CARDINAL 73
Worthington High School
Worthington, Ohio
Volume XXXII

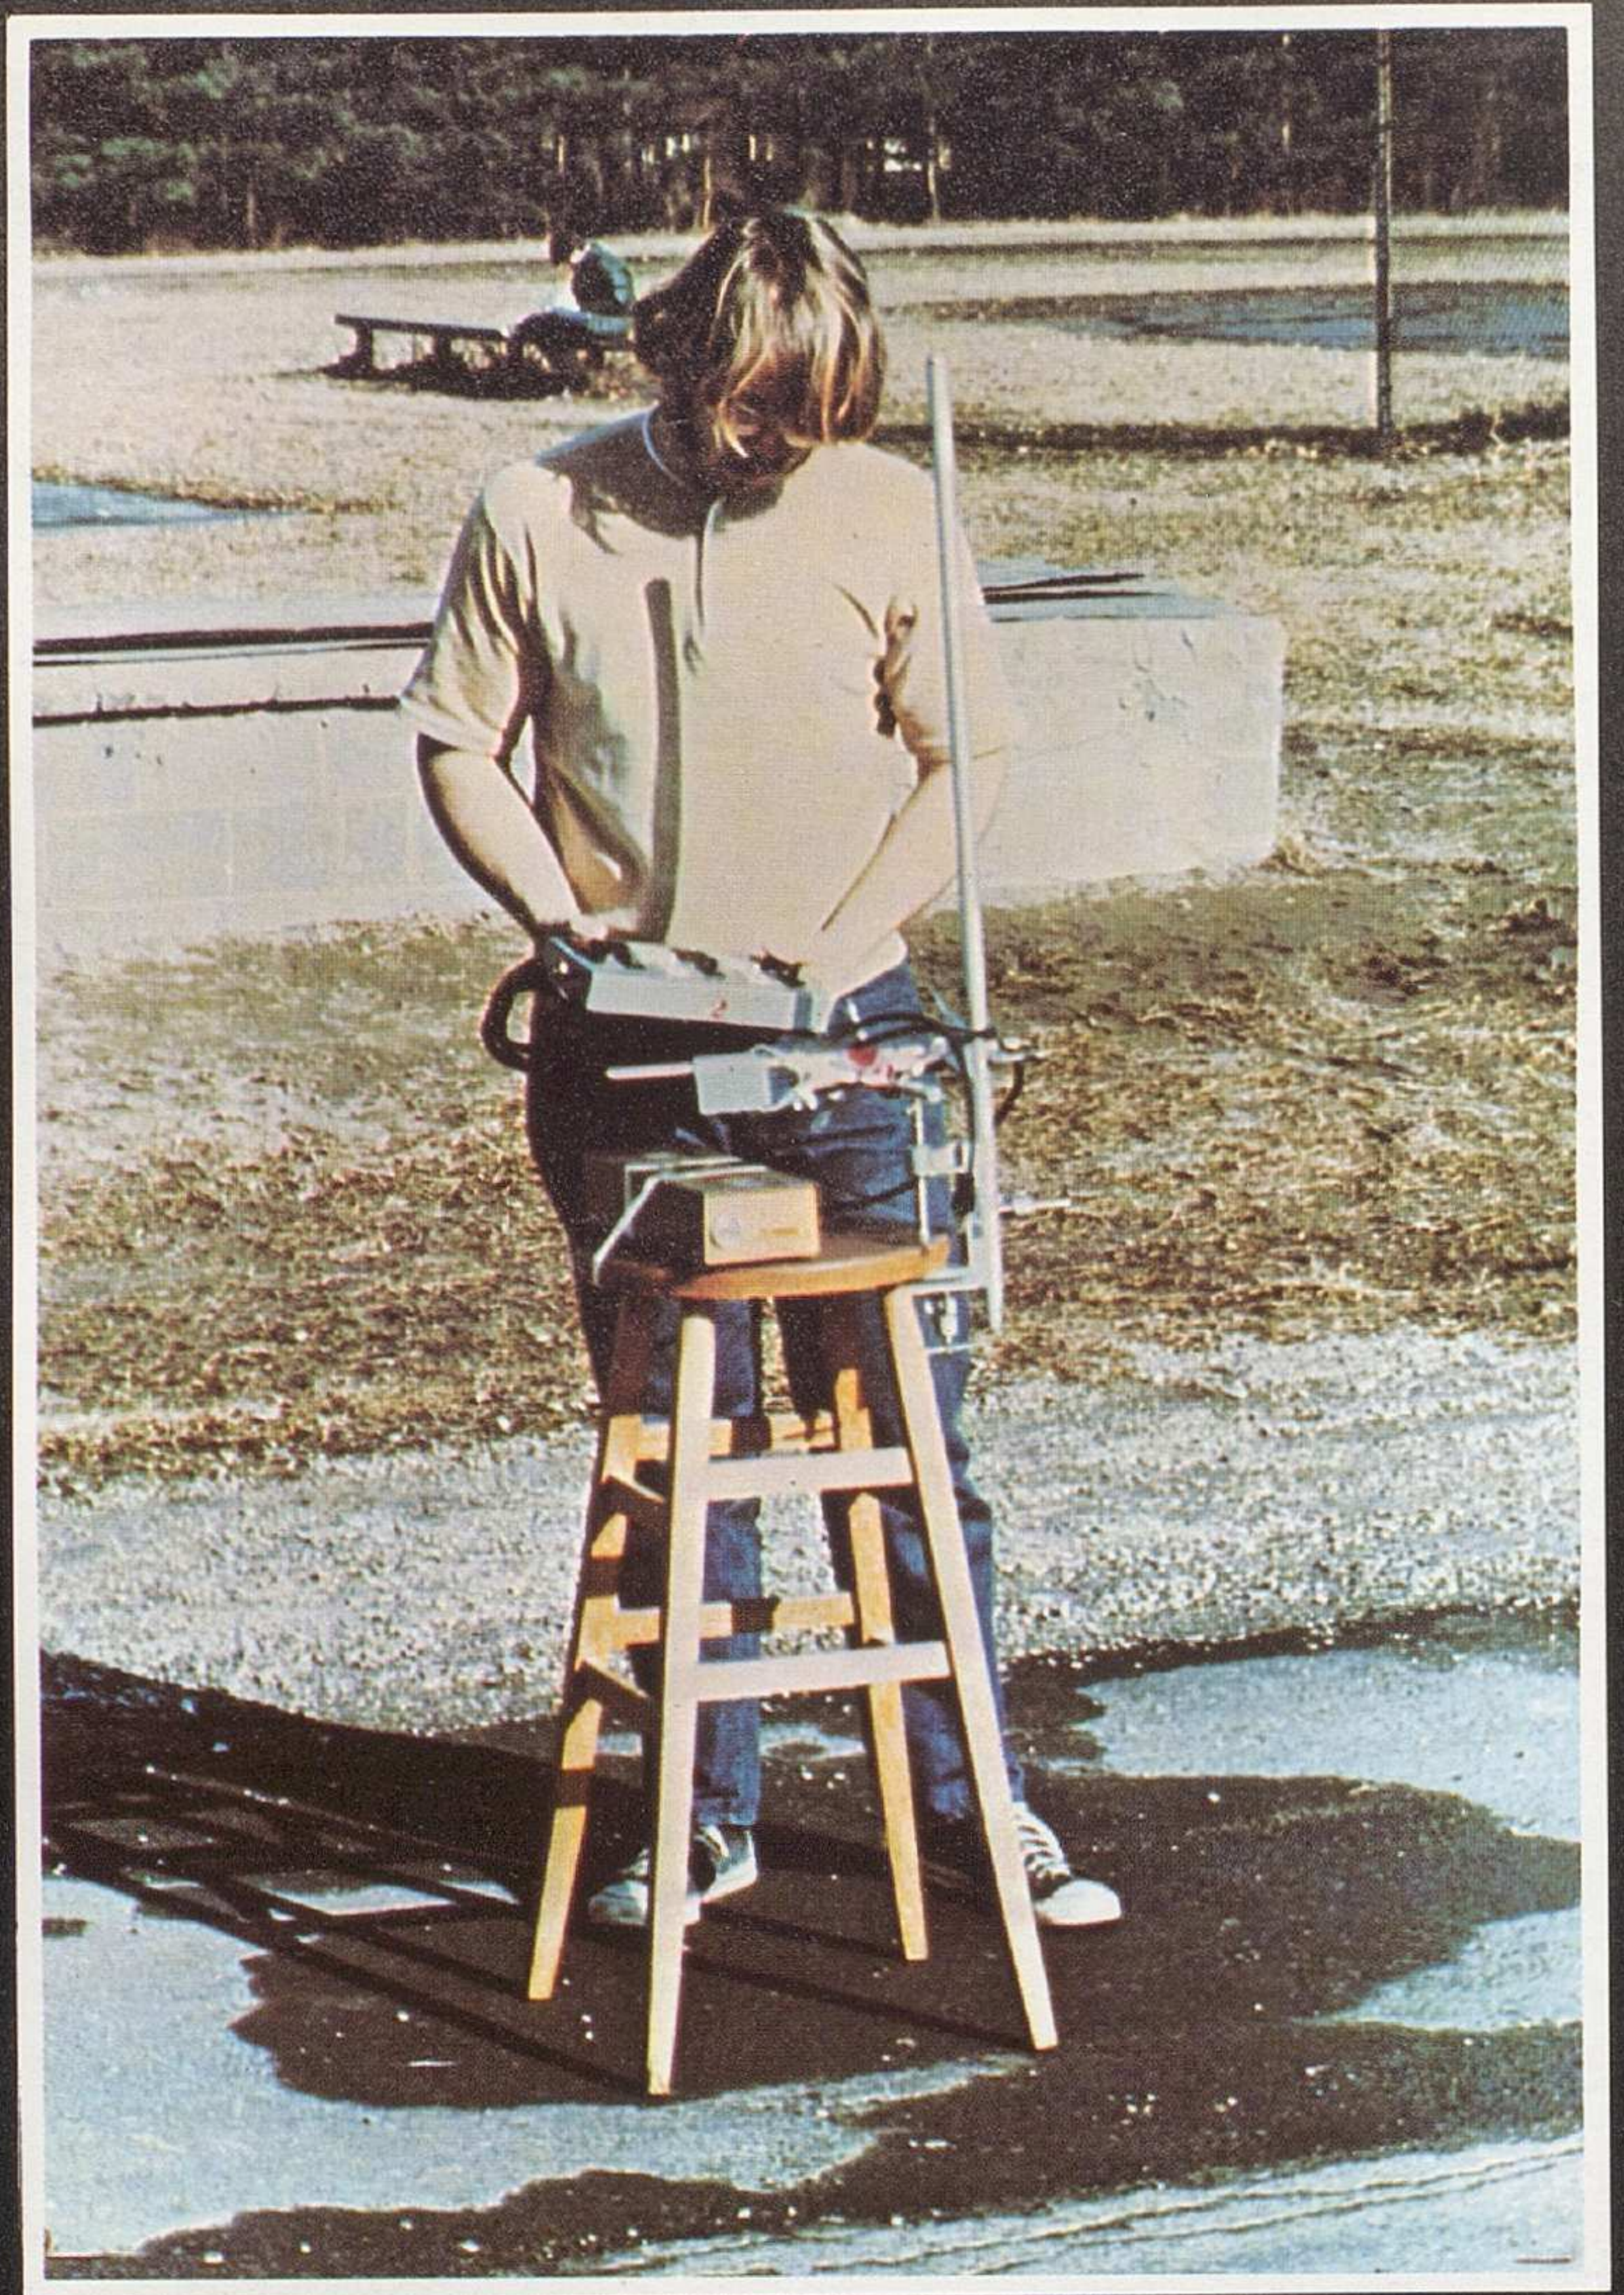

You are the light of the world, each coming from a different part of the spectrum; from Freshmen—unfortunately nearly unseeable—through to the upper spectrum; from the dark and perhaps uncolorful people to the Roy G. Bivs whom everyone sees and knows.

