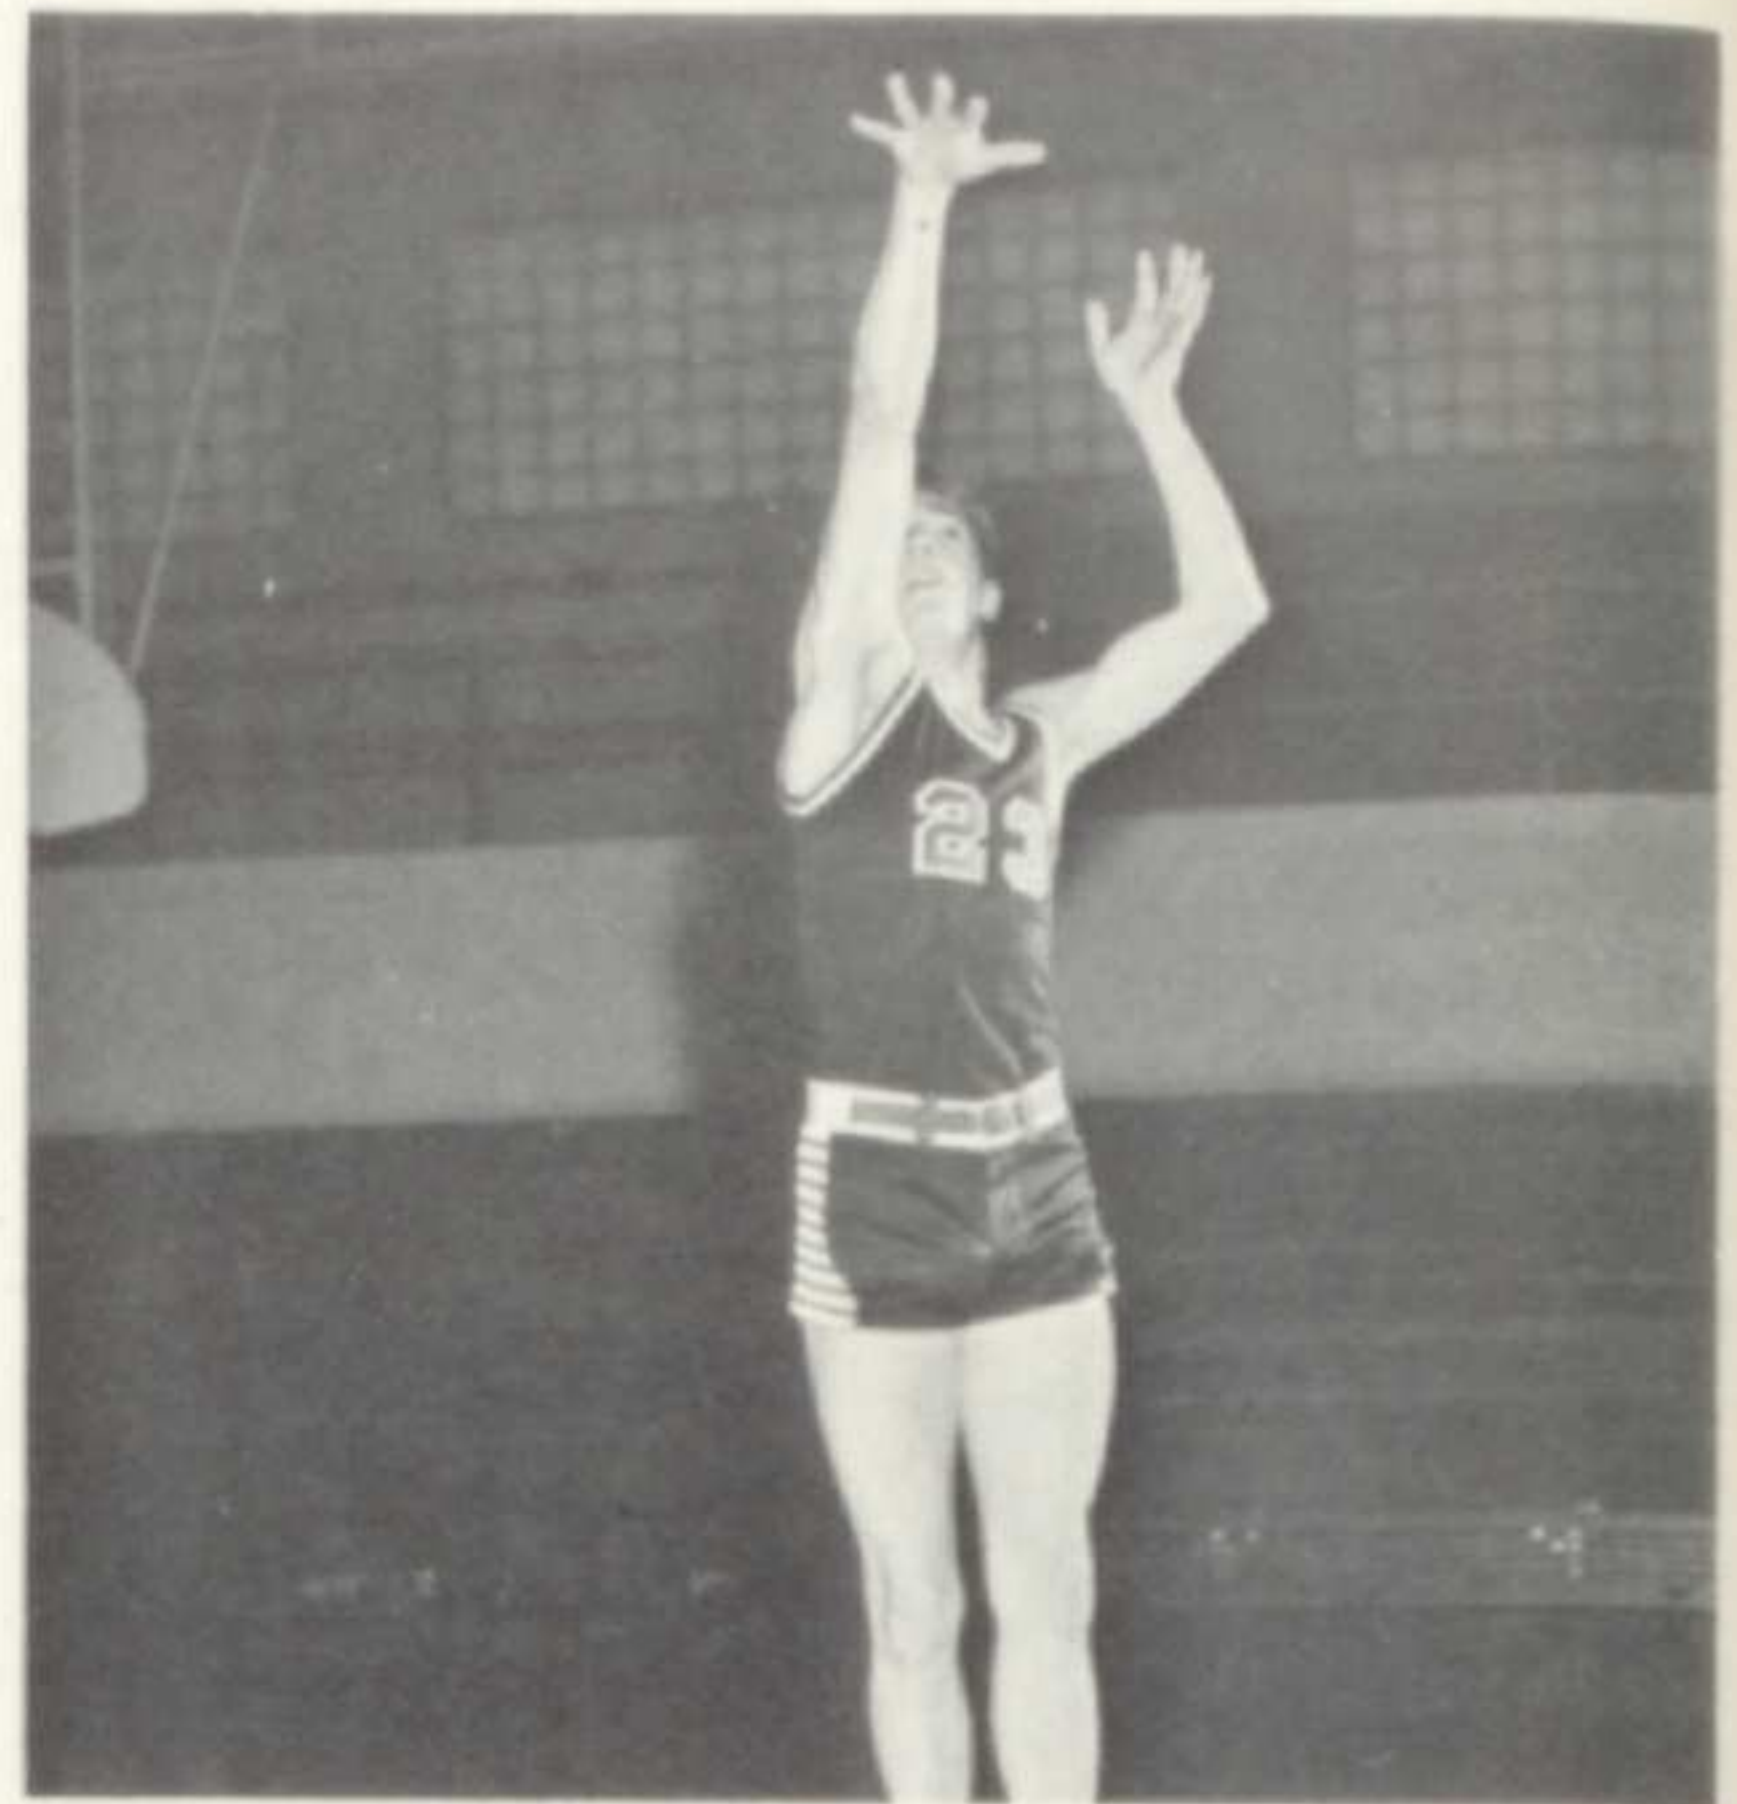

Highlight of the year was the final game of the regular season when the Cards snatched a seeming defeat out of the fire to down Marysville in the final seconds.

In tournament play, Coach Howell's charges downed Upper Arlington, but dropped a decision to a strong Newark team. This climaxed the most successful season Worthington has had as a Mid-Six team.

Worthington's cross country squad ended its season with a virtual even split for the year. The team netted four wins and five losses against some very tough competition.

Springfield, East, Newark, Mansfield, Arlington, West, South, and Marion furnished the competition during the course of the year. The team finished third in the district and fifth in the Bowling Green Relays. They also finished second in the A. A. U.

Captain Terry Morgan finished 16th in the state meet as Worthington's only entry. Lettermen for the year were Terry Morgan, Jim Russell, Sam Wiley, Duane Pelkey, Sam Ream, Bob O'Neil, Charles Mick, Gary Schwab and Dave Stinchcomb. The team is looking forward to a strong year next year when the 9 dual meets of the past year will be staged again.

GOLF

Kramer, Woods, Durley, Deetz, Jerman.

