HONOR SOCIETY

THE OUTSTANDING SCHOLARS OF WORTHINGTON

Members of the Honor Society are selected by the faculty, with scholarship, character, service, and leadership the basis of their choice. These students are representatives of the Junior and Senior classes from all county schools.

This year the two meetings were held at Hilliards and Dublin, where the Worthington members became acquainted with the students of various schools of the county.

To be selected for this group is a great honor, and the meetings are interesting experiences. We salute these members of the Franklin County Honor Society who are the leaders of tomorrow.

SHORT CIRCUIT

OUR OUTSTANDING STUDENTS' PRODUCTION

The school newspaper is called the Short Circuit and was established in 1944. It is written by the students and consists of class activities, feature articles, school gossip and also gives information about school and sports events.

The frantic, last minute rush to finish assembling the paper is portrayed in the division page for the activities section, as Joan Levenhagen, Miriam Smart, Marilyn Miller, and Maxine Wiseman pound out the finishing touches.

When the day the finished publication goes on sale every copy is sold within five minutes as each student anxiously surveys the gossip sheet for his name and each budding reporter enthusiastically reads his own work.

The typing classes take care of the production of the paper. This experience is beneficial to many of the students because it aids them in learning to type stencils, use the mimeoscope, and operate the mimeograph.

Students interested in art are in charge of drawing the cartoons and covers.

Mrs. Haueisen is the faculty advisor of the Short Circuit and A. J. Griffith is the student editor.

Both the students and the members of the faculty look forward to the publication of each interesting sixteen page issue.

THE ORACLE

OUR SCHOOL PAGE IN THE WORTHINGTON NEWS

"Please have your articles ready first period Monday morning." This is the plea of David Watts, the Oracle's busy editor. His staff is very efficient, but you know how it is—"We had company all week-end," or "I just had to catch up on my French translation," or "Oh, I knew there was something I was to remember not to forget!"

In spite of these difficulties, W. H. S.'s news-strip in the weekly Worthington News is always in on time. Coming events, such as operettas, class plays, and club dances are always given a special write-up by the feature writers. Tips on dressing in the fashion world inform us of the changes in styles in our village. And of course, there's the gossip column, which elaborates on new dating couples and slumber parties. All these activities are found in the Oracle section of the town paper.

Another big school article in the paper is the sports writeup by Pete Yensen. Because the sports are of interest to all villagers of Worthington, Pete has the privilege of having his articles on the front page. He covers all sports at W. H. S. and reports on all of them for the paper.

All of these articles must meet a certain deadline each week. The typing class takes over from there. If this busy bunch of beavers weren't there to help out, all Worthington would read more spelling errors than they could account for. It's necessary for them to check each word for spelling and composition, and then to type it double-space for the printers.

There were many workers on our staff this year, and each one had a definite job to do. Lots of orchids are due the kids who worked so hard to make this year's Oracle a success.

MNEMOSYNEAN SOCIETY

OUR ART AND MUSIC LOVERS

This group is made up of students who are interested in art and music. They hold their meetings at the homes of members where they discuss these related subjects, listen to recordings and study material which will give them a greater appreciation for these arts. There are no officers because of the small number in the club, but what they lack in quantity they make up in quality. The members participate in contests and devote much of the time to prepare for these events.

This year a music memory contest was held at Cleveland. Five of the members of the W. H. S. society planned to enter. With the aid of Mrs. Hofacker, they studied earnestly for the big event. We knew they were eager to go, but we didn't realize how eager. When the big day finally arrived, they found themselves there a day too soon. However, this mistake didn't dampen the feeling of our music lovers. They brought home a well-earned honorable mention to add to their other honors.

These busy students also find time to sponsor recitals. They are in the process of planning one now, with all members contributing. We wish them luck in their undertaking and hope that next year's society can hold up the high standard that has been reached this year.

SPORTSMANSHIP AND FELLOWSHIP

The Worthington High School Hi-Y is a branch of the Y.M.C.A. The club is not strictly a social or religious club, but a combination of both.

The club motto is "to create, maintain and extend, throughout the school and community, a high standard of Christian character." Any senior high school boy who wishes to be admitted to this club must put forth his best efforts toward character development and must live up to the club's motto.

Mr. Dow Nelson is the faculty advisor.

Each year the Hi-Y sponsors a variety of constructive projects. Their activities this year included co-sponsoring the Christmas Formal with the Y-Teens, preparing the program for the homecoming ceremony and dance, and managing the annual Hi-Y basketball tournament.

The Y-Teens is an organization open to all girls in the senior high school who are willing to support the aims of the club and to conduct themselves in a manner above reproach.

The members have a spirit of helpfulness and friendliness toward people of all races, religions, and nationalities; they seek to understand Jesus and His love for all people, and to grow in this knowledge of God's love. It is their aim to achieve a higher standard of womanhood for all members.

The Y-Teens' first objective for the year was a membership drive as a result of which forty-one new members were enrolled. Other projects sponsored by this club were the Christmas Formal (working with the Hi-Y), the Plantation Prom, adoption of a needy family for Christmas, collection of money for the national polio drive and devotional assemblies for Christmas and Easter.

Miss Frye and Mrs. Haueisen are our capable faculty advisors.

MUSIC

THE HIGH SCHOOL CHORAL GROUPS

MIXED CHORUS

This chorus is a select group of singers from the boys' and girls' music classes who sing for the school devotional services and have the privilege of going to Capital University to participate in the All-County Music Festival. This occasion is the high-light of the year for the music classes.

GIRLS' ENSEMBLE

"Shall we wear suits or dresses this time?" is a common question with the girls' ensemble. This popular singing group of attractive girls is always busy entertaining. Any girl who takes music may try out for a place in the ensemble. The ensemble is often invited to sing for devotionals, P. T. A., and social functions, and they make several radio appearances each year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

STUDENT SELF-GOVERNMENT

The student council is usually referred to as "the Governing Body of the School." It represents the views and ideas of the student body.

Certain activities are sponsored by this organization in order to pay for various school improvements.

The purpose of this council is to make possible closer student cooperation with the faculty and to give students greater opportunities for self direction. The Council also tries to penalize pupils who break the rules of the school.

Mr. Heischman is the advisor of this organization, and the student president and student secretary-treasurer are Pat James and Myrt Griffith, respectively.