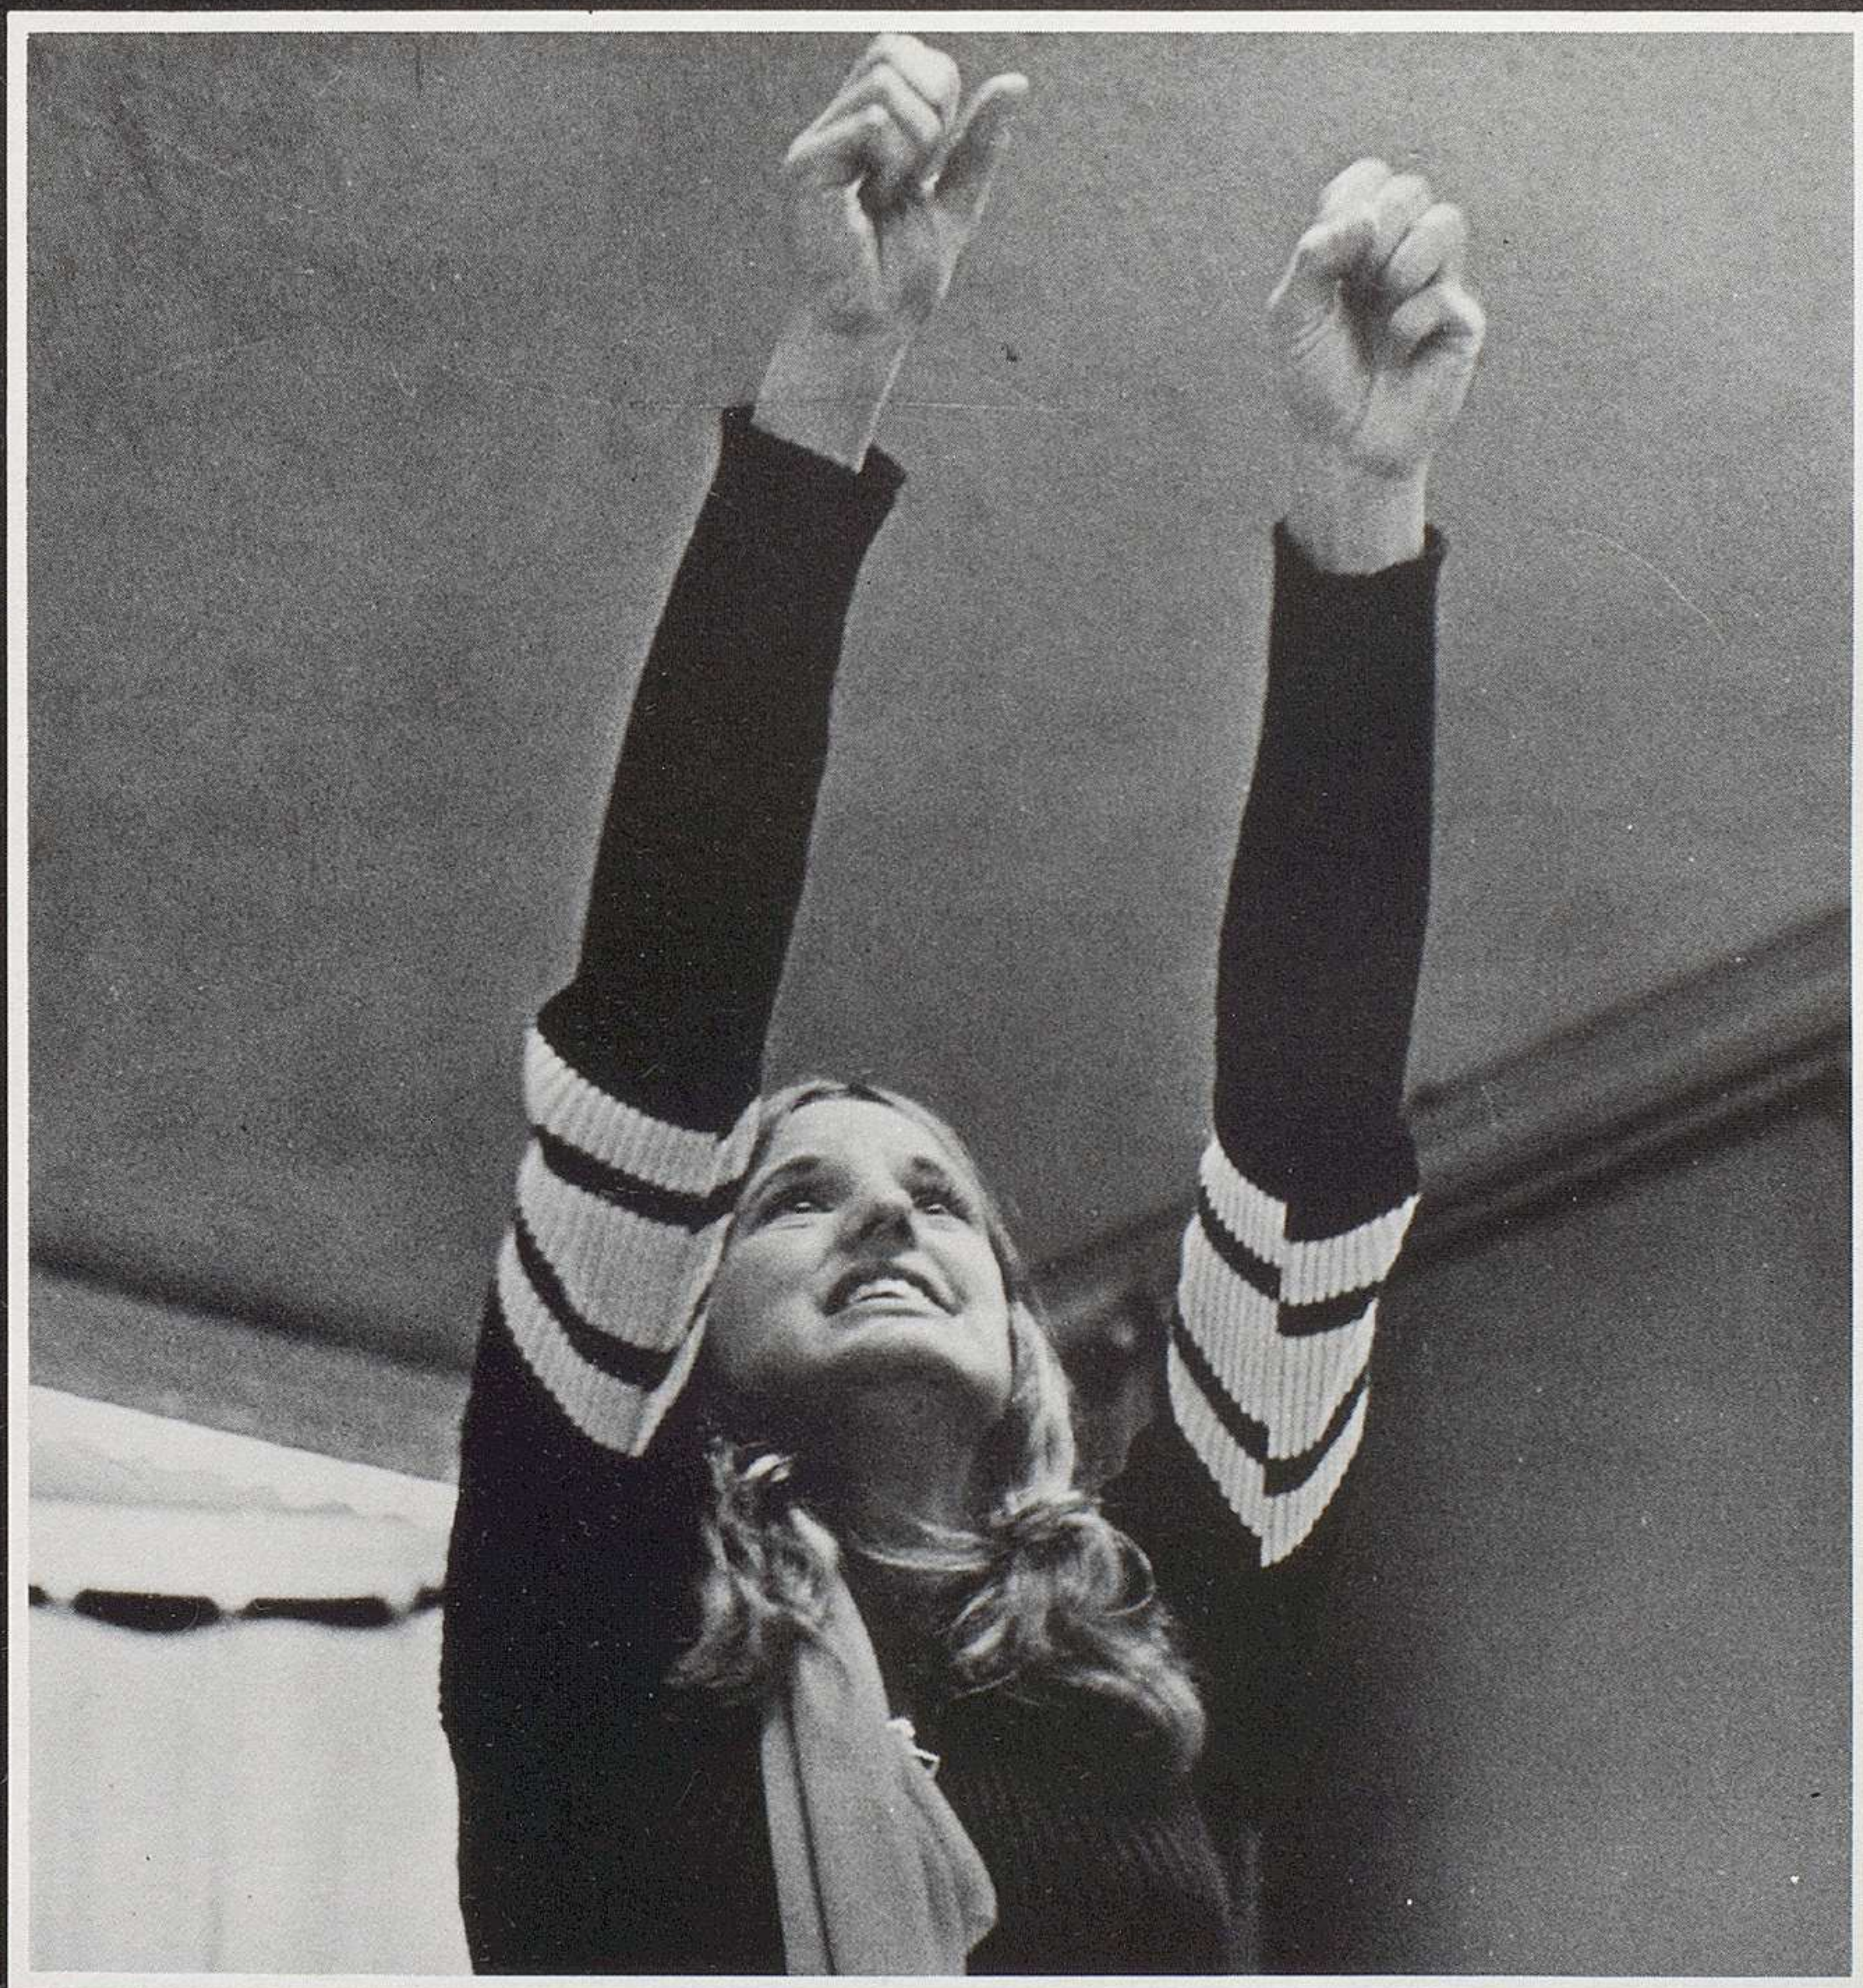

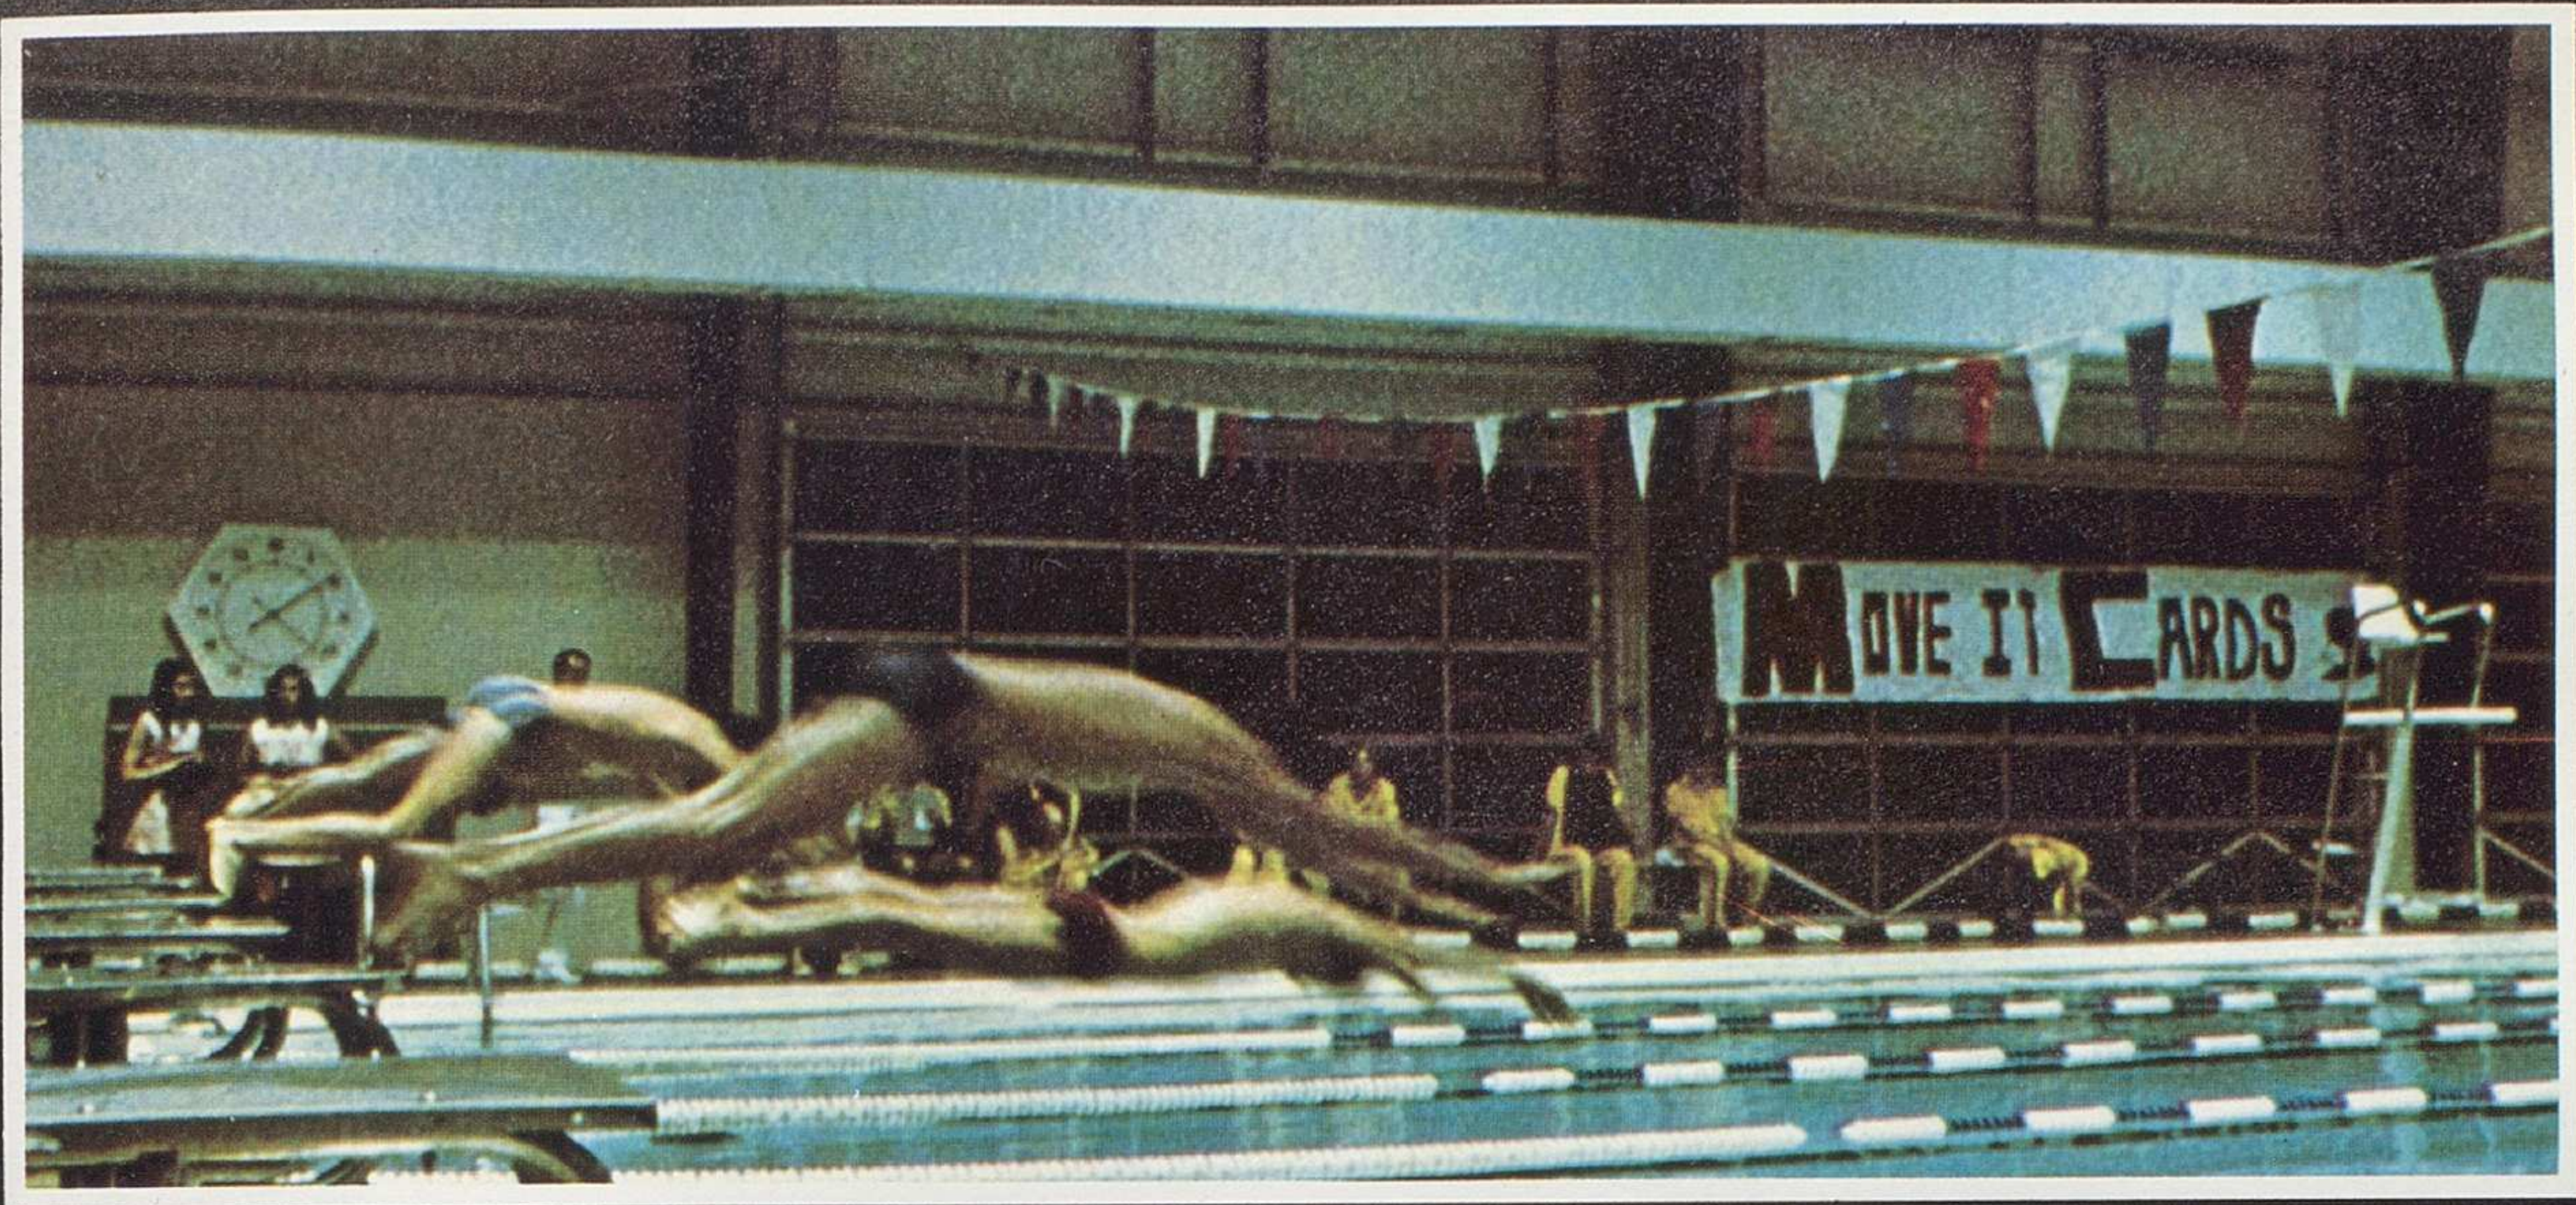

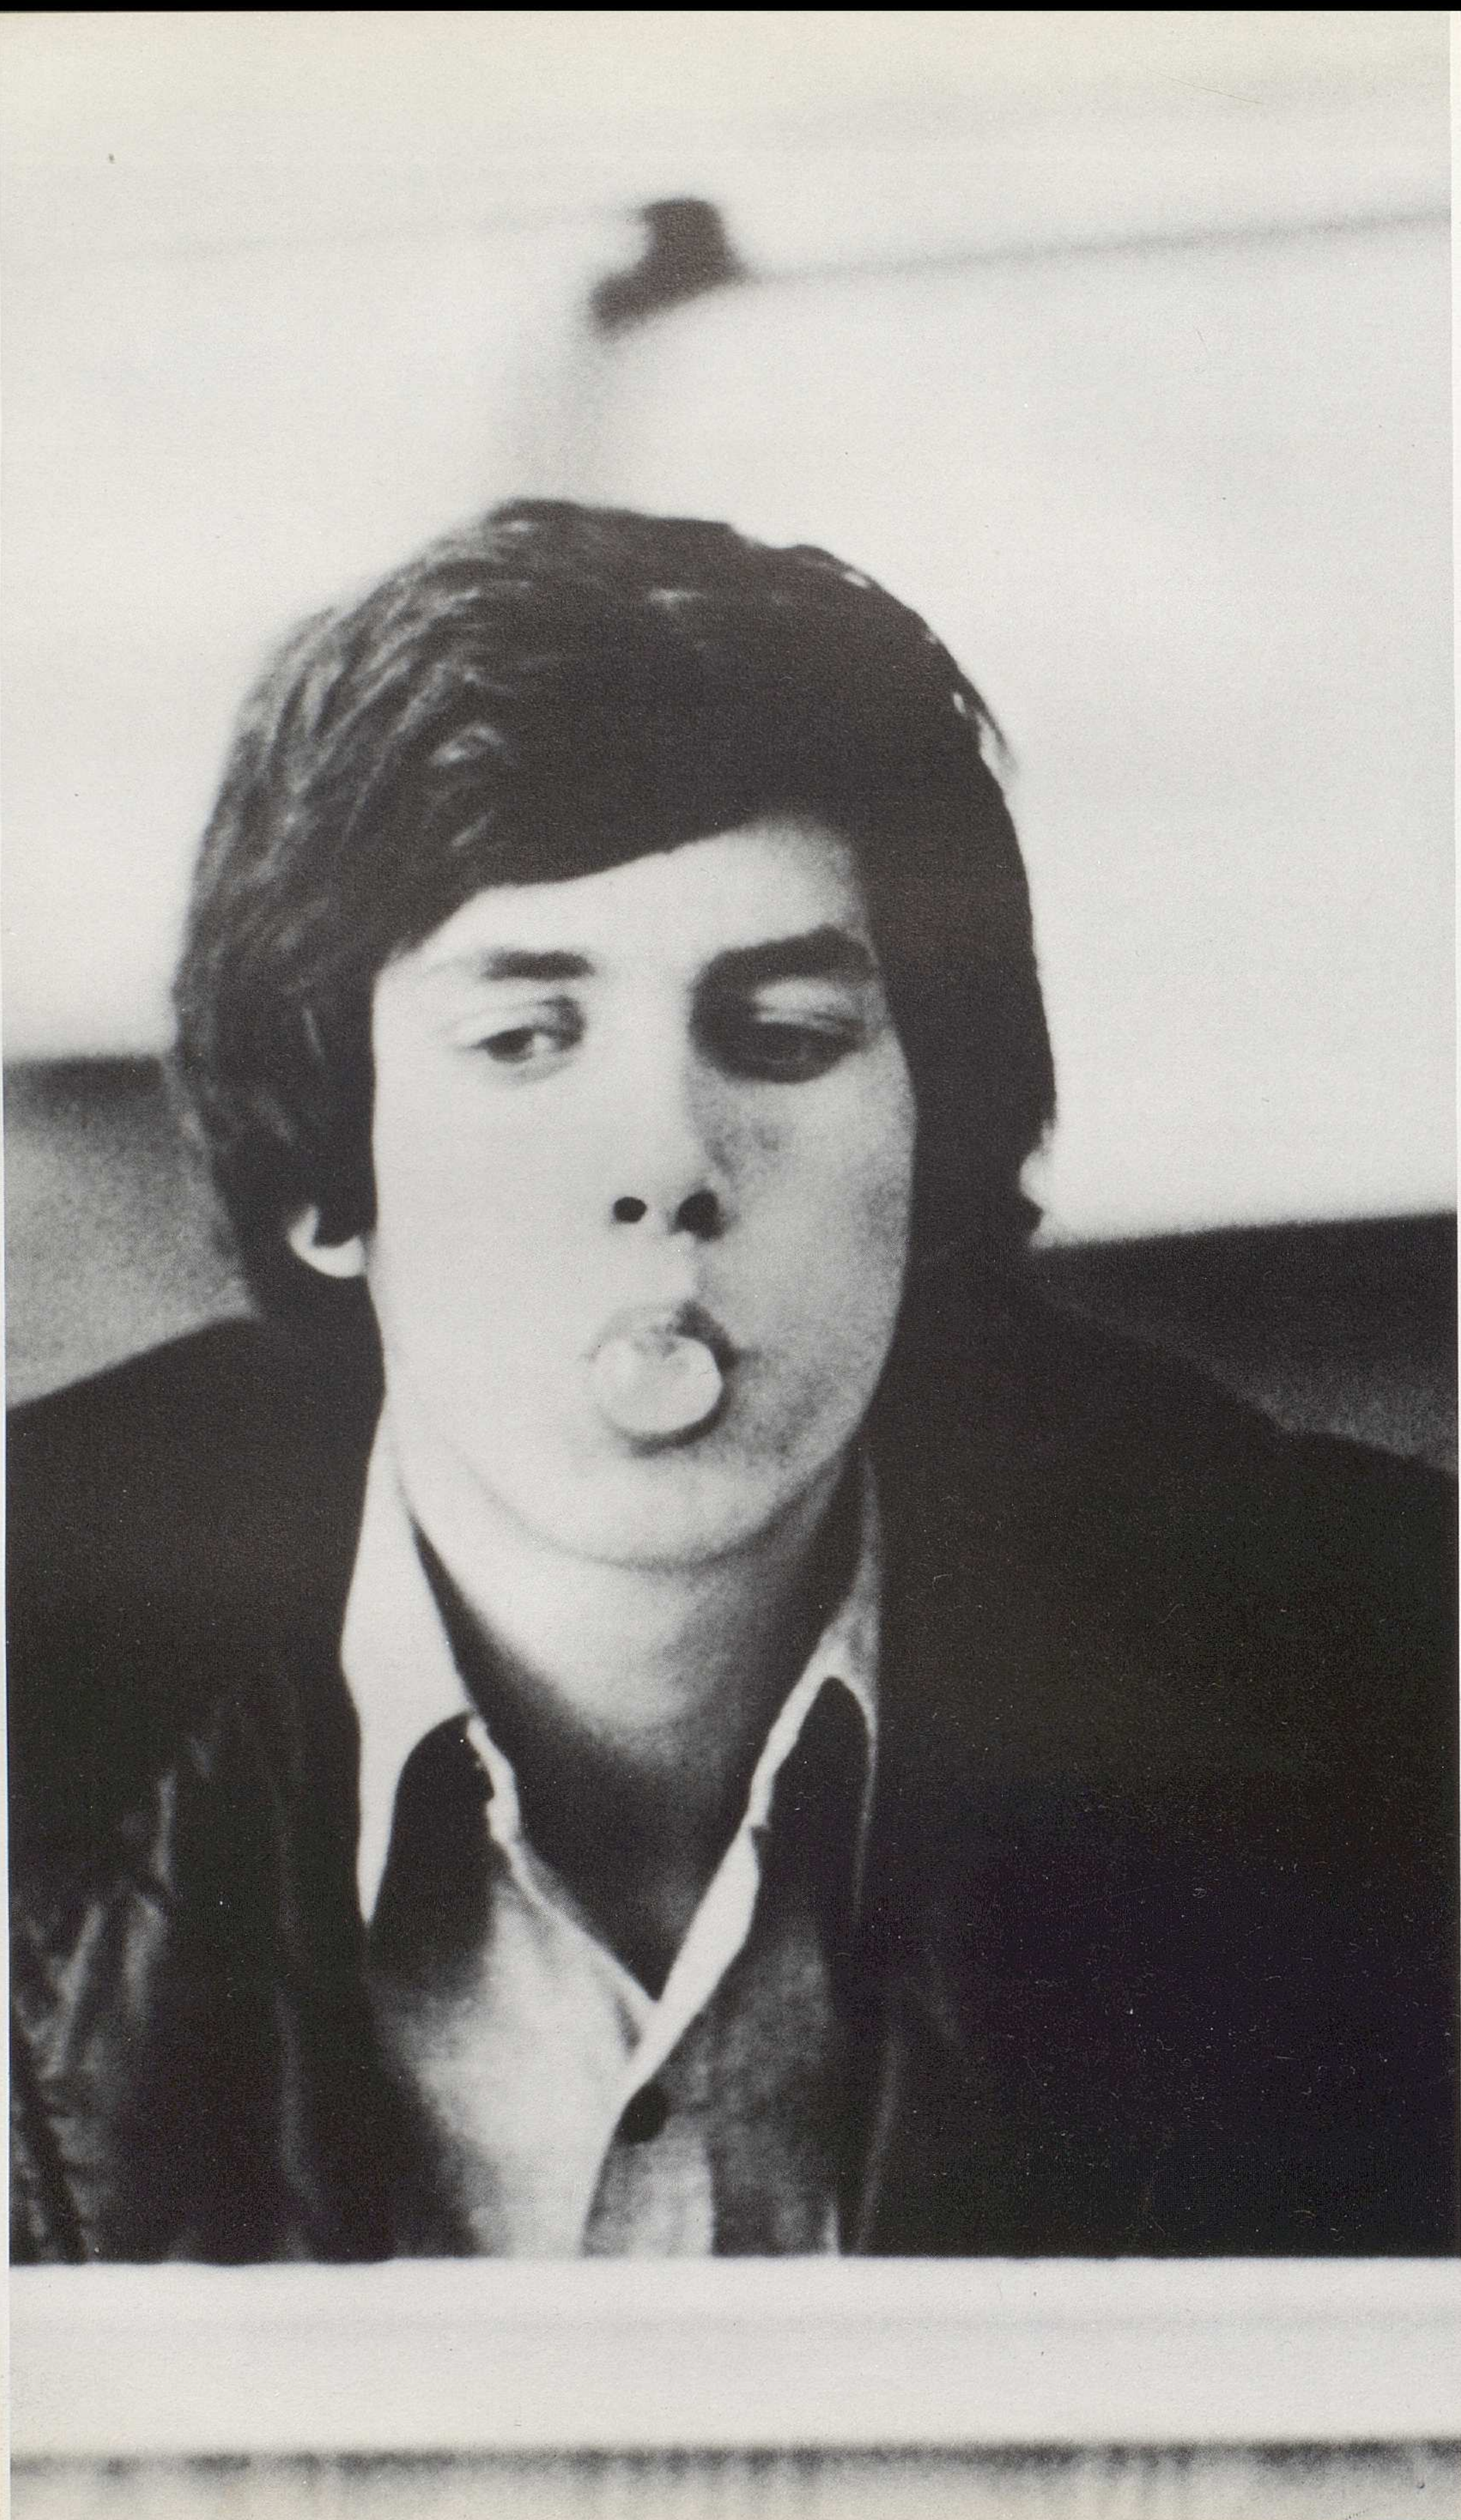

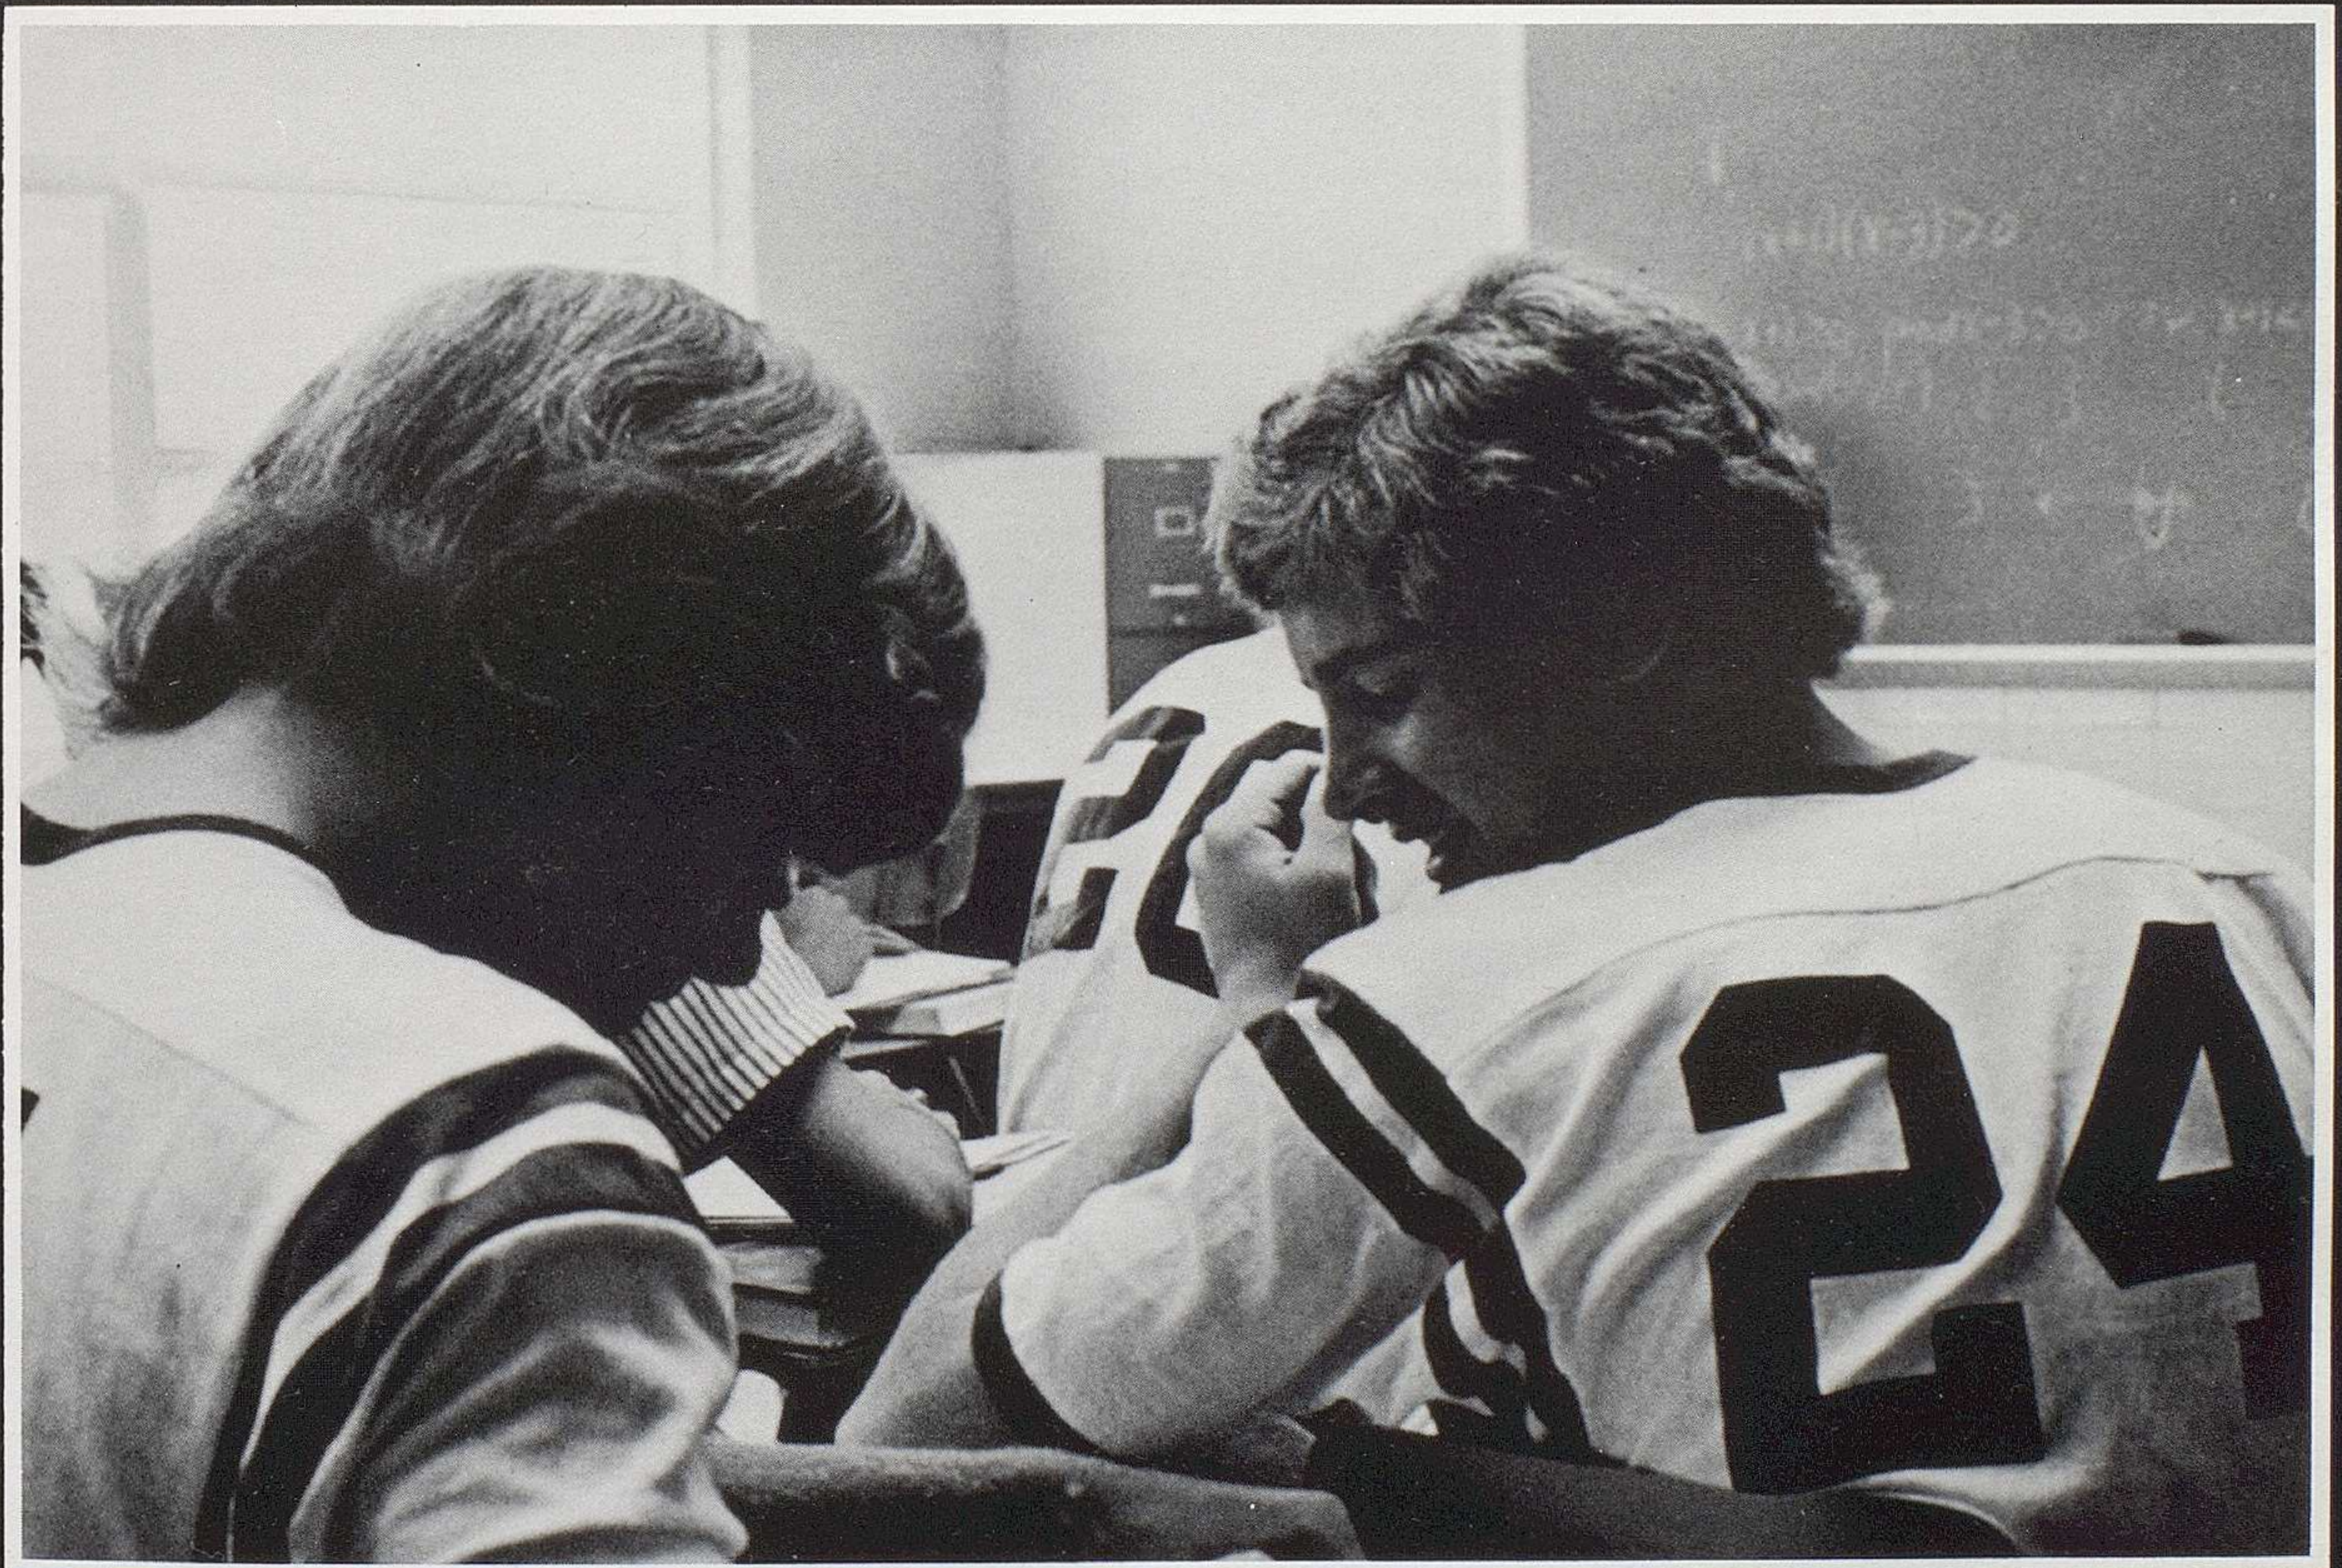

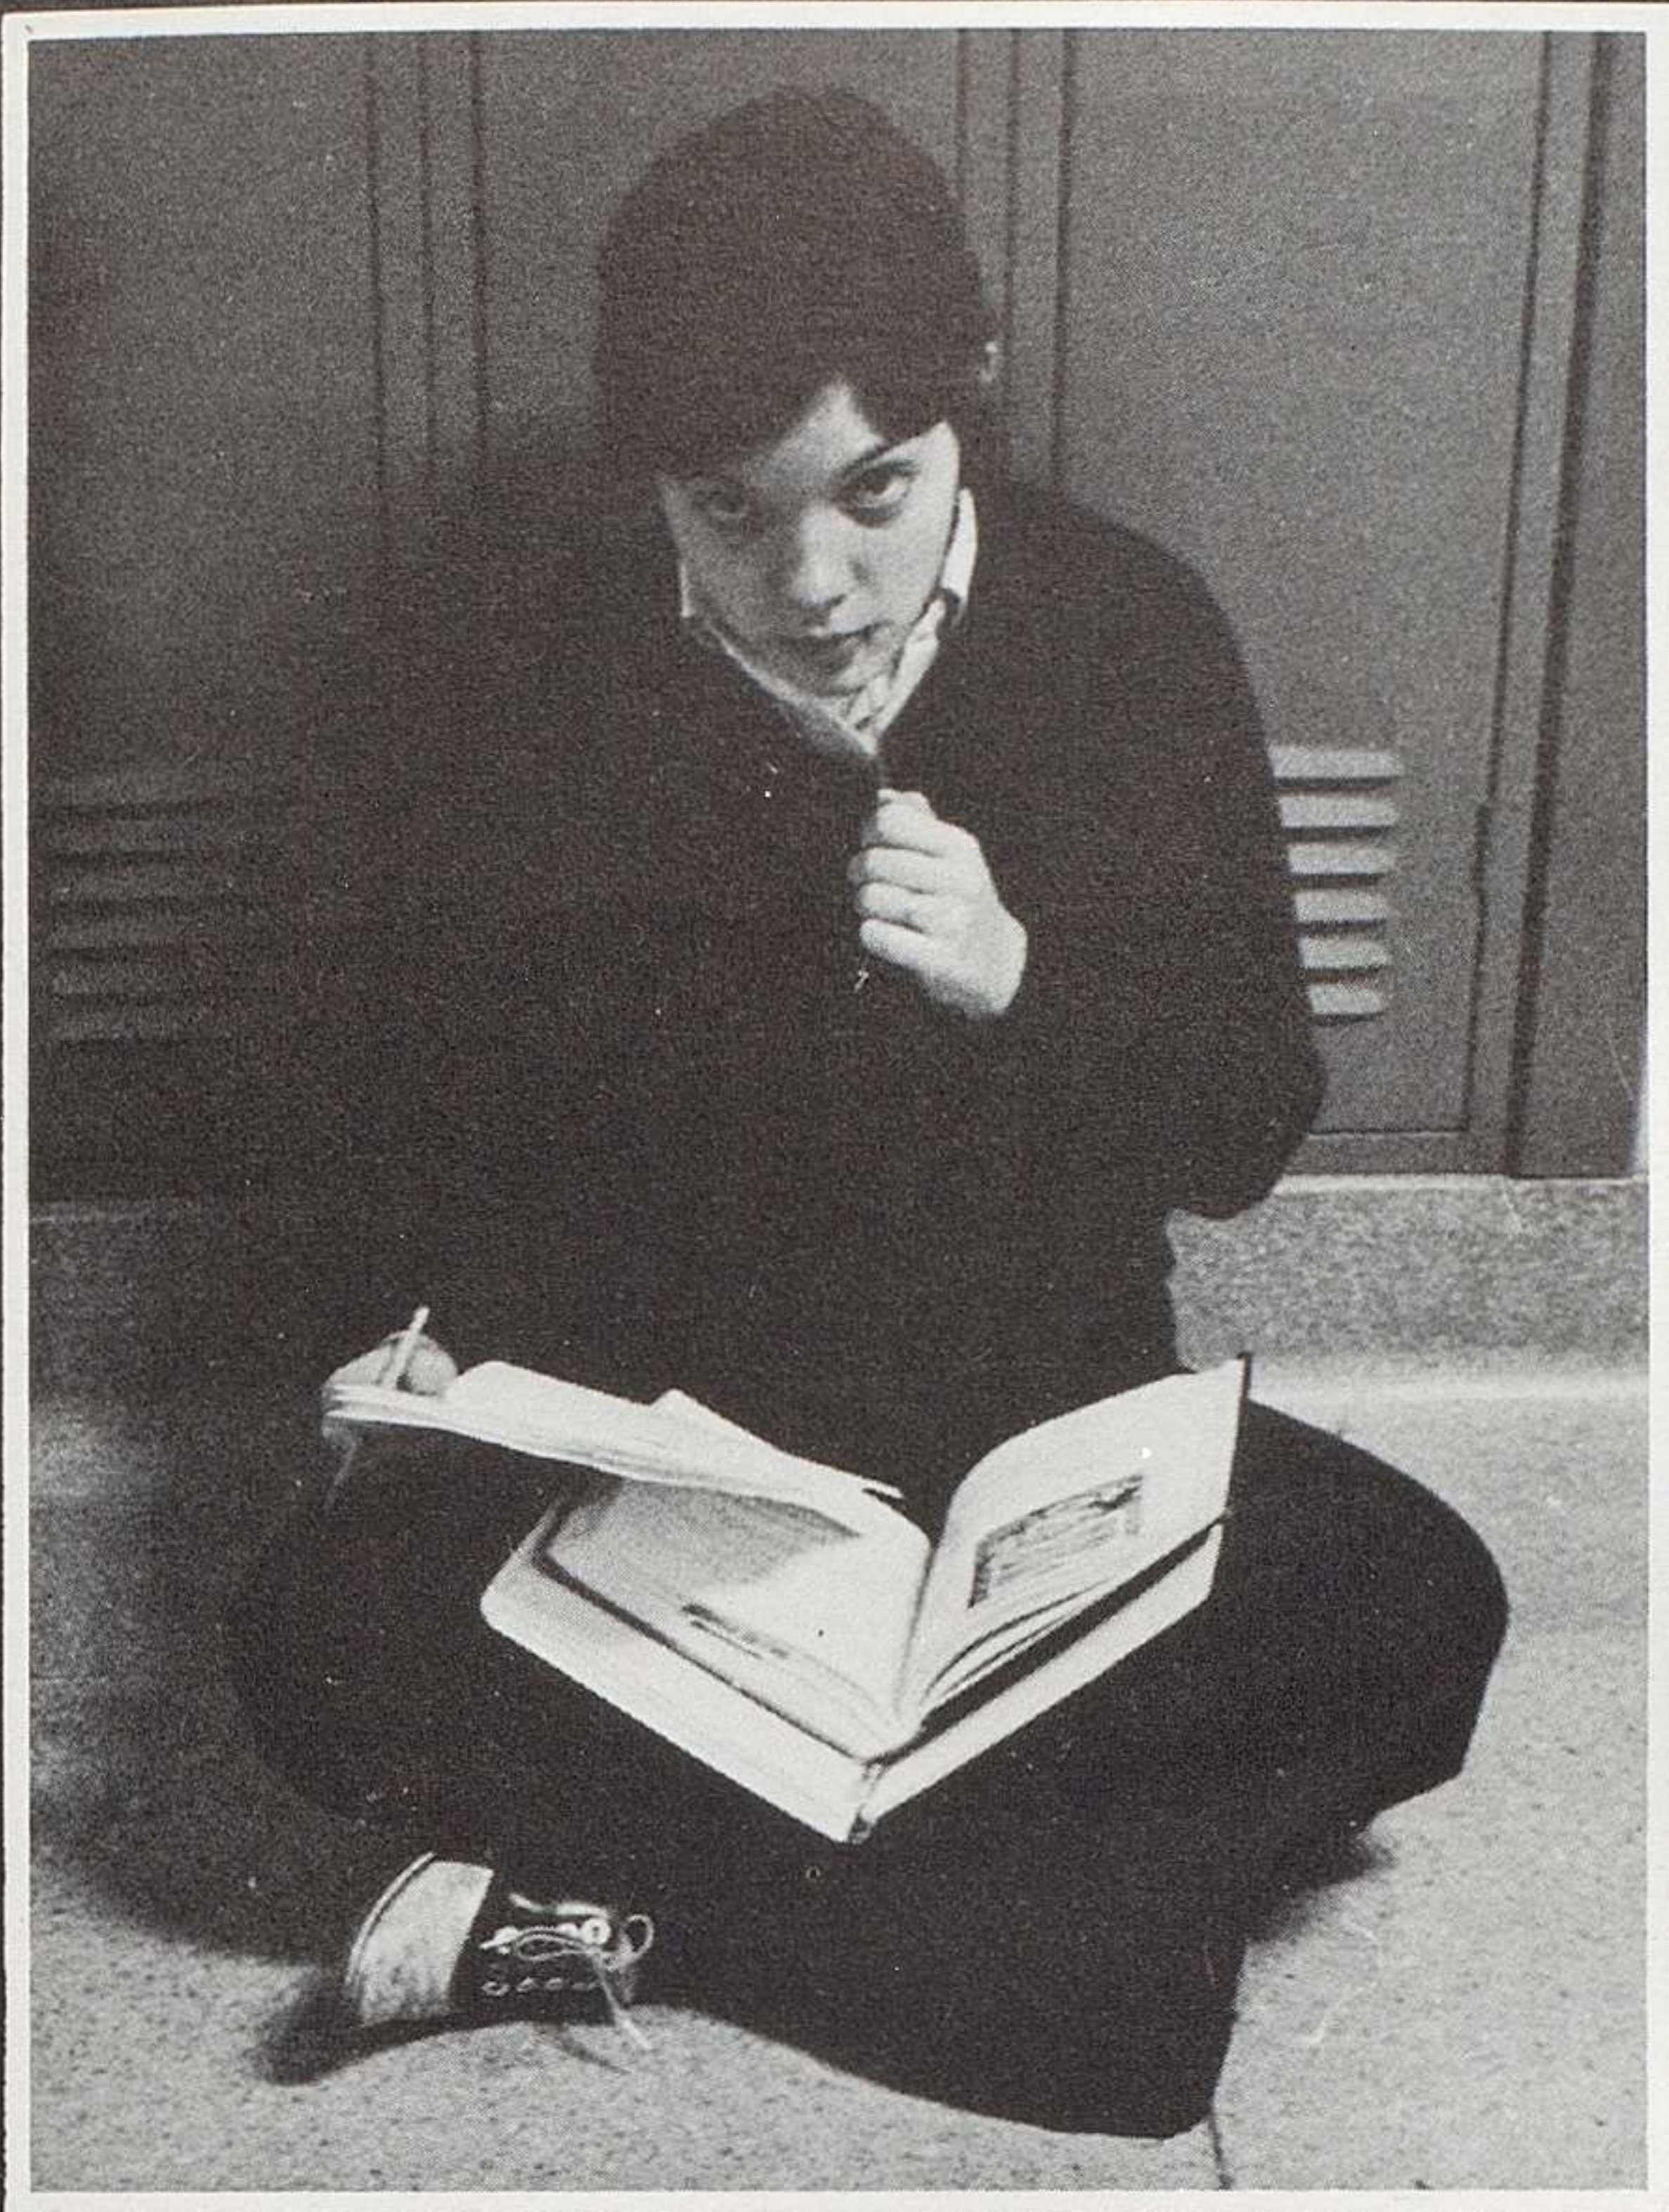

Activities, like a prism, let the light literally or figuratively show its colors: athletics show your physical prowess, service organizations let you light the world with dedication. And there are dances where it's fun to try to be the most colorful person.

