

Fifth Annual

COMMENCEMENT

OF THE

Worthington Public Schools,

ON

FRIDAY, JUNE 27, 1884.

AT THE

METHODIST CHURCH,

2:30 O'CLOCK P. M.

Class of '84.

“Do the duty that lies nearest thee.”

LUCY A. CLEVELAND,

MARY C. GRISWOLD,

LIDA M. JACKSON,

NANNA E. STICKNEY,

F. EDITH WRIGHT.

PROGRAM.

INSTRUMENTAL DUET, - - - Military Galop.
LUCY and GRACE GILBERT.

INVOCATION.

SOLO, - - - The Lover and the Bird.
ANNIE JOHNSON.

SALUTATORY, - - - Harmony.
NANNA E. STICKNEY.

ORATION, - - - Decoration.
MARY C. GRISWOLD.

SOLO, - - - Under the Daisies.
GERTIE DAVIS.

ORATION, - - - Expression.
LUCY A. CLEVELAND.

ORATION, - - - Footprints.
LIDA M. JACKSON.

SOLO, - - - Medley.
HOLCULM TULLER.

VALEDICTORY, - - - Earth's Two Suns.
F. EDITH WRIGHT.

SOLO, - - - The Old Organ Loft.
IDA WRIGHT.

PRESENTATION OF DIPLOMAS.

CLASS SONG.

BENEDICTION.

CLASS SONG.

LIDA M. JACKSON.

“ Standing with reluctant feet
 Where the brook and river meet,
 Gazing with a timid glance
 On the river's broad expanse,”
 Deep and still now seems that stream,
 And we pause to think and dream.

As we launch our untried bark
 On this river broad and dark,
 Silver threads of light we see
 In and out, glide silently,
 Lighting up with radiance bright,
 All the shadows of the night.

Thus 'twill be on life's broad stream,
 Golden threads of truth will gleam,
 Paths to guide our fragile boat,
 As we on life's river float ;
 Hope, the anchor ; Faith, the guide ;
 Heaven, the home to which we glide.