The student council is responsible for the installment of the clocks this year in the building, operates the concession stand downstairs, much to the joy of the students, and changed the appearance of the grounds of the school by painting the picnic tables white. They also collected money for Easter Seals and other charity drives. The policy of "keep the school clean" was enforced through regular locker inspections and the distribution of disposal cans. Too, as punishment for untidy lockers, many energetic workers were seen clearing the yard and rooms of papers and rubbish. Student Council hall monitors were much in evidence as gals and fellows stayed in their classes for the usual forty-five minutes, daring to venture out in the hall only with an excuse from the teacher. Another undertaking completed by the student council was the celebration planned and carried out for Dads' Night game with Reynoldsburg.

Student Council is a step closer to taking a personal hand in the government. Our Student Council is trying its best to promote more interest in democratic living and government.

THE 1949

GIVES TO YOU

ANNUAL STAFF

One look at the pictures of our Annual Staff might bring forth questions to your mind as to the sanity, intellect, and working ability of this carefree group. But don't get any false impressions—not one of these editors has survived the year without the loss of at least ten pounds, mostly in sweat! Plans to be agreed upon, photographers to be contacted, sales to be boosted, and deadlines to be met called for the cooperation and teamwork of not only the staff, but of the entire senior class.

Our production is the product of long hours of work and plenty of good times. We have made it as large and extensive as the increased rates and all around higher costs would permit, and we hope that all school activities have been fully represented here.

As high school students are sometimes inclined to let technical matters slip by, we owe the credit for any success to Mr. McCord, Mrs. Law, and Miss Frye, our helpful advisors.

Without Miss Frye's practical advice and good common sense, our goals might have been far too high, and our achievements pitifully low. Her critical eye has O. K.'d all of the written material of our book, and has approved our money-making plans. Mrs. Law has given us helpful artistic advice and valuable hints from her recent annual experience. Her house has provided a meeting place for many of our sessions, as the pictures show.

But that gentle reminder (we're not denying that the club under his desk is expressly for the Annual Staff, but . . .) the encouraging signature on our contracts, and the periodic "Why hasn't . . ." which have kept us on our toes have come from Mr. McCord.

DRAMATICS

OUR OUTSTANDING

Gibson, Shuster, Mr. Aleshire,
Mrs. Law, Wiswell, Wright

MEET ARIZONA

This year's operetta had a typical western setting, consisting of a ranch house, cactus, cowboys, and Mexican workers. The plot of the story revolves around an old man's will. It states that his niece, a native of Vermont, and a young friend of his, an Arizona cowboy, must get married in order to receive the ranch. The two do fall in love, thanks to the help of an old ranch hand, and the story ends as all operettas should.

The cast was very capable of handling the parts that were given to them and did a fine job. With the staging and direction of Mrs. Gross and Mr. Heinlen and the help of the art classes on scenery, the production this year proved to be a huge success.

BERKELEY SQUARE

At the present time, our senior class play is still in the making. We are sure of a big success, though, because of the hidden talent which has been discovered. The cast includes Bill McCulloh, Pat James, Gann Timmons, June Harris, Don Levenson, Pat Nilson, Lawrence Hard, Adrienne Gibson, Alfred Wilson, David DeVoe, Marvin Zuhars, Joan Levenhagen, Pete Yensen, and Carolyn Gerald.

The play this year is more advanced in drama and technique than previous productions. It is a large undertaking for a high school group, but with the direction and staging of Mrs. Hofacker and the enthusiasm of the class we are looking forward to an entertaining play.

All members of the class are working in various capacities to make this play the biggest and best that has ever been performed at W. H. S.

DATE WITH JUDY

This year's Junior Class Play, presented in high style, concerned the hilarious antics of Judy Foster and her somewhat confused family. This comedy in three acts never fails to win audience approval, and the local performance was no exception to the rule. Directed by Mrs. Mildred Hofacker, the play was well received and the hidden talent revealed forecasts future dramatic triumph for members of this class.

PRODUCTIONS, SO GREATLY ENJOYED

SUBMERGED

Each year the speech class presents three, one-act plays to the student body as its project for the second semester. This year we decided to limit the plays to just one to be entered for competition in statewide contests. The play chosen was "Submerged," a one-act tragedy. Mrs. Hofacker, the play director, chose a cast and then rehearsals started in earnest.

The hard work was well rewarded when "Submerged" was awarded a "first" in the district contest. In the state finals held at Ohio State, the play was "good" and placed fourth. We are very proud of the honors received in this dramatic competition.

The cast included Don Levenson, Bob Keethler, Norm Monska, Dave Watson, and Clint Griggs.

MUSIC MORE OF OUR WORTHINGTON TALENT

BAND

The band's busy season comes in the fall when they entertain the football crowds during the half with their musical stunts. This year they were bigger and better than ever. The band members, like the vocal groups, participate in the All-County Music Festival and in local concerts.

ORCHESTRA

When it's time for a class play or operetta, Mr. Heinlein, the able director of the orchestra, starts tuning up his musicians to play between acts and during scene changes. These students also find time to play in the All-County Music Festival and they have given concerts from time to time at home.

WE SPUR THEM ON

MAJORETTES

Dumbauld, Chesser, Mick, Nelson, Price, Gibson

MAJORETTES

These high-steppin' gals go on parade during half-time at football games. They "strut their stuff" so well that the crowds don't even bother to stretch their legs. Even the cries of the Juniors, "Get your hot dogs here!" make little impression on the spectators who just can't take their eyes away from the amazing performance in front of them. We must admit that the girls look pretty sharp in their red and white costumes with their batons flying high and wide.

We feel that our majorettes would cheer any team on to victory.

CHEERLEADERS

"C'mon, yell" is a common cry heard on the W. H. S. basketball floor and football field. It's the battle cry of the Cardinal "Let's go, let's fight, let's win" crew, who cheer the boys on to victory.

Their originality in cheers out-shone all other cheerleaders and their pep and enthusiasm marked them as Class A-1 cheerleaders to their followers. Win, lose, or draw, they cheered, putting their hearts in it, to keep up the morale of our team.

Any student in the high school may try out for a position in the group. The entire student body votes and winners are notified.

We feel that we made a good choice this year, don't you agree?

CLUBS

THE GIRLS' ORGANIZATIONS

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association, under the direction of Mrs. Mary R. Custis, is composed of junior and senior high girls who take part in various sports.

The club's main objectives are to promote good sportsmanship and the desire for cooperation, and to develop skill in sports.

The following officers served this year: President, Beverly Burke; Secretary, Delores Post; and Treasurer, Marjorie Hughes.