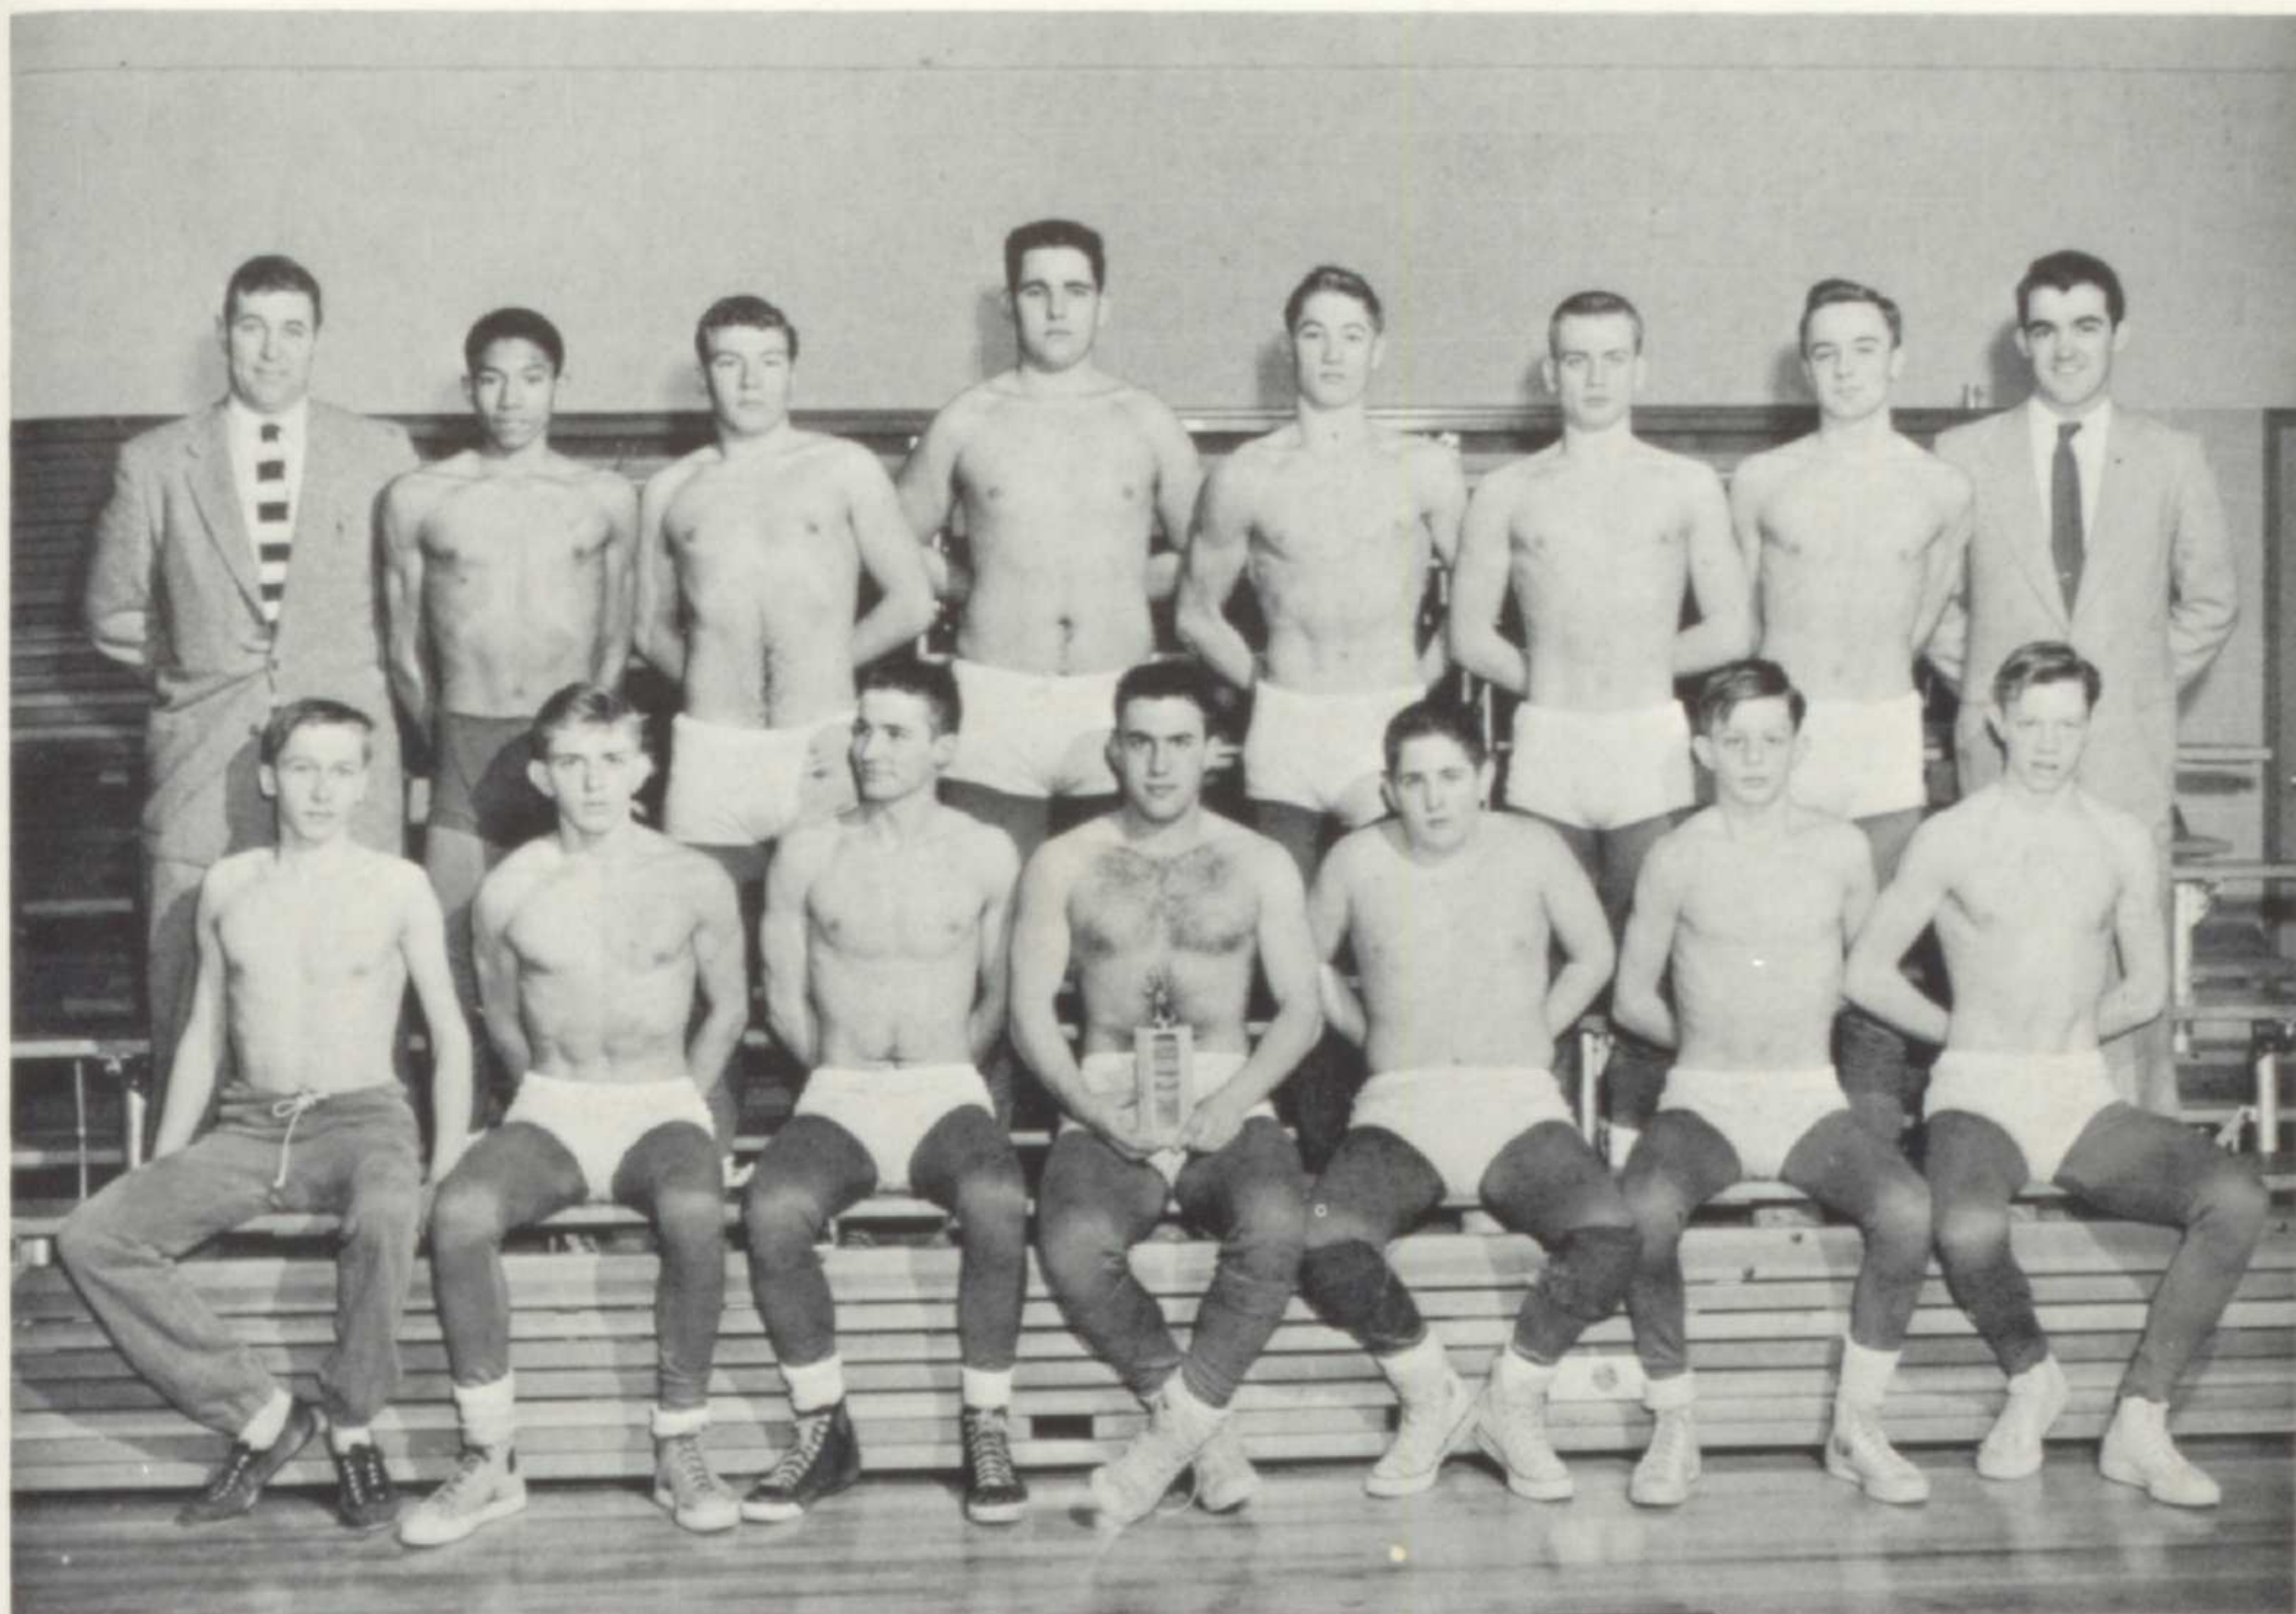

Coach Kayner

This year Worthington's golf team started almost "from scratch" with only three lettermen returning from last year's squad. The 1954 team placed second in the Mid-Six and also made a good showing in the Central Ohio League.

Worthington is entered in the Mid-Six Tournament and also plays in the Central Ohio Golf League. In this league Bexley and other CBL teams are represented, as well as the city and Mid-Six Leagues. There are fourteen teams in all participating in the play. After one round the top bracket enters into a playoff of the golf crown.

Worthington's golf play has been improving over the past few years and this year promises to offer another step in that direction.