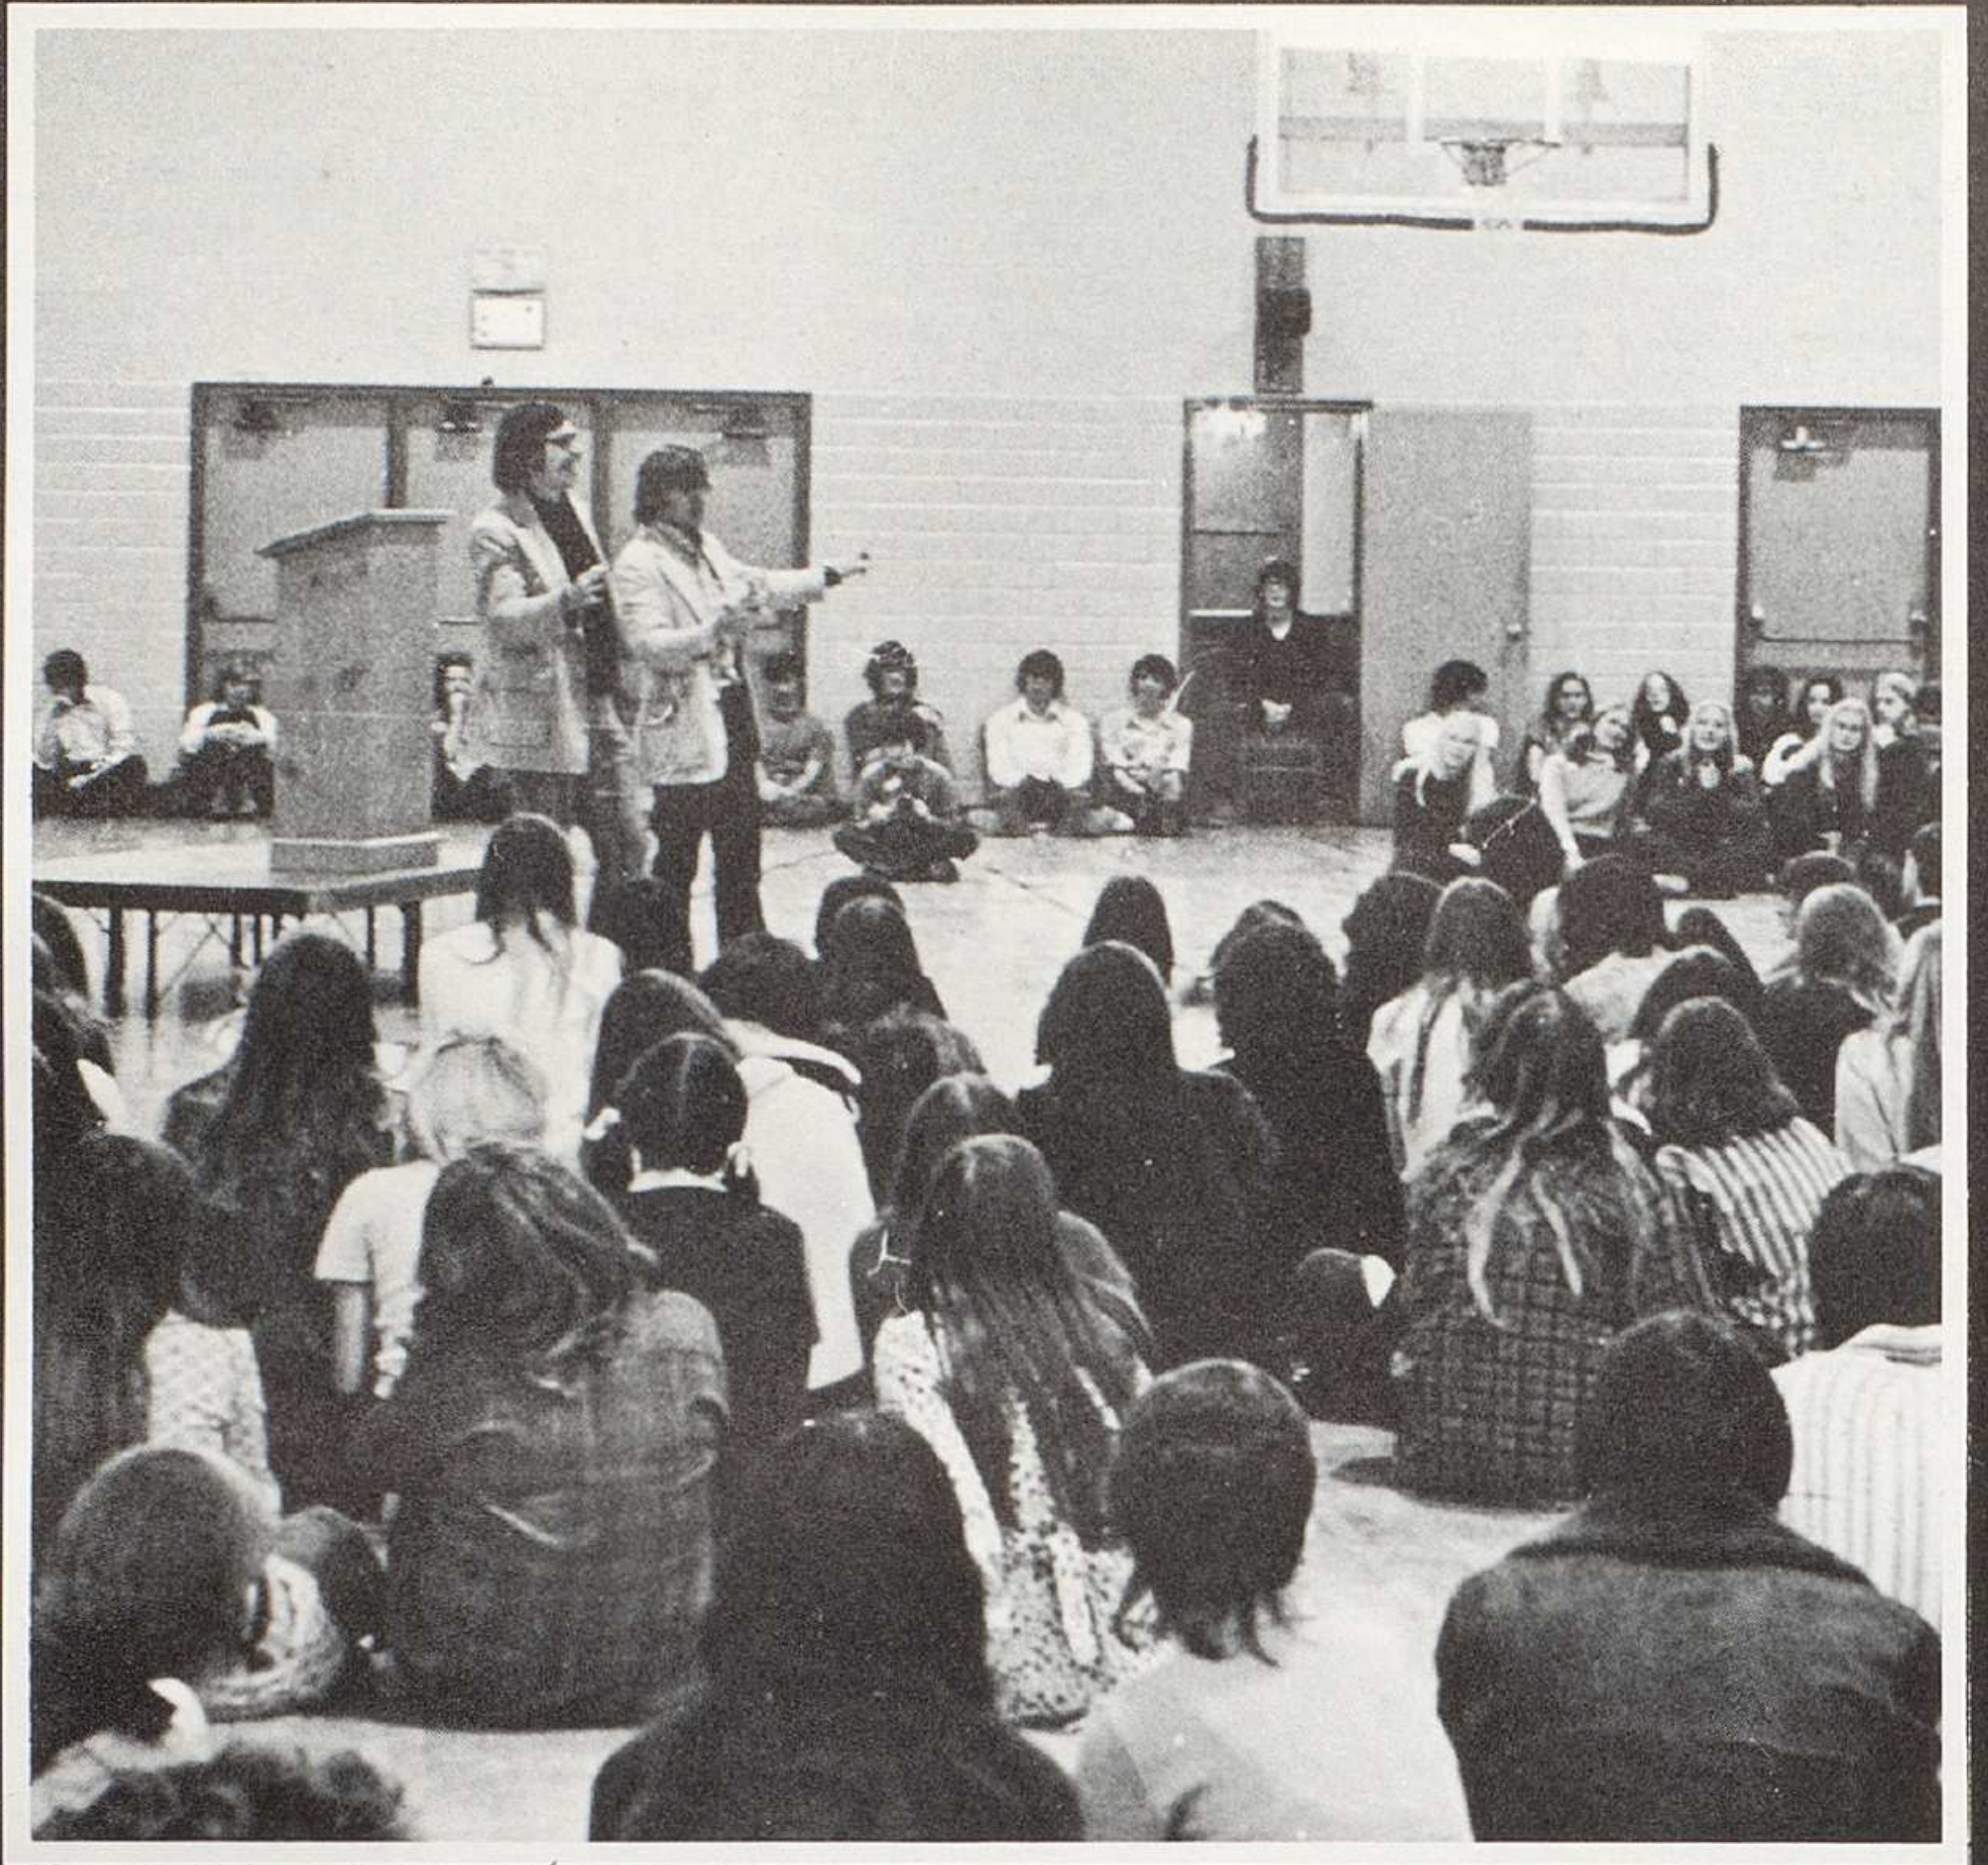

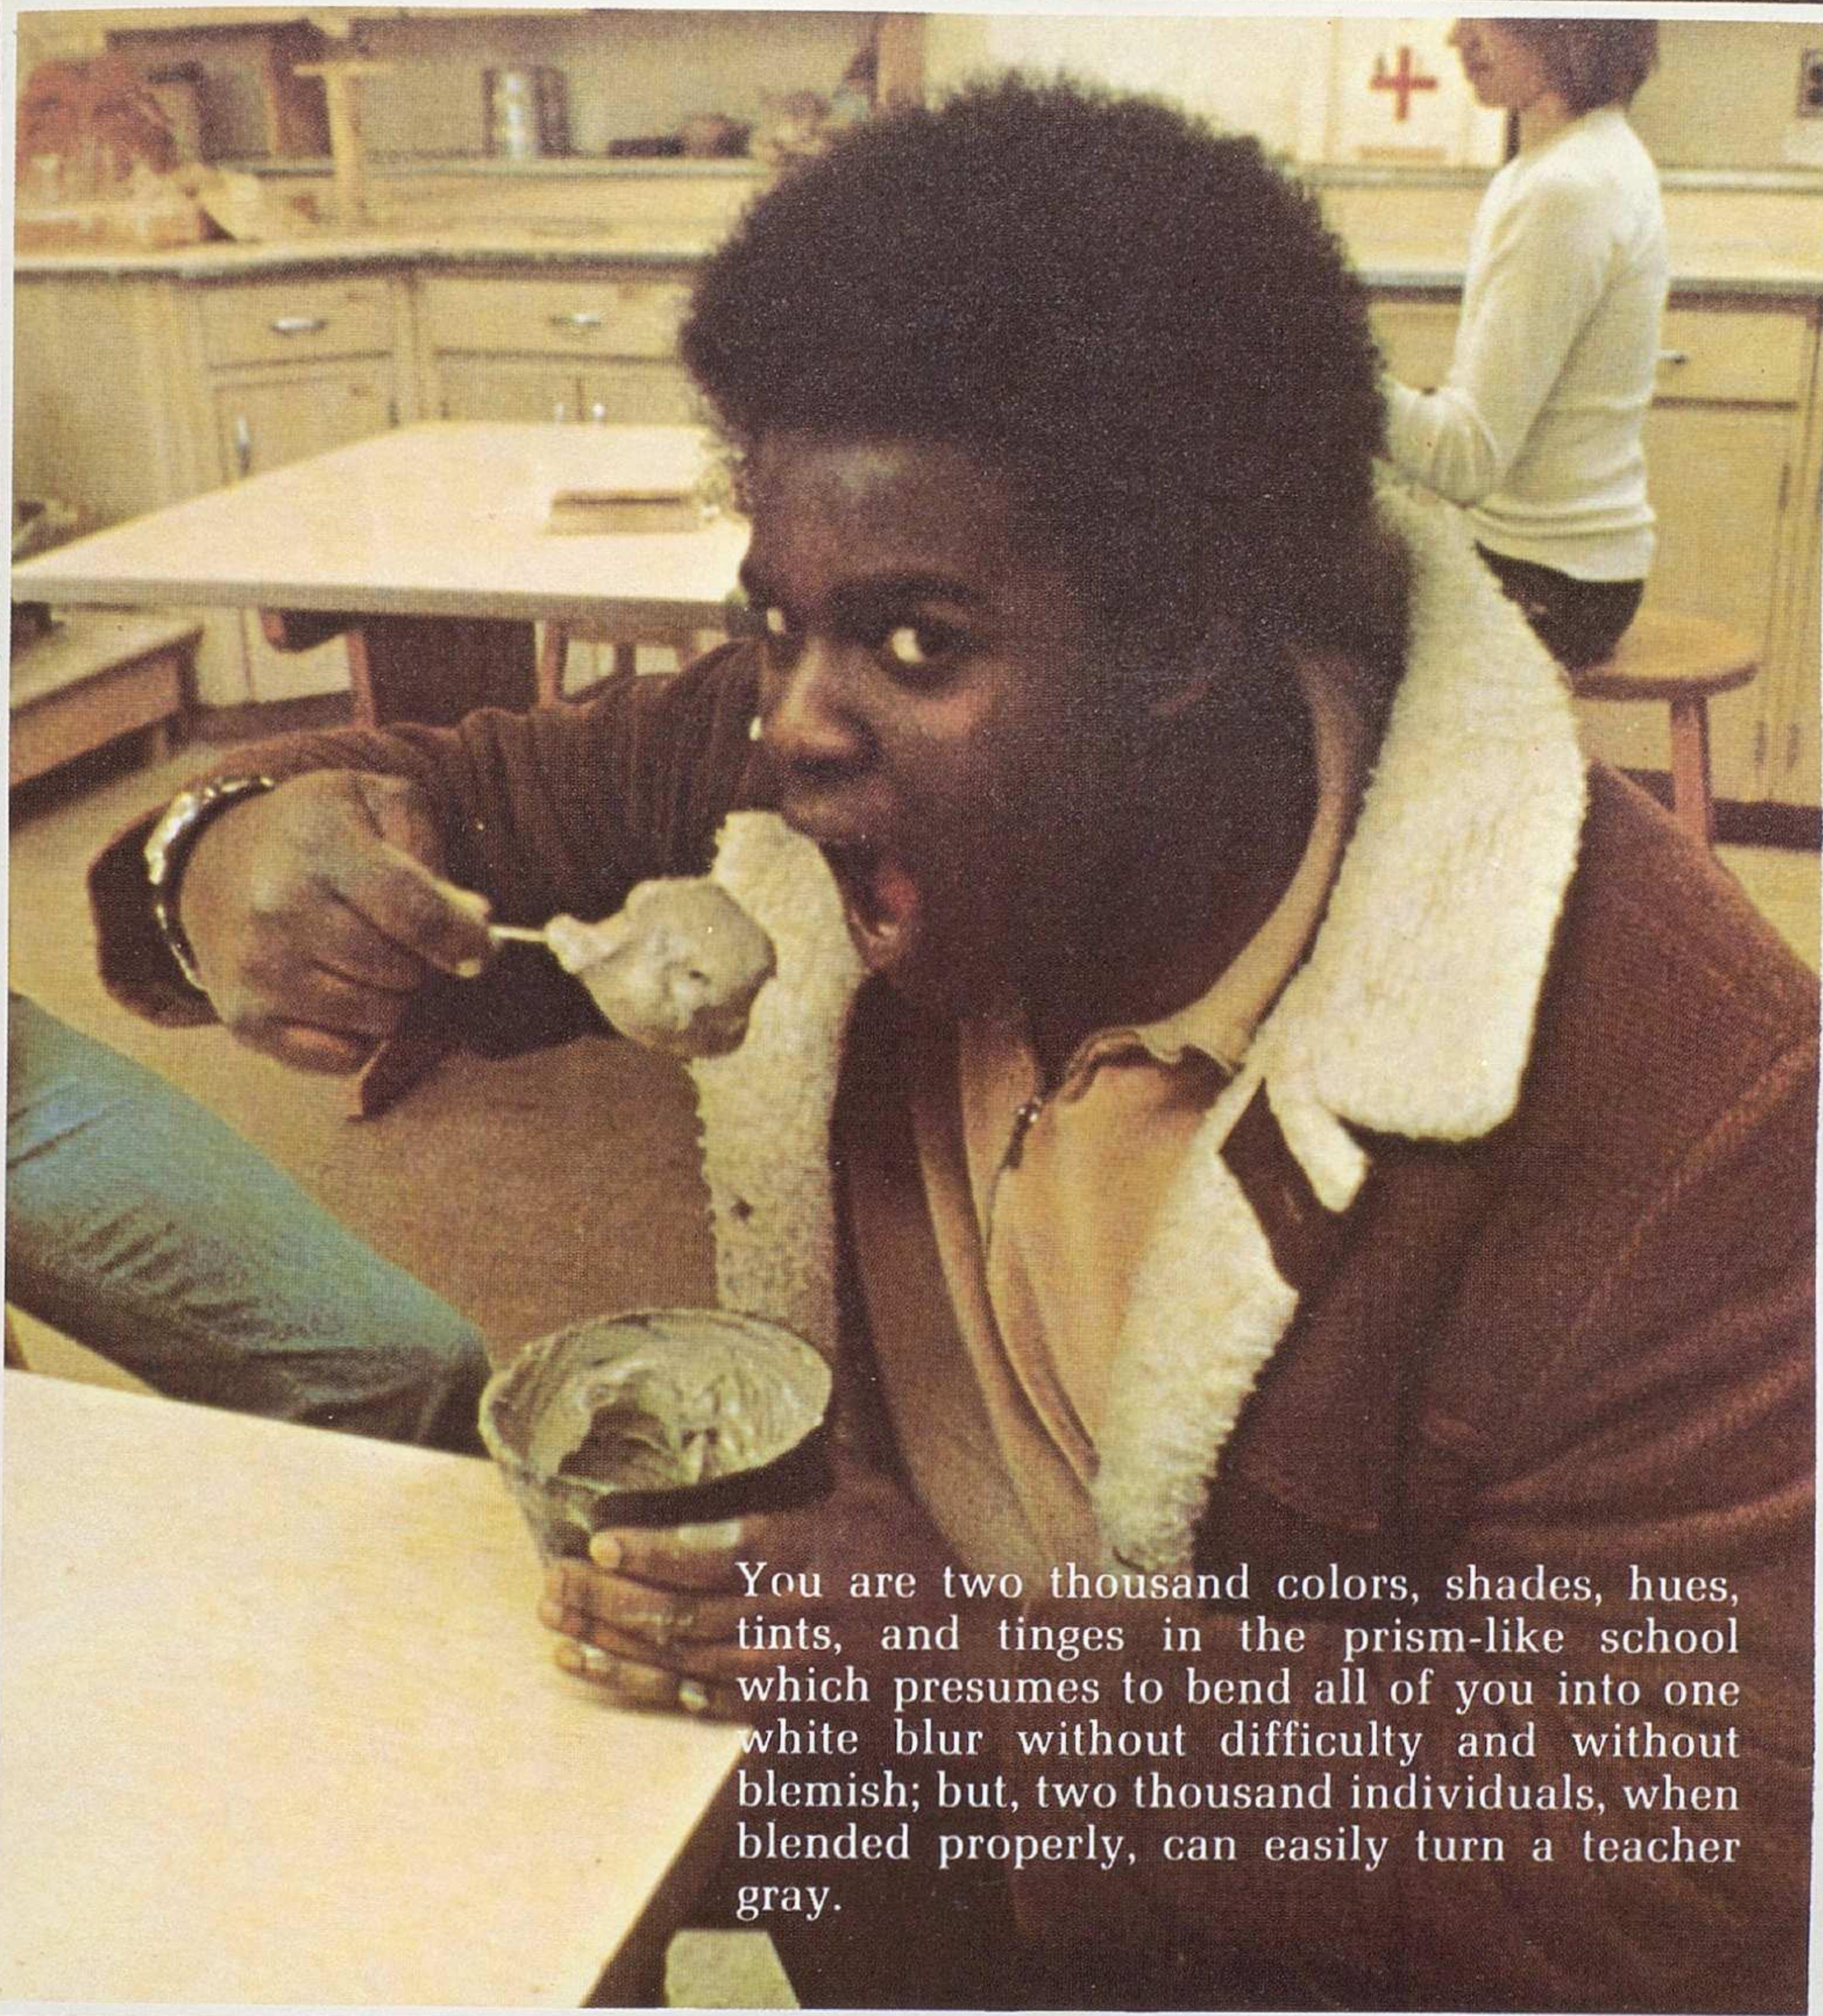

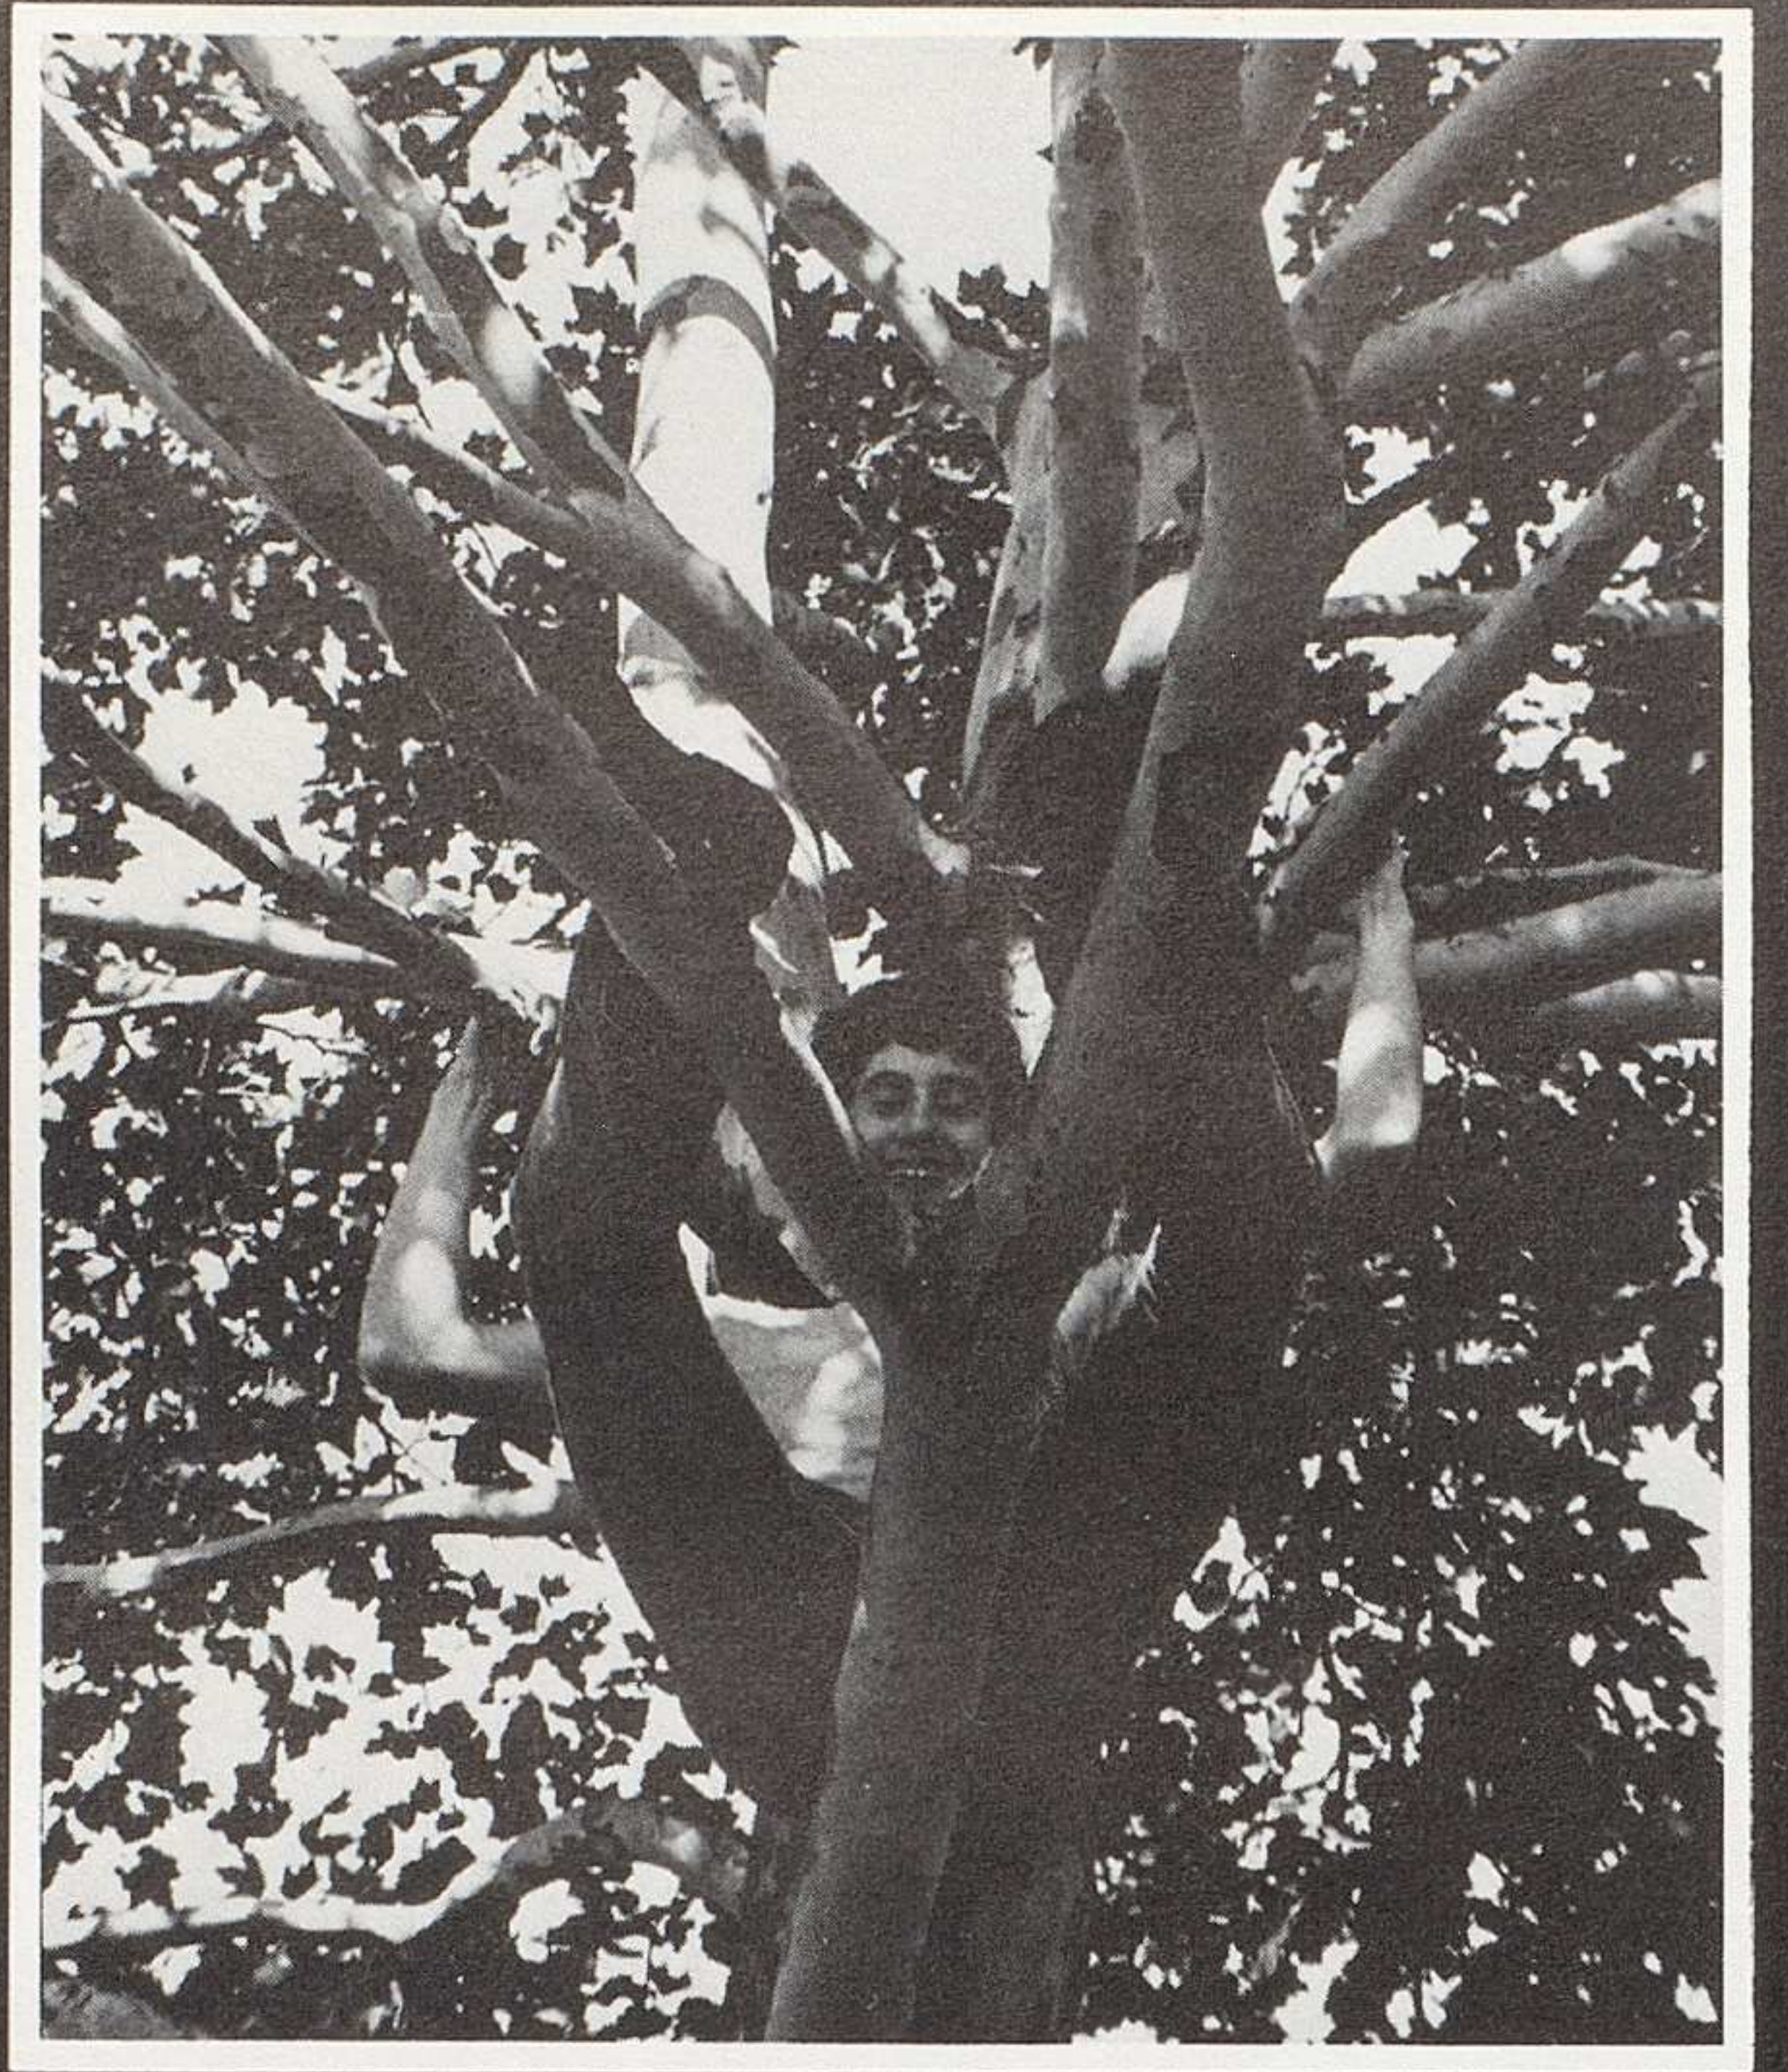

You are two thousand colors, shades, hues, tints, and tinges in the prism-like school which presumes to bend all of you into one white blur without difficulty and without blemish; but, two thousand individuals, when blended properly, can easily turn a teacher gray.