F. H. A.

The Future Homemakers of America, whose members are girls in the home economics department, is an organization for the betterment of home and social life.

Among this year's F. H. A.-sponsored activities were the initiations and installation of officers and the F. H. A. banquet.

The faculty advisor is Miss Mettler, and the student officers are President, Joan Daumler; Vice-President, Joan Levenhagen; Secretary, Jackie Marshall; and treasurer, Norma Bachelor.

SCIENCE CLUB

UP AND COMING W.H.S. SCIENTISTS

Mysterious sounds and queer smells aren't unusual to this club. Splitting atoms is all in a day's work to these young scientists. They are interested in anything new and are always prying into closets for old skeletons. The purpose of this organization is the "study and advancement of science."

The officers for this year were as follows: President, Mary Frances Tucker; Vice-President, Don Levenson; Secretary, Virginia Hutchison; Treasurer, David DeVoe; Program Chairman, John Condit. These students worked hard to arouse enthusiasm among the club members and to plan an interesting and stimulating program.

A new club is now forming to take the place of the Science Club. Any girl or boy in the high school who is interested in the life out-of-doors is urged to join the new Nature Club. The members take hikes and look for signs of the topic being studied. Their advisor is Mr. Brownie Cellars, who accompanies them on all their field trips and informs them on subject matter.

We want to wish this club lots of luck in its new adventure and hope that it will join with the other clubs at W. H. S. as an active part in the school's extra-curricular program.

PROUDLY THE SENIOR MEMBERS

This year, Worthington's Cardinals played six league games, and, losing only to Hilliards and Mifflin in the county, finished just behind them for third place. The team placed two on the all-county selections; Tom Caughell made first team guard, and Mike Freeman was made guard on the second squad.

The Cards went undefeated through their first four games. They topped Canal Winchester by a decisive margin, 52 to 13. Then they downed a strong Marysville eleven in a hard fought battle, 6 to 0. The next Friday the Cards swamped Dublin, 52 to 0, and then defeated Groveport, 21 to 0. The Hilliards team of Jim Rice, Dick Windle and Company, inflicted the first defeat on the Cardinals, 20 to 6, in the annual homecoming game. The next week, they lost their second game, as the Mifflin Cowpunchers, after being outplayed almost all the way, pulled a trick play out of the bag in the last minute and won 21 to 20, a heartbreaking loss for the Cardinals. They bounced back the following week and handed Reynoldsburg a drubbing, 20 to 0. Then in the final game of the season with its old rivals, Grove City, Worthington didn't fare so well and dropped this one 21 to 7, for a final record of five games won, three lost.

The Cards this year were well captained by quarterback Norm Monska. Fullback Ken Carpenter was voted by the team as their most valuable player. Other players who sparked the backfield were quarterback Clint Griggs, Halfbacks Kenny Shearer, Pete Fields, Don Feather, and Dave Watson. The line was headed by such players as Tom Caughell, Bill Arter, Chuck Dildine, Thane Griffin, Don Leyland, Jack Barber, and Bob Buell. At the close of the season guard Mike Freeman was elected next year's captain.

MONSKA

The '48-'49 Cardinals tackled an extremely tough schedule, and several times rose to great heights, to really come through and uphold Worthington's tradition as a top power in Franklin County.

Starting well, the Cardinals topped New Albany 66-27, tough Delaware Willis 35-27, Reynoldsburg 57-27, and Granville 32-28. The Cards suffered their first defeat as Arlington won 33-23, put on a splendid performance in downing Mount Vernon 52-33, got stopped by Marysville 31-29, and easily rolled over Grandview 39-22. Then, they battled Canal Winchester, toughest contenders for the county crown, and though they fought on even terms throughout, a Winchester basket in the last eight seconds gave them the ball, 41-39.

The Cards set a scoring record in defeating Dublin 74-28. Then, Bexley tripped the Cards 44-39. Gahanna Lincoln was downed 62-27. The Grove City game offered thrills aplenty but we came away with it, 28-25. Then Worthington let out the stops as it beat Westerville 64-44, and Groveport 61-48. Hamilton Township fell 43-31. The Cardinals clicked perfectly against a once-defeated Plain City team, trouncing the Scotties 45-29. In a thrill-packed finish with four first stringers on the bench, the "shock troops" had their moment of glory as they lasted out Hilliards to win by one point 49 to 48.

Beginning the county tournament, Reynoldsburg was bowled over 55-33. Then Hilliards fell 43-34. Groveport in the finals, put up stiff resistance but went down 49-46.

In the district, Walnut Township (44-41) and Pickaway (40-34) could not beat the Cards. Hebron fell surprisingly easily 45-26. In the finals, a revengeful Plain City team led the first half, but the Cardinals took over in the third quarter, and then stalled, to win the district championship, 36-34.

