The most prominent tradition at Worthington High School is excellence. W.H.S. is definitely one special place. There are many things that distinguish W.H.S. For instance, how many schools have a separate campus for freshmen where they can take a year to adjust and develop a sense of unity within their class? W.H.S. also offers the A.P. for those seeking other options from the traditional high school atmosphere. When it comes to academics, W.H.S. again comes out on top, by consistently having the most National Merit Scholars in our area. Another aspect of W.H.S. academic excellence, is the myriad of interesting electives offered to ensure that each student will find classes that are perfectly suited to his interests. All it takes is a walk down the halls of W.H.S. to detect its special atmosphere. The student body itself is what makes all the difference. Each year another class reluctantly leaves their alma mater, and a new class eagerly takes its place as the tradition of excellence is carried on.

For Worthington High school students who are interested in journalism and writing, opportunities abound. If poetry and short stories appeal to a student, the Writerspatch, is an excellent publication to become involved with. Each year Writerspatch staff compiles numerous poems and stories, all of which are written by Worthington's students. A wide range of thoughts and feelings are expressed and there is usually at least one poem or story that is sure to relate to its reader in a meaningful way. Another excellent publication that reflects the thoughts and feelings of the school is the Phoenix. The goal of the Phoenix is to serve as both a voice and an ear for the students of WHS. With the coming of every new year, a brand new yearbook is also born. The Cardinal staff strives to keep every year alive through words and pictures. Worthington High School offers only the best when it comes to its school publications.

Worthington High School has made a tradition of having a wide variety of extra-curricular activities for students. The high school sponsors different programs in athletics, academics, and arts as an extension of the learning experience. These programs encourage students to become involved with activities that are fun, while developing strength, skill, intelligence and discipline. Year after year, Worthington breeds some of the most competitive teams in central Ohio. Autumn sees the Cards field seven different teams: football, golf, tennis, field hockey, volleyball, soccer and cross country. In winter the Cards head indoors for basketball, wrestling, swimming, and gymnastics. With the winter sports done, thoughts turn to baseball, softball, track and Lacrosse. W.H.S. also sponsors cheerleading and sports clubs to promote spirit, help at games and meets, and cheer all of our teams. Of course, there are clubs for students interested in the performing arts, too. Thespians, the bands, orchestra, and the choirs give many performances throughout the year. And W.H.S. has programs promoting academics such as the language clubs, National Honor Society, In-the-Know and forensics. These programs and the student government work to exercise students' minds as well as their bodies and to create students who are proud of themselves and their school.

The Worthington High School Thespians have one tradition — to be superior. For many years our thespians have acted their way to a highly respected position in Ohio. Worthington is known for performing some of the best high school shows possible. During the fall of 1985, W.H.S. Thespians produced the annual fall play, Dark of the Moon. A cutting of this show was invited to a regional competition because of its excellent quality. There, the Worthington Thespians were rated "superior" which is the highest rating possible. Soon after, the show was invited to the Ohio Thespian Conference and the Ohio State University competition. W.H.S. Thespians were also involved in the spring musical Brigadoon sponsored by the vocal music department. This is the ultimate romantic musical and the thespians did their usual professional job with it. The thespians also do a children's play each spring. These plays consist of many combined labors: auditions, rehearsals, set, crew, lights, sound, vocals, and many more time-consuming activities. These labors convert to hundreds of hours of hard work. Many students are proud to be Worthington High School Thespians and for that they deserve a standing ovation.

For numerous years at Worthington High School, the rock has not only served our students as a means of expressing feelings and thoughts, but also has become the foundation of our school's solidarity. The rock would be nothing more than a place for graffiti without the glorious memories its holds. Painting the rock, hiding it, and digging it up are what have made this tradition so meaningful at Worthington. It has always been open to all students no matter who the group is. In turn, it has truly represented the Cardinal pride and spirit. This spirit cannot be changed as long as the rock remains on the grounds of Worthington High School. The rock is a book that holds the memories of our school history. The writings of these groups are embedded in the memory of Worthington High School forever. So many of these groups have gone their separate ways, but their slogans and their spirit will long be remembered. So, as the class of 1986 leaves Worthington High School, another page in the book is turned.

Sinde 1973 the Worthington High School Linworth Alternative Program has offered an educational atmosphere within which students develop essential skills in time-management and individual responsibility. The program is based on the concept of self-directed learning, allowing highly motivated students to play a more active role in the determination of their own educational goals. Because of the small size of both the school building and the student body, students are able to work closely with teachers to develop innovative courses which offer alternative methods for meeting the basic high school requirements. This relationship breeds enthusiasm among students and teachers which share a common goal of making education timely and interesting. Weekly seminars and night courses are offered in conjunction with individual course contracts and standard daily classes. The Walkabout and Interim programs help students to gain career insight through field experience. The A.P. is a special school that defies categorization. Any students who are willing to work hard and to give himself will undoubtedly receive something in return. At the A.P. learning becomes both an intellectual challenge and a rewarding experience.

For many years Worthington and Arlington have been rivals. Whether it is in athletic competition or in academic excellence, the two schools try to excel each other in all aspects. This 1985 football season was the first time since 1977 that Worthington defeated Arlington. Only twice since 1937 had Worthington ever bettered Arlington on the football field. Swimming is another heated area. For the past three decades, Arlington has been the dominant team within the Central District, although Worthington has always been a close second. Wrestling is also a very competitive sport for the two schools. Unfortunatly, not all of the competition remains on the fields of play. After both basketball games, students from both schools had conflicts. A committee of students, coaches and athletic directors met, to discuss the problems of such a strong rivalry. Though bettering Arlington has long been Worthington's goal, students at Worthington realize that a rivalry should remain friendly. Most athletes feel a kind of kinship to our old rival Upper Arlington. Although this intense rivalry with Arlington has remained strong through the years, underneath the students realize both schools have much in common.