WRESTLING

CHAMPIONS

Worthington's first year to have a wrestling team proved to be a successful one. Coach Eisenhart saw his mat men bring home a championship in their first year of competition.

The Blind School, University high school, Fremont high school, Fostoria high school, and Findlay high school provided the opposition throughout the season. In all of the meets, Worthington made an excellent showing.

Highlight of the season was Worthington's victory in the Central Ohio Invitational Meet at Ohio State University's gymnasium. In the meet, Worthington walked off with the team title which included five divisional championships.

The Cardinals plan to make this a yearly sport at Worthington, and from their beginnings the future promises to be a bright one.

Mr. Holderman and Dr. Bennington.

SWIMINC

Worthington's school farm received a major addition last summer with the building of a new swimming pool just west of the high school building. Thanks to the Cardinal Boosters and the Swiminc organization the dream of a swimming pool became a reality after months of work in raising the money.

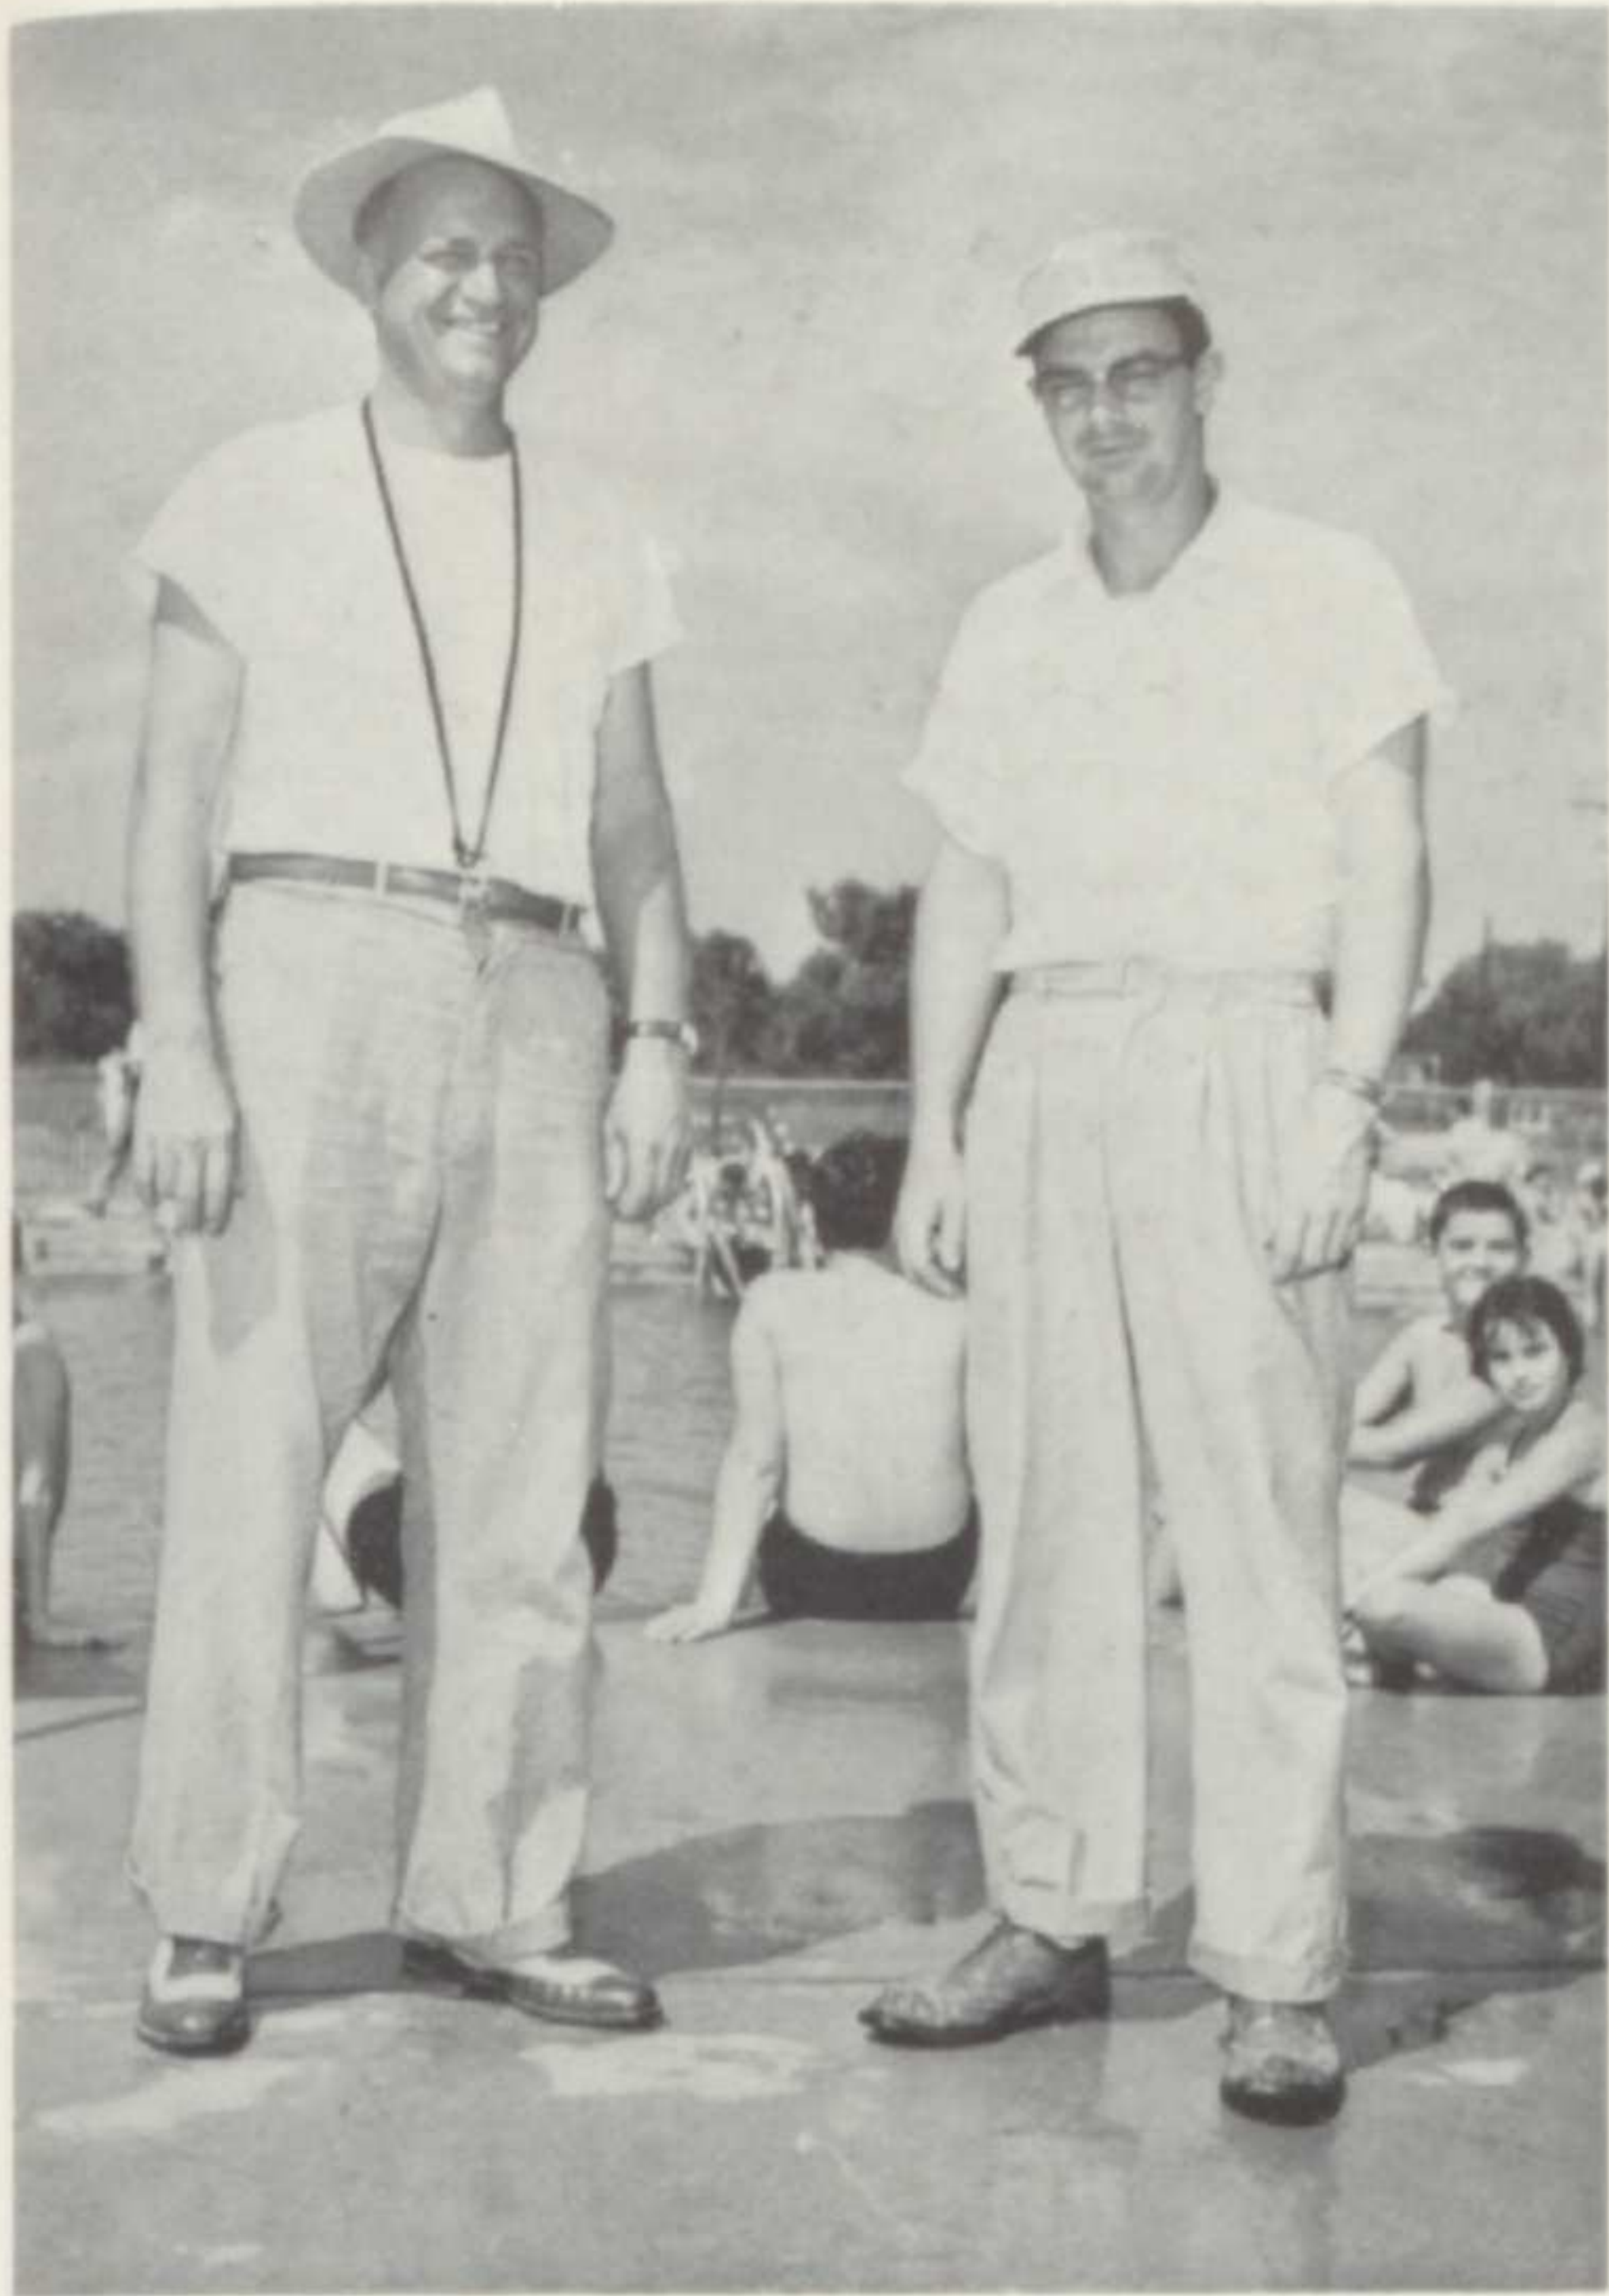

The entire community got behind the project as it gathered momentum, and the final result was a beautiful new pool. We think that the Swiminc board is most deserving of any small tribute that we might pay them for their fine work. We also think that the man who built the pool is well deserving of the thanks that we wish to give him.