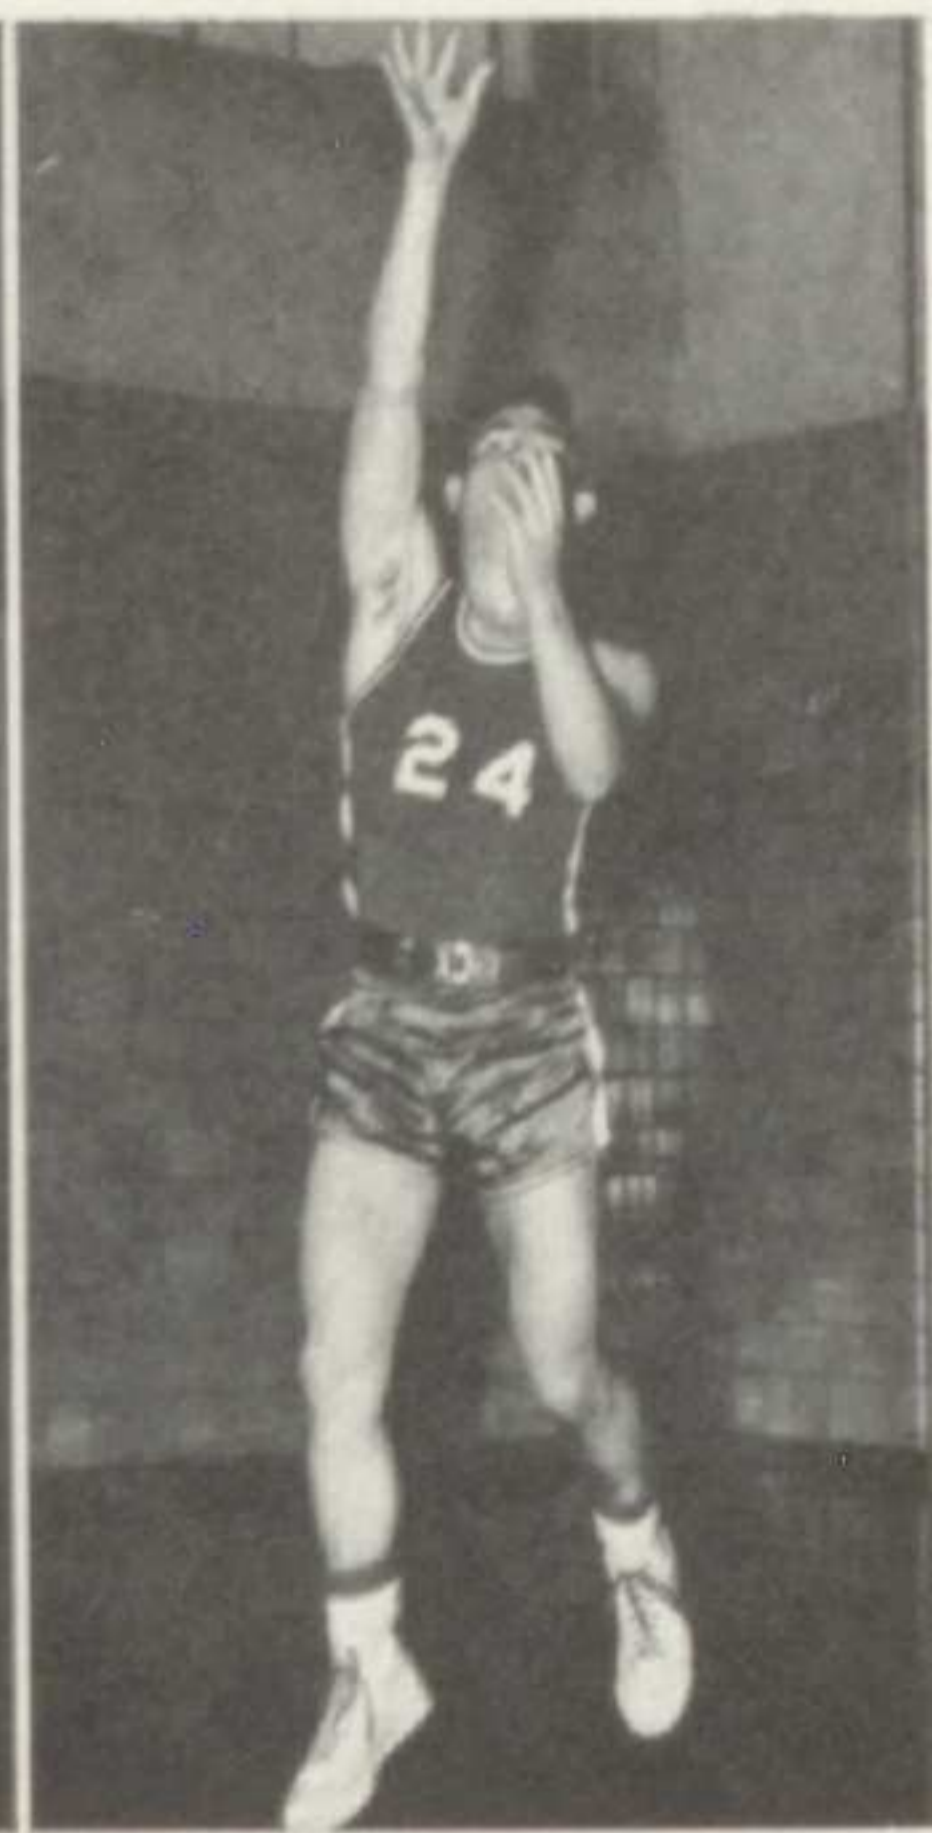

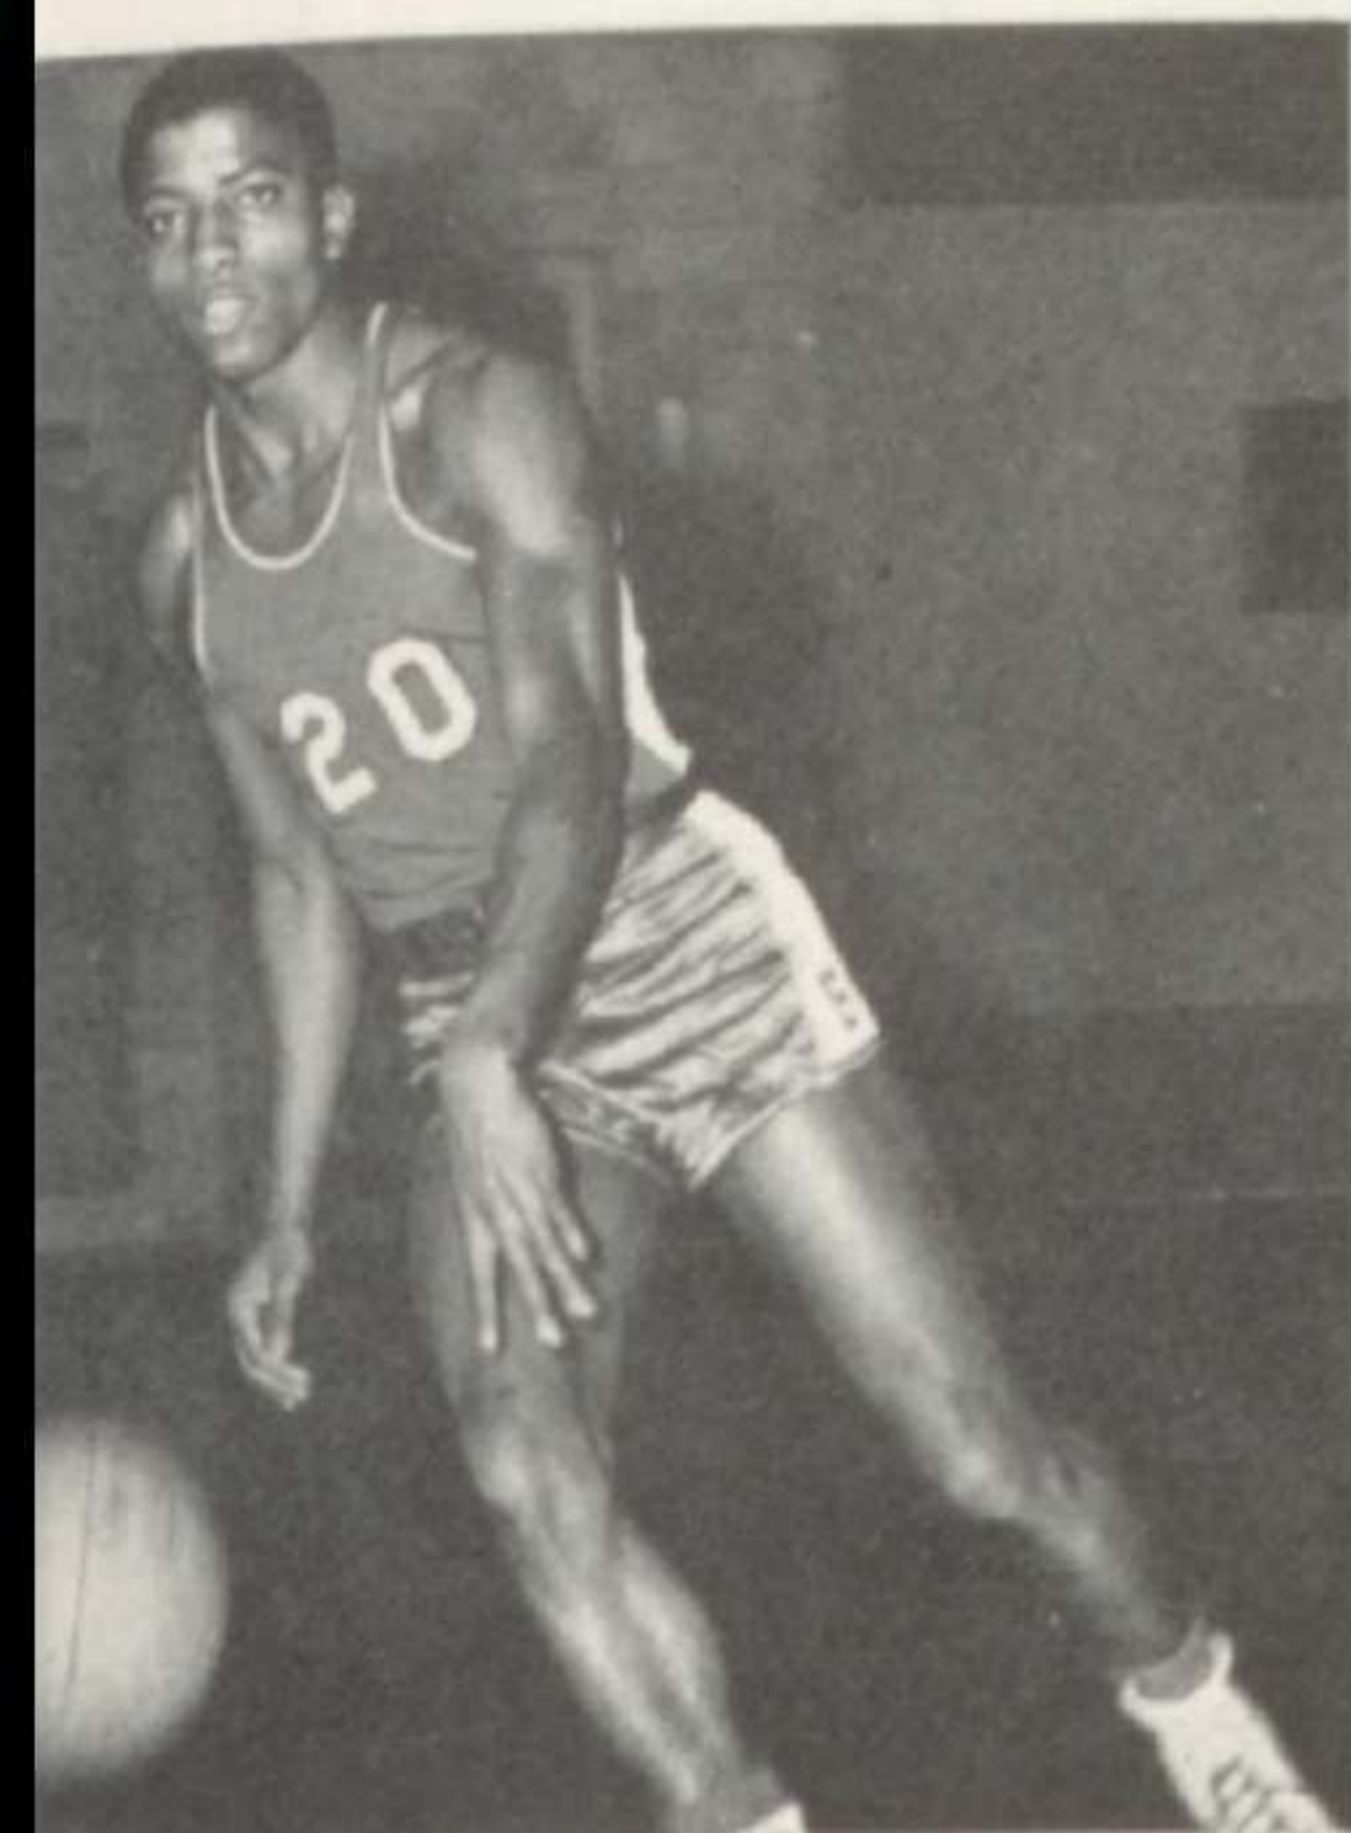

Then the Cardinals finally came to the end of the road as they met an inspired Woodfield team in the opening game of the regionals at Athens and lost 56-41. The team finished with a record of 21 won, 6 lost. The regulars throughout the year were forwards Bob Buell, Jack Woods, and Norm Monska; center Bill Arter; and guards Don Leyland, Kenny Shearer, and Dave Watson.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

In December, Mr. Eisenhart organized five intramural teams and set up two rounds of a round robin tournament. The five teams were the X-Rays, captained by Andy Anderson; the Hotshots, captained by Harry Todd, the Wildshots, captained by Don Feathers; the Butterfingers, captained by Bob Keethler; and the Schmops, captained by Bill Fraas.

In the first round the X-Rays went through undefeated, conquering all the other four teams. The rest of the teams finished in the following order: Hotshots, Schmops, Wildshots, and Butterfingers.