Mention student government and what's the first thing that pops into people's minds? The social events — activities like Homecoming, Prom, Winter and Valentines Dances are high points of the year that everyone looks forward to. Student Council and the class officers work hard to sponsor these events. They bring all of the students together for an enjoyable time, no matter what grade. It is times like these that make our school seem not so large.

Although these moments are the most remembered, the student government at Worthington High School also works to help people who are less fortunate than we. Every year the Canned Food Drive, the King of Hearts election, and Ugly Teacher Contest are put on by Student Council. Proceeds from these activities go to charities Helping others in these ways gives everyone a feeling of pride in our school.

The greatest job of our Student Council is the basis for its establishment — to represent the entire student body. From homerooms, Student Council representatives take concerns to meetings. In this way, Council deals with problems in the school and in the surrounding community. It is a strong organization here at WHS.

Homecoming

Cards go Greek

This year's Homecoming centered around the theme "Cards Go Greek". The festivities began Thursday night at the annual pep rally and bonfire with the announcement of homecoming Queen Wendy Hansen and her court. As the evening progressed, the excitement grew throughout the senior class as they learned that they had won the traditional spirit link competition. Then came the pre-game activities Friday night. Once again the seniors took first place in the float competition. The winning spirit continued throughout the night as the football team defeated Grove City 42-7. Saturday night couples danced the night away to the music provided by Music King. As the festivities came to an end, Homecoming 1985 proved to be a fun-filled and memorable weekend for everyone involved.

Fall play

Dark of the Moon

This year's Thespian fall play production "Dark of the Moon" was very challenging for all who were involved in the production. It was the first play with a substantially serious theme that Bronwyn Hopton had directed in eight years. The setting of the play takes place in the early 1900's in the Appalachain Mountains. The story is based on the ballad of Barbara Allen. John, the Witch Boy, played by Pete Callahan, falls in love with a young girl named Barbara Allen, played by Rachael Harris. The town, spiritually led by preacher Haggler (Geoff Scott), will not accept the marriage and forces tragedy upon the two lovers. The fair and the dark witch, played by Kris Kersteter and Molly Parsons trick John into breaking a deal with the Conjure Man (Bart Overly), which in turn leads Barbara Allen to her death. Other characters important to the play included: Marvin Hudgens (Bob O'Dair), Mr. and Mrs. Allen (Chad Owen and Sara Johnson), and Floyd Allen (Rick Severance). This love between Barbara and John was doomed from the start. Some consider this play to be a touching interpretation of a backwoods "Romeo & Juliet."

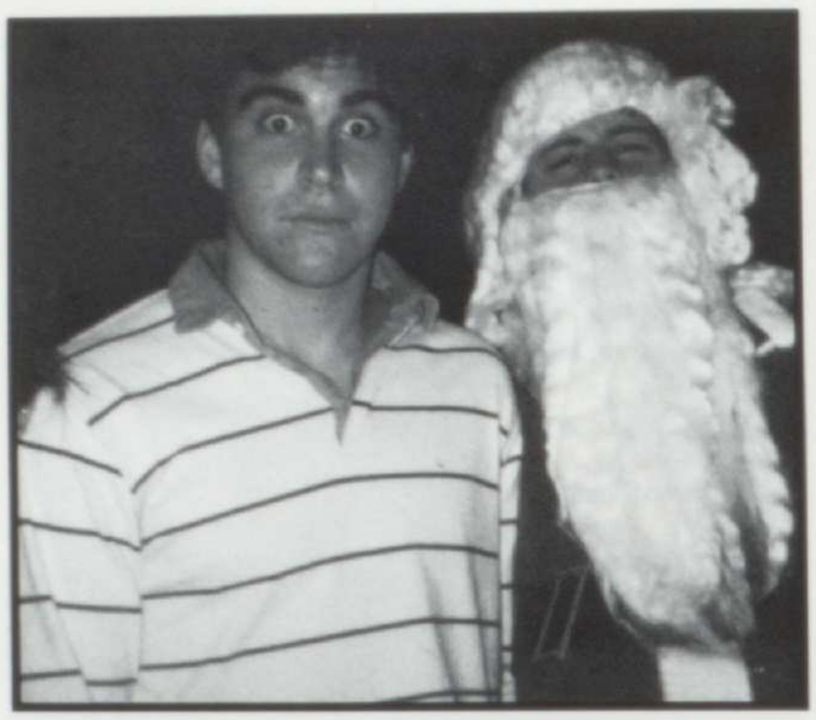
Winter Dance



Although the winter months seem to drag on, there are two events that WHS students look forward to. They are the winter dance and winter break. The 1985 winter dance was once again a great success. The holiday spirit lasted well throughout the night with the crowning of the 1985 Cardinal court. The court included Queen Amy Brennan, King Greg Maddox, Lee Ann Brunk, Susan Guild, Lisa Mayer, Julie Pedela, Jmie Bull, Greg Ferrar, Dave Panozzo and Andy Quillin.

Brigadoon

Lerner and Lowe's Brigadoon, this year's Music Department offering, was awarded a standing ovation during its opening performance weekend. The romantic musical opened March 7th-8th and ran again on the 14th and 15th.

The plot opens in a thick forest located somewhere in the heart of Scotland. Two young men, Tommy Albright (Geoff Scott) and Jeff Douglas (Bob O'Dair) are lost, and while they are trying to find their way back to the main raod, stumble across a tiny, magical village named Brigadoon. Tommy quickly falls in love with a beautiful villager named Fiona MacLaren (Rachael Harris). However, the magical power of Brigadoon is determined to keep the young lovers apart. Each night when the villagers go to sleep, a hundred years pass by. The village itself disappears, but when the morning sun wakes the villagers, a hundred years have passed. Tommy realizes that he can not stay in Brigadoon because his life and financee exist in New York. Tommy and Jeff then must leave for home before nightfall or they will be doomed to spend the rest of their lives in the village. Four months later, however, Tommy decides he cannot live without Fiona. Even though he realizes that Brigadoon will not reappear for 100 years, Tommy leaves his fiancee in New York and heads back with Jeff to Scotland in search of his true love. The two men discover Brigadoon's former location, but as expected the little village is gone. Jeff reminds Tommy that their expedition had always been hopeless, but just as he begins to wander away, mystical singing is heard and Brigadoon magically reappears. Tommy leaves Jeff and his life in New York to be forever joined with Fiona in the enchanting town of Brigadoon.