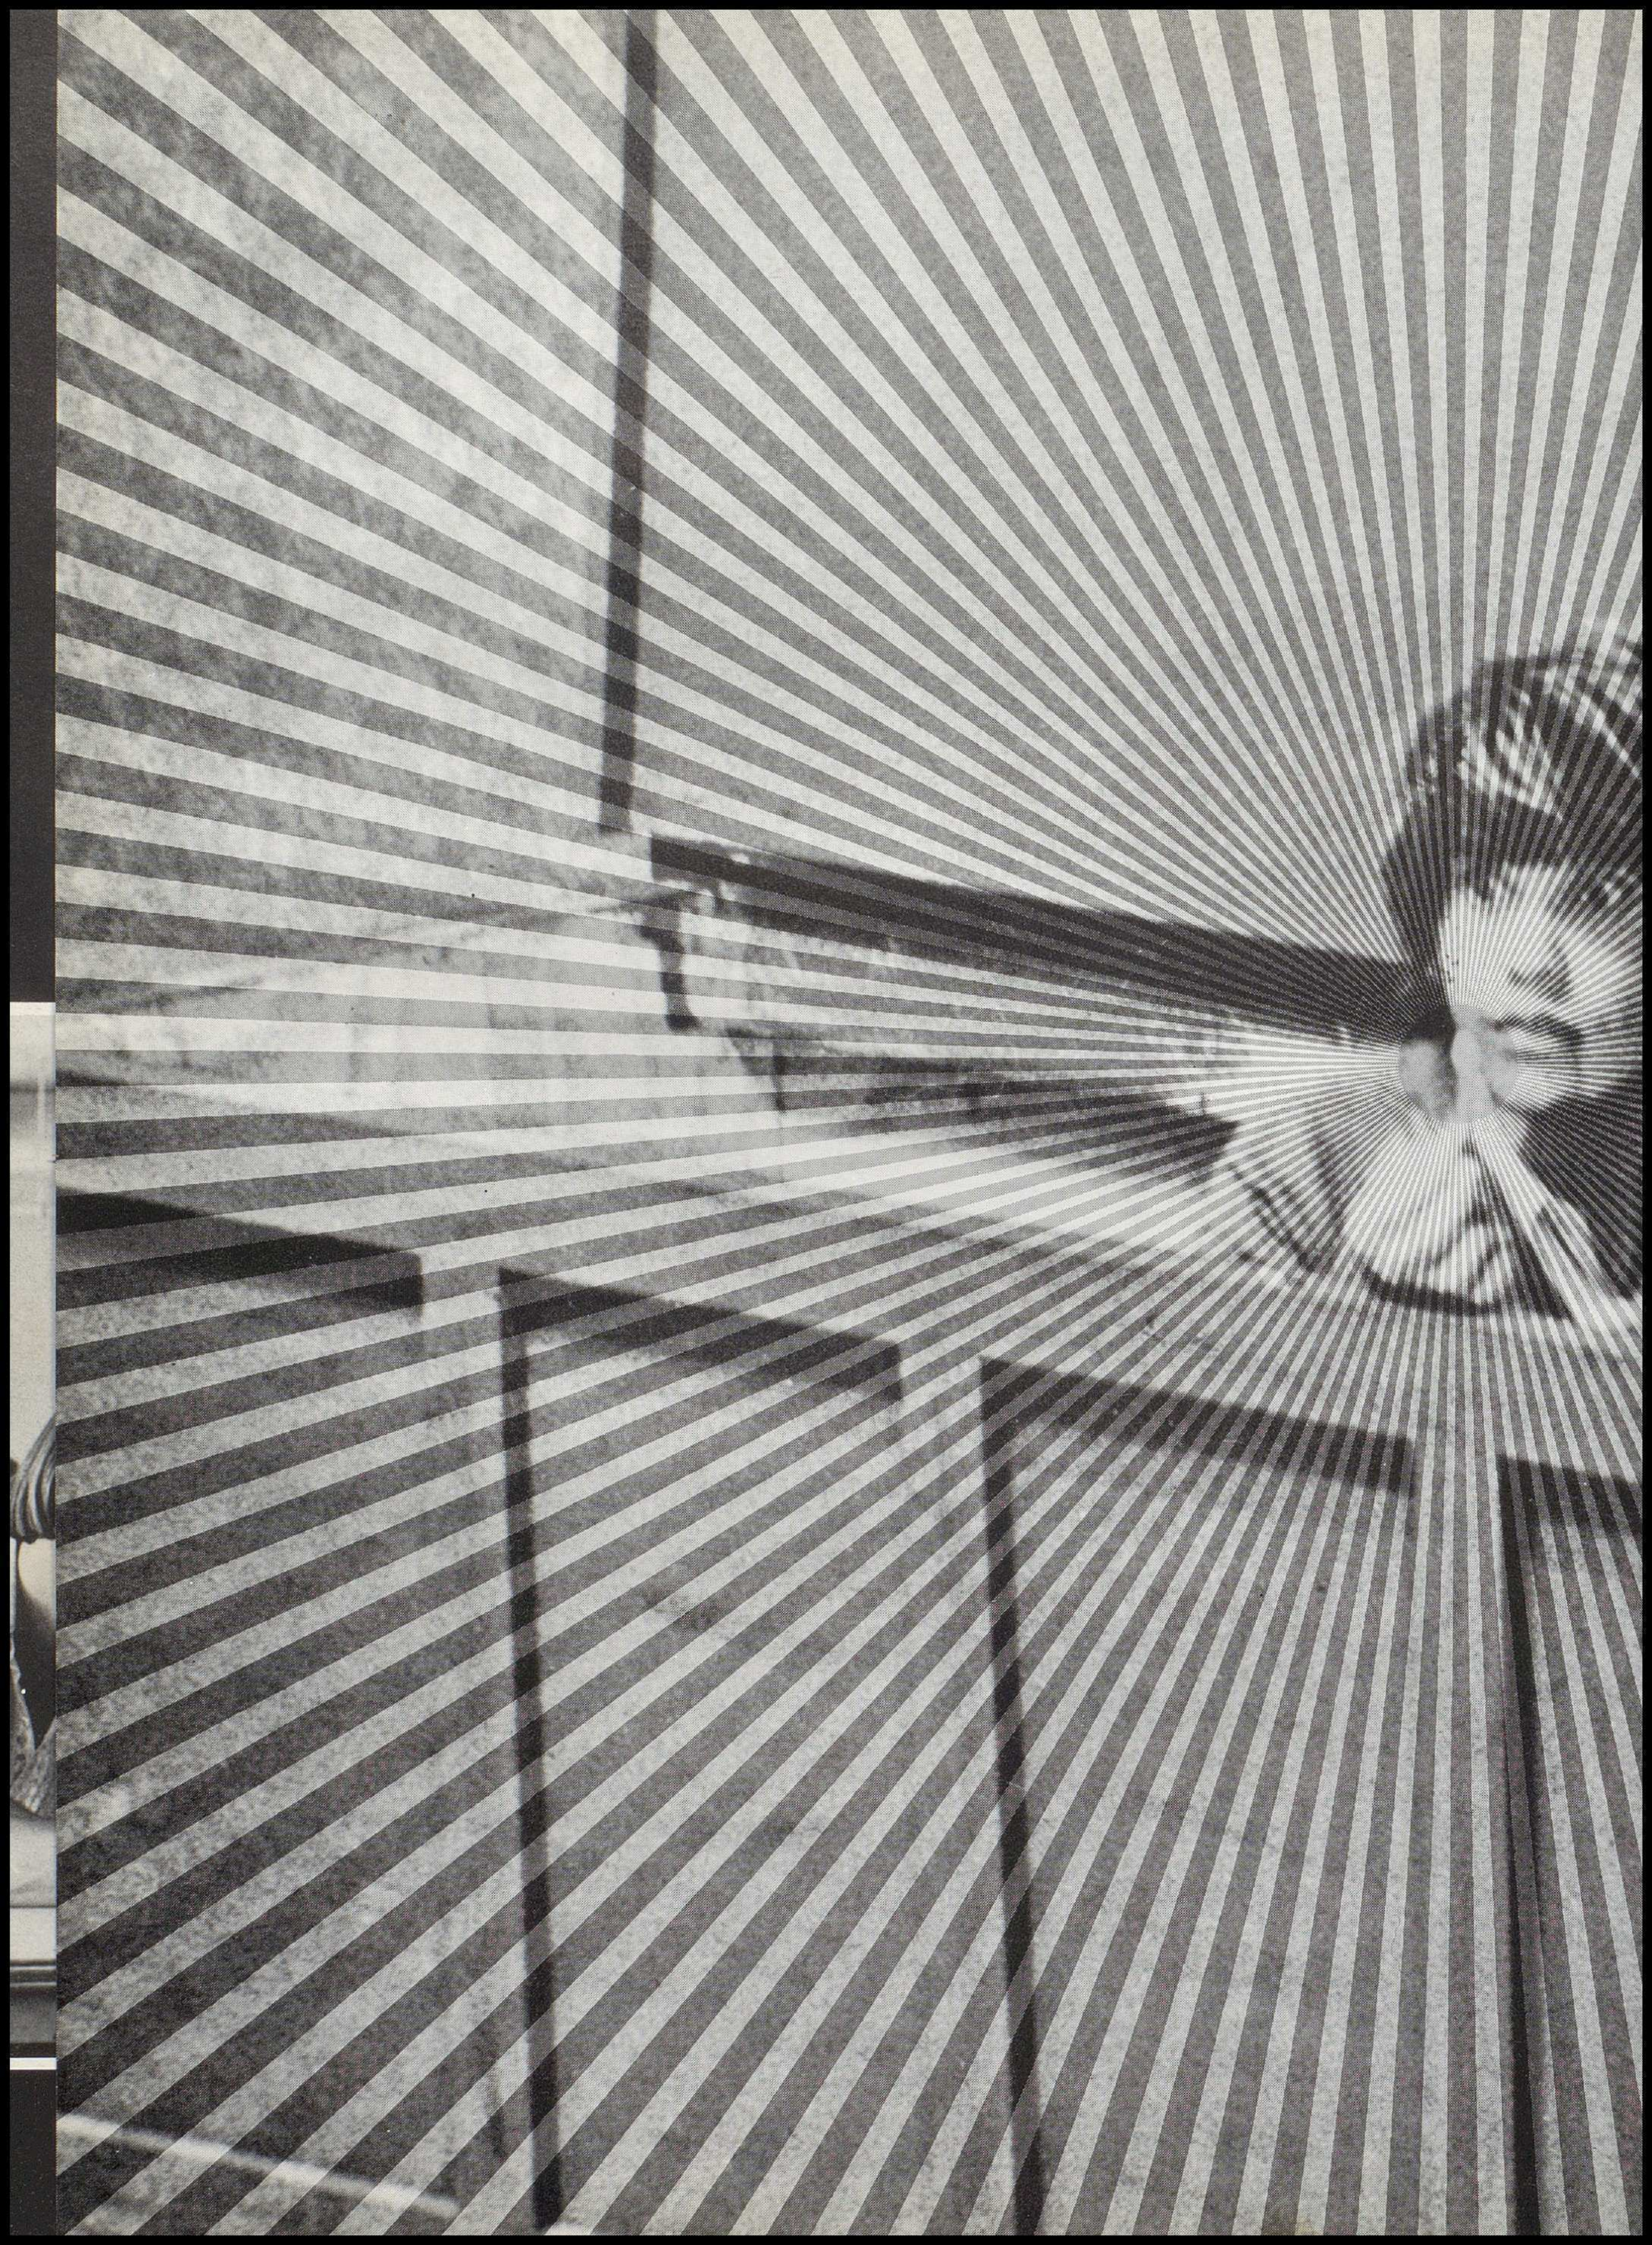

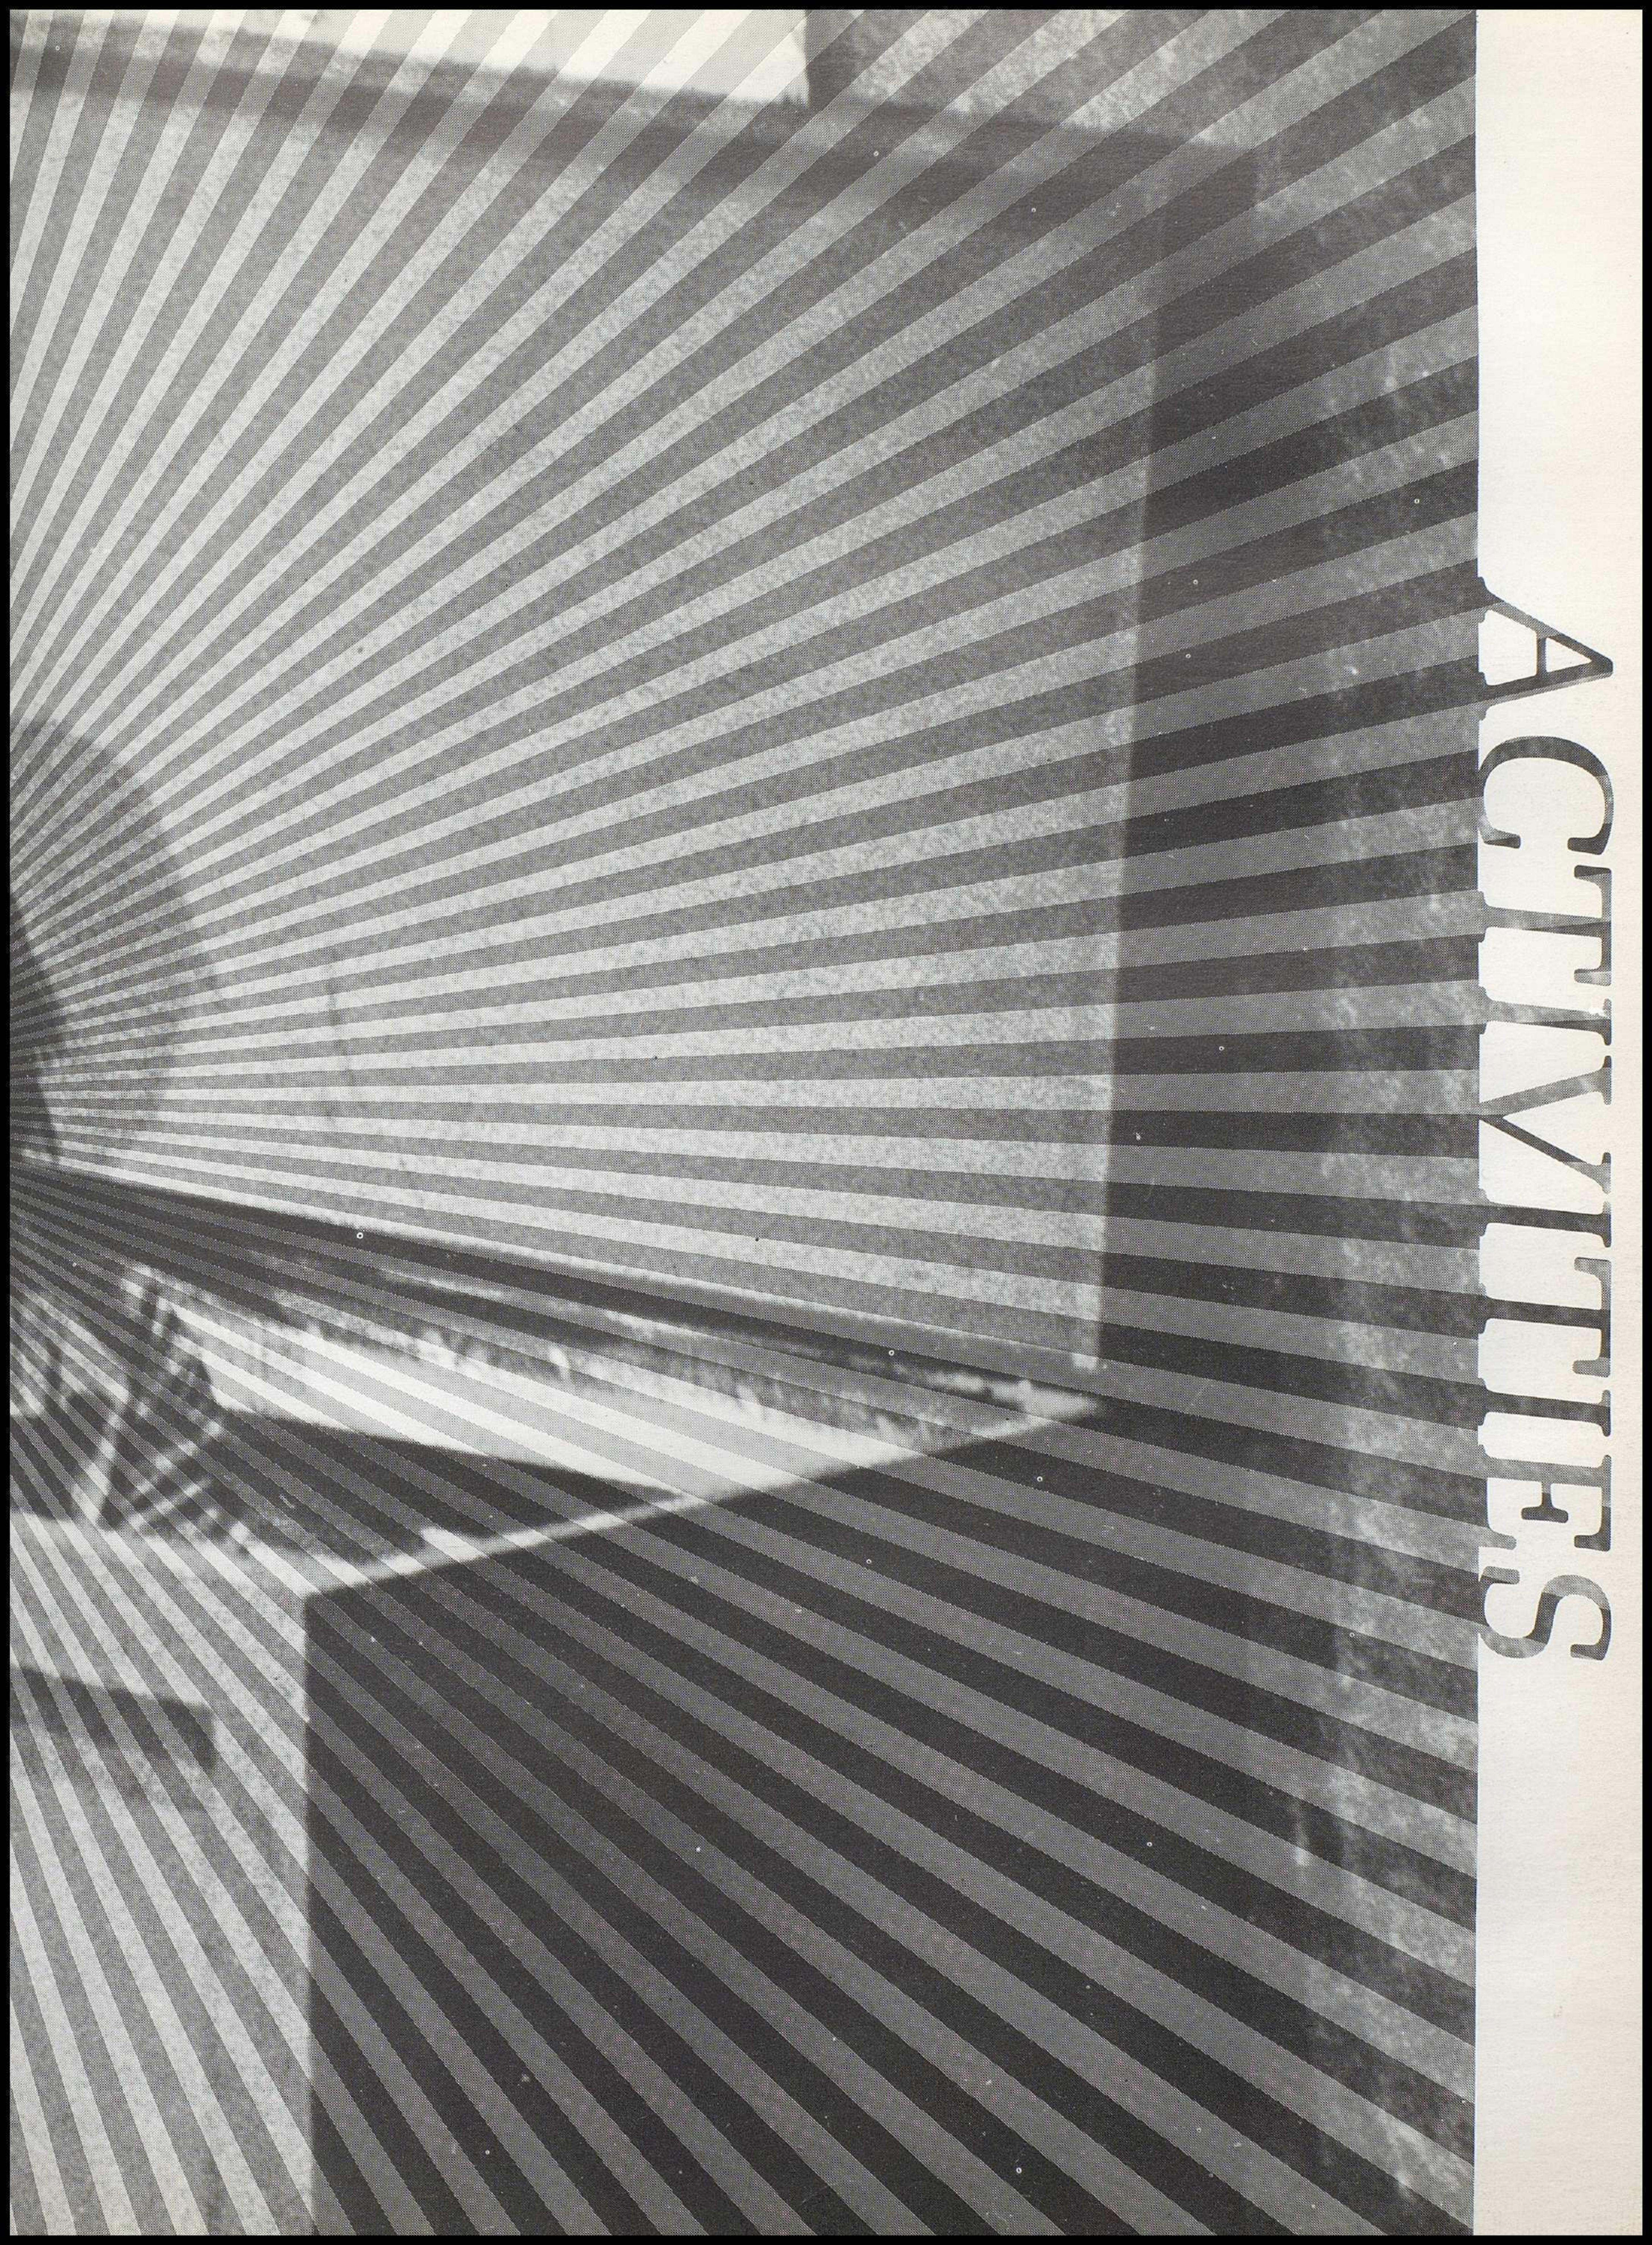

Arise, shane! The light is upon you to show you yourself as one in a million, or as one of a million

ACTIONARIES

Drunken excitement, professional smiles, and nervous butterflies fill the nominees. What will I say if I am elected Homecoming Queen? What will I do if I'm elected? A special parade, a special court made up of future high school queens, floats, and the co-captains' kisses all glorify the winner of the contest and remind the also-rans of their defeat. And then there is a Homecoming Concert to swim in the music and maybe wade out onto the floor to sneak a dance.

Pretend you're someone you're not. Shed your present image and be someone else for a weekend. Work for a month to try to fool the throngs into believing you're an old spinster, a cop, or a deranged maniac. Live your "Arsenic and Old Lace" role. And it ends with the putting away of costumes, scraping off the greasepaint, and striking the set. But there'll be other plays during the year.

Brigadoon blooms under sable skies one day every hundred years—a miracle granted by God so that the village would never be in any century long enough to be touched by its evils. Two hunters stumble into Brigadoon on one such day, and romances develop. Indeed, 'twas a sprightly bit o' drama on a spring night.

Winniesome songs and dances made this year's Children's Play, a musical version of the classic "Winnie-the-Pooh", more than "bearable" for audiences young and old. A.A. Milne's humorous characters were complimented by the accurate type-casting made by Mrs. Connor and Miss Rosenberg.

Lovers and friends attended the Juniors' Prom given in honor of the Seniors. "A Touch of the Orient" was the chosen theme. Trees were in blossom. A waterfall trickled. A dragon reclined lazily in a corner. For those attending, the evening became a nirvana. For those skillfully creating the exotic illusion, the evening prompted a good many headaches. Prom co-chairmen Ross Long and Debbie Kladivko capably coordinated the entire production, however, and the 1973 Prom took its place among the great ones.

Together for the last time, the wearing of caps and gowns creates a uniformity that symbolizes this unity, says Mr. Weissman. The second point to his reason for caps and gowns is that it gives us continuity with the past, showing that we recognize the part education has played in our culture.

Commencement recognized several roles education has played in the lives of the graduates: maturation, building of friendship, fun, sadness, hassles, showing Man's insignificance; in recognition of his large role in this education, Mr. Harold McCord was made an Honorary Graduate of Worthington High School, Class of Nineteen Hundred and Seventy-three.

Food for thought was fare enough for the annual Academic Honors Banquet. Dr. Keller, widely respected humanitarian and educator, spoke about the value of education, using examples from classical and contemporary literature.

Joanne Buxton and Debbie Banwart provided a musical interlude. Awards were passed out, and Mr. McCord received an honorary gold key for his many years of service.

Maxi- was derived from Mini-course Day, 1973. This was the day teachers were students and students did the teaching in such classes as water colors, tennis, model railroading, unicycling, hair-cutting, psychology, Indian customs, climbing, or that perennial favorite—edible wild foods. Each “student” had over one hundred options from which to choose three courses.

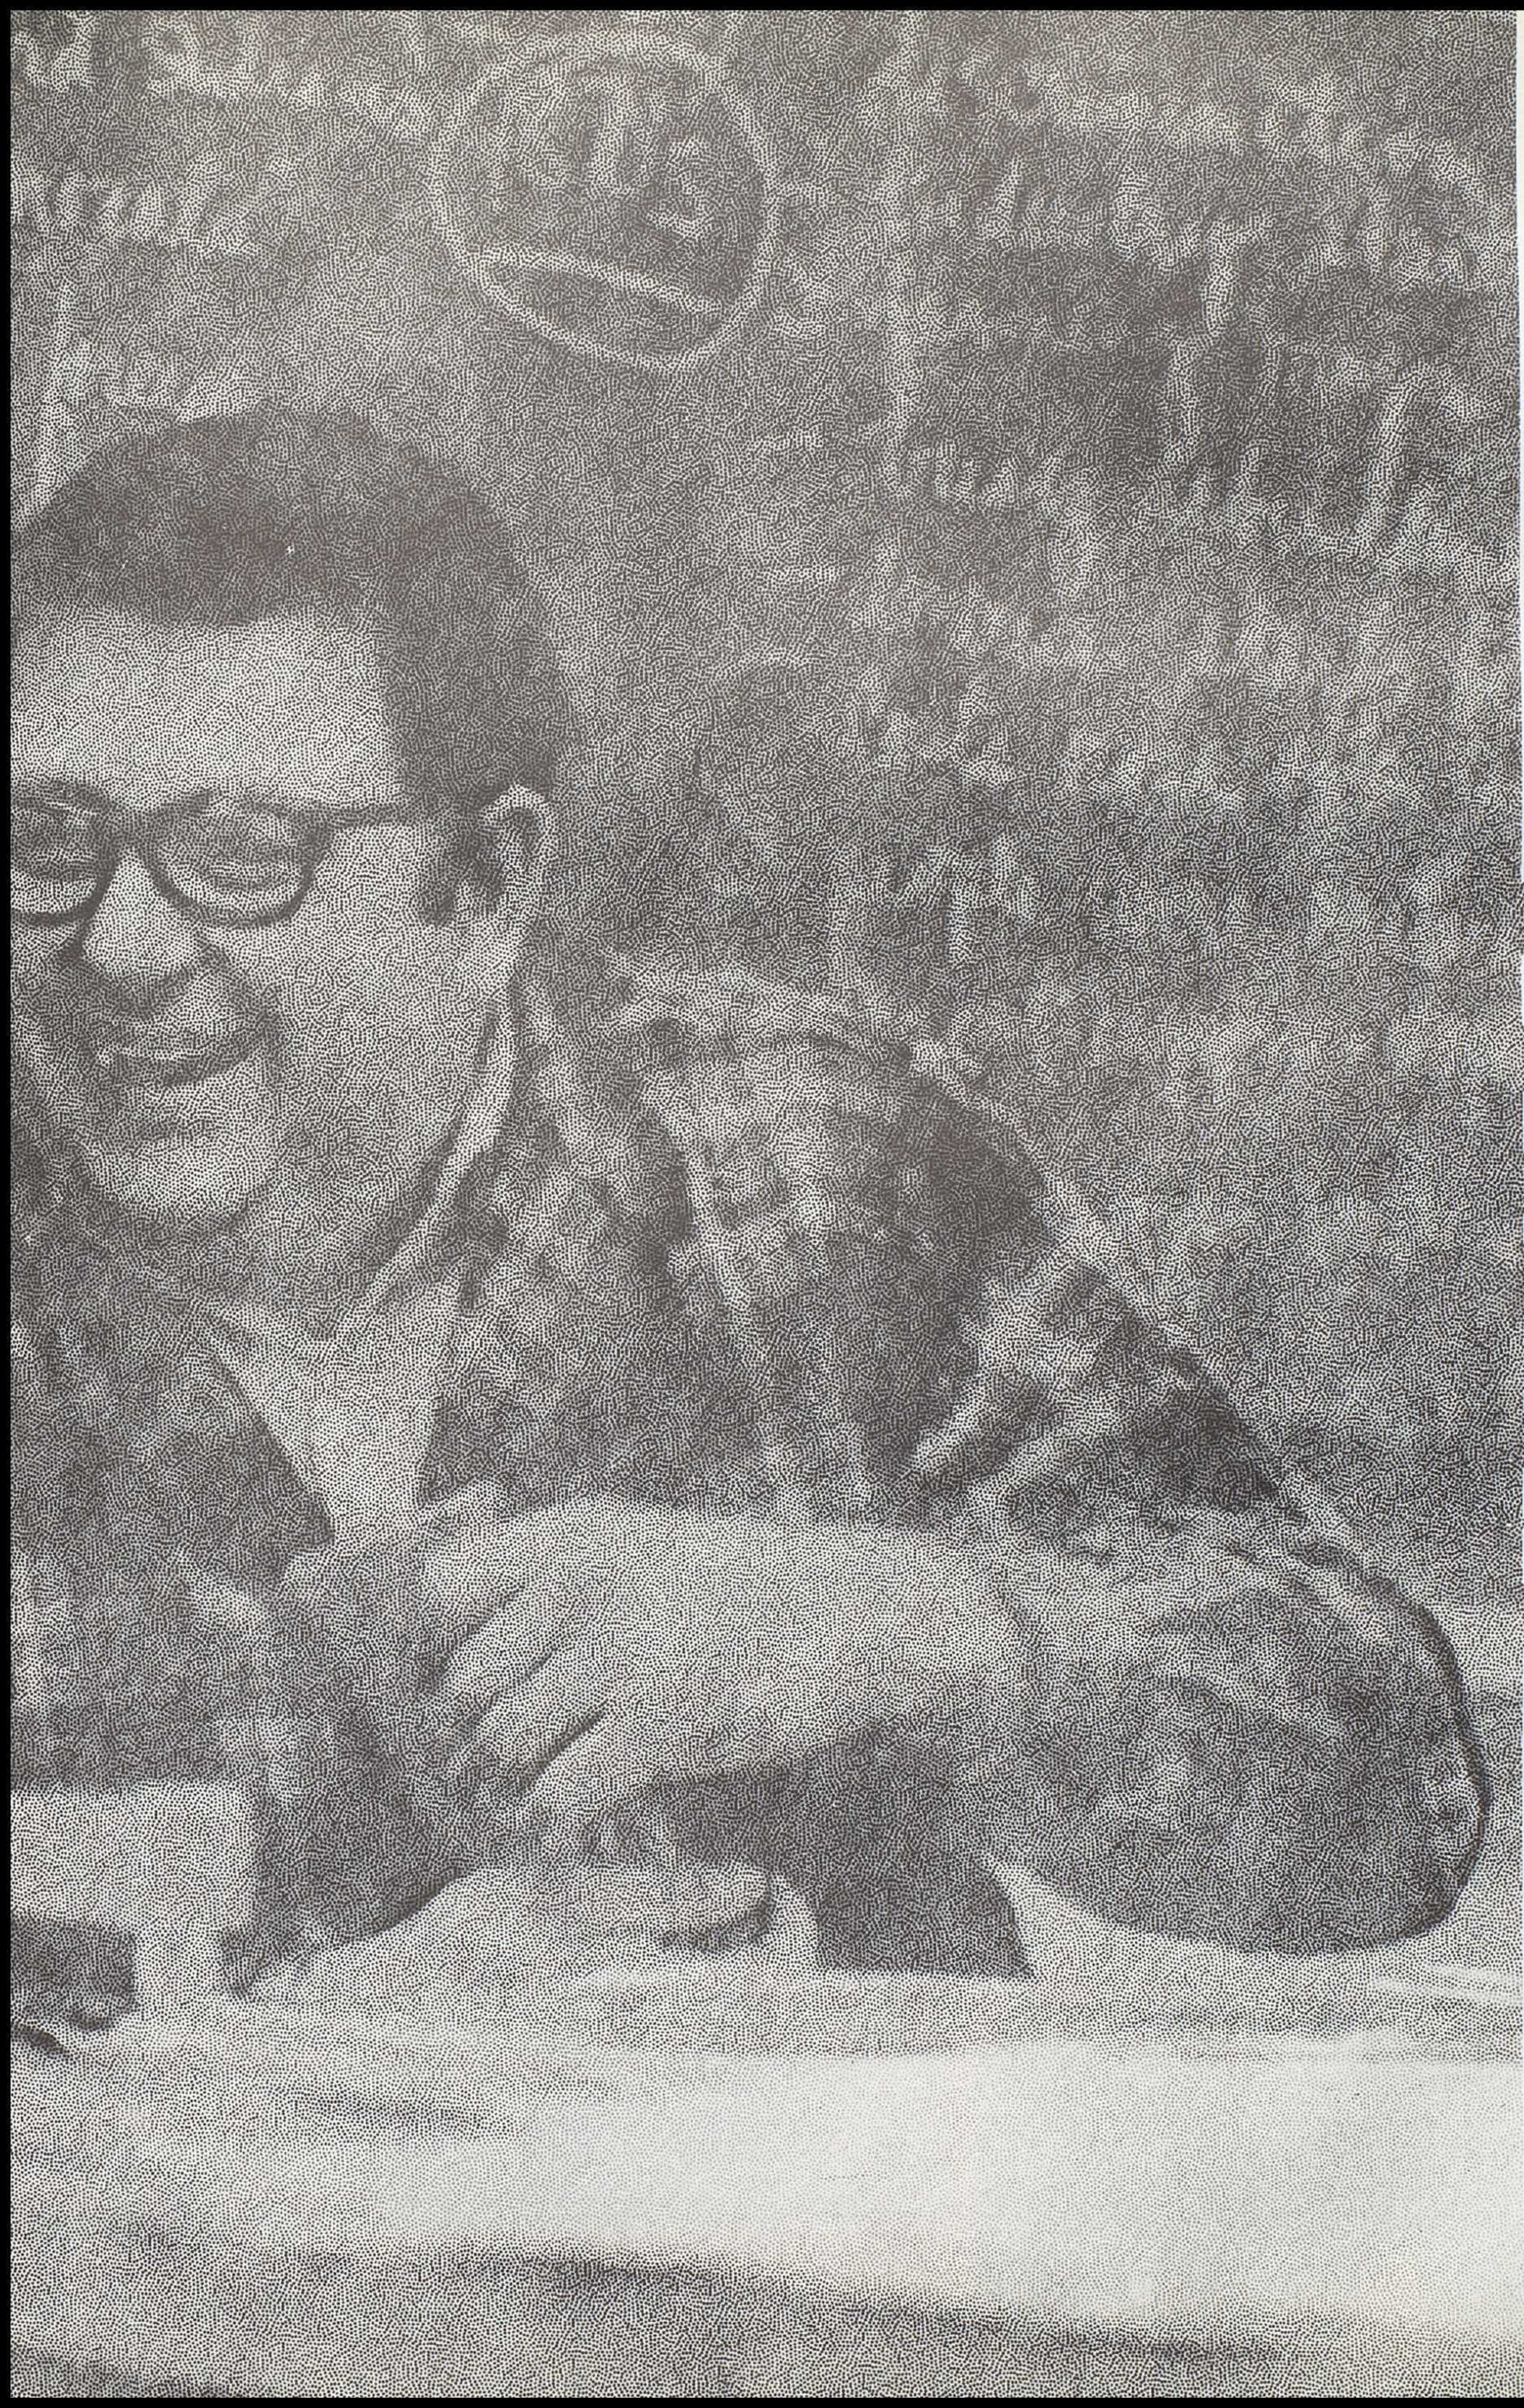

And the consensus of opinion? Have another next year!

buds forth with grains of Truth and Knowledge, germinating us with bran new ideas, preparing us for what we'll knead to make in the real world—bread. The rye teachers make it fun to be in school. The biology teachers tell us about flours. All this is the yeast they could do for humanity. And remember, it's not only what the administration says to you, but also what it sesame.

Onomatopoeias, <sup>Mala-</sup><sub>props,</sub> puns, and allusions must be understood to grasp the greatness of the Great Literary Works. As students, we must learn to write in the various forms of this high art. For example:

A student of writing, one day,
 Set out to write lim'ricks, per se.
 He cried, "Gracious me!
 I find rhymes for the 'B',
 But I can't find a word that rhymes 'A!'!"

Brains are useful in this department—for thinking or for dissecting. Thinking could be seen in the annual running of the Physics 500, and in the encouragement of independent study in many of the courses. The computer, our super-thinker, was the constant companion of many students . . . And if you didn't wish to use your brain for thinking or dissecting? Well, why not donate it to the science wing for further study.

Art includes art, but art is not the only Art. The Arts include all the creative processes. "Now let us have your undivided attention: Children, we are not playing games." So take the teachers seriously when they tell you to let it flow or at least look like a musician, even if you aren't one.

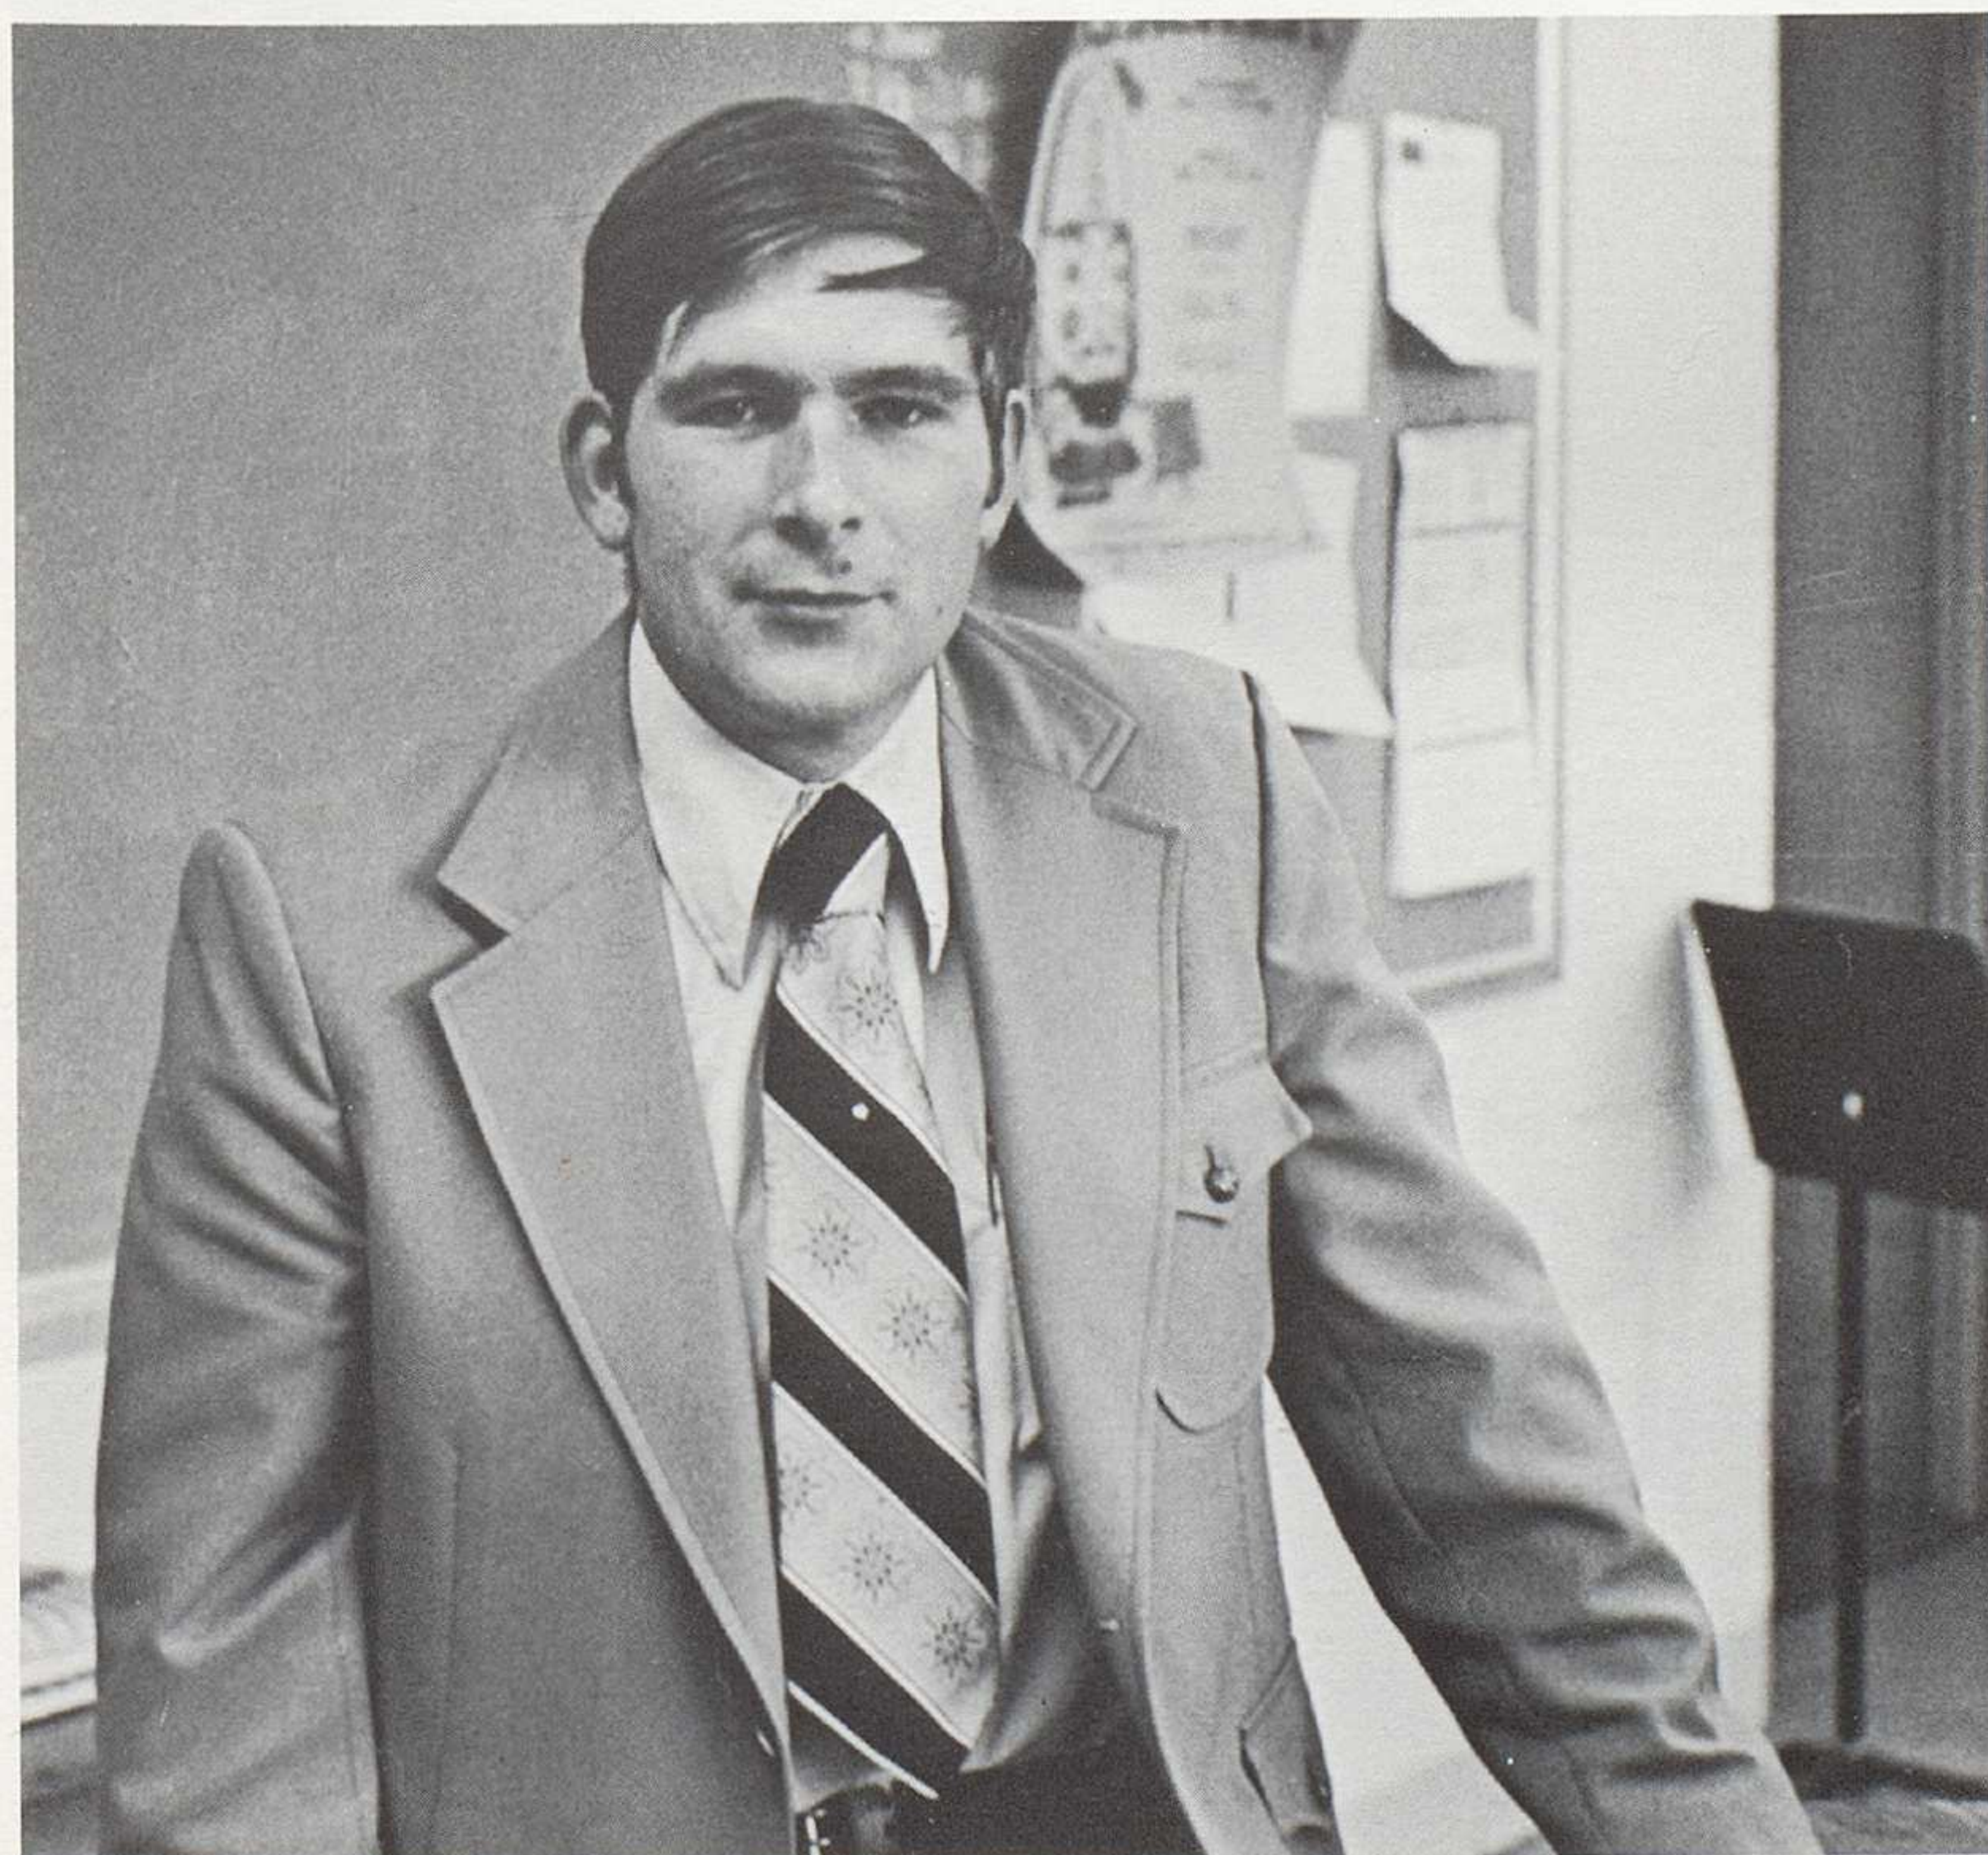

Highlights included better facilities for the art students, and an assembly during which the music students performed excerpts from "The Messiah."