Then the teams were reorganized, with the weaker teams rejuvenated; most improved of all were the Butterfingers, who changed their name to the Rockets. The X-Rays rested on their laurels, winning none of their four games. The undefeated Rockets and Schmops battled it out for the top place with the Schmops winning 7 to 6. So the round ended with the Schmops first and the Rockets second, then the Hotshots, Wildshots and X-Rays.

In the playoff game, the Schmops met the X-Rays for the title. After a tough game, the Schmops triumphed, 16 to 12, and the team won the medals for the championship.

Then in the All-Star game, the Schmops played the stars of the other four teams. The All-Stars never got going and lost by a score of 15 to 5. So the Schmops proved themselves real champs.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

THE GALS SHOW THE BOYS HOW

This year the girls' basketball teams completed a season thoroughly enjoyable. Very ably coached by Mrs. Custis, the tournament and intramural games were run off very smoothly. Intramural games were played at noon with many girls participating.

The tournament was played at the elementary gym. Never to be outdone, the senior girls, although winning only one game, came disguised as members of the varsity basketball squad and also wore the varsity warm-up jackets.

The strong sophomore team beat the freshmen in the preliminary game, and the seniors won over the juniors.

In the championship game, the sophomores defeated the seniors thereby winning the tournament.

As basketball is the favorite girls' sport, it was very actively participated in and enjoyed by all.

GOLF - CROSS-COUNTRY

TWO VERY POPULAR SPORTS

GOLF

The 1948 golf team, made up of Tad Kready, Bill Amick, Don Leyland, and Norm Monska, had a successful year in winning eight matches and losing only four. The team finished fourth in league play, and fifth in the central district tournament.

Only Tad Kready graduated, so with three veterans back, this year's squad should do very well. Junior Bill Amick, and seniors Don Leyland and Norm Monska hold the first three positions of the four man team and junior Bob Gooby has filled the vacant spot. The squad won five of its first six matches this spring, and lost only to a strong Hilliards aggregation. Bill Amick's 85 on Bridgeview Golf Course is the low medal score thus far. Each of the other three has averaged about 91 for every game.

CROSS-COUNTRY

In the fall, six boys reported to Mr. Eisenhart for the cross-country team. Jack Herritt, Jim Miller, Pete Yensen, Bob Wright, Marlen Steward, and Jack Henderson came out for the sport. Cross-country is a nice (?) easy (??) two mile jog (???) and the whole team has great fun (????) just running.

Since no other Class B schools in the vicinity has cross-country, the team had to run against Class A schools, and was thus often outclassed. The squad had meets with Columbus South and West, Arlington, Marion Harding, a quadrangular meet with Marion West, and Columbus Central, and took part in the central district meet. The team won just one meet, against Arlington, 18 to 41, the first (and only) meet ever won by a Worthington Cross-Country team. In the district, Jim Miller placed 11th and Jack Herritt finished 14th, giving two very creditable performances.

TRACK

Worthington's track squad, with Mr. Eisenhart at the helm, had probably its strongest track team in history as it set out on a very tough schedule. The team was strong in practically every event with Captain Bill Fraas in the hurdle and relay events, Bob Keethler in the sprints, Ken Carpenter in the field events, Tom Caughell and Gene Leedy in the pole vault, and Thane Griffin and Jim Miller in the distance events. Also, underclassmen Ed Vollrath, Jim Trippett, Jack Woods, Jack Herritt, Andy Anderson, Ken Russell, Mike Freeman, and Tom Burt are very promising and may all have won varsity positions before the end of the season.

The team had meets with five Class A teams, two triangular meets (one the new Worthington Relays), and participated in the Wesleyan, Mansfield, and Ohio Relays, and in the county, district, and state meets.

BASEBALL

The 1949 baseball squad, coached by Mr. Nelson, had a good season, although they were handicapped by having a green team. Without a letterman back from last year's aggregation, the boys made up for their lack of experience by sheer enthusiasm and the joy of playing the great American game, and won several of their games. The seniors on the team were Kenny Shearer on the pitcher's mound, Chuck Dildine in right field, and Norm Monska at third base. Other positions were filled by juniors Pete Fields at catch, Bob Buell at first base, Wally Hall in the shortstop slot, Harry Todd out in center field, Chuck Thomas in left field, and sophomore Doug Diercks at second base.

The team had five league games, with Mifflin, Hilliards, Dublin, New Albany, and Gahanna Lincoln. Also, the team had one game with Westerville and two with University High.

GIRLS' HOCKEY

This year a new sport was added to the list of girls' sports, field hockey. Mrs. Custis was the able coach, and under her the team achieved reasonable first year success.

In the first game with Grandview, they were defeated, 7 to 2. Next they took on University High's team but again came out on the short end of 6 to 3. Next the girls had a two-game match with Westerville and finally broke into the winning column, but dropped the second game.

For the last game of the year, an interclass tournament was held. The juniors topped the seniors and then met the sophomores for the school title. The youngsters, the sophomores, won and took the honors.

HONORS—AND HAVE LOTS OF FUN!

ARCHERY

Marilyn Gabriel posted the highest single score in the competition, thereby winning the laurels in archery. Barbara Feather came close, winning second place honors. Having received archery equipment only last year, the girls were inexperienced but learned rapidly and after learning, the few who stuck it out found it very enjoyable.

VOLLEYBALL

Although not followed too avidly this year, volleyball is an up-and-coming girls' sport coached by Mrs. Custis. The tournament run by Ann Yost went very smoothly. The winning team consisted of five girls: Marilyn Gabriel, Sue Mick, Connie Burkette, Ann Leonard, and Delores Post. We hope that next year will bring increased interest in this girls' sport.

DECK TENNIS

Another new sport introduced by Mrs. Custis was deck tennis. A mixed class tournament was completed which caused much friendly rivalry between the classes.

All the girls who participated in deck tennis enjoyed it very much and Mrs. Custis hopes to have more girls participating in this new sport next year.

THE PRIDE OF THE SENIOR CLASS

Peter Yensen and William McCulloh

Each year scholarship tests are given to the students ranking in the upper forty per cent of the Senior Class. Worthington has always placed well in the upper brackets, but this year's results far surpassed all previous records. We are all very proud of Bill McCulloh, who placed first in the State of Ohio, and Pete Yensen, who ranked seventeenth. Both boys have a cumulative four-point average and belong to the Franklin County Honor Society. Bill's hobby is music and Pete's interest lies in sports announcing. Both boys work in the Worthington Public Library in their spare time.

Miss Frye intercepts a forbidden sandwich.