Pool manager Dow Nelson has our best wishes for a most successful opening season, as does his assistant Earl Lane. We also hope that all of the youth of this community who swim in this fine new pool take time to give a thought to those that made all of this possible.

Included in the G. A. A. basketball program were interscholastic contests as well as intramural games and class tournaments. The teams traveled to nearby schools such as Grandview, Arlington, and Bexley.

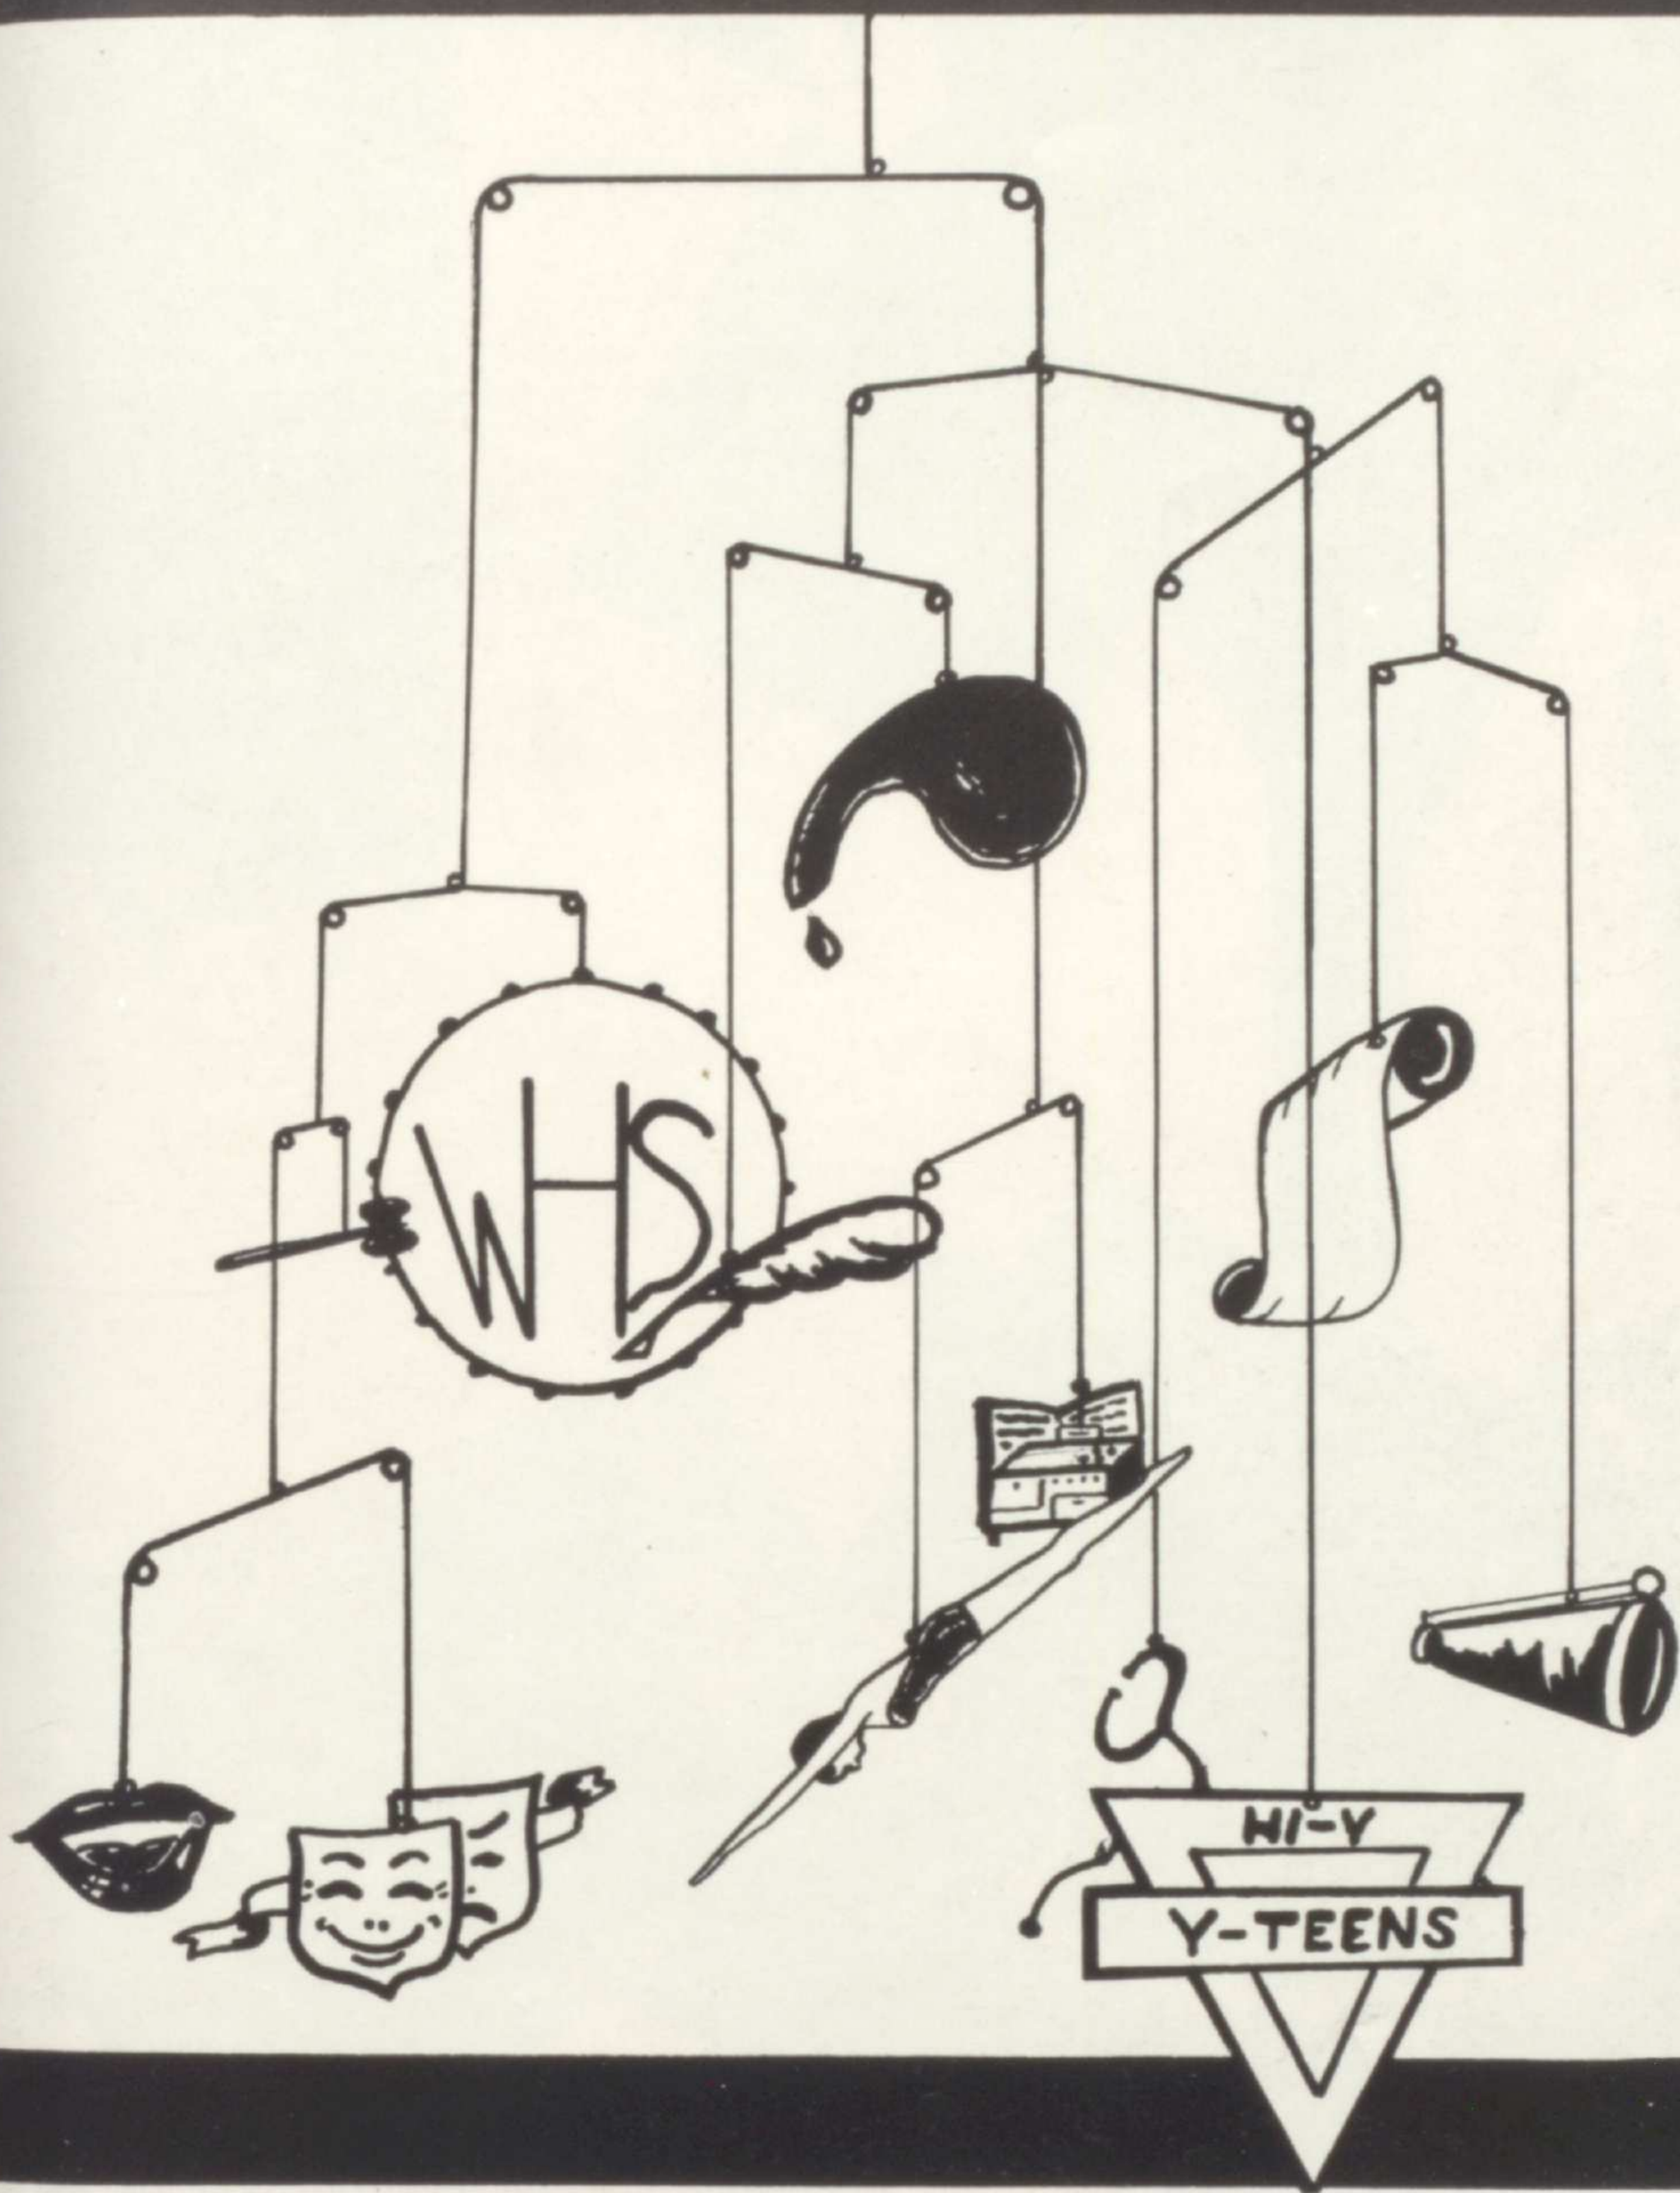

Although the hockey teams lost all of their games this year, the spirit of sportsmanship was on hand at all times. Practices for the teams were held every Thursday afternoon during the season. A spaghetti dinner for all of the girls on the team climaxed the hockey year.