Talent show

The 1986 Talent Show stepped into new levels of talent that have never before been experienced at WHS. Aside from the talents that have been seen before, from Darrin Hawkins rendition of "American Pie" to the Cardigan Dolls, there was also a multitude of new talent. The new talent ranged from the hippie era to the present. The psychedelic influence and Rude Awakening gave a taste of the rock Rush. There were several very promising new bands including Multiple Choice and Off Beat.

There were also several successful duets and soloist, one of which was Steve Rovtar on his synthesizer. All in all, this year's Talent Show was exceedingly abundant.

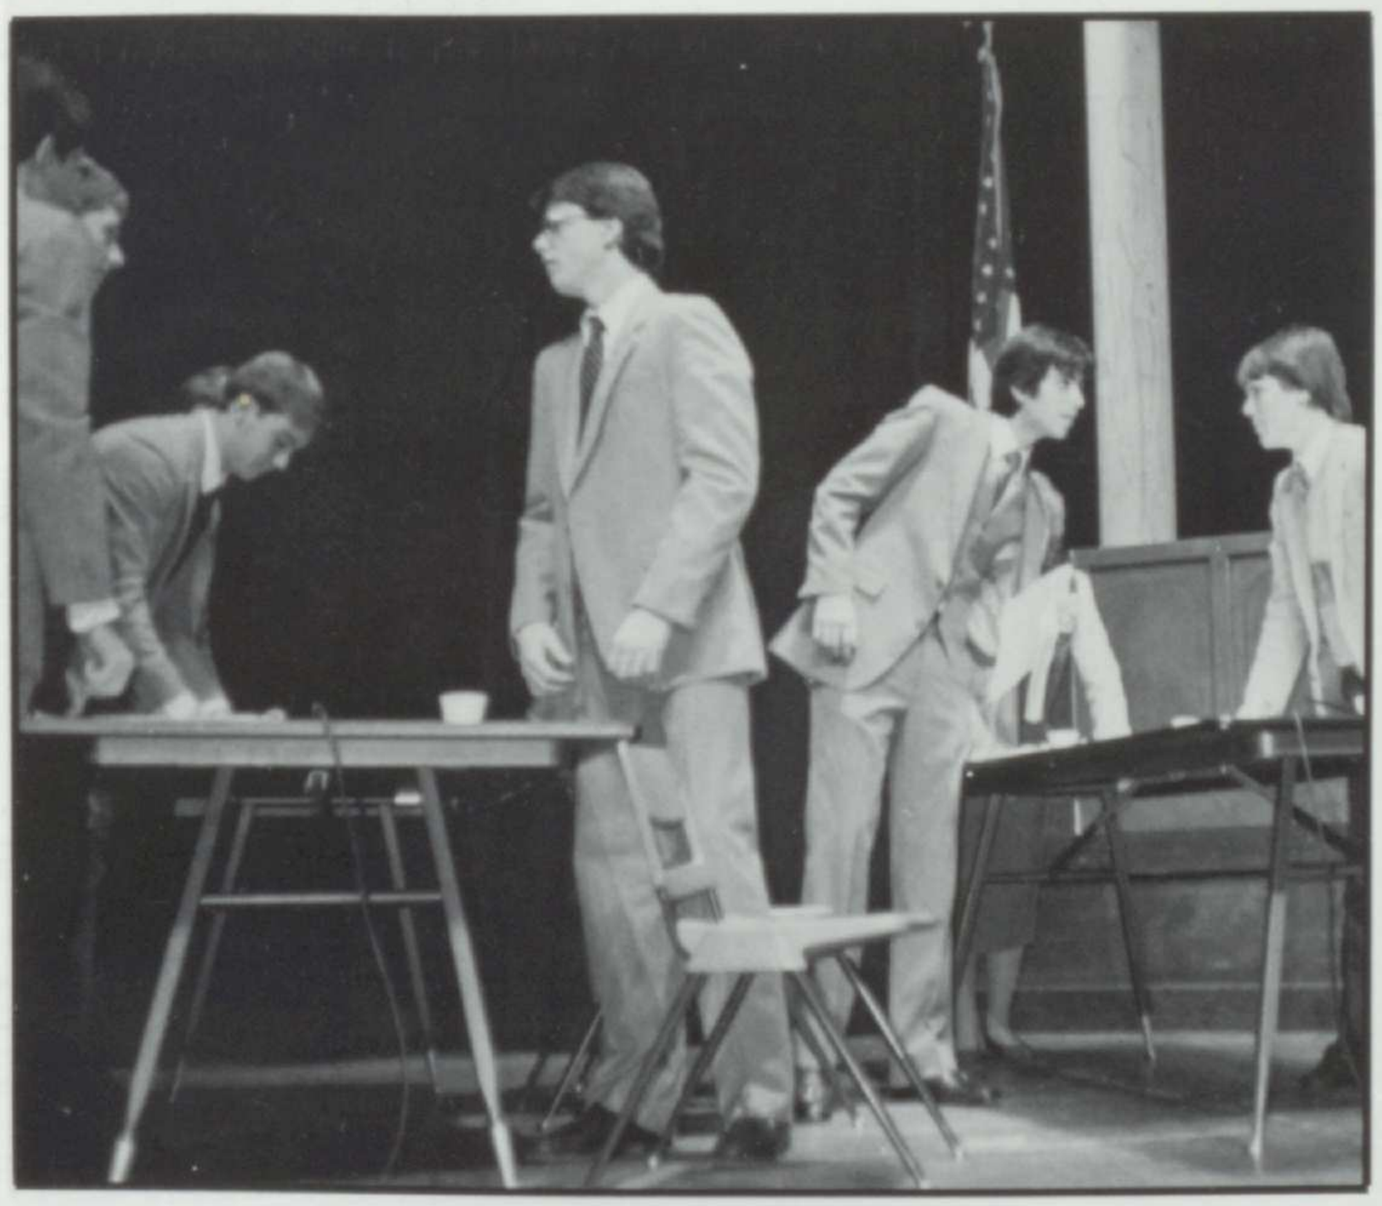
Mock Trials



"No further questions, your Honor!" the defense attorney exclaims as a murmur rises through the crowd. "Order in the court!" the judge commands the excited spectators as they watch classmates and friends perform their case for the 1985-86 Mock Trials. Two times a year Ms. Nault's personal classes are given cases and are sworn to secrecy until the case opens. Participants are elected by their classmates to the different positions of the court. The participants took their cases and a lot of determination down to the OSU law library to research precedent setting cases and factual legal information. All their hard work came to a climax as the Trials opened. Statements were read and witnesses questioned. When the jury retired to deliberate, many interesting and intelligent questions were posed to the trial's participants by members of the audience. The jury finally returned after what seemed like hours, and the verdict was delivered. Everyone congratulated each other, and another year of Mock Trials were put to rest.

Freshman Party

The theme of the 1986 Freshman Party was "Surfun Safari 89' and Hawaiian Holiday." The Freshman piled into the gym for hours of dancing and fun to the music of Music King. Parents were on hand to help serve food outside and in the cafeteria and run the various types of games in the library. Graduation

"We have only just begun" was the feeling on June 4, 1986, for the Graduation Ceremony of the class of 1986. After the traditional processional, invocation and class welcome the WHS choir sang our National Anthem and "We've Only Just Begun." Senior members of the choir sang "Maybe Someday We'll Meet Again." Greetings were given by Superintendent Dr. John Hoeffler, followed by skits performed by the nine valedictorians: Derek Chung, Sheila Hemami, Tienchin Ho, John Joseph, John Leitzel, Kristine McComis, Bret Raymond, Steve Sung and Peggy Welch. Dr. Knutson then presented the class to Mrs. Young, President of the Board of Education. Then came the highlight of the evening — the awarding of diplomas. At long last the Senior Class of 1986 ended one stage of life to enter a new one.

FOOTBALL

The 1985 Worthington Football team, under the direction of third year coach Bob Seaman, had one of the most successful seasons in Worthington history. The Cardinals won The Ohio Captial Conference Ohio Division title outright for only the second time in school history. The Red and Blue also beat Upper Arlington for the first time in eight years, and only the second time in a 52 year span. Probably the greatest feat of the '85 Cards, though, was qualifying for the Division I State Championship Playoffs for the first time ever in Worthington history. The Cardinals