THE JOLLY BOYS

(Dishonorary Society)

The iron door to Room 5 clangs shut and another gray-faced W. H. S. student begins his "stretch in the big house" to pay his debt to society. Maybe he has committed one of the two more common crimes: NOT TURNING IN A YELLOW SLIP or ARRIVING LATE TO SCHOOL AT NOON; or perhaps he is guilty of FIRST DEGREE TALKING IN CLASS. Whatever his offense, he is sentenced to a half-hour daily confinement within Room 5.

The prisoners are ironically called "The Jolly Boys" and spend their time staring listlessly out of the window and telling stale jokes between visits of the warden.

It is a horrible place with its gray walls, high ceilings, and echoing screams of inmates pleading for food. A few go mad every day, poor devils, but those of strong constitution manage to get their work made up and leave Room 5 forever behind them—until the next time.

HALLOWEEN QUEEN

Hallowe'en, this year, brought with it one of the prettiest of all the queens and courts Worthington has ever had. They were featured in the annual parade; and as the cars in which they were carried reached the judges' stand, the queen, vivacious Joyce Joseph, was crowned, "Hallowe'en Queen of Worthington!" Her court, having been chosen by the student body, as was the queen, was composed of Myrt Griffith, Suzanne Markey, and Pat Nilson. These four girls certainly were an outstanding attraction to our Hallowe'en parade.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Worthington High School, being of fairly sound mind and body, in this our last will and testament, bequeath to the Juniors our most prized possessions.

The class as a whole leaves its motto "We're Gonna' Shine in '49" to the Juniors, in hopes that they'll "Really Be Nifty in 1950."

To Lester Moench, Bill Arter hereby leaves his megaphone voice to be used on any occasion.

Curtis and Kenneth Carmack leave their position as the W. H. S. Toni Twins to Ernest and Ernestine Parker.

Miriam Smart bequeaths her many loves to Marcie Jacobs.

To the music department, Jack Barber leaves his baritone voice for use in next year's operetta.

Adrienne Gibson's T-shirt collection, which she inherited from Joan Miller, who inherited it from Fritzie Brake, is left to Pat Bartley.

Norm Monska leaves his position as captain of the football team to Mike Freeman, along with his best wishes for next year's homecoming.

To Andy Anderson, Thane Griffin bequeaths his cardinal tie and his ability to be first in the ticket line.

Dave Watson leaves his book of telephone numbers to Dwight Hurd, in hopes that he never gets 5724. (um-Mr. H.)

Beverly Burke's place at the top of the stairs is left to Don Feather, on condition that he'll inhabit it by himself next year.

To Ed Vollrath, Ken Carpenter bequeaths his kicking foot.

Alice Jayne Griffith leaves her place as part of the class, to anyone else who is brave enough to last all twelve years.

Chuck Dildine wills his Levis to Puny Wright and all the other Joe boys from the settlement.

Shirley Sowers leaves her long fingernails to Suzanne Markey.

Gann Timmons bequeaths her many jokes to anyone with the ability to understand them.

Harry Call gives his place on the intramural basketball team to Dick Bluck.

To Marjorie Hughes, Barbara Booton wills her camera and an extra supply of flash bulbs for use at next year's slumber parties.

Those baby blue pajamas of Alfred Wilson, are passed on to next year's basketball fans, in hopes they get to stay all night at Athens.

Joyce Joseph wills her ability of keeping her troubles and worries to herself to Sally McCord.

Delores Mattison gratefully accepts the curls of Mary Francis Tucker.

Carolyn Gerald wills—BILL—to the five girls waiting.

Alan Culbreth bequeaths his toothpick to Jim Huber.

Mary Lou Leach receives the sultry looks and ways of June Harris.

To Bill Amick, Margie O'Dea bequeaths her art ability, for use in next year's Short Circuit.

Marion Gable regretfully shares Gene McCain's loneliness for Kentucky.

The annual staff leaves their '49 Cardinal, complete with plans and directions to Jean McQuilkin, hoping to make their work easier next year.

To Clint Griggs, Tom Caughell leaves his indecisive mind concerning his many women.

The outstanding personality and class spirit of Kenny Shearer is bequeathed to any junior lucky enough to get it.

To Sue Trotter and Margie Carrico, Virginia Boster leaves her diamond ring and all future plans.

Lawrence Hard bequeaths his faculty for remaining the quiet mysterious member of the class to Jack Epley.

Mary Lou Vandergrift leaves her picture, dimples and all, as proof that there were pretty girls in the class of '49.

Marvin Zuhars leaves his Yo-Yo to "Uncle Ray," who has been trying to get it all year.

To Jack Herritt, Bruce Hathaway wills his nickname "Sidney."

Joan Levenhagen sadly leaves her car whistle and parking space to Harry Todd.

Nancy White bequeaths her job of making out gradecards to Joan Daumler.

Marilyn Miller and Pat James hopefully leave their nearsightedness and unused glasses to the sophomores who see and know too much as it is.

To Noel Kroenke, David Watts very thankfully wills his morning passengers.

The job as Mr. Heischman's office girl is left to Martha Hickman by Maxine Wiseman, hoping that she can find out who stayed at Athens.

Martha Shuster leaves her high-necked dresses to Carol Wright.

Don Leyland bequeaths his coolness with the women to Tom Carskadon.

Jim Miller leaves his typing paper, what's left of it, to Joanne McPherson in hopes the rest of the class supply their own.

To Wally Hall, Bill Kocher secretly leaves his messy locker.

To Norma Bachelor, David DeVoe wills his red shirt, and Dick Hamilton, his grey pants, so she can sport Otterbein's colors next year.

Joan Brown bequeaths her one-man life to Dolores Post.

To Dick McKibben, Ronald Schwab regretfully wills his orange shirt and bright answers to Democracy questions.

Tom Gable bequeaths his Dublin interests to David Cahoon.

And last but not least, Bill Fraas, he just leaves—thank goodness. But best of luck to Mr. Eisenhart in trying to replace him.

THE PROPHECY

A thunderous burst of applause greets the end of the opening performance of "Stardirt" produced by that famous team of Watson and Watts and written by Miss Patricia Nilson. Jim Miller, ex-track star, now page at the Cardinal Theater, comes dashing down the aisle with an arm load of flowers for the star Miss Patti James, who is in the spotlight operated by Bev Burke, working in the control room in the absence of her husband. In the wings we notice Miss James's agent husband, Norm Monska, talking to stage manager Dick Hamilton. With the return of the house-lights, much to our surprise we see the famous dance team of Yost and Zuhars sitting in front of us.