All of the tennis matches were played between different students of the G. A. A. club and these contests produced many skilled players, one of these being Phyllis Pelkey, a very deserving champion.

Band Council

Nancy Greenwald, Barbara Halliday, Burt Schwab, Vic Badertscher, Carol Bach, Barbara Malody.

The rapidly growing instrumental music department under the direction of Mr. Alan C. Williams completed another busy year.

The Marching Band again furnished outstanding half time shows at all of the home and away football games. An added feature this year was the use of precision drill formations.

After an absence of several years, the Orchestra was reorganized and was featured at both the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

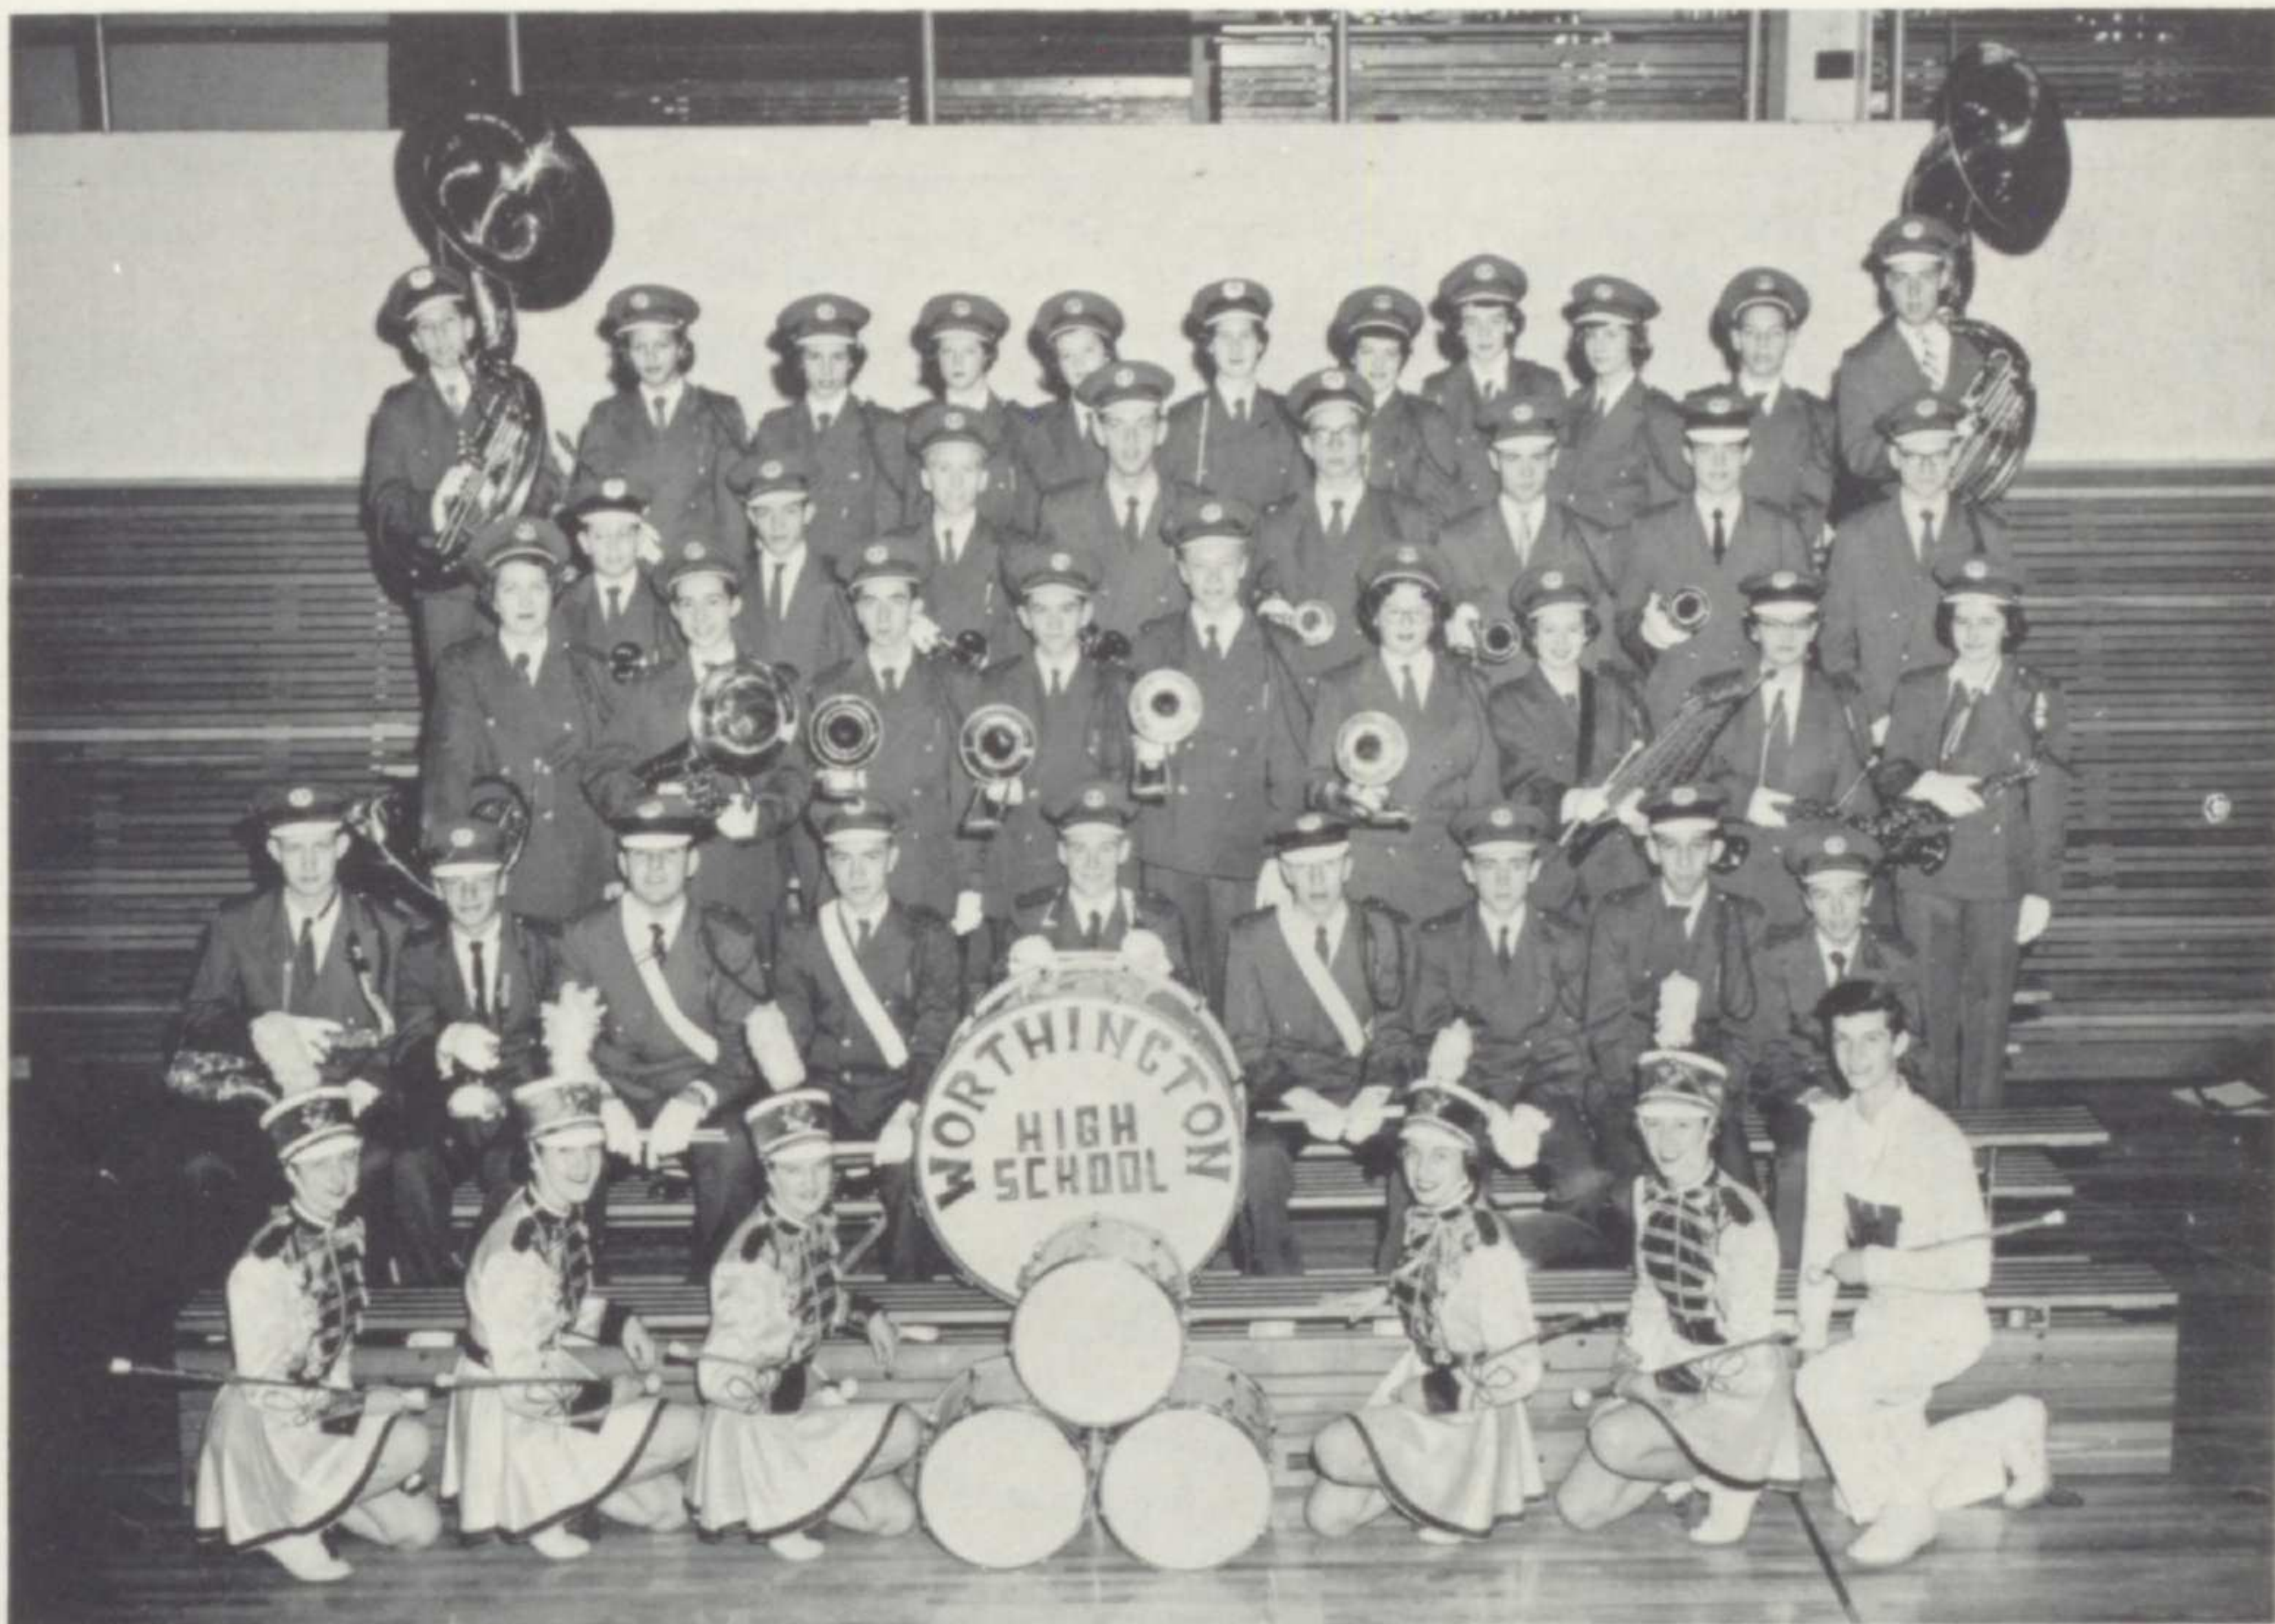

At all the home basketball games and many of the away games the lively Pep Band provided music.

The highlight of Worthington's finest Dance Band was the Variety Show.

The Concert Band enjoyed its greatest year musically as its repertoire included many outstanding symphonic compositions.

Other groups which contributed to a successful year were the German Band, small jazz combos and numerous ensembles.

The Band Council is the governing body for all of these organizations and the group which makes it possible for a smooth functioning department.

VARIETY SHOW

This year's variety show was built around the theme "Fantasy in Color." The show itself featured many colors and just as wide a variety of acts. The Lady in Red offers an opening scene of brilliant color. A Latin American scene features the Senior Girls' Quartette and the Girls' Ensemble. In a setting of sea foam green, the mixed choir is featured with their outstanding number being "Down the Wind." Throughout the show the dance band is featured.