were led by a group of talented seniors, many of whom garnered All-OCC honors. Earning First Team honors were middle linebackers Geoff Stobart, defensive tackle Chuck Hale, three-year starting defensive back Tom O'Leary, and OCC Player of the Year James Bull (also a three year starter.) Making the Second Team were defensive back Greg Maddox, split end Dave Nebraska and quarterback Dale Hampshire. Junior running backs Paul Capriotti and Joe Wilcox made First and Second Team All-OCC, respectively. Bull and Hale were the Co-Captains for the Cards. The 1985 season continued the tradition of championship football in Worthington. The Cardinals finished the season ranked number one in the district and eighteenth in the state. This year's success establishes the Cards as the team to beat in Central Ohio football, and a favorite to repeat in the state playoffs.

Field Hockey

The 1985 Worthington Field Hockey team, under the direction of first-year coach Linda Strapp and assistant coach Diane Snouffer, had an exciting and successful season. The team kicked off the season with four shut-outs against their first four opponents. As the season progressed, they displayed their talent and their support for one another. The team quickly accepted Coach Strapp, who did an incredible job of uniting and inspiring the team to its victories. The enthusiasm and encouragement of senior tri-captains Carrie O'Dair, Amy Brennan, and Stacy Snouffer led the team to a second place finish in the district tournament. Amy Brennan and Kerry Byrne were honored as District All-Stars, while Stacey Snouffer and Amy Lowe received honorable mention awards. Despite the fact that many seniors are leaving this year, they will be replaced by very capable juniors. This will ensure the next year's team to have a victorious and spirited season.

Girls' Cross Country

The Worthington Girls' Cross Country team had a good season this fall despite very stiff competition. Due to the excellent coaching of Nancy Beattie and Gary Smith, the leadership of seniors Missy Furnas and Sharon Young, and the hard work and determination of all the girls. The team ended up with a 6-1 league record, losing only to the team that would later become state champions, Upper Arlington. The girls were also runners up in their district race which was very admirable considering that their district was the strongest in the state. Unfortunately the Cardinal runners had an off day at Regionals and ended up with a 6th place finish, although Missy Furnas and Laurel Tommas qualified for the state meet as individuals and finished 59th and 111th respectively. Many runners earned outstanding individual honors in the OCC's. Freshman Julie Westfall earned All-OCC Honorable Mention while Debbie Cosley and Sharon Young were named to the All-OCC Second Team. In addition, Laurel Tommas and Missy Furnas earned All-OCC First Team recognition as well as making the All-District team. Perhaps the highlight of the season, was the trip to Lexington, Kentucky where the girls finished third out of 37 teams in the Lexington Invitational. More high points were the second place finish at the Lancaster Invitational, and the first place finish at the Jim Nagan Memorial Run. Graduating this year will be seniors Laurel Tommas, Missy Furnas, and Sharon Young. They will be leaving behind a team of young but enthusiastic runners who will continue to improve and become stronger.