As we leave the theater, the door is opened for us by Curtis Carmack, while Kenneth is helping debutante Mary Lou Vandegrift and her escort, the famous cigarette manufacturer, Thane Griffin, into their limousine. Walking down Broadway we hear a familiar voice singing, and approaching, we see none other than John Marion Barber III, selling pencils on the street corner. We buy one and hurry on through the crowd. Trying to cross the street, we are stopped by a loud noise: "Where do you think you are going?" It surprises us to see none other than policewoman Shirley Sowers.

Continuing on our way we glance into the window of the exclusive Leedy Chapeau Salon and see Mlle. Alice Jayne Griffith modeling his exotic creations. Tearing ourselves away, we continue down Broadway, passing the shop of O'Dea and Shuster, famous dress designers. Suddenly a huge sign looms ahead with the words "Al Wilson's Cardinal Club" written in bright lights. Intrigued by this sight we enter.

Checking our hats with June Harris, we continue into the main part of the club and are just in time to see the floor show. Among the familiar faces in the chorus line are those of Virginia Boster and Maxine Wiseman. At the end of the number we are entertained by that famous comedienne Jo Ann Brown. Following the floor show, Bob Keethler's dance band begins to play. Among the band members we notice three familiar faces: those of Lawrence "Tootie" Hard, Ron Schwab, and Marilyn Miller, the vocalist.

As people drift out to the dance floor we notice Margie Nussdorfer, the noted gossip columnist, sitting at a table rapidly jotting down notes. We go over to her table to hear what's new in New York. She points out Miriam Smart, the gay divorcee dancing with cattle millionaire Charles Dildine. She also brings to our attention the habitual wallflower Adrienne Gibson trying to knit and win the attention of the dashing playboy Bill McCulloh at the same time.

The calm atmosphere is shattered by the screams of Joyce Joseph, famous movie star, as she tries to escape from Bill Fraas who hurdles over the tables after her, trying to obtain her autograph. It seems that Bill has retained the hurdling ability he gained at dear old W. H. S. We are suddenly blinded by the flash of Barbara Booton's camera as she snaps our picture. Observing two distinguished looking gentlemen sitting at a near-by table, we are told that they are Eugene Spurgeon, editor of Esquire, and Alan Culbreth, creator of the Culbreth Girls. No doubt they are discussing Alan's next calendar for Esquire.

At last the waitress, Nancy Ett, brings us a tempting meal prepared by Chef Joan Levenhagen, who buys all her food from McCain's Chain Store.

As we enjoy our meal, the evening paper is brought to us. Glancing over the front page, we learn that Harry Call, well-known stock speculator, has lost a million dollars in the stock-market crash. Leafing through the paper we see an ad for "Honest Tom" Caughell's used cars. We learn that he is also distributor of the new Hathaway, which has just been put on the market by designer Bruce Hathaway. In another ad we see that Nancy White's "Charm and Success" school has just been redecorated. Turning to the sports page we find an article written by Pete Yensen, sports editor, telling of Ken Carpenter's new contract with the Cleveland Browns. We also learn that Gann Timmons' famous horse "Snouffie" has won another handicap at Belmont Park.

As we put down our paper we see Don Leyland, the famous basketball star, hurry over to the bar for a glass of milk. Our attention is attracted by the shrill voice of Don Levenson as he completes the sale of the Brooklyn Bridge to the bewildered Skip Bronsdon. We are informed that Bill Kocher has been awarded the contract to build the new one. Our thoughts are suddenly distracted by the entrance of Bill Arter, who is noted for his clown diving, and Kenny Shearer, who is attempting to win $100,000 by not saying anything for one week.

Leaving, we see Mary Frances Tucker, Metropolitan Opera Star, escorted by David DeVoe, noted music critic. They are immediately stopped by Carolyn Gerald, the club owner's secretary, who hands Mary Frances a telegram. It really must be late as we go into the street, for we see Tom Gabel's milk truck making its rounds, which reminds us that John Hetrick is the superintendent of Electric Milkers for that concern. After a wonderful evening, when we have seen many of our old friends from the class of '49, we fall into a taxi and head for home.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Geometry problems and Latin verbs, chilly football games and breath-taking basketball games, the bare trees etched against a blue sky and sparkling snow seen through the history room window at Xmas—memories of these crowd the minds of seniors with recollections of many trips up and down the hill, square dances, "Stardust," and all the jam-packed lockers that decked the halls. The seniors of '49 remember work and play, serious moments and laughing ones, that make up four memorable years.

The class of 1949 will never forget the first day of school in September, '45, which introduced friends from Homedale, Flint, Linworth and Worthington. As freshmen, the class saw its first basketball tournament and found following the team through to the State, the thrill of a lifetime. Not just because they were interested in the sport, but because it was their school playing.

Memories of that first year include Gann Timmons and Bill McCulloh as presidents, while A. J. Griffith was freshman attendant at Homecoming. The class picnic was celebrated at York, and before the class of '49 knew it, they were no longer lowly freshmen. They were on their way up.

As sophomores they began to hold important positions at W. H. S. Chuck Dildine took over the presidency of the class, with Mary Lou Vandergrift as homecoming attendant for this year. The class sponsored a hayride, sold magazines, and held their class picnic at the Zoo.

In the fall of '47 the name Dildine was heard again as president. Pat James led the class successfully through the homecoming activities and class play. The W. H. S. students went home for Christmas with their minds full of dreams of the "Peppermint Prom." The reserves captured the county basketball championship and the track team traveled to the State. As the year drew to a close, the juniors realized that they were almost seniors. They worked hard in planning their Junior-Senior banquet, and, as they were dancing on the decks of the U. S. S. Cardinal at Brookside, they knew that the coming year would pass all too quickly.

Seniors at last! With Marv Zuhars as president and Pat James homecoming queen, how could they miss? Alice Jayne was again a member of the court, and the class of '49 finally took over the upper hall. The football team, under captain Norm Monska, provided thrills and excitement up to the final game when the Y-Teens took over to show how it was done. Hallowe'en brought Joyce Joseph as queen and Pat Nilson attendant. Memories of that winter include "Toyland," caroling at Xmas, ice skating at Glenmary, and the trip to Athens.

As the year book goes to press, the spring calendar appears full for the class of '49. Try-outs for the senior play are in progress and the air is full of talk of college plans. Juniors are busy planning that last dance, while seniors are looking far away, and surely members of no other class have such a variety of memories as do this year's seniors. We really did "Shine in '49."