Required courses, definitely the most persecuted subjects, provide an excellent scapegoat for student criticism. Health, Gym, and Driver's Ed. have gained the distinguished reputation of being "the most useless", not because the courses themselves are so terrible, but because they are required. Ironically, without these courses, we might all be psychologically warped shrimps, "making the scene" in a one-mule power cart.

Everyday, now or in the future, these courses come in handy. Home Ec education is a necessity for functioning in a home. Industrial Arts revives the skilled craftsman tradition. Business courses not only train you for a job, but also teach those skills essential to everyone—typing and business economics.

Wrestling with what to serve on a "Cook's Choice" day is no sticky problem for these cookies. Both cafeterias offered a greater variety of salads and sandwiches in a la carte this year, but inflation ate into the budget and lunch prices went up.

Custodians managed to keep the campus spic 'n' span in spite of Homecoming decorations, locker clean-ups, and the day-to-day student crud.

Study hall monitors were smiling more this year, as many students took advantages of first and sixth period release.

Important people often have the least glorified jobs. Whether it's keeping track of attendance, typing letters and announcements, or just keeping 2000 students healthy and happy, the school couldn't function without our secretaries and nurses.

Reaching for goals is not an easy thing. sometimes you don't even know what goals are there. Through literature you can learn about goals, and the librarians can help you there. Guidance counselors can also help direct you to your goals.

“Freshmania

is really degrading.

It’s going through a stage.

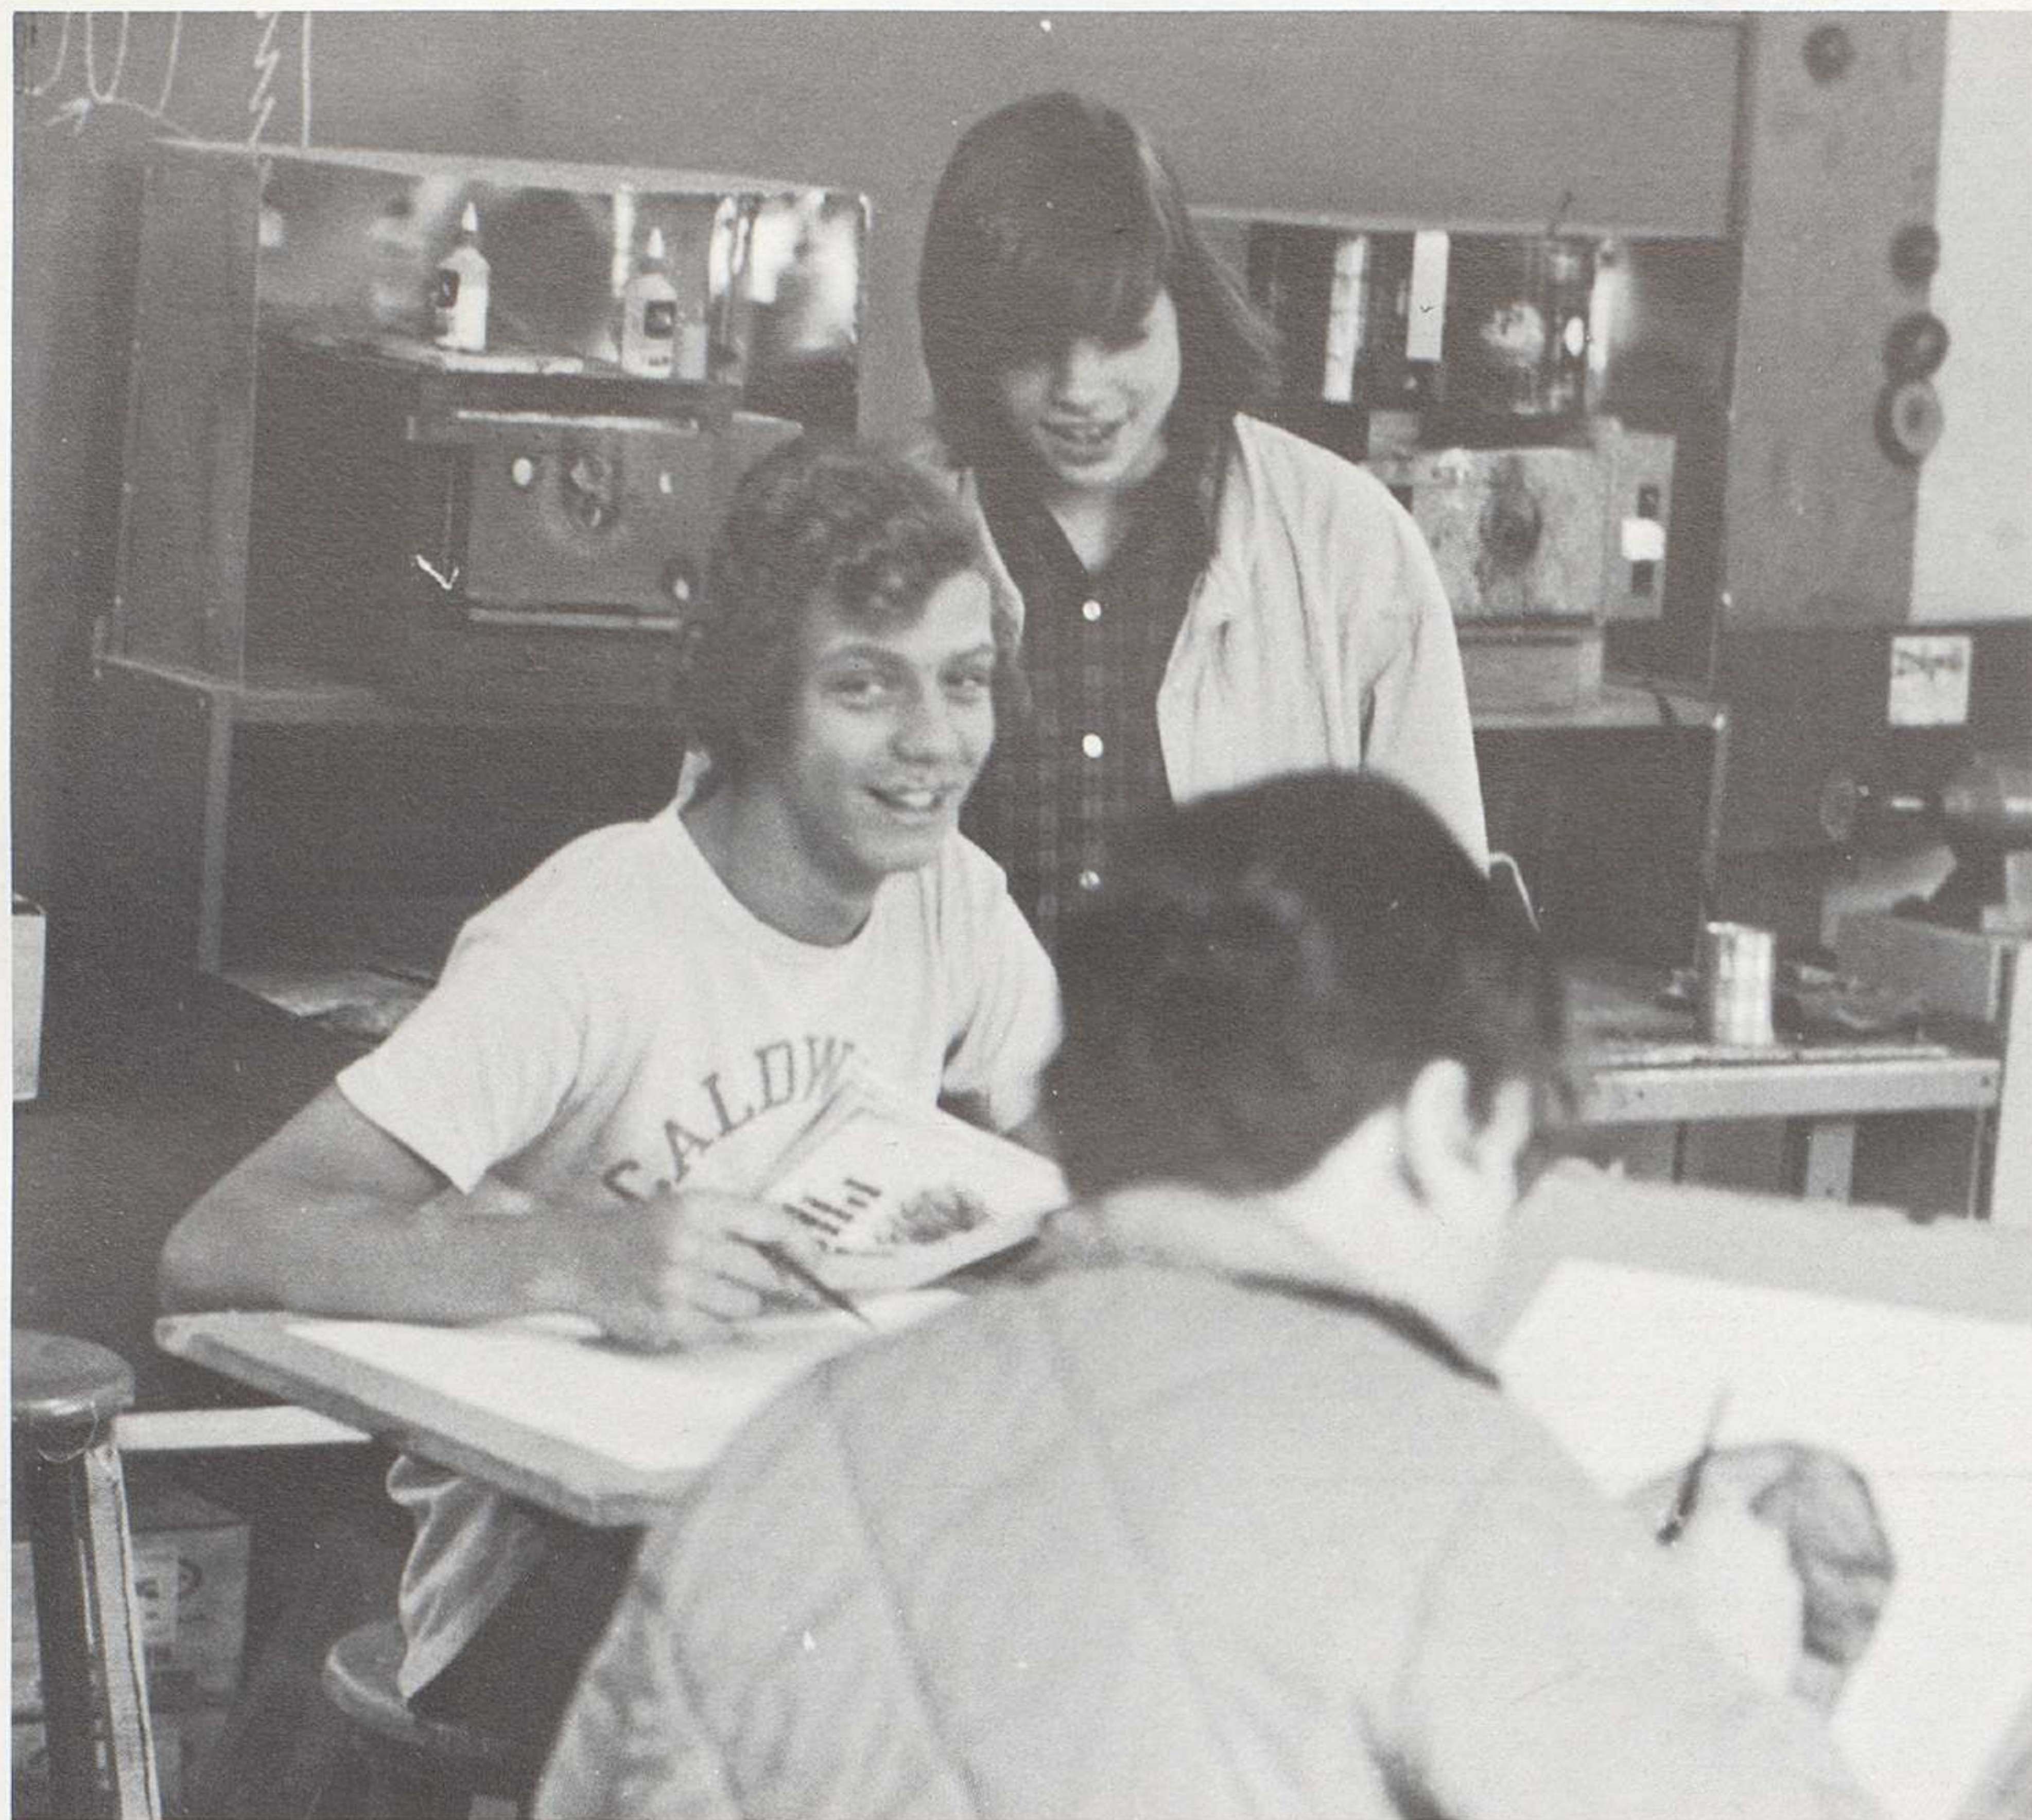

It’s like being a dirty shirt on the bottom of a pile of laundry. It’s a big shirt heap.

It’s my first year in high school and a lot of work, a lot of tests, but a lot of fun; getting ready to drive, but still being looked down on by the upper classmen. But overall, it’s still a lot of fun.

around the corner

The big thing is that I have my driver's license.

The freshmen seem so little and childish. It's hard to believe that we were there last year.

I've gotten more involved this year than I ever have before. Everybody is really friendly. It's great.

School is too loud, too long, and too big.

Second best—but at least we're not sophomores anymore.

We elected our first girl class president—Yea!!

It's the year I caught my hand on fire making candy in chemistry.

I didn't cut once the whole year.

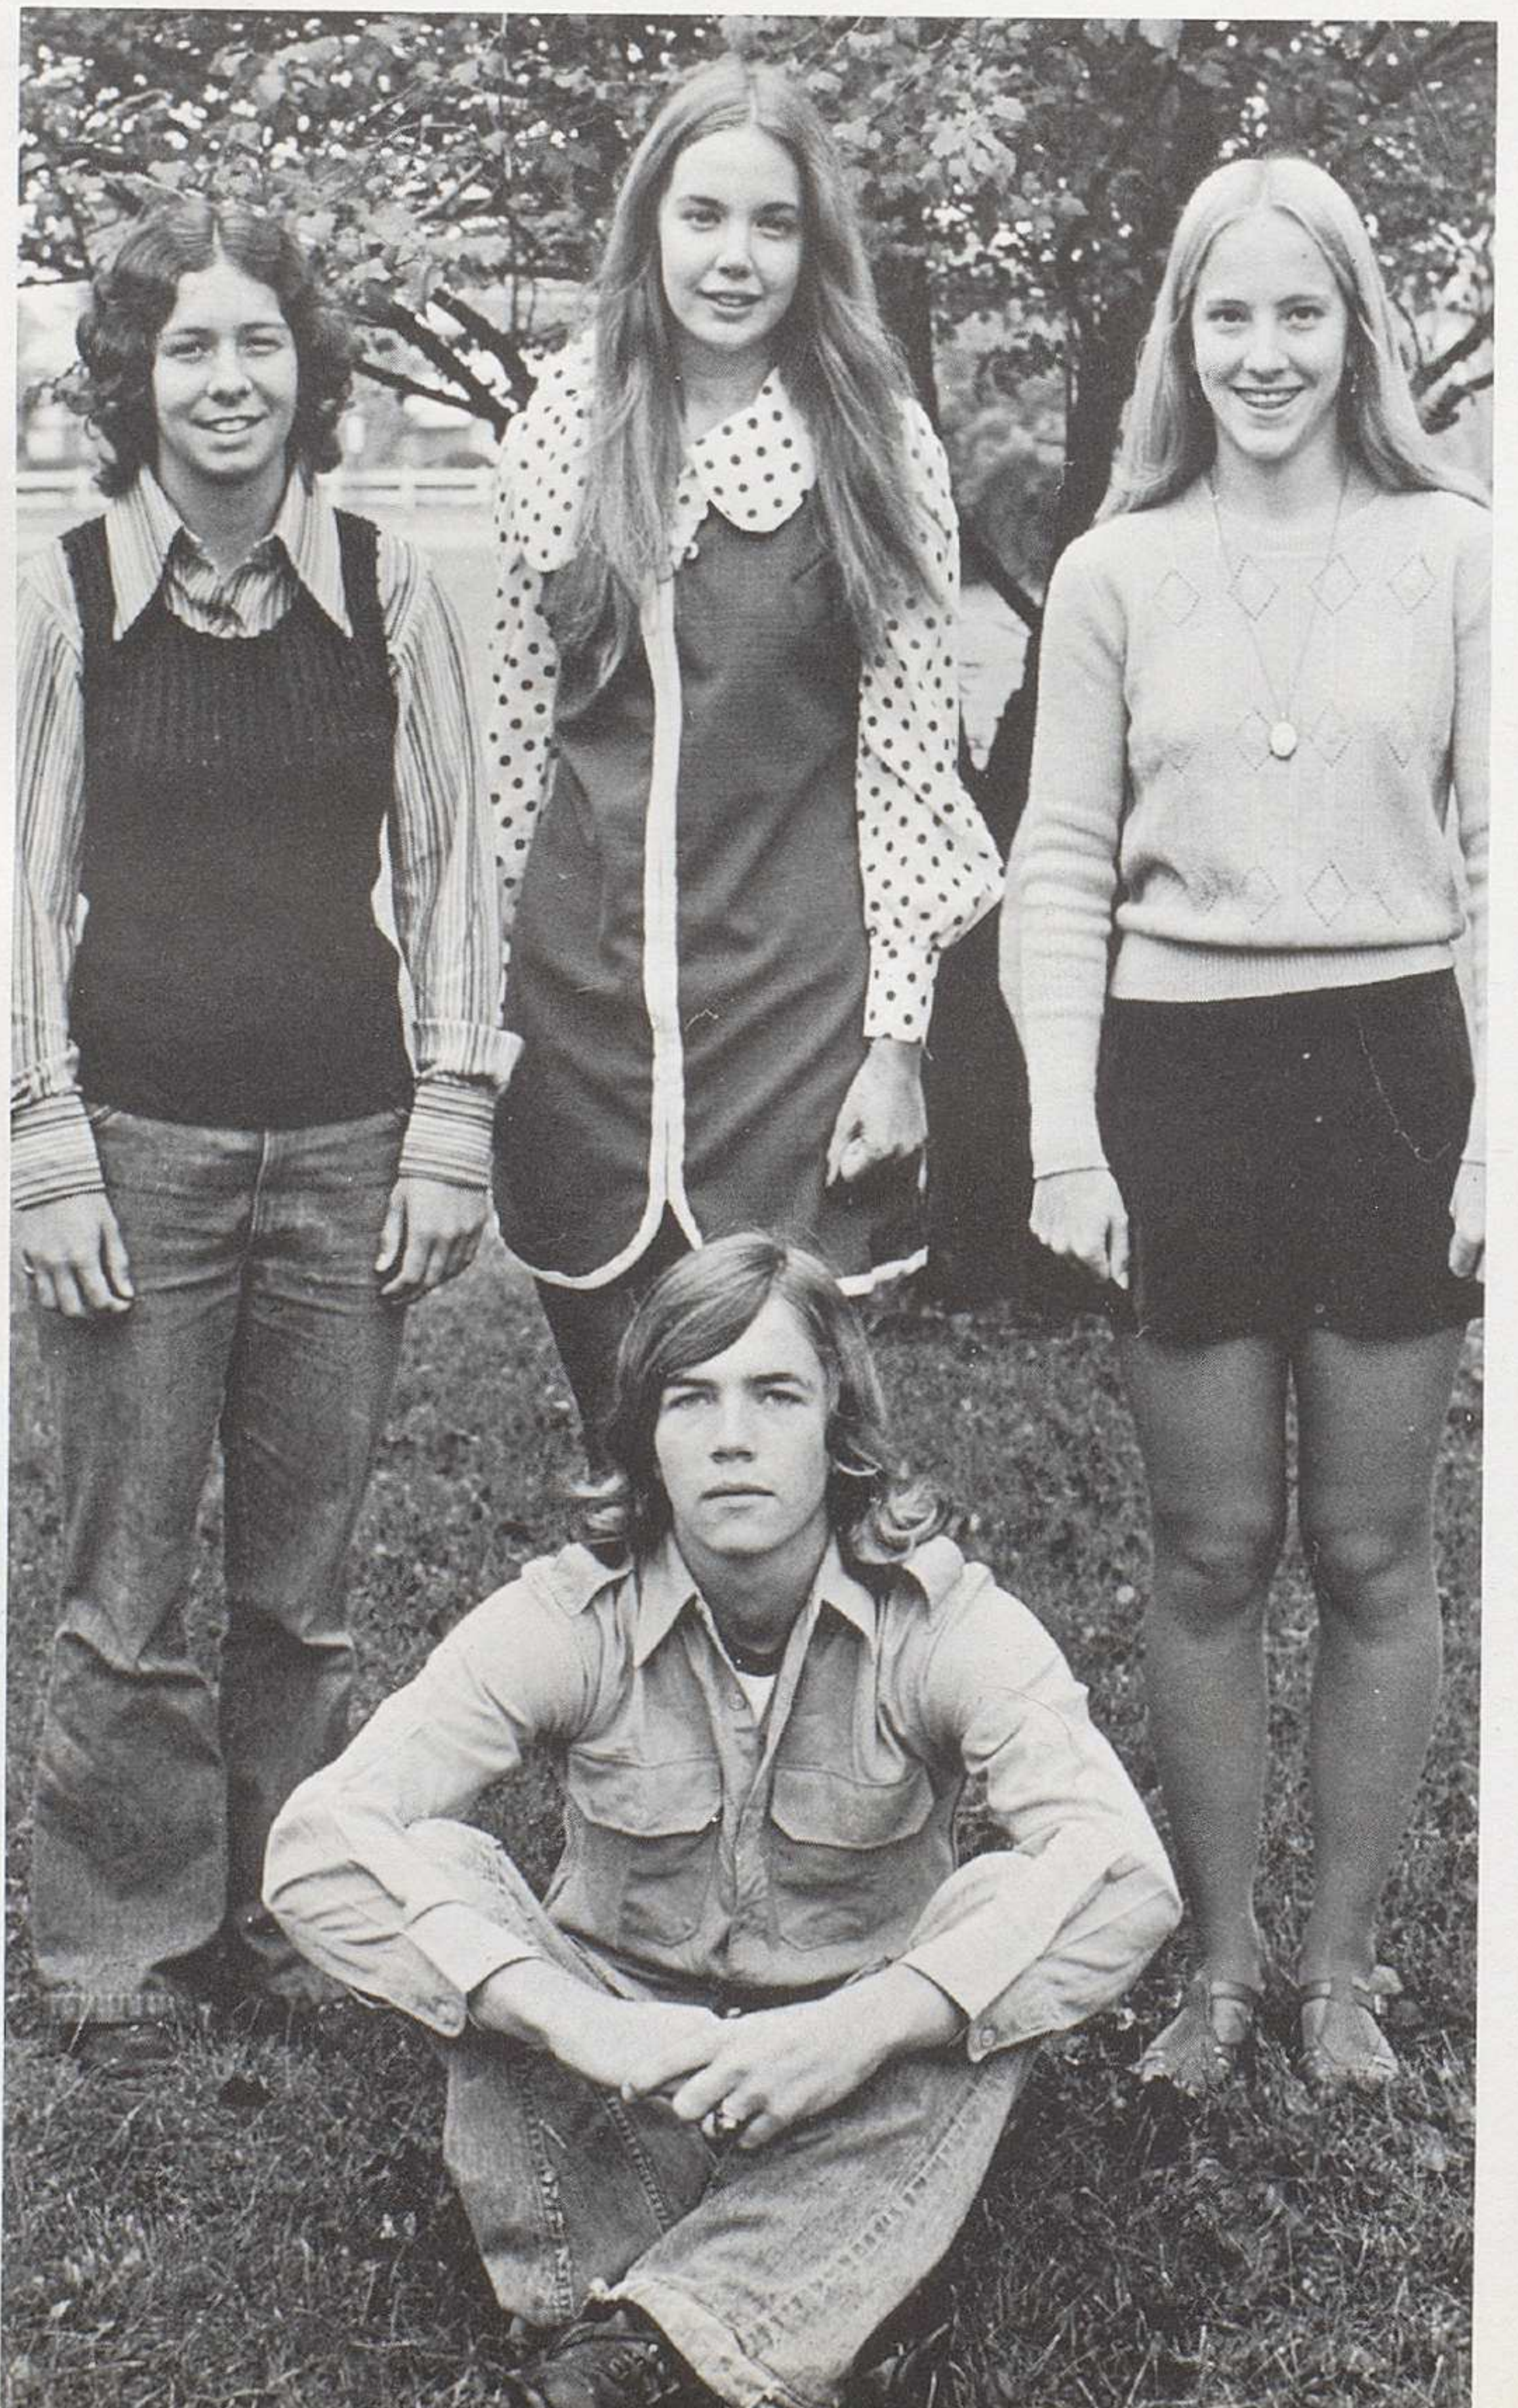

This year WHS seemed like a big family—we were close to each other, but with normal quarrels . . .

Mr. Cavanaugh was our dad.

It was the all-American year for sports.

Seniority here starts out like any other year. Then, about two weeks before you graduate, something sneaks up on you—it's not senioritis, I've had that since I was a junior—something sneaks up on you that makes you itch to get out of school.

Almost. I almost regret having to leave W.H.S. because it sounds like they're getting a lot of good courses soon.

I can hardly wait to get out.