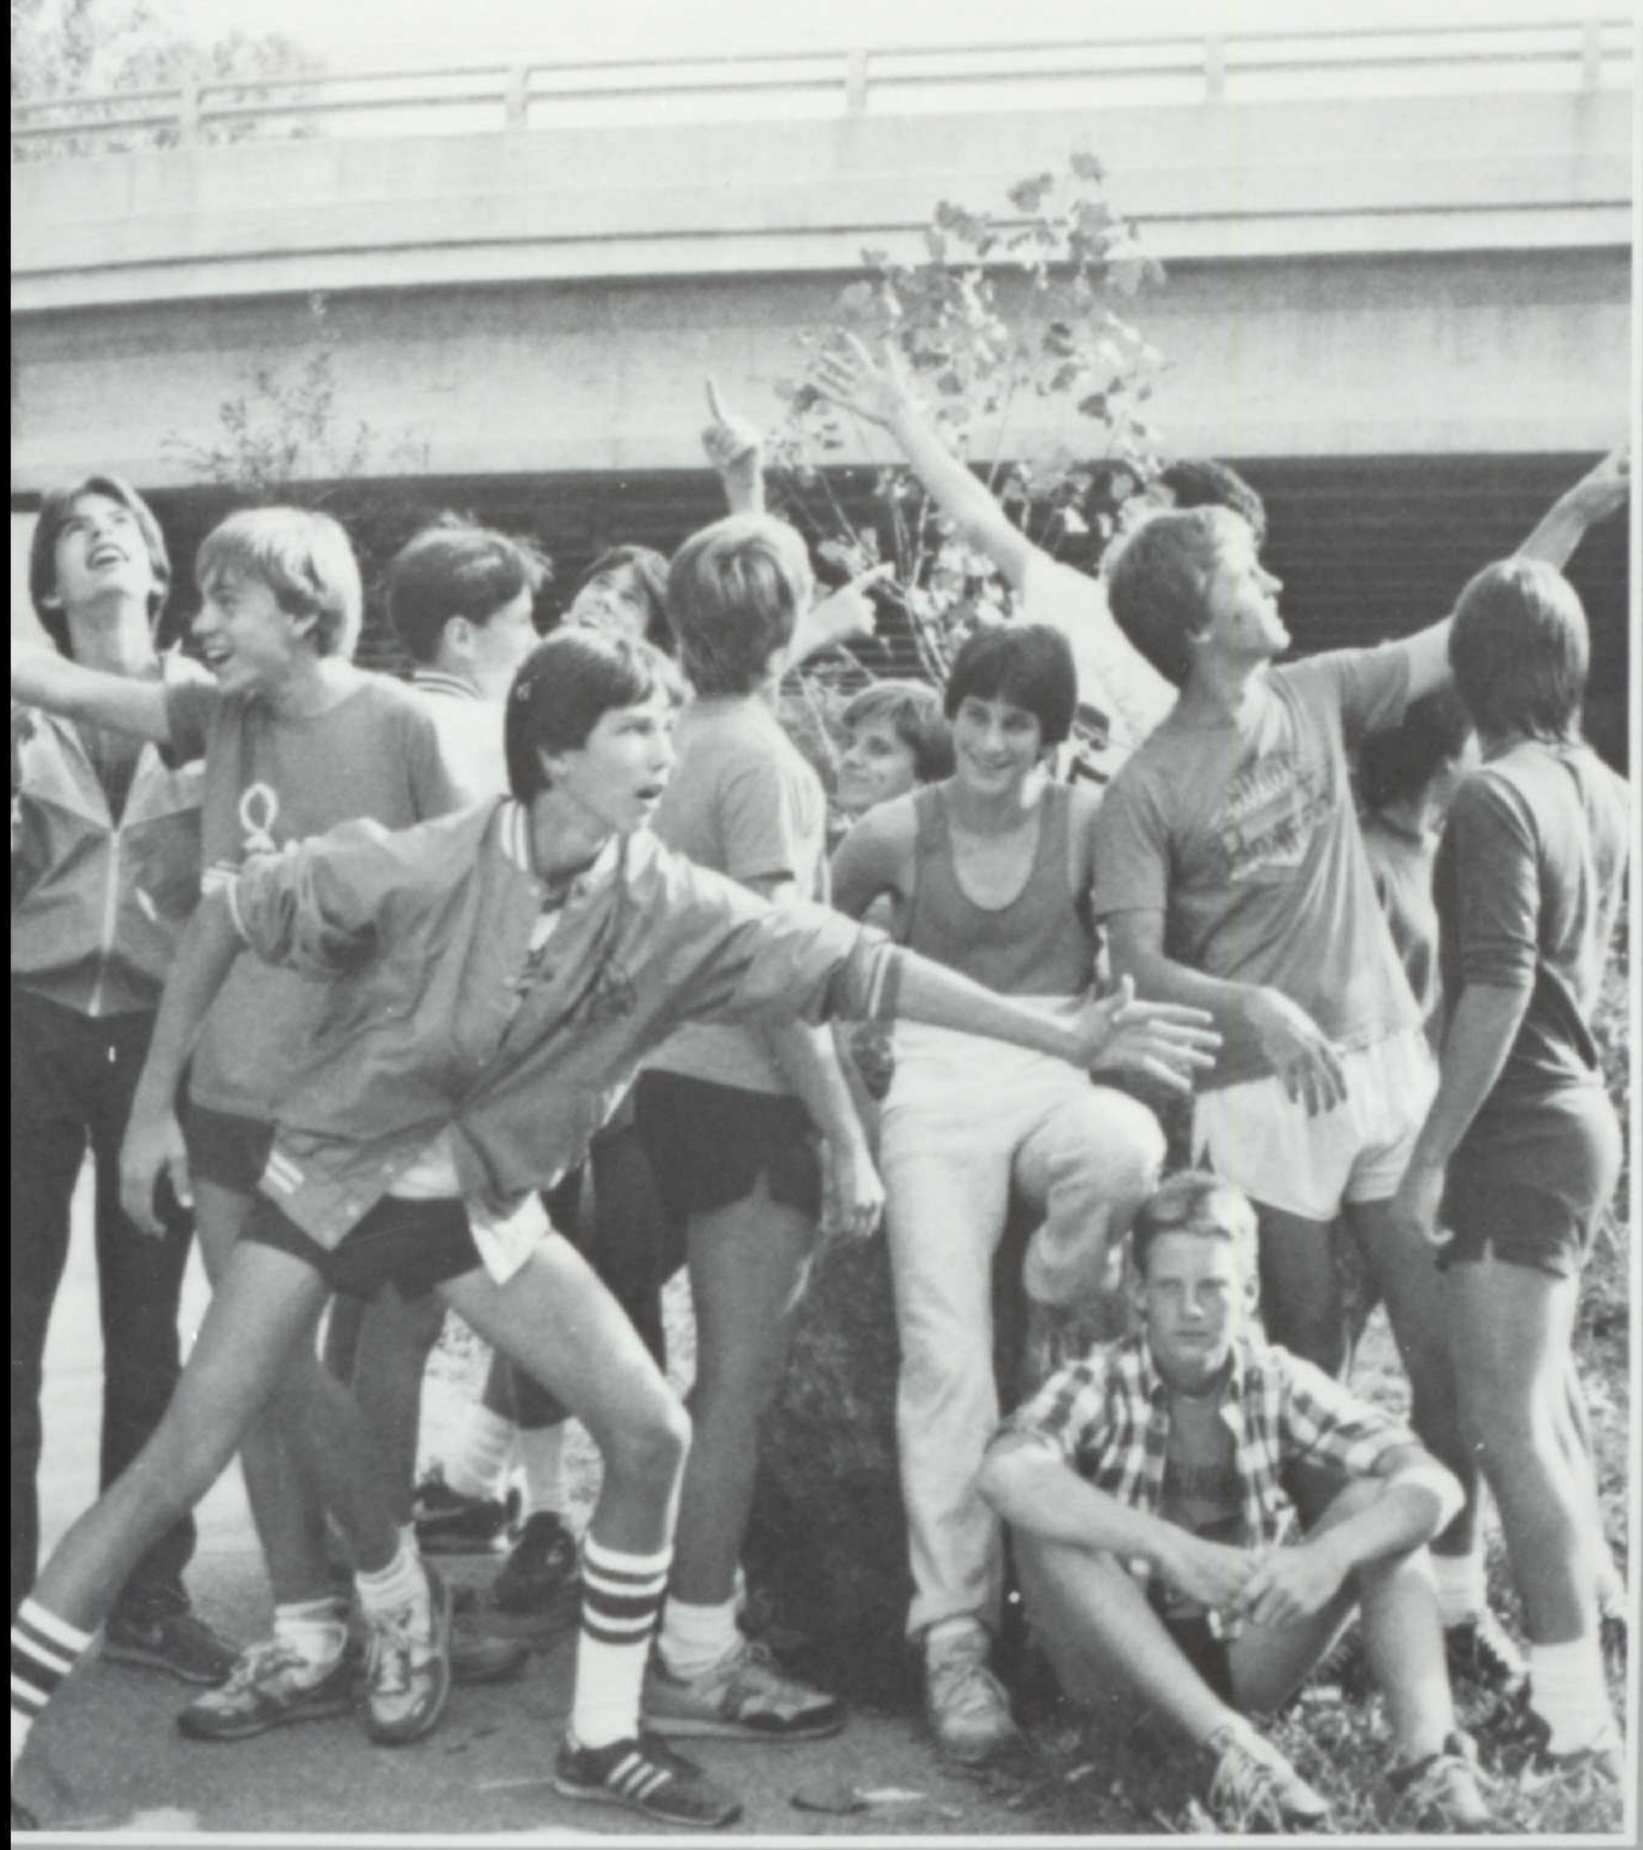
Boys' Cross Country



The Worthington Boys' Cross Country team coached by Gary Smith and Roger Johnson had another very successful season. The team finished the season with an 8-1 record in dual meets, including a 6-1 mark in the O.C.C. In addition to their outstanding dual meet record, the Cards finished first in the Newark Invitational, and were runners-up in both the Lancaster and Cloverleaf Invitational. Post-season competition saw the Cardinals finish second in the O.C.C., first in the District, and fourth in the Regional. Their high finish in the regional qualified the team for the State Championships where they finished fifteenth. This year's post season honors were awarded to Jim Schilder (All-District, First Team All-O.C.C.); Tony Gerber, Karl Feldmann, Chris Harsh (Second Team All-O.C.C.); and Eric Delbert (Honorable Mention All-O.C.C.). The 1985 Worthington High School Golf team came into the season very inexperienced, with only one returning letterman, Joe Podolski. Despite the inexperience, they finished the season with a record of 68 wins and 17 losses. They also won the Shawnee Fall Classic and the O.C.C. Jamie Blackford and Joe Podolski made First Team O.C.C., with Jamie Blackford taking medalist honors. Joe Podolski qualified for the state tournament, individually fininshing seventh. Also contributing to the team effort were Matt McNaghten, Steve Mapes, Rob Malone and Jeff Davis.

Rounding out the varsity roster were juniors Lori McKeever, Theresa Piela, Phuong Mai Nguyen and sophomore Julie Fischer. Even with their loss to Watterson in the sectional finals, some players earned special recognition. Senior Jill Haunty was named All-District and All-O.C.C. and senior Corinne Busby was named Honorable Mention for the O.C.C. The Girls Volleyball team had a tremendous year in 1985!

Girls' Soccer

The Worthington High School Girls' Soccer team had an outstanding season this year. The Lady Cardinals, coached by Richard Prioietti, finshed the season with a record of 19-30. Among their accomplishments, they won the Ohio Capital Conference for the second year in a row with an undefeated record. This was the first year for a girls' state soccer tournament enabled the Lady Cardinals to become district runners-up, only two games away from the championship. There were also many individual awards that were presented to the Cardinals. Senior co-captains Donna Bauer and Mary Ann Oelgoetz and sophomore Kim Phillips were named First Team All-OCC. Karen Hermann, Sharon Remy and Leigh Frenberg were named second Team All-OCC, along with Michelle Mechling who was named Honorable Mention.