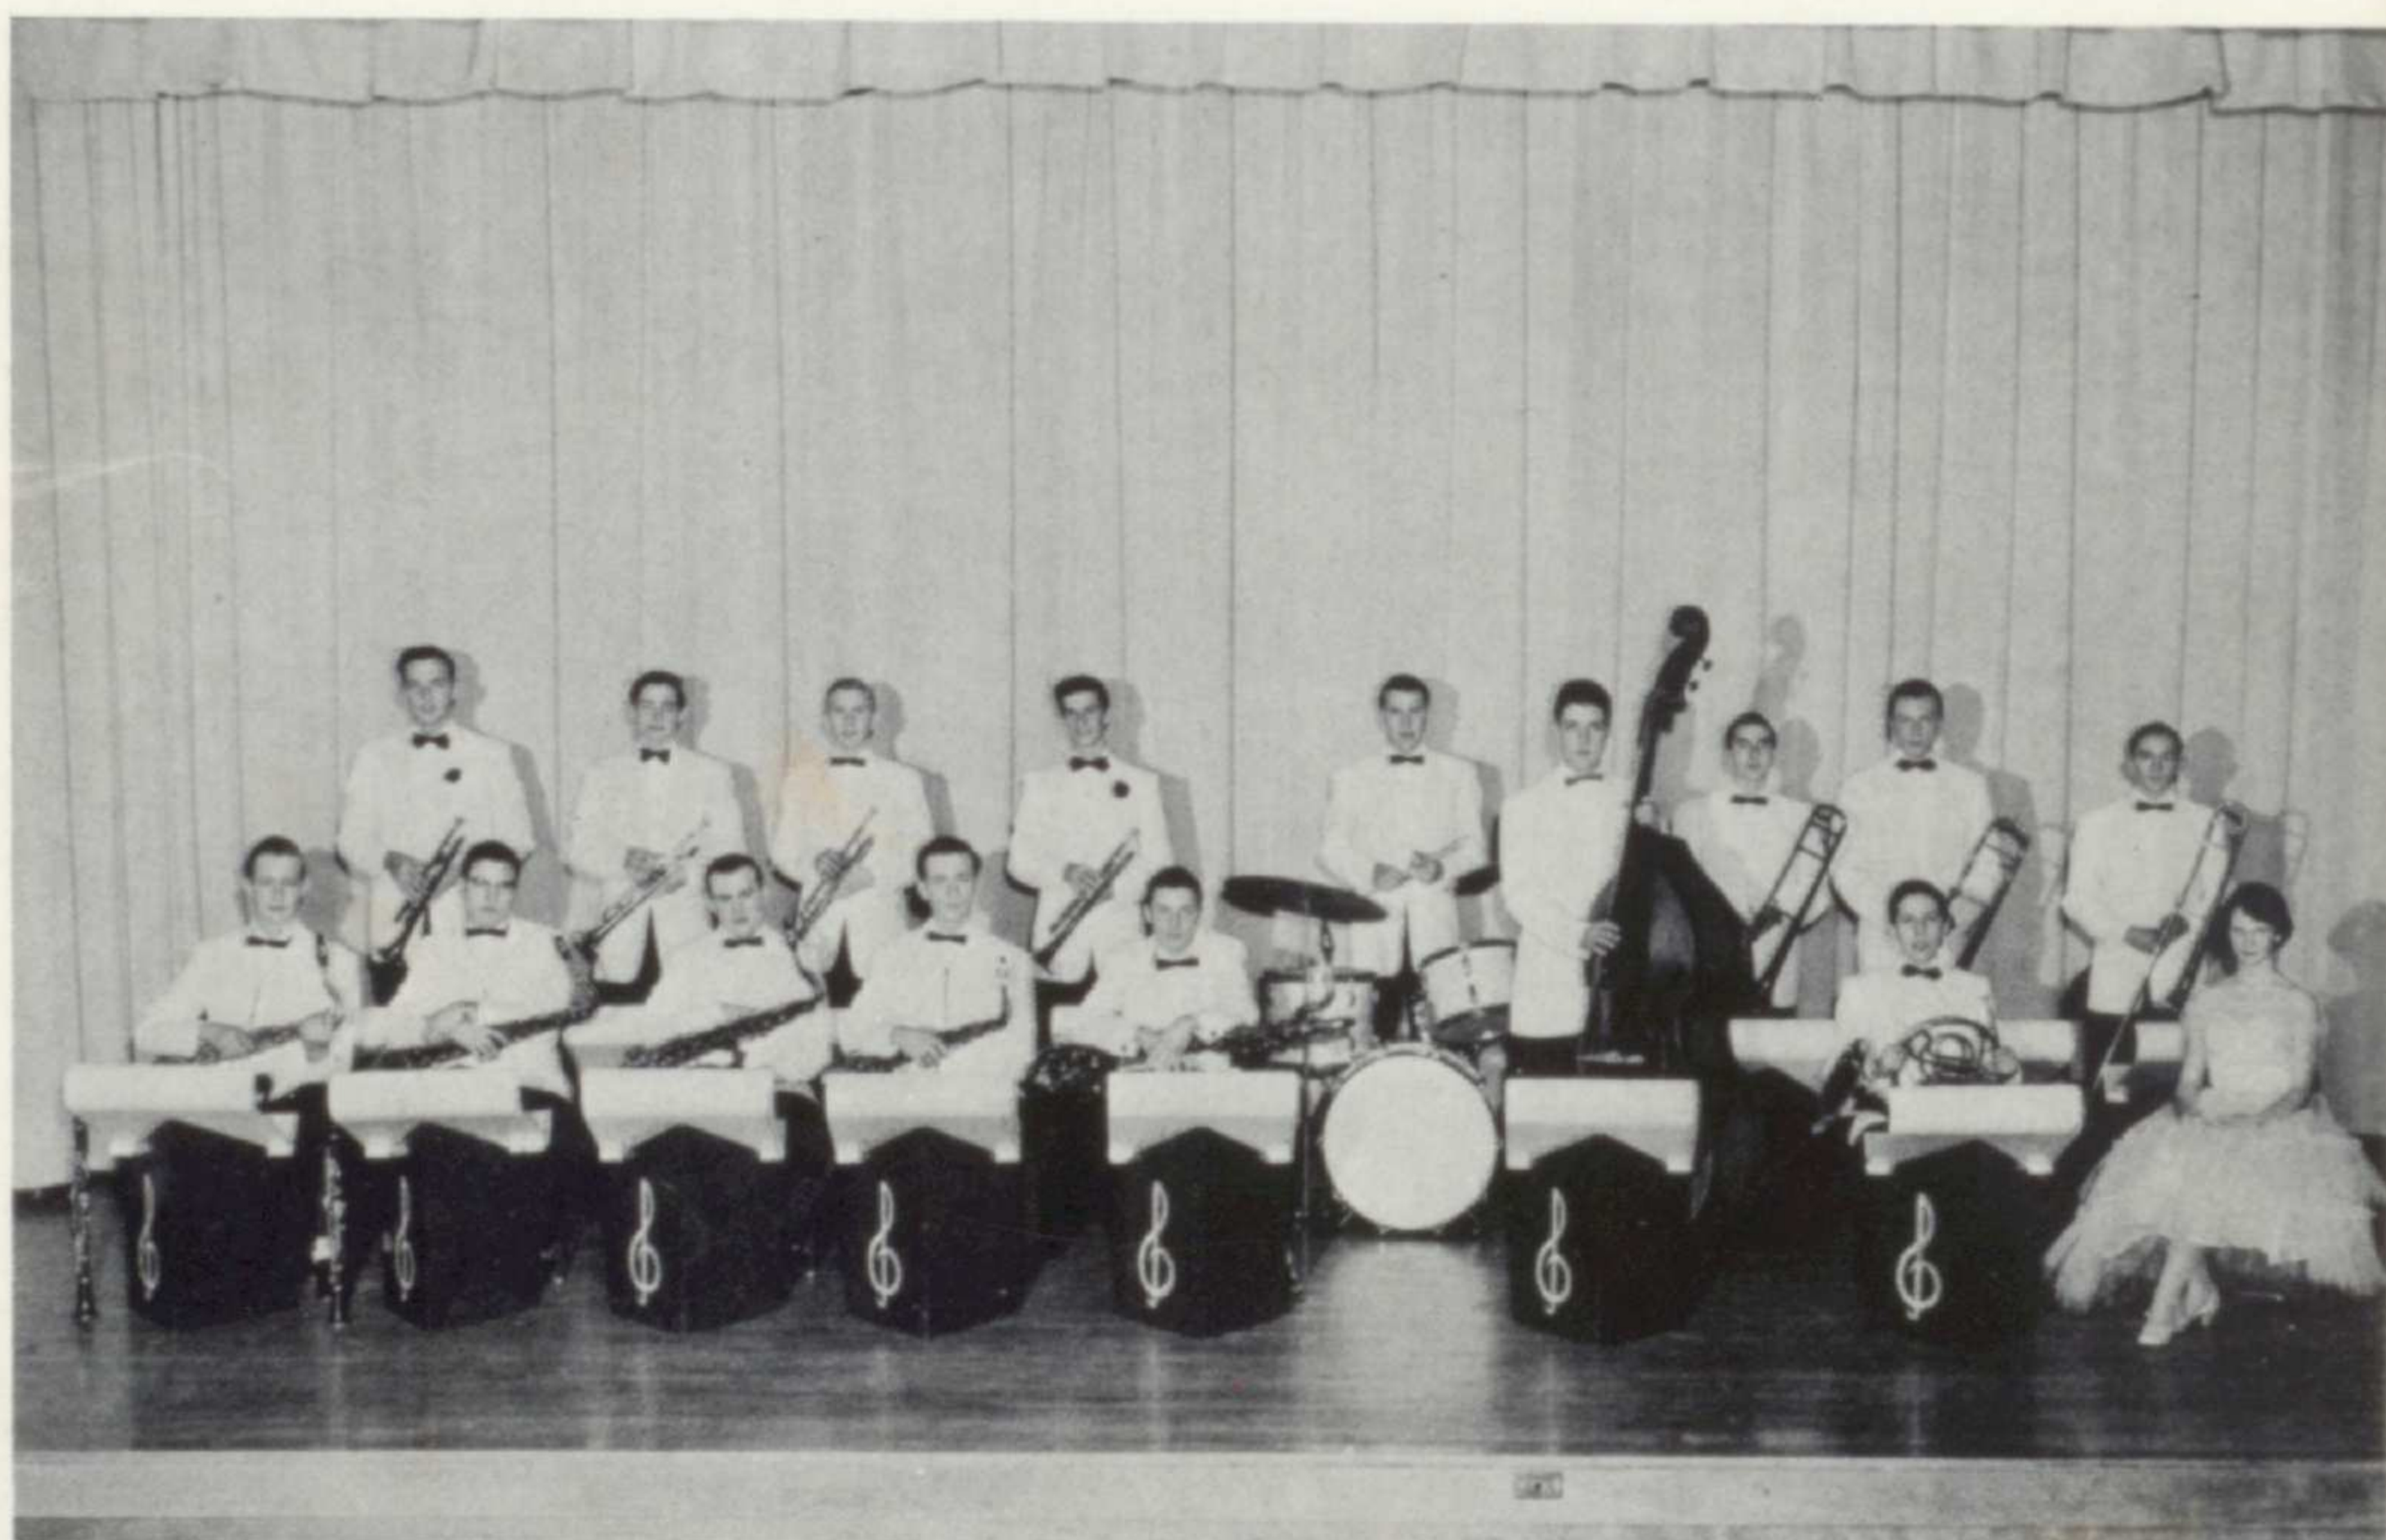

The variety show has come to be recognized as the biggest musical event of the school year, with a great deal of effort going into the production of the show. Both the vocal and instrumental music departments combine their talents for the show. Directors for the instrumental and vocal departments respectively are Mr. and Mrs. Alan Williams.

Leading the student body in the cheers which drove both the football and basketball teams to league championships was a spirited group of hard-working cheerleaders.

The football cheerleaders did a fine job of planning pep rallies and building up the spirit which backed their team in an untied and undefeated season. The warm spirit lasted through even the coldest of football evenings.

Although the reserve basketball team didn't take the championship, their cheerleaders were an inspiration for many season victories.

The varsity cheerleaders, with a fine cheering section, lifted the team from many tight spots with that important full-hearted spirit which helped the squad earn their well deserved championship and an almost perfect season.

STUDENT COUNCIL

As the governing body of the high school, Student Council makes decisions that have a bearing on all the activities of the students.

Each homeroom and class had a representative in Student Council who brought the ideas of the student body with him. At each home basketball game Student Council sponsored a coat check. A first at Worthington this year was the Teens Against Polio Benefit also sponsored by the Student Council. Fred Wood, Student Body President, was a very competent presiding officer. Mr. Ray Heischman advised this group.

Some of the outstanding activities the Y-Teens participated in this year were: co-sponsoring the Christmas Formal, taking part in the Links Project, and entertaining the Y-Teens of the Blind School.

The goals of the Y-Teens are to grow as a person; to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions, and nationalities; and to grow in the knowledge and love of God. To achieve these aims the club has regular bi-monthly meetings.

As one of the speakers for the past year, they had a model from a modeling studio who spoke to the girls on "Modeling as a Career." The course of the last year has witnessed the membership of the club reaching a new high.

Officers who served this year were: President, Nana Richards; Vice-President, Stephanie Kreider; Treasurer, Verna Snouffer; Secretary, Gay Orthoefer; Member-at-Large, Sue Shidaker. The advisor was Miss June Porter.

HONOR SOCIETY

The Franklin County Honor Society is made up of high ranking students from every school in the county. The members are picked by the faculty from the upper third of the junior and senior classes. Character, leadership, scholarship, and service are the qualities upon which membership is based.

To be selected for membership in this group is quite an honor and virtually all of the school's students contest for the honor of membership in the group.

Two meetings are held each year. This year's meetings were held at Dublin and Mifflin. The meetings began with an initiation of the new members and ended in a social hour. The purpose of these meetings was to create an atmosphere of friendship for better understanding among the members.

This year's representative from Worthington was Sam Ream. He has done an outstanding job in leading the Worthington group this year.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club had a busy year under their capable officers, Dan Owens, President; Bob Langhirt, Vice-President; Van Volk, Secretary; Mike Schaer, Treasurer; and Enid Levenson, Reporter. At their bi-monthly meetings they had speakers and worked with high fidelity. Some members made their own hi-fi systems. They began looking into the possibility of establishing a radio station at W. H. S. with the students themselves doing the entire operation.

This year they revived an old custom at Worthington, which hasn't been done since 1945, by sponsoring a Science Exhibit in connection with the P. T. A. open house. It is hoped that in the years to come they will be able to hold a Science Fair as a preliminary to the State Science Fair. The club also sponsored an assembly for the entire student body.

Mr. Earl Lane and Mr. George Taylor advised the group.

PRESS CLUB

Standing: Ann Spring, Enid Levenson, Sue Shidaker.

This marks the fourth year of activity for the Press Club, which was founded to bring together students with journalistic interests. Gary Boucher was elected president and helped plan many of the club's outstanding meetings. Such speakers as Flo Beaty, Church and Features Editor of the Citizen, Ray Evans, cartoonist for the Dispatch, and Joe Hill, WTVN sportscaster, were featured.

The annual skating party was staged for the fourth consecutive year, with over 100 students attending. This event took place at Skaters' Haven Rink.

The Press Club also purchased a polaroid camera for school use. The main service project for the club was the preparation of a Christmas basket of food for a needy family. Mr. Glenn Williams was the capable advisor for the group.

The Club reached a new high in membership total with eighty-three students.

With the organization of the Press Club came many good times. Although devoted to journalism, the club has engaged in many social activities. Not the least of these is the annual skating party. Throughout the years this party has come to be one of the best attended events of the school year. An average of one third of the school has attended over the four years in which the party has been staged. This year's party was held during the Christmas vacation.