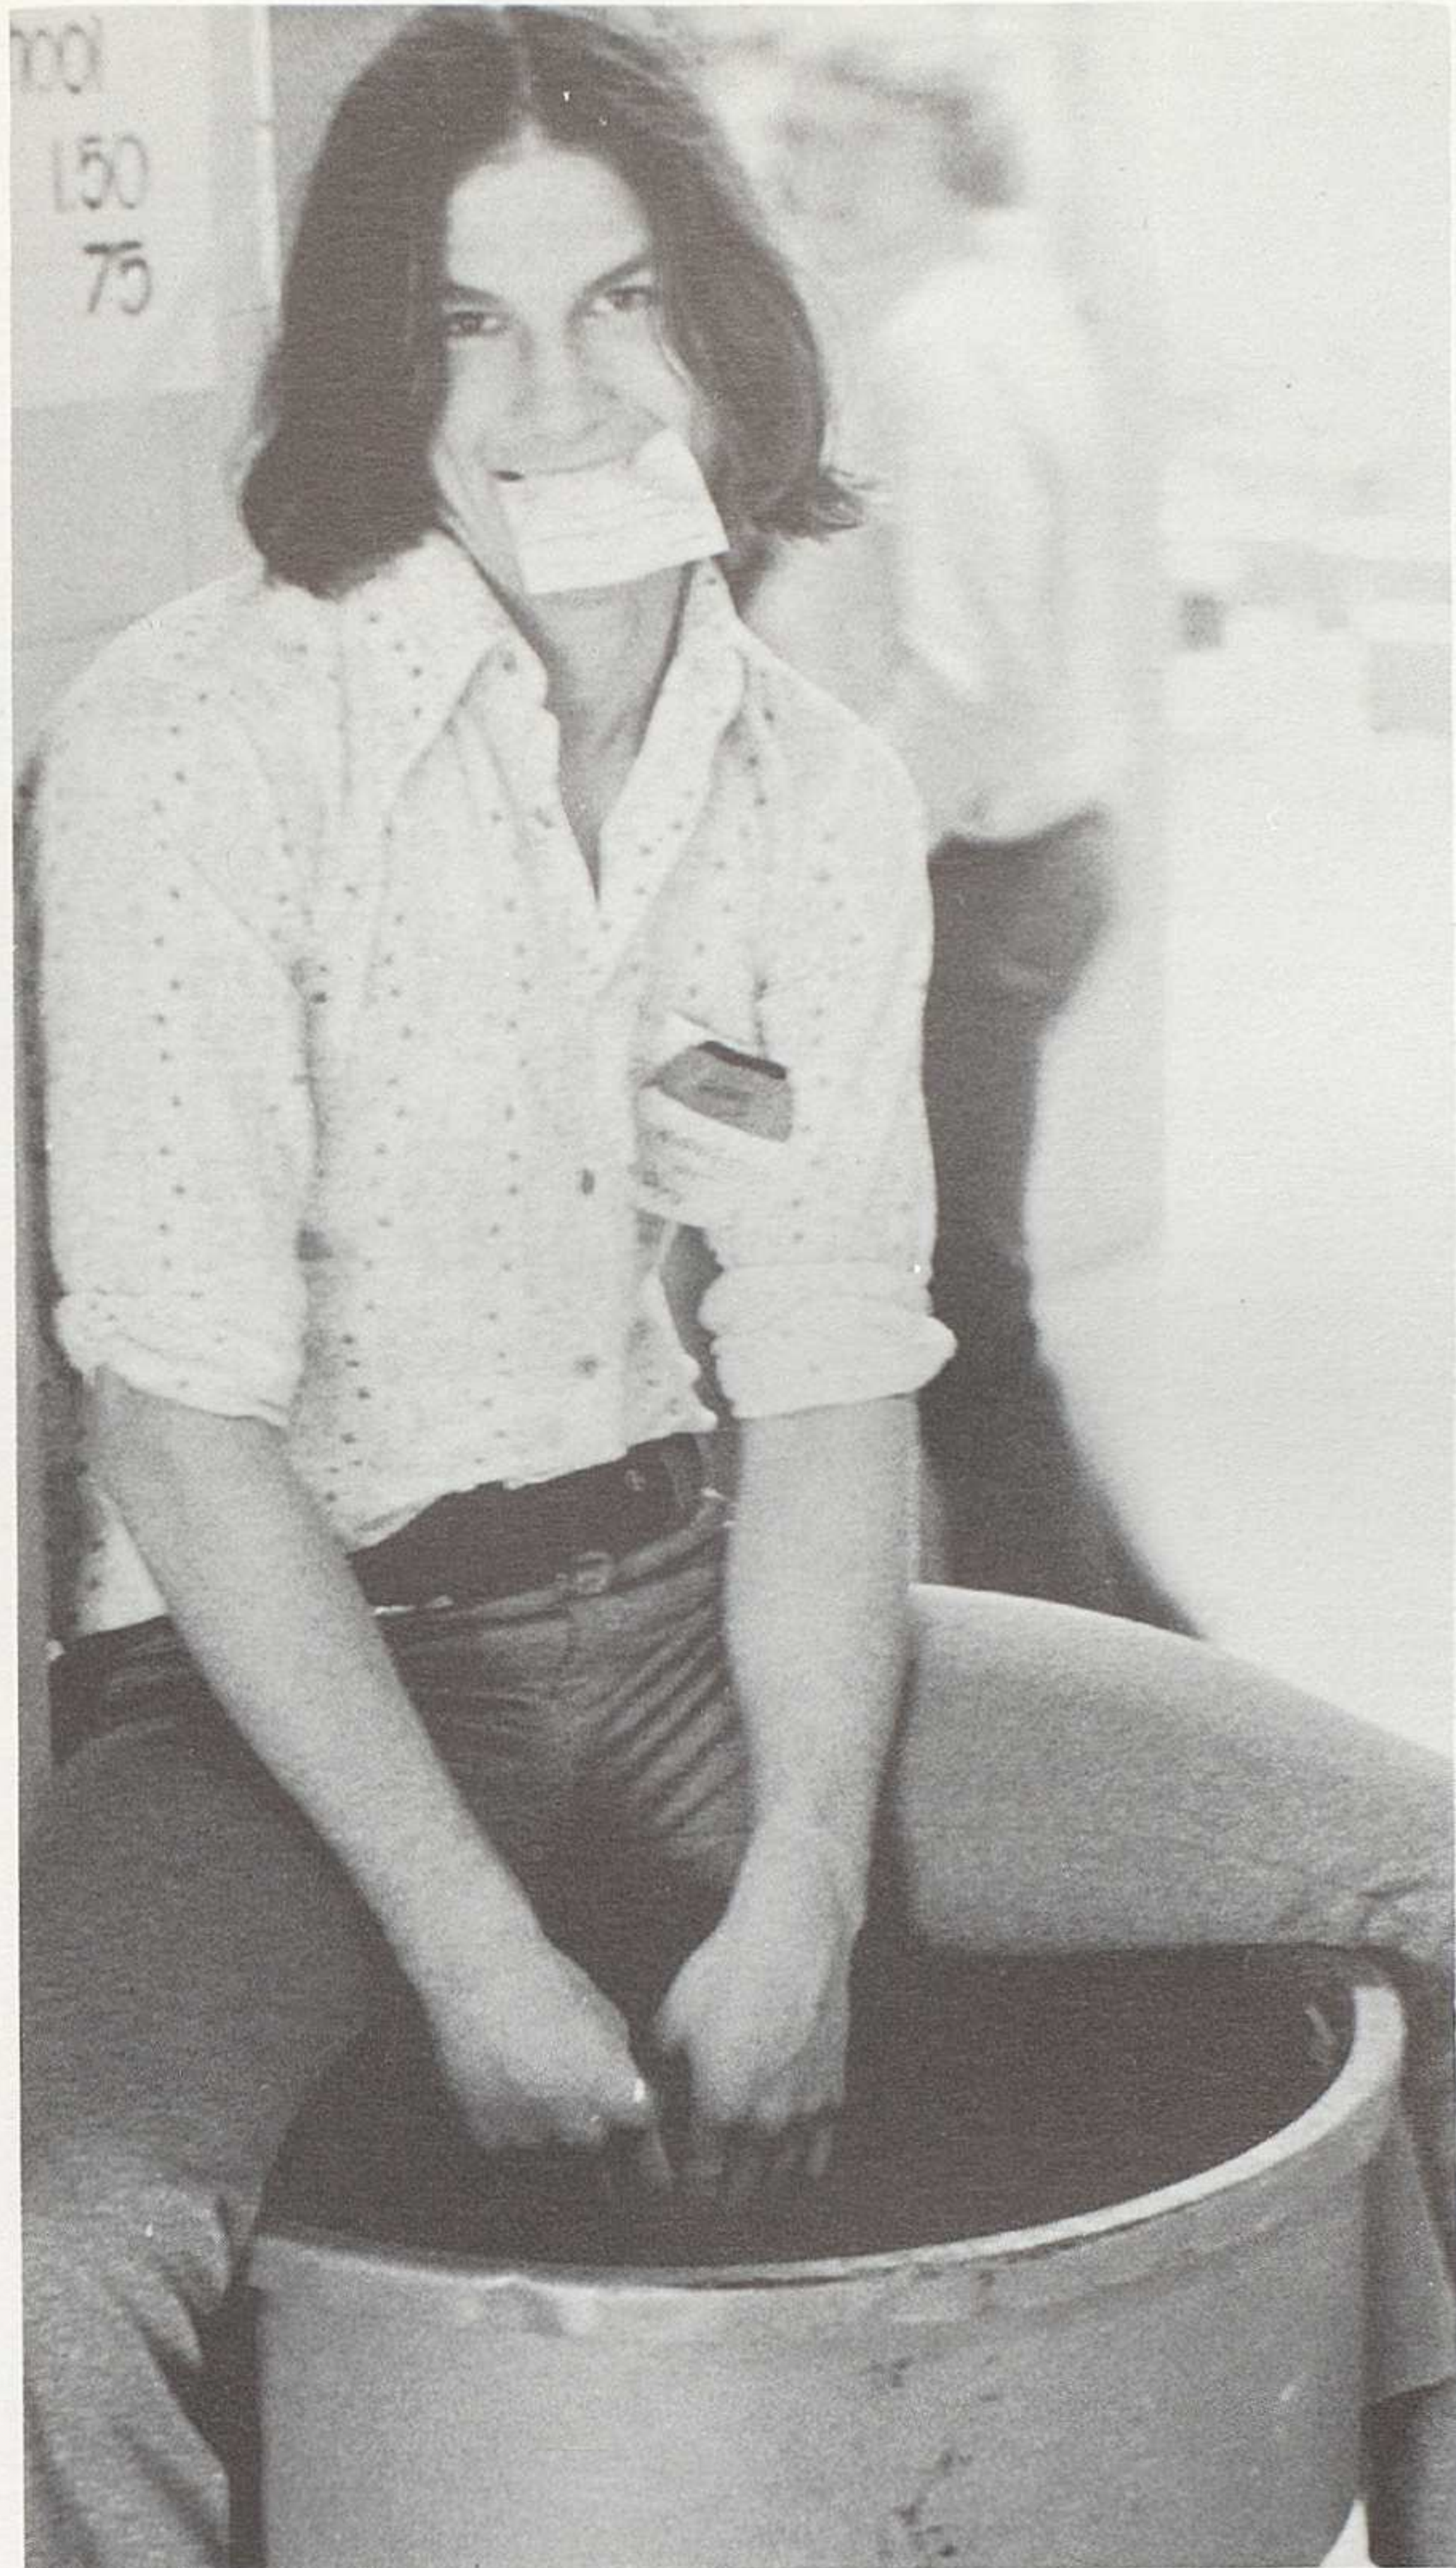

Sometimes, as a senior, you get the overwhelming feeling of lethargy.

I'm too preoccupied with graduating to stop and think how I feel.

The past twelve years seem so short now. It's having the security of public school yanked away from you.

ORGANIZATIONS

Inspired by their successful smoking area campaign, Student Council members undertook an ill-fated "student commons" effort. But it's the seldom publicized things that count: a Homecoming Concert replaced the traditional dance, and rapport between Council and the administration improved . . . Sometimes preservation is a mark of real progress.

The French Club, with the French classes, sent people to the Mardi Gras. Spanish Club spent an evening at La Bota. SNHS, an honor society to encourage the study of Spanish, raised money for relief in Nicaragua.

Culture was the big word this year for the German, Latin and Russian students. Latin activities included a picnic, a pizza party and, of course, the annual Latin Banquet where students are treated according to their rank.

Russian students held frequent "surprise" parties, taught Perry students to folk dance, and participated in Slavic Day at OSU.

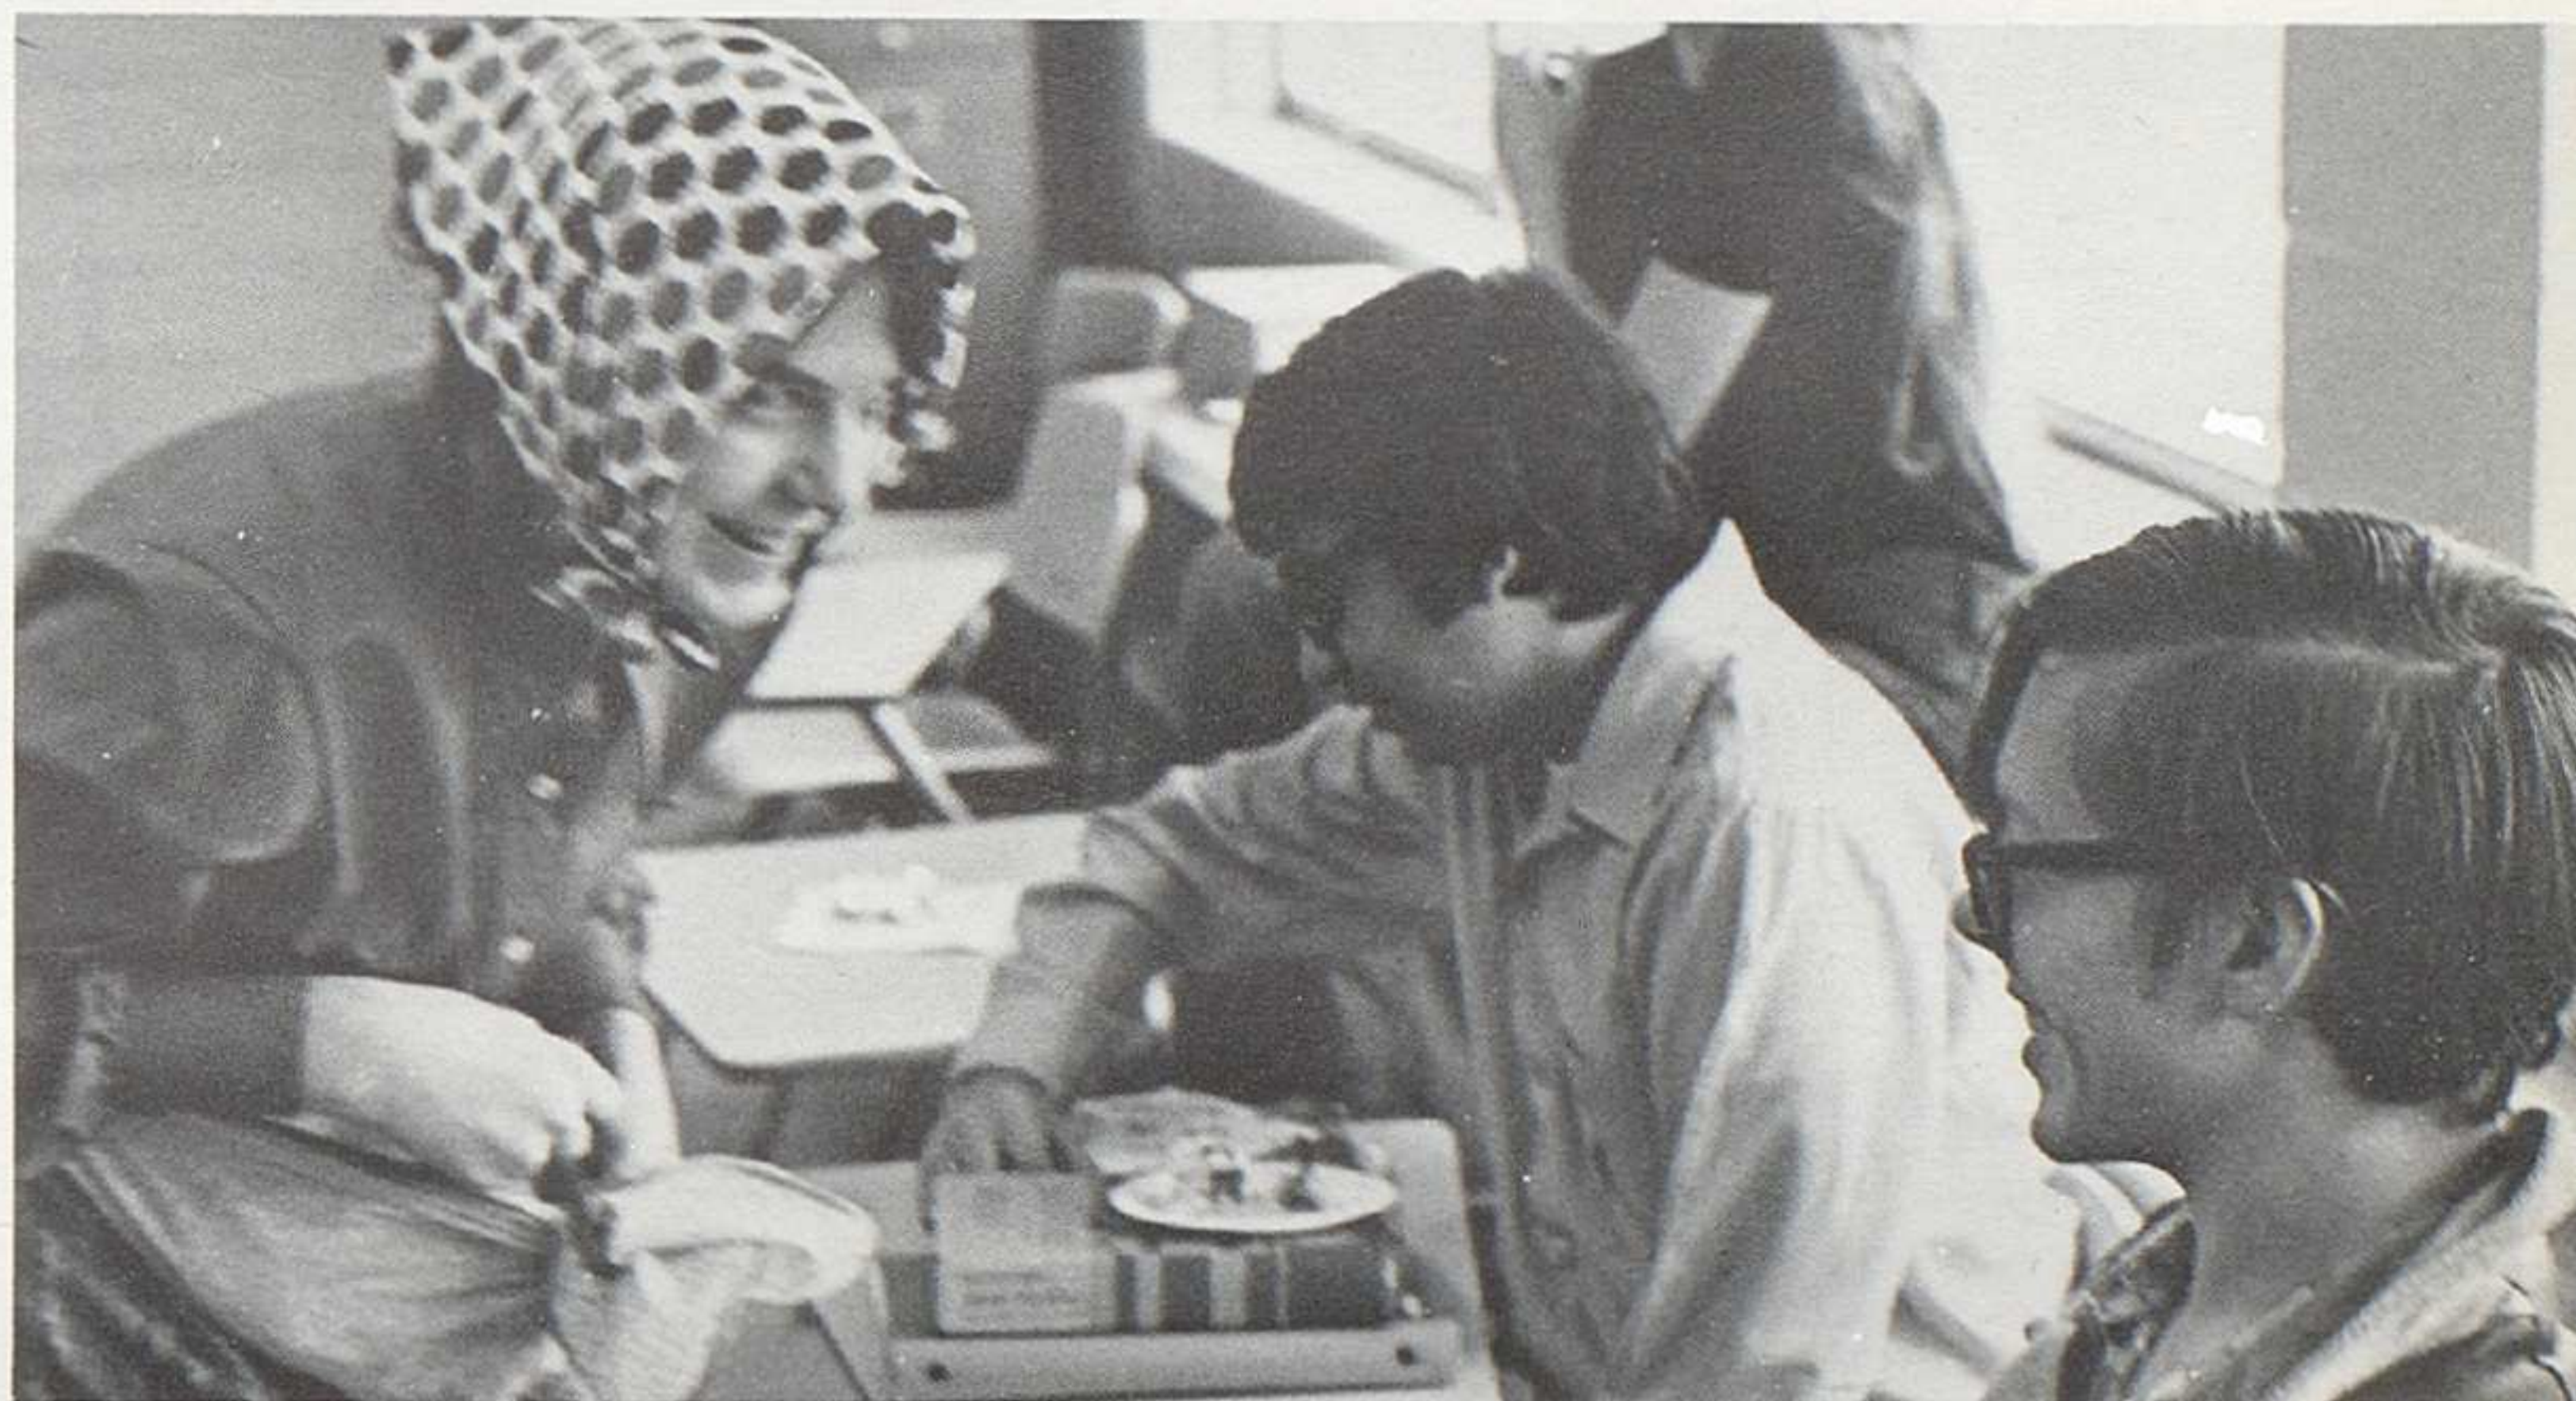

German students, along with Russian students, held a number of parties topping off the year with a joint bash between German four and Russian four. Foreign exchange teacher, Mr. Helmut Partecke, was also able to provide films and first hand experience of modern Germany.

Welcoming people from all over, the International and Newcomers clubs had very successful years. Early in the year, along with AFS, the International Club and the school welcomed area exchange students to the U.S. with an international buffet and a special assembly. The Newcomers Club had a welcoming dinner in the fall and the traditional picnic in May.

Creating for the eye and the ear comes naturally to members of Art Club and Thespians. Intriguing showcase displays were Art Club's constant contribution. The Fall Play, "Arsenic and Old Lace" and the Children's Play, "Winnie the Pooh" were staged and executed by our resident troupe.

Added highlights included arty members' trip to the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C. and acting members' annual initiation—this year featuring a "come-as-a-famous-theatrical-person" theme.

Teen Corps works the year round to build camps for the mentally retarded, to tackle any problem that seems unsurmountable for the less fortunate.

In the constant quest for understanding among races, Race Relations helped formulate Black History Week.

GSO once again created their "Mitten Tree" which gradually sprouted mittens over the Christmas season.

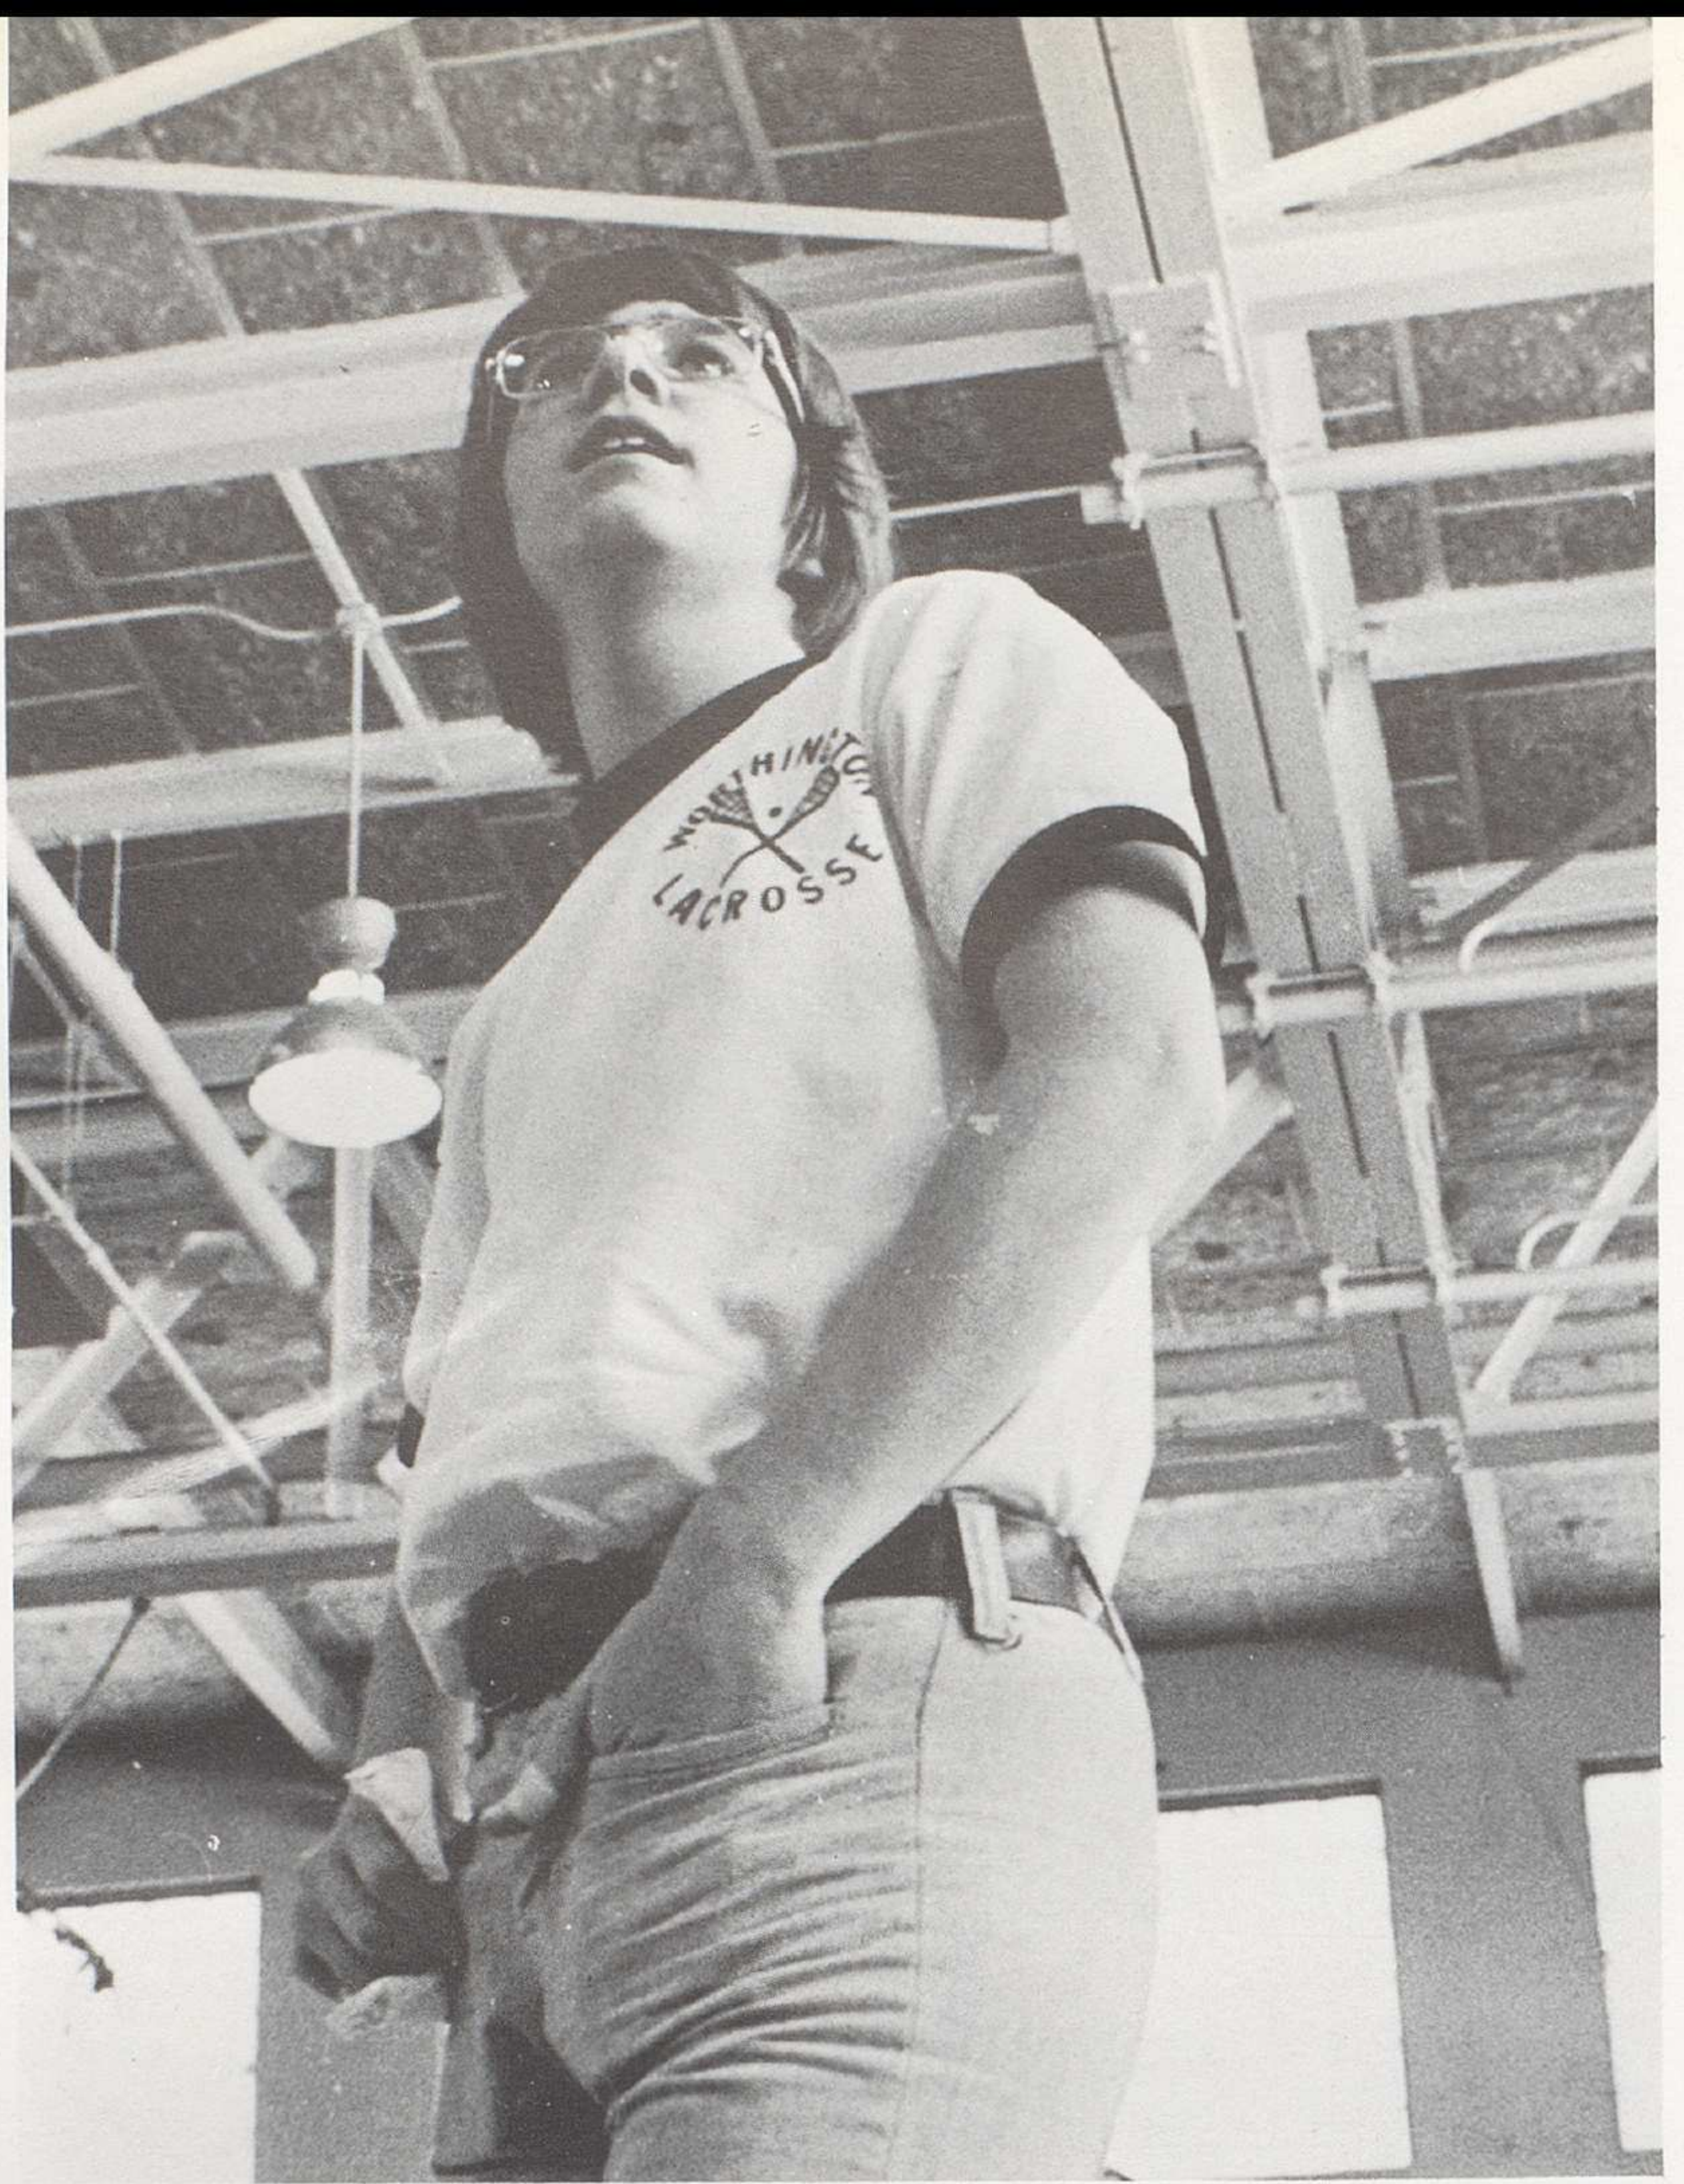

Concern for these groups, is not merely a cliché; it's a way of life.