The 1985 Boys' Varsity Soccer team compiled on 18-3-2 record under second-year coach Ian Hamilton. This year's list of accomplishments is impressive: the Cardinals were ranked first in the league, seeded first in the State Tournament, won the O.C.C. Capital Conference, and took the District Championship. Many individual players were also honored: Brian Carter, Kyle Royer, and Doug Sunshine were First Team MVP selections. John Joseph, Rudy Poglitsh and Tony Sobolewski were elected to the Second Team, and Eric Miller received an Honorable Mention. Under senior captains Brian Carter, Rudy Poglitsh, and Tony Sobolewski, the team made fantastic improvements over previous years. Although a heartbreaking ineligibility dropped the Cards out of the district championships and state tournament, increased student support and stronger team morale produced a satisfying season for all involved in the program.

In the state tournament the Lady Cards advanced with a win over Franklin Heights before defeated by state ranked Brookhaven. Karen Hermann led the team in scoring and received All-O.C.C. and All-District Honors. Mona Sullivan was the team's leading rebounder. Girls' swimming

The Girls' Swim team, led by co-captains Kristi Huffman and Allison Peticolas, led the girls to a 12-2 record during the 1985-86 season. The swim season will be remembered as one of hard work, determination, and success. Coach Jim Callhan and Assistant coach Jeff DeVille led the Lady Cards in their march to Districts, State Championships, and finally to Junior Nationals in Orlando, Florida. The team placed second in the Orange Relays in Cleveland. They then went on to place second in districts and eighth in the State Championships. The season was successful for many individuals on the team. Beth Wadlington placed second in the State in diving with a score of 246.90. Two varsity records were set — the 200 Medley relay consisting of Kathy Littig, Kim Faircloth, Susan Lichtenberg, and Mandi Dieter: 1:51.79; and Mandi Dieter — 50 free style: 24.78. Boys' Swimming

This 1985-1986 season was thought to be a major rebuilding year for the Boys' Swimming team. However, due to three talented new students to Worthington (Larry and Mike Valentine and Freshmen Nathan Martin) the season was rewarding. Chris Dieter, Craig Faircloth and Rick Severance led the way as the team captains, scoring points at both the district and state meet. The team as a whole placed 2nd to U.A. at this year's district meet, and placed a respectable 4th at the State meet. This year's Most Valuable Swimmer Award was given to a well-deserved Chris Dieter, finaling in three events at State. Rick Severance was awarded the Most Valuable Diver Award for also finaling at the State meet. By qualifying eleven guys for the State meet, this 85-86 season proved very profitable to all the swimmers on the team.

Girls' Gymnastics

The 1986 State Championship Girls' Gymnastics team of Worthington High School is the first team to win girls' state gymnastics championship in the 14 year history of the State meet. Besides winning an unprecedented second consecutive state title, individual accomplishments as well as team records made history this year. Colleen Yakum finished 2nd All-around at the State level, the best ever by a Worthington Gymnast. Erin Fallon became Worthington's first Individual Event State Champion in floor exercise. Natalie Long also became Worthington's first Individual Event State Champion on the balance beam as well as finishing 3rd All-Around at the State level. Melissa Harmon captured 5th All-around also at the States. Beyond these outstanding scorers, however were team mates capable of placing in individual events in every meet. After a disappointing 0-9 league record in 1985, the varsity stickers returned only 4 starters this year. The team started their season by traveling to Philadelphia over spring break. The team gained valuable experience and used this to win their first two league games. Although no championship was won, the team finished 3-6 in the league, much better than the previous year. Two seniors led the team to many great times, including three straight thrashings of arch-rival Upper Arlington. Senior Chris Doyle was honored as High School All-American and sophomore Scott Passius received All-League recognition. All in all, the team felt good about the season and the hard work they put into it.

Council bridges gap

STUDENT COUNCIL

The 1985-86 WHS Student Council, led by President Kristen Davidson and Vice-President Doug Bosse accomplished great things on behalf of the student body this year. Working as the liason between the administration and students, council worked to bridge the gap and work for the benefit of both.

Among the many traditional projects worked on by the Student Council were Homecoming, Winter Dance, canned food drive, blood mobile drive, school beautification projects, and Ugly Teacher Contest (won by Mr. Heaps.) Also, this year council started a very special Valentines day project — a computer dating service for interested students. This proved to be a real success for all participants.

WHS cheers their teams

WHS CHEERLEADERS

Worthington cheerleading has developed in many different ways through the year. Through parent support, cheerleaders were able to attain many goals such as cheerleading camp, balloon selling at games, fund raisers and various competitions. WHS cheerleaders view cheerleading not only as a crowd activator, but also as a sport. They put many hours of hard work and effort into improving and perfecting their skills so that they can perform to their potential for the crowd. There were three different squads for the 1986 football season. There were 10 members of the Freshman, JV, and Varsity squads. During the basketball season, three squads of girls support the Cardinal basketball teams.

Having a school the size of Worthington is not easy. The administration has lots to do so that they are able to assist the students as best they can. Luckily some students volunteer their time working in the Unit offices. The workers perform various duties, such as running passes, answering the phone, and helping with attendance.

The library assistants help out with the large job of maintaining the school's supply of books and media aids. By shelving books, processing new material, and running errands, the library aids help make the library the valuable resource center it is.

A.P. faculty

The teachers and staff of the Linworth Alternative Program are of a different breed. Not only do they teach their regular classes in new and different ways, they also create new classes and programs, always working directly with the student's interests and input. Unlike most school teachers, A.P. teachers also act as guidance counselors, and more importantly, as friends to the students on a one-to-one basis. Students turn to these counselors with personal problems, study problems and many other situations not pertaining to school at all. Because of this closeness, a rare bond of true friendship develops between teacher and student.