Joan Williams and Jayne Dornbirer pause a moment before leaving for the roller rink.

1955 CARDINAL

An endeavor to present the best yet in a yearbook has been the goal of the 1955 CARDINAL staff. We have attempted to present an exciting theme and to include features new and outstanding. Among other improvements are a broader coverage of activities and organizations, and the selection of a CARDINAL Court to be featured in the book.

All the hours of hard work, struggle, and worry were thrust aside when the final copy shipment left for Buffalo and the staff anxiously awaited the arrival of the finished product. A large group of capable and industrious people have contributed their energy and time to this year's book. Leading these were Editor Karen Keating, Business Manager Gary Boucher and Advisor Mr. Glenn D. Williams.

It is the sincerest and highest hope of the staff that we have produced an annual that will delight the student body and will recall the 1954-1955 memories for years to come.

Films were shown at Flint, Worthington, and Linworth Elementary Schools on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of each week during the months November through March.

THE ORACLE

This was another in a long string of successful years for the Oracle, which is printed in the Worthington News. Pictures were featured in the Oracle for the first time this year. The deadline for this publication is on Monday and it appears in The News on Thursday.

Nancy Price was the able editor of the Oracle this year and Sam Ream handled the sports coverage for the school. Carole Koepke was the assistant editor and did a fine job of supporting Nancy. The publication is advised by Mr. Glenn D. Williams.

SHORT CIRCUIT

Marty Lewis, Editor

Mary Lewis was the able editor of the Short Circuit this year and Sue Stinchcomb backed her as assistant editor. The art work was handled by Carl Kramer who added a cartoon touch to the line drawings. The special features in the publication included such things as Record Items, Clothing Hints, and Sports.

The Christmas issue was dedicated to our football championship team and featured a football king and a glittering crown. The publication is advised by Mr. Glenn D. Williams.

SHARON SPECTATOR

The Sharon Spectator staff worked hard on their section of that publication throughout the course of the year. Although the paper interrupted publication at one point during the year, the staff came back strong when printing was resumed once again. Sam Wiley handled sports this year and did a good job in that department. Carole Koepke was the author of the Teen Chatter column and kept a lively interest going throughout the year.

Sophomores were active this year too as Gretchen Lalendorf and Sally Purcell excelled with their writing. The entire staff was well led by Jean Inglis. Her efforts were rewarded by fine results.

The club stages its meetings on the first Wednesday of each month. Among the especially interesting programs planned by the club was an exchange meeting with Upper Arlington High School's club.

The officers for 1954-1955 were: President, Sharon Radcliffe; Vice-President, Joan Furnis; Treasurer, Judy Wilson and Kathleen Thomas, Secretary. Advisor for the club was Miss Anne Burnside.

The Future Nurses of Columbus Club offers an excellent chance for girls interested in medicine to prepare for their vocation. They visit various hospitals and training centers in which they can observe practices by registered nurses.

The F.N.C. meetings are held monthly and from them stem service projects such as reading to the students at the Ohio State School for the Blind.

Leading the club for the past year has been: President, Josie Langstaff; 1st Vice-President, Patti Stover; 2nd Vice-President, Sue McCord; Treasurer, Barbara Laing; Secretary, Molly Tarbutton. The advisor for the group is Mrs. Lillian Bernhagen, school nurse.

This year Barbara Halliday was elected President of the club. Sally Taylor served as Vice-President, Shirley Felder as Treasurer, Barbara Wren as Reporter, and Paula Marks as Secretary. Mrs. Virginia Palcich was the advisor.

The group meets once a month. The purpose of the club is to further the interest of the girls in home economics.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club was founded this year by a group of students interested in forming a club in which they could share their hobby of chess. Because of the fact that chess is growing in popularity from coast to coast, and in various academies, such as Annapolis, the club found their venture quite successful.

Among the programs which were planned for the meetings was a chess demonstration by a professor from the Ohio State University. Games were scheduled with chess groups from Westerville, University and other surrounding schools. The club made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in experience but was showing marked improvement in its tournaments toward the end of the year. The advisor for the group is Mr. George Taylor.

Seated: Whitten, Kelly, Parker, Felder, Williams, Day.

Seated: Pres. Gail Traver.

A new club in the school is the Cheerleading Club. This organization was formed for the purpose of joining the various seasonal cheerleaders in united efforts toward better school spirit. They are hoping to increase their treasury so that in future years the club may purchase the uniforms for the cheerleaders.