Debating can be done in many ways. It may be of the verbal variety, in which the Worthington debate team excels. The team received plaudits for its excellent showing in state and district tournaments.

Mental debating and sophisticated strategy were the order of the day in Chess Club. Riding on the wave of the Fischer-Spassky match, chess never had a more popular year.

Snow-jobbed by the weather! Even though they met Wednesday nights for "snow dances" Ski Club members reaped the spoiled fruits of another wet Ohio winter. Since they only got on the slopes a few times, they decided to take all refunds and—you guessed it—have a party, where the menu included snow cones and baked Alaskas.

Stamina is built up by being an active member in these clubs. As the name states, Weight Training and Conditioning is devoted to helping guys condition themselves for endurance.

Scuba diving was only part of Scuba's activity. Members participated in under-water hockey games, and attended classes for certification. The club joined in the Natatorium festivities, and offered a course on Mini-Course Day.

Scientific interests are followed in the Astronomy, Radio and Photography Clubs. The most progress was made by the Astronomy Club who made stupendous efforts in fixing up the observatory. The Radio Club helped initiate people into the fellowship of Amateur Radio, and the Photography Club pointed out new and standard techniques to its members.

Immersion in the world's natural beauties is the major goal of these clubs. A new club this year, Ornithology Club is still growing, with the possibility of joining the Audabon Society next year.

WFSI was, of course, founded for the study of the environment and so included courses that might immerse you in nature. In addition to several field trips, WFSI members traveled many weeks in the Rockies and in the Southwest.

Prerequisite for joining Cycling Club is a Bike! Members scoured the local countryside to find roads both safe for cycling and interesting for looking.

Journalism even at the High school level is a business. The Cardinal and The Chronicle are two such businesses. Published bi-weekly, The Chronicle has a better chance to cover the details and specifics of school life. Although published only annually, the Cardinal must still be informative and cover more people and activities.

Stage Band, the most select group and the most popular in the community, participated in a Stage Band Festival with other Bands.

Many individuals went to the annual OMEA sponsored contest to be judged for musicianship, and represented the school well.

A fumbling season; the Cards dropped the ball, you might say. Too bad it wasn't through the hoops. Losses were only by a few points each game. Lack of dedication seemed to be the problem. In Coach Mannion's words: "The reason we're not having a winning season this year is because too many people are spending too much . . . time with ski club . . . and other things."

Waterful! This year Worthington was blessed by the completion of the natatorium and by Jeff Besozzi and Kent Vosler, Olympic hopefuls, who won first and second places in the state diving competition.

Stomping their way to being first in the OCC and second in the district, the WHS Matmen took-down fourteen new records this season.

Slugging their way to the top, the Cards grabbed Sectional Championship and were District runners-up. In the final game they won League Championship. The Cards had two all-district team members, Wilmoth and Kline, who were joined by Phipps to be on the All-League team.

Participation is addiction.

The Tennis Team, hampered by an unusually wet and cold spring, captured the O.C.C. crown for the second year under Coach Walter. In fact, the whole school became addicted to the game as "Neil" shirts blossomed everywhere.

The Golf Team finished second in the O.C.C. and members looked forward to a summer on the links.

Growing in popularity, lacrosse and gymnastics were new additions to the WHS sports program. Lacrosse boasted a winning season. And even though their first season's record wasn't stellar, the gymnasts really "got off the ground."

Orange Johnson House Will Be "Given" To City

The Worthington Historical Society is pleased to announce that the Orange Johnson House, 1116 North Main Street, will be given to the City of Worthington on Saturday, October 7, 1972. #### A Dream Come True

The Worthington Historical Society is to be congratulated on the authentic and charming restoration of the 1816 Orange Johnson House and its many dedicated members commended for their untiring efforts and perseverance toward that end.

The restored Orange Johnson House, standing on its original site, is not only unique in Franklin County but is also proof-positive that a dream can be made to come true. In ten years since the Orange Johnson House became the focal point of the Worthington Historical Society's dream, the purchase price and restoration costs have been met without financial assistance from State or Federal funds.

From the Society's search for interesting properties have grown some specific annual events eagerly awaited by the community and surrounding areas: tours of homes, an annual social, flea market on the Village Green, etc. In addition, the Orange Johnson House provides Worthington's elementary classes studying the City's history a priceless bit of resource material.

The Worthington News joins the community this weekend in wishing the Worthington Historical Society and its fine members, in tribute to Historical Worthington Week, as proclaimed by the Mayor. The News has dedicated the first page of this issue exclusively to our New England heritage.

What can you say?

Denise was a small, quiet girl. She rode bikes, played basketball and slept over at friends' houses.
She did homework, watched T.V. and washed dishes. She listened more than she talked.

She laughed, but mostly just smiled.

And she cried, but mostly just tried to smile.

And one cold winter night she died.

She left a lot of friends who will miss her.

Like light, Light is subject to the laws of the universe.
So a Dopler effect—the shifting of the spectral lines —happens here as freshmen become sophomores, become juniors,
become seniors and graduate.

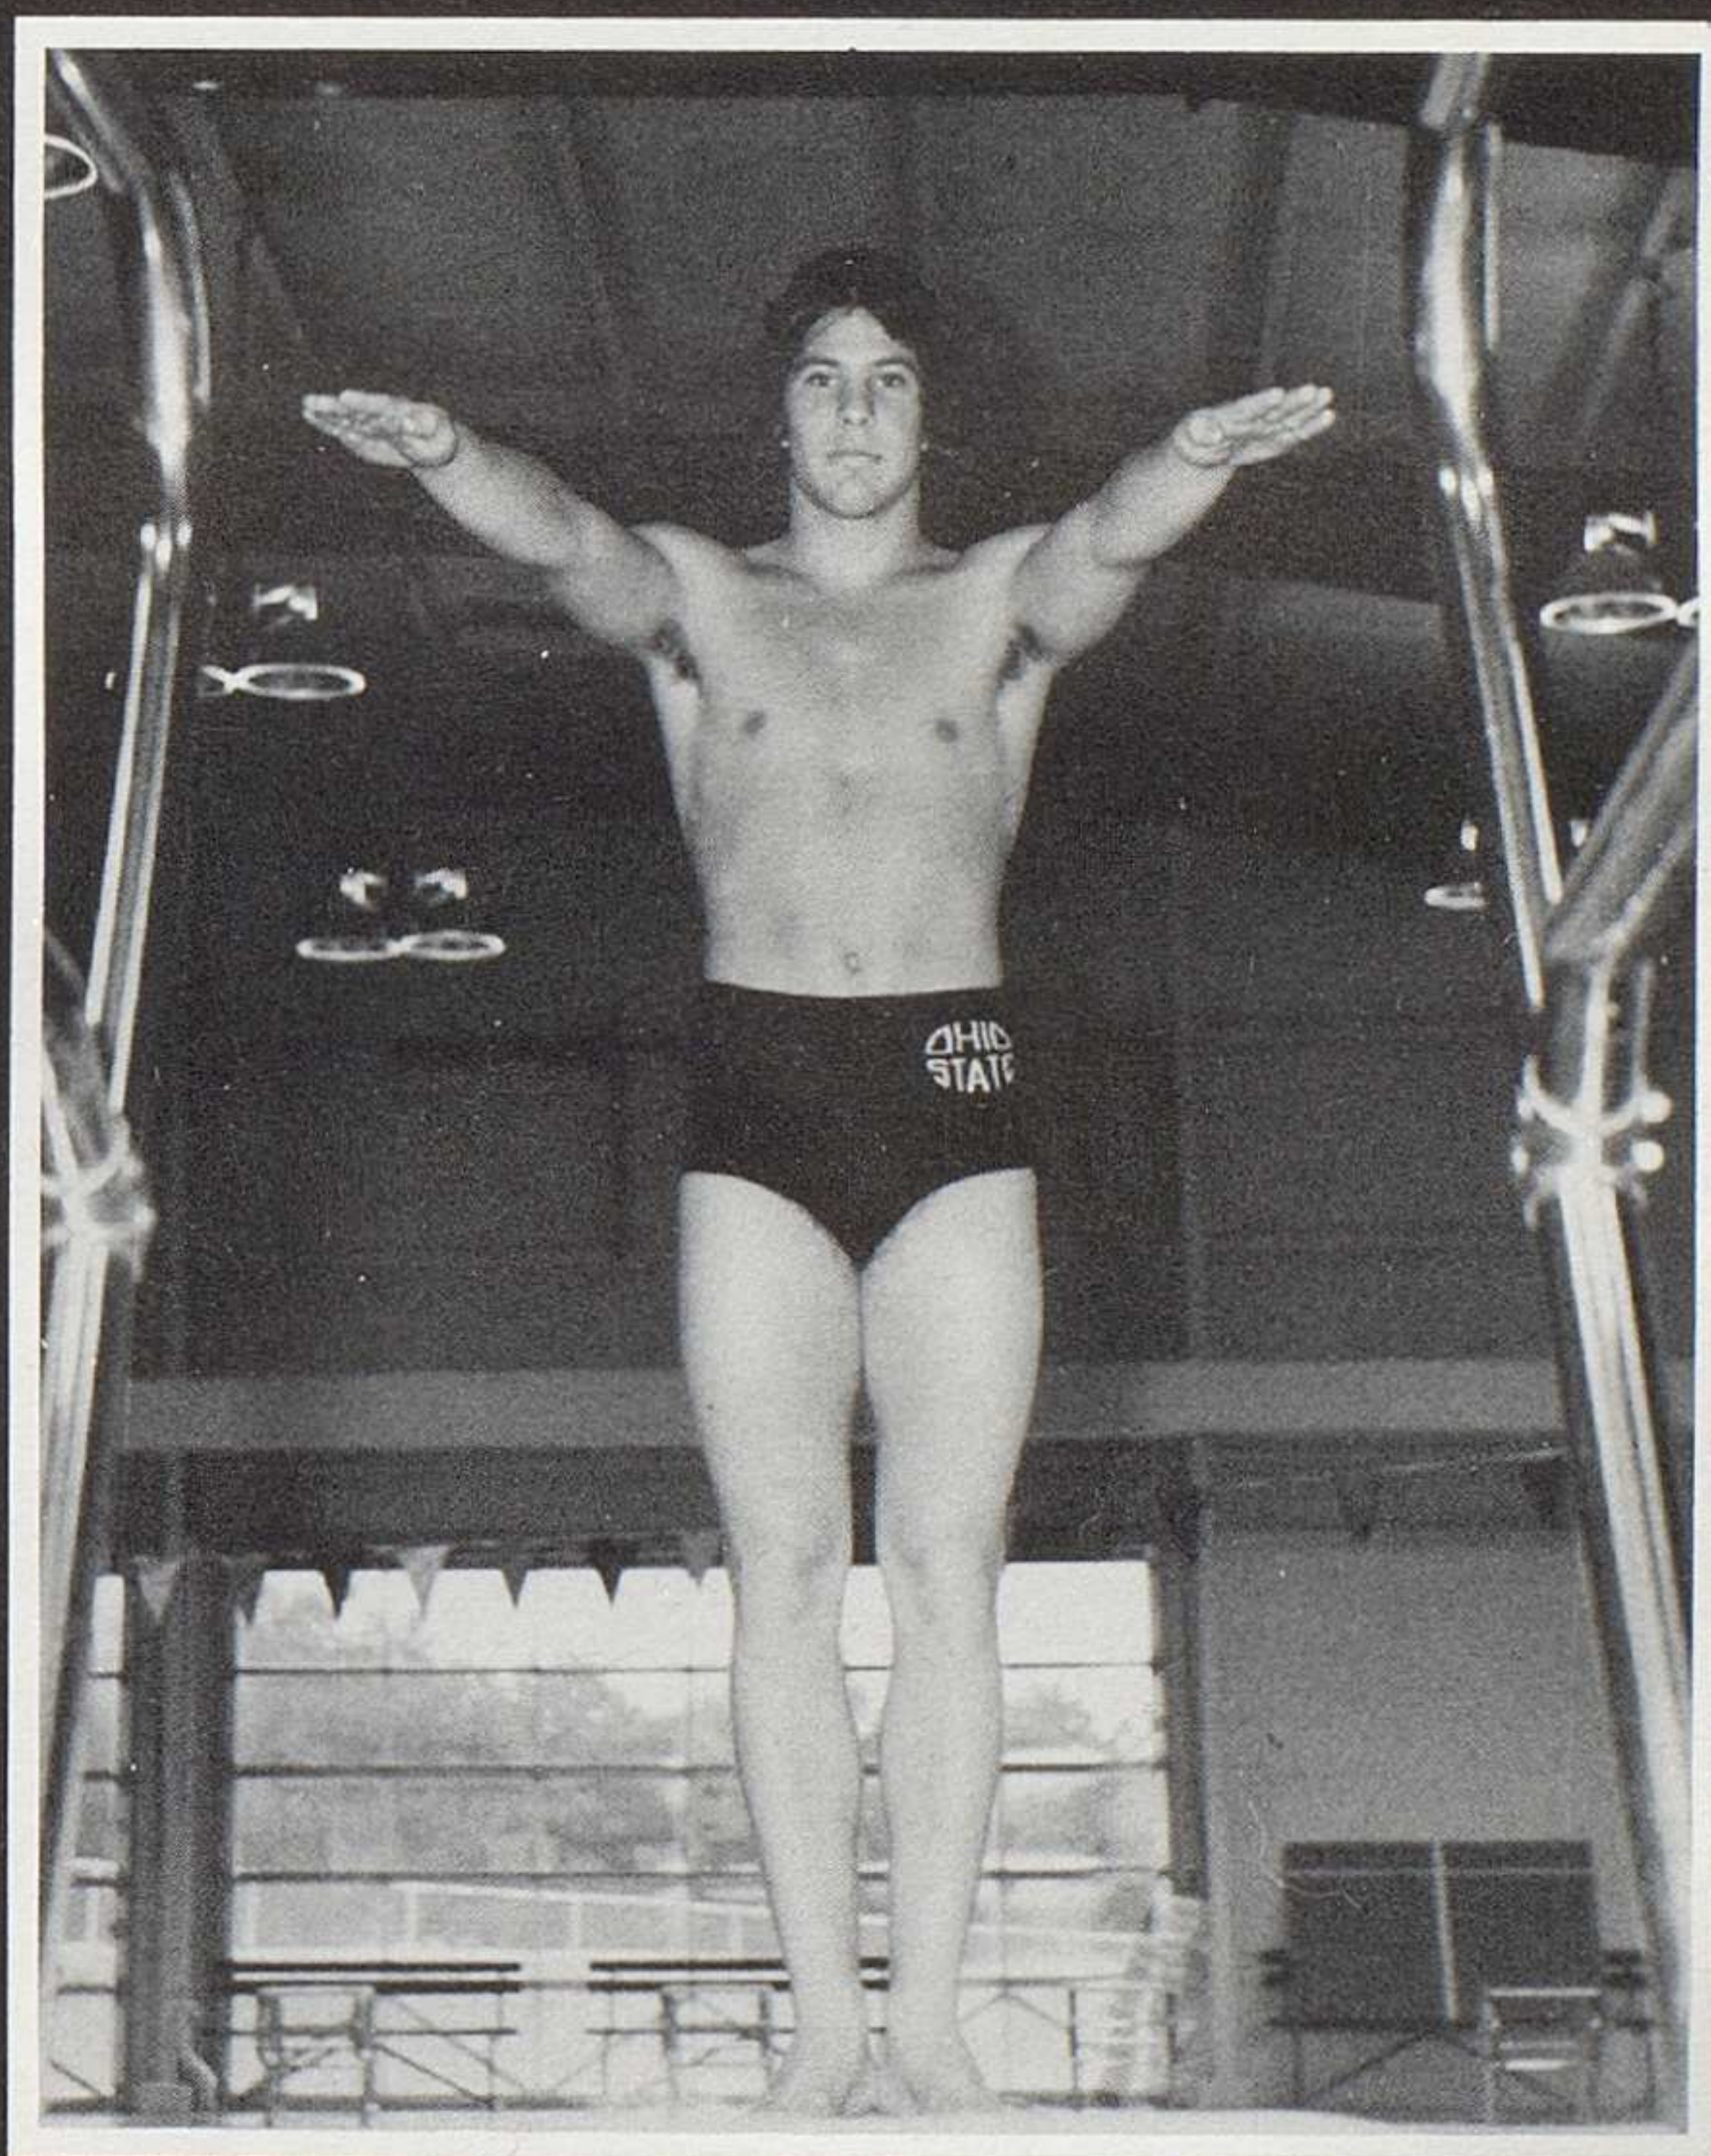

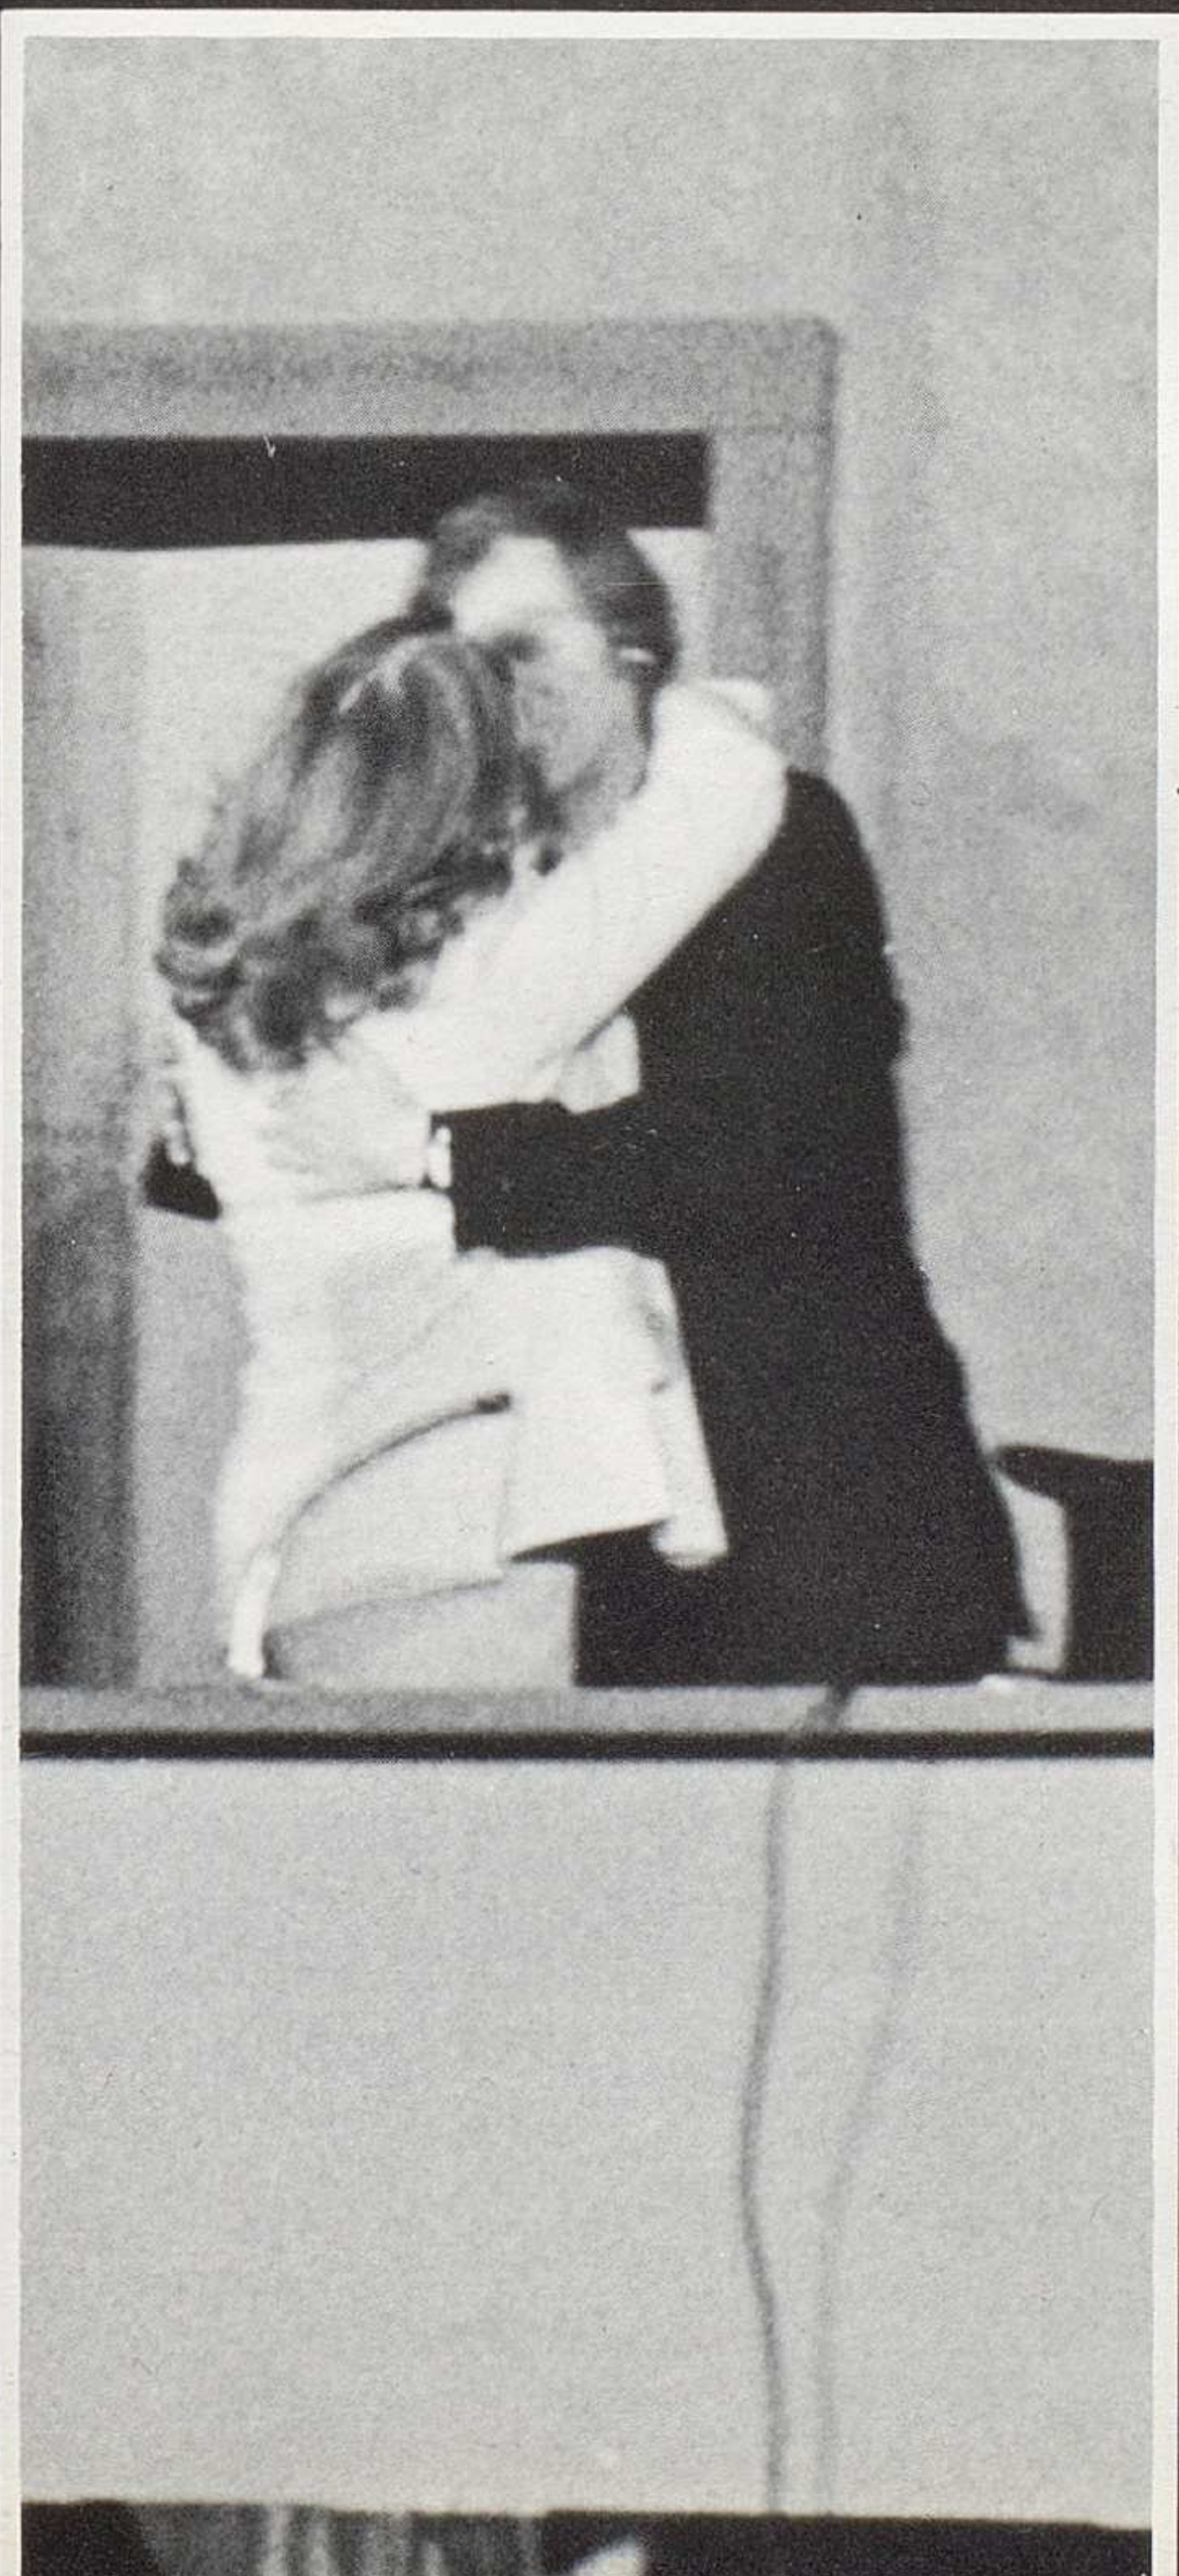

So the Light,
one part of the Spectrum, was gathered into one place and made uniform.
Ceremoniously specks of Light left the Spectrum one by one.
And so they graduated.