Urging students to do their best, learn to go it alone and follow their dreams is a specialty of the A.P. staff. Whether it be through helping a student in a class or helping a student teach a class, the teachers of the Linworth Alternative Program give 200%. They don't consider their chosen profession to be simply a job; they consider it a guiding of young minds to enable them to learn at full potential.

The same nostalgic feeling is felt by almost every senior as he takes his last stroll through the halls of W.H.S. and as he claps that long-awaited diploma in his hand. He has been looking forward to this since his freshmen year, yet he is filled with sadness. Worthington High School represents a lot more to him than a place of learning. It represents all his friends that he will miss and all the memories that he cherishes. He can remember how scared he was walking into Kilbourne the first day. He can remember how intimated he was by those upperclassmen and his first school dance. He can remember getting his first varsity letter or becoming a member of one of the many clubs. He also remembers painting the school rock and of course the recent tee-peeing of the school. The memories are virtually endless and they all seem to run through his head at once. As he files out of Mershon Auditorium, he realizes that the "real world" is right on his door step and all of a sudden he is not so sure he wants to open his door. The security that the high school can offer is gone. His future is in his own hands now and he has to take all that W.H.S. has taught him, concerning both academics and life in general, and use it to strive and succeed. Although he'll be leaving WHS in his past, the memories will stay with him always.

As stated in the alma mater, "... Worthington we'll always love you, as the years go drifting by." For any graduate of Worthington, no more appropriate words could be used. At times we have felt that the administration has cheated us, as when they discontinued senior release or when they installed a traffic patrolmen. At times we've been ashamed of ourselves, like when athletic competition had to be temporary cancelled between us and Upper Arlington. But who could ever forget the proud feeling we all felt when our football team finally beat U.A.? Or how about when Columbus Monthly voted Worthington the best school in Columbus? We were all proud to be from Worthington; we wanted everyone to know that, yes, Worthington is a great school. Though Worthington, is an excellent school, it is compiled of thousands of individuals. It is those individuals which makes Worthington strong. Each individual is what contributes to Worthingtons greatness. Without such enthusiasm and school spirit which is continuously being proven by excellence exemplified on the sports field and in scholastic activities, Worthington could not have become the progressive, ambitious school it is today. Though Worthington High School is continuously growing, every graduating senior is taking a small part with them. Fond memories and a valuable education which could only been received at "... our dear old Worthington."

"In my judgement he was one of the best teachers and finest persons I have ever known."

"There was a special magic between Alex and his students. He was a 'master teacher' whose love of literature and languages served as a motivation to students."

"His sense of humor, positive approach, and optimistic view of life endeared him to students and staff."

"He was respected as an educater and loved as a warm and sensitive man."

Quotes by Dr. John Hoeffler

Alex Remembered
We remember the way he talked; with a pearly tongue that rolled each word.
And the way he lived; taking joy in his life, in love, and in his work.
We remember how he loved people; his family, his friends, his students.
And his kindness towards others; for he never had a harsh word to say.
We remember the good times we had with him;
there was something magical in just being with him.
And we students remember his philosophy and teaching;
for everything he did, he did for our sake — and we loved him.
We also remember the last time we saw him;
some remember the determination in those steady eyes,
and some remember a peaceful, pleasant acceptance;
he was aware what was going to happen . . .
We shall always remember him as a beautiful man; with brilliant philosophies and a magnificient outlook on life.
Though we can't answer "why?", we slowly accept it, content to remember all the joy he brought to our lives.
Finally, we remember Alex Pashovich's character;
A man who was always moving forward; he never looked back.
And we think that he would not want us to be sad;
So, we raise our heads, wipe our eyes, smile, and remember.
By Stacy Yurich

W.H.S. will miss Alex Pashovich

This year marked the passing of a very special teacher at Worthington, Alex Pashovich. He was loved and admired by many students and teachers alike. This is not at all surprising if one looks at the things he has accomplished since he came to America in 1955.

The native of Yugoslavia went directly to work on his bachelor's degree at O.S.U. and then transferred to the University of Colorado to get his master's degree in Russian literature. He returned to Ohio and Worthington in 1966 with five years of teaching experience under his belt. It was then that he began to put his energy into the activities that he felt strongly about. He convinced then Superintendent Harold McCord and Bill Lane, who was then high school principal, that Worthington ought to offer Russian to its students. That was twenty years ago. Now Worthington offers one of only five high school Russian programs statewide. And the credit mainly goes to the energetic, yet quiet, teacher who had a dream.

His dream was to build a bridge across the communication gap between the United States and the Soviet Union. He knew that the key to peaceful relations is an understanding of who you are dealing with. And giving the children of today the opportunity to study the language and people of the U.S.S.R. was insuring that tomorrow's adult generation of America would have a relationship with the Soviets based on good communication.

In the twenty years he has taught at Worthington, he has won the heart and respect of everyone he worked with. He has made a name for himself in the teaching community for his enormous success with his pet Russian project and with his unique teaching methods. Over the last twenty years, his students have been awarded state, national, and international titles for their ability and knowledge in speaking the Russian language. Their success was due to the positive and challenging atmosphere that Alex Pashovich created for his students. And it begins when they do, in their very first year. He begans by singing the Russian alphabet, some songs, and lessons. The students were encouraged to join in to practice pronunciation.

In the second year, you build from a delicate knowledge of grammer and vocabulary to a comprehensive understanding of these rules. Pashovich's teaching skills were so excellent that most of the time the students learned Russian without even realizing that they were learning it. But that was the magic of the man. He took zeal in teaching for he believed he was performing an important mission. All he ever wanted to do was structure us for success.

Alex

You taught us friendship, compassion,
loyalty, family, with laughter, joy and love.
Today we look for answers and a little more time with you.
Some ask, why?
Others seem to know . . .
The night you left us, a magnificent storm
raged through the town
snarling, roaring, tearing the trees down.
God seemed as angry as we were . . .
As seedlings grow to replace the mighty trees,
we will begin to rise up from our knees,
and when next the lightning cracks
and thunder pounds,
We will all be looking up instead of down
And think of you, and smile . . .