Under their president, Gail Traver, the club has gone a long way toward achieving its goal. The club meets when the need arises and some of their projects have included the sale of license tags and decals. The advisor for the group is Miss Mary Lou Bach.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

The Class of 1955 presented Dear Ruth as its Junior Class play. When teenager, Miriam Webster, begins corresponding with a soldier overseas, she signs her older sister, Ruth's name. Problems and hilarity galore prevail when Bill, the soldier, returns to the U. S. A. and ventures to Ruth's home to see her. To add to the mix-up Bill wishes to marry Ruth, who is also the sweetheart of Albert Kummer. The problems and humorous plot provided a full evening of enjoyment for the audience.

Miss June Porter directed the play.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

A farmhouse in Pennsylvania was the setting for the Senior Class Play this year. Despite the historic value of the house, it was a dilapidated wreck complete with a hole in the roof. The trials and tribulations of the Fuller family in redecorating their new home and trying to meet payments provided an enjoyable evening of fun and laughter. Miss June Porter directed the well known play by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, George Washington Slept Here.

The Fuller family and weekend guests anxiously await sunlight as they while away a boring, rainy afternoon. To add to the monotony Uncle Stanley must not be disturbed during his nap, which incidentally is being taken on the Sunday newspaper, the only possible source of entertainment.

Raymond, the juvenile demon, receives a blow on the head for an attempt to release secret information. His know-it-all ability has proved quite a problem to the family, but he later saves the day for them.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

TIME: 1970

PLACE: STAR Airport at Cleveland, Ohio

EVENT: "Worthington Meets the Stars"

"California here I come, right back where I started from!" What's everybody singing about? You say the class of "55" is just about to leave for Hollywood to meet the stars?

"All passengers taking off on Flight 415 for Hollywood leave on ramp three."

As the passengers hurry to board the plane, we notice our stewardesses, Nana Richards and Nancy Down, greeting the people. We watch the mechanics busy at work preparing our plane for the long flight ahead. We then are reminded of our own mechanics John Davis, Bob Backus, and Dick Brown, who will be riding along with us to be on hand in case of trouble.

It must be nearing take-off time, for we see our pilot and co-pilot, Don Korn and Dave Fornshell. We know that the plane is in capable hands, for they are graduates "magna cum laude" from the Dick Roberts Flight Training School. Dave Stinchcomb, our leader, and his assistant, Bob Langhirt, now boarding the plane, are accounting for all passengers before take-off time. But wait! Was that lightning we saw in the distance? There it is again, and it's coming closer and closer. Why it's none other than our track star, Terry Morgan, with two of his teammates, Ron Shanks and Sam Wiley.

It's time for take-off. All safety belts fastened? Here we go!

As we saunter through the plane, we notice some of the officers of the Chess Club, Bob Hall and George Krauss, indulging in a game of chess. We finally come to our seats, and the sweet strains of Bob Jacobs' morning music provides tunes for relaxation.

Suddenly one of our classmates begins to cough, breaking the silence. This continues for a few minutes, and finally the Smith Brothers, Ralph and Clyde, can stand it no longer. Nancy Evans and Pat Morgan, our experienced nurses rush to the scene, while the Brothers quickly come to the rescue with a carton of their wonderful cough drops.

We see the airport from our window as the plane comes to a stop. Everyone is certainly looking forward to getting on with the tour. Janice Glaze and Carol Kibbey are especially enthusiastic about meeting Patti Page and many recording stars.

Bound for the Ambassador Schwab Hotel, we are greeted upon our arrival by Gary Schwab, who offers us excellent hospitality and service. Dale Durley is making sure that everyone signs the register while Bart Fisher, a bellboy, tries to corral all of our luggage. By now the pangs of hunger have struck, but we know the answer — Guy Fracasso's exclusive Driftwood Inn, specialties of Pizza and Spaghetti. Upon arrival, we immediately spot The Four Lads and persuade them to entertain us with some of their hit songs. Charles Burrer, having already been served, is having hysterics over the salad as he tries to find the Thousand Islands in the dressing. Since the hour is late, we leave the restaurant; while enroute to our hotel, we spy the name of the fabulous entertainer, Henry Shuster, high on the marquee. Remember the terrific marimba solos he used to play for us?

A peaceful night is had by all and, after breakfast, someone suggests that we go to the beach for a swim. On our way we lose some of the boys at Crow's Sports Haven. Bill's establishment is really quite the sportsman's headquarters. There goes Bob Leist, taking time off from his growing business to purchase a new surf-board from the store. Ed Boggs, consulting engineer, follows Bob out with some golf balls and is making a bee-line for the golf course to keep his golf date with his two associates, Bob O'Neil and Chris Deetz. They are ready for their daily golf date with Perry Como.

Continuing on our way, we finally reach the beach. There we notice Verna Snouffer, Sharon Radcliff, and Carolyn Tucker, on vacation from their various teaching jobs in different states chatting over old times. Look at the crowd on the diving raft! Oh! Wasn't that a beautiful dive! Who was it? Why, it's the champion diver, Jeananne Seymour. She is busy teaching Phyllis Pelkey the techniques of championship diving, while Esther Williams looks on with approval. Say, isn't that Dick Woods, coach of the noted Globe Trotters, sitting in that beach chair? He and his team must be on vacation from their busy schedule.

Having had a refreshing swim we are now anxiously awaiting the Rose Bowl Parade. Floats galore are in store! Here comes a float representing Autumn and time for Halloween. Why, the queen is attractive Nancy Price. A huge track shoe is on the next float, and standing beside the shoe is lovely Joan Williams. The float which everyone has been looking forward to seeing is now approaching. On it is the Rose Bowl Queen, lovely Karen Keating, attracting the eyes of all.

As we leave the parade we spot the Exclusive Plastics Designer, Steve Jerman, on his way to the stadium. Entering the stadium gates right behind us comes the well know veterinarian, Dr. Jack Hopper, who has become the private vet for Esther Williams' sea horses. He introduces us to Mr. Steve Potter, owner of Hollywood's largest lumber concern. We learn that Mr. Potter is supplying the lumber for the construction of a piano shaped house for the famous millionaire piano player, Gary Boucher. Mr. Lowell Shuster, contractor for such stars as Ray Anthony and Ben Gage, is in charge of construction.

Within the stadium we see a large newsstand owned by Tom Aumock and Fred Curran. As we thumb through a paper, we see that the entire editorship is under Marty Lewis. Say, aren't those drawings familiar? Why, they are drawn by the famous cartoonist, Carl Kramer. Reading on, we find that Phyllis McGee is Society Editor, Joan Irvin has a very interesting column on the home, while Julianne Shiland writes on the latest fashions.

Later in the afternoon we find ourselves in front of the W. H. S. Production Studios. Shall we go in? Gail Warner is not particularly interested in these studios since she has her own Warner Sisters Studios. She and her vice-president, Barbara Southard, leave us to tend to their own business.

Entering the studio, the first door we come to is that of the sound stage. Through the window we see Tom Green, the famous movie director, busy at work. We pause a few minutes to catch Dan Owens in a fabulous romantic role, while Martha Huggard and Jean Inglis play accompanying parts.

Strolling on, we hear some familiar voices; and upon investigating, we find it's Patty Armstrong and Sally Reeves busy working on a new musical. Under the effective and experienced lighting of Chuck Mick, we see Bob Herron directing the choreography for the production. Nancy Sheets and Carolyn Keck, now in the spotlight, are his leading dancers.

We recognize the familiar face of Nat "King" Cole as he watches Sue McCord and Wilma Johnson, two noted recording stars as they rehearse. Who was that who just passed? I do believe it was John Spoff. Isn't he the famous lawyer who assists actresses with legal affairs?

That looks like the make-up room just ahead. Let's look in. Jane Dornbirer is head of this department. There she is now, supervising a make-up job being done on Julius LeRosa.

Pictures, pictures, pictures, announces the expert photographer, Rowena Zimmerman, as she madly tries to round up the models who are scheduled for the photography set.

Turning toward the double doors, we see Sue Holaday and Gail Traver gracefully coming forth in some of Dior's latest fashions. The girls are modeling to the pleasing music of Archie Blyer's orchestra, while Marla Hoskey, a John Powers model from New York, instructs.

As for costumes, the studio has the best of designers. This department is under the supervision of Beryl Insinger.

Continuing along the corridors, we finally near the dressing rooms of some of the famous stars. Among them is the Evans team, Ruby and Fred, who are starring in a unique musical number. We also see Bill Ayers, now a famous comedian, having been discovered because of his superior commercials during the first years of his booming career.

Preparing to leave, we notice Homer and Jethro with their staff of secretaries, Sally Quelete, Mary Lou McCall, and Sally Black, departing for a day's work of answering their "Dear John" letters.

But before we make our exit, we stop at the soda fountain where Nancy Cory serves us a tasty snack.

Everybody is enthusiastic to attend the premiere at Grauman's Chinese Theater. Arriving, we recognize Ann Spring, the exclusive buyer for Springtime Fashions, stepping out of the car with her escort. Next our eyes are turned to a cluster of girls near the entrance; Karlene Dierker, Cynthia Kay, and June Gabriel, all well-known newspaper critics, are immediately recognized.

The soothing music of an orchestra catches our ear, so we hurry inside to find our seats. As we enter we hear the music of Ray Anthony and his able musicians which include our own Sam Ream and Don Cameron on trumpet, Bill Dumbauld beating drums, Vic Badertscher on clarinet, and Judy Mowry at the piano; we feel that a super evening is in store for us. The lights soon flicker and the entertainment is ready to begin.

The following day, while we are sightseeing, we pass the W. H. S. TV station where we see a billboard stating that Barbara Halliday, Bobbie Sanders, and Shirley Felder are the stars of the TV show, Homemakers.

After leaving the station we are now on our way to view the Golden Gate Bridge. As we pass a huge car lot, you can't help but see the sign of "Moore, Mayes and Corrigan." Bob, Ray, and Dave seem to have a specialty on foreign cars.

Walking on, the billboard up ahead informs us that Ginny Evans and her famous horses will be coming for a show in the near future.

As the Golden Gate Bridge looms ahead, we gaze in awe, and see the names of the engineers and contractors on the bronze tablet. Don Richards does not seem interested in the bridge, but upon that yacht cruising out on the water, wondering if it is one of his.

On our way to the hotel, as we pass the State House, we see Governor Fred Wood, accompanied by Nancy Biven, State Auditor, as they leave the building. Seeing the Governor seems to have completed our day.

There is much hustle and bustle as we prepare to leave the hotel for the airport. Everyone seems anxious to be homeward bound. As the plane departs, dusk and the beautiful lights mark the setting of a perfect trip. Each light in itself symbolizes some of the fine times Worthington has had as we met the stars.

THE LAST WORD

As this Record of Stars closes, we would like to recognize different members of the staff who have rendered outstanding service to the success of the "Cardinal" and commend them for their time and efforts.

Each Saturday, many of the staff gathered early in the morning to spend the day in laying out the pages and collecting the advertisements. Joan Williams did an outstanding job on every piece of art work. A wonderful time was had when the staff took a quick trip to Cleveland last summer to photograph the pictures of the various stars that follow Joan's creations.

The boys who showed films of various stars were Paul Jerman, Bob Backus, Don Korn and Dale Durley. We cannot thank these boys enough for their constant efforts to help finance the special record of this yearbook. Without Gary Boucher and his spirited cohorts, who comprised the business staff, this book would not have been possible.

Many hard hours of work and tireless efforts were put in by our wonderful advisor, Mr. Glenn Williams. As this was his last year as advisor for the "Cardinal" we want to give him our sincerest thanks for giving us so many ideas and so much guidance along the way. The staff will never forget him as he always worked side by side with us to produce the annual. We don't believe that any words can sum up his many excellent features and his outstanding character. We cannot thank him enough!

As we look back through the "Record of Stars," the good times are remembered and all our troubles are forgotten, our job is done and we sincerely hope that we have pleased each and every one of you.

Karen Keating, Editor
